THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Millheim's new public school building cost just $6,003.44.

The entertainment by the Park sisters, at Garman's, last night was really charming.

Lewis Wetzel has moved his bicycle store from High street to his works on Water street.

John Noll, of Bishop street, is walking with a cane because the rheumatism has a grip on him.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whiteman, of Piedmont, W. Va., well known here, are the proud parents of a fine young son.

Weaver & Boob, Aaronsburg peach growers, shipped a car load of fine fruit to Ohio, on Monday. It was in charge of Cook Luse.

The barking of pestiferous dogs, on east Lamb street, is not to be compared with the puffing of Pennsylvania engines, on railroad street, as a nuisance.

Wm. Flack, of Bellefonte, and Samuel H. Griffith of Axeman, are among the recent addressees to the roll of pensioners of Centre county.

The story that William Flack has sold his barber shop to go to Philadelphia is untrue. The truth is that Billy would only like to do it.

While at the Granger's picnic, on Wednesday, Henry Fisher, of Karthaus, was suddenly prostrated with cholera morbus. Dr. Alexander was called to attend him.

The fall session of The Pennsylvania State College opened, on Wednesday, and more students had entered up 'til noon yesterday than they had last year. The number was 275.

Dolly Spencer, M. B. Garman's fast mare, won two races at the Reading meet last week. On Thursday she won in 2:20 and on Friday took another in 2:18. Jim Chambers is driving her.

"Dr." Frederick was wood to sleep by a hurdy-gurdy, on west High street, yesterday morning, and cigar man Cruse put a turkey feather in his hat and used him for a wooden indian until he woke up.

In February, 1898, the Pennsylvania photographer's association will hold their annual convention in this place. The army of Co. B, has already been secured in which to exhibit the displays of the various attendants.

Don't forget to attend the sale of the personal property of Mrs. Adolph Loeb to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. It will take place in the store room formerly occupied by Achenbach, on the Diamond, and all kinds of household effects will be sold cheap.

The rumor that Joseph Ceader has purchased the Achenbach bakery, in this place, and turned it over to Andrew Kniesly to manage is reported to be unfounded. Mr. Kniesly insists that it is wholly his own venture and that no one, other than himself, is interested in it.

After a week most delightfully spent at the training camp at Hecla park, The Pennsylvania State College football players went to college, on Tuesday morning, to begin their regular scholastic duties in addition to getting down to real work in order to beat Lafayette on October 2nd.

Tyrone is moving to secure a glass works. George W. McGraw, of Pittsburg, has offered to operate a plant there on the co-operative plan, if the citizens of the town donate the land and erect the buildings. This they purpose doing very rapidly and the ground has already been donated and surveyed, while most of the money has been subscribed for the buildings.

The engine that hauls the morning passenger train over the Lewisburg road, every morning from Bellefonte, was off the track on Monday morning and the train did not get out of here until nearly eight o'clock. The accident occurred at the round house and the Lewisburg freight engine was detained to help the passenger engine onto the track again.

A post office inspector recently fooled Phillipsburgers into believing that their side walks are too bad to have free mail delivery over there. This is something like their being deluded into thinking they are going to get the county institute. Sister Williams having concluded that "all things come to them that wait" we expect to see her perched high and dry on a pine stump, out along cold stream sometime next January waiting for Sup't Gramley and his teachers. But, dear editress, they will be like the letter that never came.

Charley Houck, son of the Rev. Wm. Houck who so acceptably filled the pulpit of the M. E. church in this place from 1891 to 1895, was one of the deputies of sheriff Martin, of Luzerne county, and was present when the brutal and cowardly shooting of the miners occurred at Lattimer, on last Friday afternoon. Warrants have been issued for the entire crowd and Charley will have to stand trial with the rest of them. While he has many friends hereabouts, there is none so heartless as to sympathize with the bloody work of the slayers of those poor, ignorant and unarmed miners, and unless he can show himself guiltless, the general verdict of his Bellefonte friend is that he should be punished to the full extent of the law.

Fine Weather and a Great Picnic Exhibition at Grange Park.

At Last the Grangers of Centre County Have Gotten Back into the Presidential Favor.—Fine Weather for the First Time in Five Years.—A Splendid Exhibit and Fair Crows.

The 24th annual picnic and exhibition of the Patrons of Husbandry of Centre county is now on at Grange park, Centre Hall, and will continue 'til to-morrow, when the farmers and their friends will break camp and go home to recount the good times they have had this week and plan for better ones next year.

Everything has been better than ever except the attendance and as the crowds are quite large that doesn't disturb those who go there for a good time. The weather has been exceptional. For the past five years there has been rain and an unpleasant chilliness to mar the comfort of the campers, but this week it has been dry and warm. A little dusty, 'tis true, but if you don't have mud you must have dust.

A number of improvements have been added to the grounds this year; seemingly small ones, yet contributing in many ways to the comfort of the crowds. Every year, just as it can be afforded, some addition is made that is designed to make a perfect camp and exhibition ground some day. The grangers started without anything and the fact that they have as admirable a place as they have is evidence of the careful and economical management that has guided this enterprise.

The grounds were opened for tents and exhibitors on last Saturday. Many of those who had engaged quarters arrived that day and went to work to making themselves comfortable. Those holding tents are:

Mrs. Frank Weaver; H. Cane; Jacob Shroy; John Mowery; Harry Sweetwood; Lincoln Musser; Isabel Beck; J. Patton; C. H. Kephart; S. C. Hoy; Adam Hoover; Samuel Gierich; Mr. Sunday; Charles Garris; I. S. Egan; Mrs. Laura Miller; Jacob Yamell; Harvey Galt; E. M. Harvey; Philip Dale; Mrs. L. Dale; J. F. Weaver; Geo. Dale; J. J. Danberman; C. H. Fishburn; F. Resides; M. S. Rhone; F. S. Rhone; Leonard Rhone; J. J. Arney; Geo. Boal; E. Boal; John Snyder; Mr. Treaster; Harrison Bloom; Flora Love; Henry Sankey; J. K. From; Frank Bing; T. L. Crust; John Lytle and sisters; C. W. Bartley; Sullie Kline; Mrs. Henry Montgomery; James Stahl; Wm. Harveland; Mrs. H. S. Springer; Mrs. Carrie Bradford; C. H. Heckman; Alfred Durst; Wm. Lee; Michael Smith; 3 bands: Wm. A. Boal; Mrs. M. A. Ross; Wesley Henry; W. Smith; Isaac Miller; Kate Miller; James Durst; Jacob Sharer; D. C. Keller; R. Keller; John Conley; Amos Mullen; Dr. Alexander; newspaper tent; women's committee; David Brislin; Mrs. Star of the Philadelphia Ledger; S. P. Hookman; Bellefonte Republican; A. Kline-Harrison Kline; police headquarters; J. F. Alexander; State Grange; baggage; James Keller; insurance; L. Eldred.

It was as religious as a camp meeting all day Sunday. At 10:30 Sunday morning Rev. Fans, of the M. E. church, preached in the Auditorium and in the evening at 6 o'clock the Christian Endeavors held an evangelical meeting. At 7:30 Rev. W. W. Rhodes preached and the sacredness of Sunday had been carefully guarded.

Most of Monday was given up to fixing up. Tents, vendors and amusement people were busy, alike, getting ready for the crowds that came after them.

In the evening there was a meeting in the auditorium. Geo. Dale, master of the county grange, presided and Mr. Philip Dale conducted the singing. Isaac Frain, of Abdera, Leonard Rhone of Centre Hall, Col. James F. Weaver, of Milesburg and Miss Emma Brewer were the speakers. All being enthusiastic grangers, there was a continued round of felicitations over the auspicious beginning. Monday's attendance amounted to about 700.

Tuesday was another beautiful day at the park. Everything was in order when morning dawned and people were ready for picnicking. At the various meetings in the auditorium during the day Hon. J. H. Brigham, of California; Hon. J. T. Allman, secretary of the state grange; Mrs. Helen Johnston, Ceres of the state grange; Hon. W. H. Hill, lecturer of state grange and county Sup't. Gramley gave interesting talks.

The evening program brought an original and exceedingly cute "Tom Thumb Wedding" under the direction of the ladies aid society of the Reformed church, foremost in its planning being Mesdames Booser, Mingle, Meyer, Hosterman, Iseberg, Yearick and the Misses Aggie Murray, Mary Kreamer, Tace Kreamer, Emma and Grace Alexander, Fleisher Thomas, Mary Keller and Kate Fleisher. The wedding was carried out by the little folks with every detail as carefully looked after as if it had been real. Many guests arrived and were received and then John S. Rowe's symphony orchestra, comprising 12 violins, Miss Mamie Kreamer, Miss Ida Rhodes, Mr. Bert Poulson and Prof. Bierly; 2nd violins, Dr. W. A. Jacobs, Rev. W. W. Rhoades, Hoffer Dale, J. W. Henry; violin cello, William Booser; bass, H. W. Kreamer; cornet, W. D. Plecher; trombone Mr. Kessinger and pianist, Miss Sadie Kreamer, struck up the wedding march and the bridal party entered. First came their grand parents, then Esther Foreman and Raymond Erdman, maiden aunt and the bride's little brother; Katie Keller and Ralph Dinges; the minister, master John Erdman. Next came the ushers and groomsmen, Ross Bush and Gny Foreman, Charles Lee, Clair Schreffler, Roy Lee and Rufus Rearick. Next came the groom and the best man, Harvey Nearhood and Ralph Lee. Brides maids, Lena Emerick, Grace Crawford, Bertha Erdman, Anna Condo, Helen Sando and Bertha Strohmyer. The maid of honor was Miss Grace Boob. The little flower girls were Emma Rowe, Blanch Rowe, Rhea Keller, Isabel Rowe, Jennie Kerstetter and Mary Rearick. The bride and her father came next, she was three feet tall and about eight years old. The bride's name was Minnie McCormick and her father was Rufus Lee.

The attendance on Tuesday was about 1,000. WEDNESDAY SAW THE FIRST CROWD.

There were easily four thousand people on the grounds on Wednesday. The weather was fine, there were amusements galore, the dust was thick and the pink lemonade man in his glory. During the day former Senator Brown, of York; Dr. J. T. Rothrock, state forestry commissioner; Dr. Leonard Pearson, state veterinarian; and Dr. Weaver, state orthodontist, were the entertainers in the auditorium. While they told many facts of interest to the elderly, the young folks on the ground paraded on the "Mid-way," rode the merry go-round, fished for painted suckers and wound up at Bob Hunting's circus.

It was the best day they have had at the picnic for years and would have been a leader had yesterday not broken its record. YESTERDAY THE BIG DAY.

Everyone of the eight thousand and more people who were at the park yesterday had a good time. The weather was all that could have been desired and everyone had on a holiday humor. Good natured badinage was exchanged between fakir and fakid; the wheezy old organ tunes of the carousel kept the lower end of the "Mid-way" noisy; the flaming posters of the museum freaks held up many a boy and girl in wide-mouthed amazement and the peanut man found buyers on all sides.

Though picnics have been greatly overdone in this county for several years the crowds seemed still to want one more big one before the season closed and they had it. Perspiration and dust were on the free list and every one got plenty of both.

Thursday's speakers were Hon. David Lubin, of California. He spoke of "Tariff as it affects the Farmer." Hon. Frank Moore, of Bradford; Miss Lewis, of Montour county, and W. H. Benninger, of Northampton county. The talks were all instructive and highly enjoyed by large audiences.

Leonard Rhone is at headquarters managing things there. Any information regarding the picnic that he can give is cheerfully done and he has turned his headquarters into a kind of general reception place where all are welcome. Then Mr. George Boal sits about to give instructions about fishing in the various ponds.

The picnic is much more of a success than it has been in years. The stock exhibit is fully twice as large as it has ever been and Mr. George Gierich, who is in charge, is giving perfect satisfaction by his well organized management.

The poultry exhibit is a new feature that occupies a special building, equipped with neat coops, all of which are filled. The implement end of the show is not as large as it has been in past years, however, yet the exhibits cover most every class of farm machinery. Mr. George Dale has charge of this department and his courteous manner of dealing with those who have business with him has done much to promote a feeling of good fellowship among all.

Mr. J. S. Dauberman has charge of the ground to every part of which his careful scrutiny has reached and done something for improvement. Col. Amos Mullen and officers Charles, Smetzer and Garris are doing police duty on the grounds and the good order that prevails shows that their duty is not neglected.

The Pleasant Gap band 22 pieces, is on the ground and music can be had without even the asking. The organization has but recently been equipped with new instruments that add very materially to the quality of the music it makes.

The exhibit of The Pennsylvania State College is unusually complete this year and occupies a building of its own. It includes specimens of grain, fruit, products of the mechanical arts departments, the botanical laboratories and the creamery.

EXHIBITS OF CATTLE. James Keller, Centre Hall, "Dandy" 10 mos. old Durham bull; "Dolly," 16 mos. old Durham cow; "Daisy," 17 mos. old Durham cow; "Duke," 14 mos. old Durham bull.

Isaac Smith, Centre Hall, pure bred Jersey cow 3 years.

J. A. Sankey, Potters Mills, 6 mos. Holstein heifer and 14 mos. Holstein bull.

James Lee, Farmers Mills, 22 mos. Guernsey bull.

D. W. Bradford, Centre Hall, Short Horn bull calf, 4 mos.

Jas. A. McClintic, Farmers Mills, Holstein bull calf 6 mos.; 1 Holstein bull calf 9 mos.; pure Holstein bull calf 9 mos.

Perry Breen, Centre Hall, "Daisy" Durham cow and "Fred," a 30 mos. Durham bull.

J. M. Goodhart, Centre Hall, "Polly" pure blood Jersey cow 3 years.

The Centre Hall Co., exhibited their famous French coaching stallion and he attracted more than ordinary attention from the horsemen who were there.

I. S. Frain, the Abdera horse fancier, had a string of thorough bred there and they attracted much attention. The imported French coaching stallion "Bison," 190, was the leader and was much admired. Then came "Ignore" another French coaching stallion; "Linnie" the 2 yr. Percheron colt got by "Royal;" "Royal," No. 15602, a fine black Percheron stud, "Kite" a pretty 2 yr. French coaching mare and "Maud" her mate. Mr. Frain's exhibit of horses showed that the farmers of this section have splendid opportunities to breed to the best of stock.

THE SHEEP ON EXHIBITION. Perry Breen, Centre Hall, 6 May lambs, Leicestershire and Southdowns. G. W. Gierich, Centre Hall, Hampshire-down buck; Shropshire buck. Leonard Rhone, Centre Hall, 3 Southdowns.

PLENTY OF PIGS TO LOOK AT.

The exhibition of pigs was creditable and included a number of exhibitors. G. L. Goodhart, Centre Hill, Berkshire sow with 9 pigs; Chester White sow with 12 pigs; Chester White sow, 2 mos. grade Berkshire and Poland China boar, 5 mos. B. F. Shaffer, Nittany, the O. I. C. boar "Tom Johnston" No. 1215, 6 mos. This was the finest animal in the pigery and necessarily was much admired.

Geo. W. Gierich, Centre Hall, 4 English Berkshires and "William Penn" the large English Berkshire boar, registered, brought honor to Mr. Gierich as a breeder of fine pigs.

N. C. Shaffer, Nittany, "Actress 1st" a fine Poland China sow with 8 pigs; 3 Poland China sows.

Dr. Geo. Lee, Madisonburg, 8 O. I. C. pigs. Shook Bros., Spring Mills, 3 Berkshires 5 mos.; an O. I. C. boar and a sow each 4 mos.; Chester White sow 1 yr.; Berkshire sow 1 yr. Michael Burkholder, 8 O. I. C. pigs; 2 O. I. C. sows with 6 pigs each. John Cummings, Linden Hall, full blood O. I. C. 15 mos. pigs and 2 s mos. boars O. I. C.

Geo. H. Musser, Milesburg, 3 Chester White boar 6 mos.; 3 sow pigs 6 mos.; and 3 Chester White Poland China boar.

Perry Breen, Centre Hall, 5 Chester White pigs 4 mos. and 5 4 mos.

A FINE POULTRY EXHIBIT. The poultry exhibit is a new feature at the park and occupies a splendidly appointed building by itself. That the place is always crowded evidences the fact that the people are fond of the pretty fowls that are on exhibition.

The Shook Bros., of Spring Mills, carried off the honors in this department with their prize winners just from the State fair, at Johnstown, last week, where they captured 14 firsts, 2 seconds and two sweepstakes prizes. They exhibited coops of Golden Seabright Brahmas, Light Brahmas, barred Plymouth Rocks, buff Leghorns, a very rare chicken indeed, White Minorcas, brown Leghorns, white Leghorns, silver laced Wyandottes, silver laced Hamburgs and 4 white Chinese ducks.

S. W. Smith, of Centre Hall, had some fine light Brahmas and some interesting crosses of the Brahmas with white Leghorns. John Frazer, Centre Hall, white Guineas.

Mrs. D. F. Luse, Centre Hall held up the two most interesting prizes by showing that she knows how to bring up fine silver laced Wyandottes.

Carrie and Mary Gierich, Centre Hall, had a number of pet pigeons. Geo. H. Musser, Milesburg, 3 bronze turkeys.

Geo. W. Ocker, Centre Hall, Plymouth Rocks.

Charles Neff, pigeons.

Edwin K. Smith, Centre Hall, Pekin ducks. J. H. Detweiler, Aaronsburg, has only lately taken up chicken raising, but his fine exhibit of single and rose comb Brown Leghorns, B. K. B. Brahmas, light Brahmas, barred Plymouth Rocks, and rose comb black Minorcas show that he will more than likely carry off some of the prizes that are offered.

THE IMPLEMENT AND MISCELLANEOUS EXHIBITS.

This department is not as largely represented as it was last year. Nevertheless the exhibitors who are on the ground are showing a large and interesting variety of things to look at and the continual whirr of wheels and toot of whistles makes the visitor feel as though he were in the midst of some great manufactory.

Of course McCalumet & Co., of Bellefonte, are on hand with a great line of implements and their agents are kept busy answering questions and explaining the working of the latest improved farm machinery they are showing.

H. J. Wisc, Centre Hall, P. P. Mast and Co.'s goods, fudder shredders, 2 wind engine pumps. Foss Mfg Co., Springfield, Ohio, grinding mills, corn sheller and husker.

W. E. Keller, Madisonburg, Empire threshing engine and farm implements.

J. C. Kearns, Lewistown, Holstein churn.

W. A. Boal, Centre Hall, Crystall creamer, butter worker and Bakers' mill, etc.

E. B. Winkelman, Nittany, wire fence.

L. Taber, Williamsport, button hole attachment for sewing machines.

J. H. Stewart, Williamsport, churns, etc.

Vermont Farm Machine Co., Bellows Falls, Vt., creamery machinery.

Thornton Barnes, Philadelphia, groceries.

Wolf & Crawford, Centre Hall, domestic good and notions.

Kramer & Son, Centre Hall, domestic goods and notions.

Garritt & Son, Philips, clothing.

Penrose Myers, Gettysburg, jewelry and novelties.

W. A. Huber, Mechanicsburg, bicycles and varieties.

Frick and Co., Wyneshoro, threshing engine.

J. I. Thompson, Penna. Furnace, stone crusher, manure and lime spreader.

HIS POCKET PICKED AT GRANGE PARK.

J. G. Alexander, of Milroy, was "touched" for forty-four dollars at the grangers' picnic yesterday morning. He was in Keller's boarding house when some light fingered "gentleman" lifted his wad.

THE HUGHESVILLE FAIR.—The Muncy valley farmer's club will hold their annual fair and race meet at Hughesville, on Sept. 30th, Oct. 1st and 2nd. The club offers $1,200 in prizes for the races alone and it is highly probably that fine contests will result.

PRIZES AT THE STATE FAIR.—The Shook Bros., raisers of fancy poultry, at Spring Mills, had quite an exhibit at the State fair, at Johnstown, last week, and we are pleased to learn that the exhibit was awarded twenty-two prizes.

Report says that Hayes Schenck has been named by Congressman Arnold to succeed Howard Moore, as postmaster at Howard. This is a blow, below the belt, to the Lucas' who were counting certain on securing this political plum, and will prove a bitter pill to the old soldiers who were petitioning for the appointment of their comrade, Henry C. Holter.

Miss Snook, of Spring St., will be home from New York and Philadelphia, after Sept. 20th, and will do all kinds of dressmaking. Tailor made gowns a specialty. A share of your patronage is solicited.

Miss Graham went to Philadelphia and New York, on Wednesday morning, to purchase her stock of fall and winter millinery. She intends stocking her Allegheny street store as it has never been before and wants all her customers to wait and see the stylish millinery she will have to show when she returns.

COL. WILBUR REEDER DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL.—Col. Wilbur F. Reeder, assistant adjutant general of Pennsylvania, was tendered and has accepted the office of deputy attorney general of this Commonwealth. The position has just been vacated by Republican state chairman John P. Elkin, the particulars being published among the telegraphic news of this issue.

Col. Reeder is Governor Hastings' law partner and his appointment is a compliment worthy, though lately, bestowed. When the Governor was inducted into office it was thought that he would honor Col. Reeder at once, in view of their personal relations and the valuable self-sacrificing service rendered in the gubernatorial campaign, but no place was left for him until the new office of assistant adjutant general was created and given to him, with no emoluments and nothing but gilt lace and the rank of a Lieut. Col.

Bellefonte is gratified that another of her residents has found prominence in state affairs and trusts that Col. Reeder will lay down his official duties at the end of his term with his character as clean and unswayed as it was, on Tuesday, when he assumed the new honor.

News Purely Personal.

G. W. Reese and his two sons, Fred and Willie, are now in Philadelphia seeing the sights.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Conley and their daughter Nellie have gone to Philadelphia for a two week's pleasure trip.

Miss Mollie Pyle, formerly of this place, but now of Atlantic City, is visiting Miss Fanny Hutchinson, of Howard street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Butts returned to their home, Holyoke, Mass., on Wednesday morning, after a pleasant ten days with relatives here and State College.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes will soon close their beautiful home, on Allegheny street, for the winter. They will spend the month of October at Atlantic City before going South.

John Hickey, of Butte, Montana, was an arrival in this place, on Friday morning, and is visiting his aunt, Mrs. J. J. Nolan, on Thomas street. He will remain here until the holidays.

Col. W. Fred Reynolds and family went to Beach Haven, N. J., on Tuesday morning. They traveled in the Pullman car "Mascotte" and are at the shore for the benefit of baby Phillip's health.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schadd left, Tuesday, morning for Hot Springs, Virginia, where they will stay a month or two if it agrees with Rudolph's health. He has been sick ever since his return from Niagara and it was thought that the change might do him good.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Powers and their little girl left Bellefonte, on Monday morning, for Philadelphia, where they will stop a week before going to their home in Trenton. This was Joe's first visit to his old home in twelve years and he enjoyed every day of his month's stay in his boyhood's haunts.

Mr. Charles Foster, of State College, dropped in for a moments' call, on Monday morning, while on his way home for his week's rest from his railroad mill run between New York and Pittsburg. Charles is a son of William Foster Esq., of State College, and while he is here only half of his time all of his interests are located in the pretty village that he wouldn't take the whole earth in exchange for.

Capt. J. A. Hunter, of Stormtown, was in town for an hour or so between trains Wednesday morning. He was on his way over to the Granger's picnic to spend the day. The Capt. and his family are great Grangers and usually go camping with the rest of them, but after repeated duckings at the park they gave it up and now the Capt. thinks it is just his luck to miss the fine weather there. His daughter, Miss Anna Mary, was with him.

After a pleasant visit at the home of her parents in this place Mrs. Henry Redding, nee Kate Curry, of Logan street, returned to her home in Spangler yesterday afternoon. Mr. Redding came down to journey home with her and the children. Of course she would rather live in Bellefonte than Spangler, but Mr. Redding is in the coal business there and they are getting along so nicely that they haven't time nor inclination to bother about it.

Joe Barton, of Unionville, the disappointed though by no means sorry aspirant for the post-office here, was in town, on Monday, looking smiling and pleasant as if nothing had happened and the other fellow didn't have the permission. Joe is a stiff Republican, but he is a good fellow as well as the good people of Unionville know his sterling qualities else they wouldn't have made him auditor of the borough ever since he has been old enough to do the work.

Col. James P. Coburn, president of the First National bank, as ardent in the Republican faith as is possible for anyone to be, the orator of many a party convention and a gentleman, withal, may now be truly considered a resident of Bellefonte. On Monday Mrs. Coburn arrived from Aaronsburg and if the Colonel can persuade her that our town is even half as hospitable as the Haines township metropolis they will stay here permanently. The Coburn home in Aaronsburg is a beautiful place and it is but natural that both the Colonel and Mrs. Coburn are loath to give it up.

Two old Bellefonte boys arrived home yesterday afternoon. John Noll, a son of Mr. Emanuel Noll, and Eversley Thomas, a nephew. It will be remembered that "Ev" left the mill works here seven years ago to go to Peoria, Ill., where he has worked ever since without missing a single pay day. He is in the employ of the Peoria Transfer and Storage Co., and likes Illinois's second largest city so well that two years ago he got John Noll a nice position in a bicycle works there and now both boys are home for a week. They looked tickled all right when they got back to old Bellefonte.

DR. FURBAY HAS RESIGNED.—The trouble in the Oxford Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, has probably had its ending in the resignation of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Harvey Greene Furbay, the young divine whose meteoric shoot in the ecclesiastical firmament so tickled his Tyrone admirers some time ago. Dr. Furbay attracted so much attention in Tyrone that the Philadelphia Presbyterians called him to take the place they had squeezed the distinguished Dr. L. M. Colfelt out of. The new broom swept amazing clean for a short time, then the petty nagging began and he was censured for riding a bicycle, censured for parting his hair in the middle and censured for smoking cigarettes. This gave him an unpleasant notoriety, but it was nothing in comparison to the distinction he attained last summer when he choked one of the members of his congregation at Old Orchard, Me. The offensive member had become unbearable and there was nothing left for Mr. Furbay to do but choke him and he did it.

Now he has been asked to resign and has done that too. His resignation was secured by two of the trustees of the church, at Lawrence, Mass., on Saturday, and was read before the church last Sunday. Dr. Furbay is a brilliant young minister and it is unfortunate that his later day christianity does not conform with the stiff necked bigots who do more to harm the christian cause than good.

Rev. Dr. David H. Barron has entered upon the thirty-seventh year of his pastorate of the Hollidaysburg Presbyterian church, loved and venerated by his entire congregation. The Presbyterian Banner, one of the church organs, contained an excellent picture of him last week and a well written sketch.

WOODRING CONFESSED.—In our last edition we published a story of Allison Woodring's arrest for having stolen a bicycle from H. J. Goss, of Phillipsburg, on Tuesday, the 7th, and told of his exciting capture by the officers in this place. At that time the WATCHMAN intimated that Woodring was likely the man who was wanted for stealing three cows from Jacob Woodring, near Port Matilda, and selling them to Gus McClain, of Bald Eagle, for $32.

Woodring has as much as admitted his guilt of stealing the cows and McClain came down and identified him as the seller. The young rascal then implicated constable John River, of Sandy Ridge, and Harry Daughenbaugh, of Port Matilda. Both were arrested and brought here, but River was dismissed without a hearing on Monday morning and the other man had a hearing, on Wednesday, and was discharged. Woodring will be held for the November court. He is a bad character.

SALE OF BLOODED CATTLE AT STATE COLLEGE.—Owing to the burning of the big farm barn at State College it has been found necessary to dispose of twenty-eight head of the fine dairy cattle that were kept in that building. There being no stabling or feed for them, they will be sold at public sale on next Wednesday, Sept. 22nd, and include blooded Guernsey, short horn and Jersey cows, heifers and yearling calves.

In the herd are cows with records of from 250 to 350 lbs., of butter per year. The registered Guernsey bulls, "Coras Deputy," 3340, and "Selectina's College Boy," 4436, will be sold and the registered Berkshire boar "Longfellow Duke" will be included in the list.

This will be an opportunity rarely afforded people of this section to purchase blooded stock, knowing that every animal will be reliable.

Register.

Sept. 22nd.—At 12:30 p. m. at the College barn at State College, fine Jersey cattle, Holsteins, registered cows, bulls, and blooded calves.

Oct. 2nd.—At 11 o'clock, a. m. at the residence of Robert Conter, near Howard, horses, cows, sheep, young cattle, shoats, Etc. Jos. L. Neff, Ave.
