

Pine Grove Mention.

J. D. Hubler is again a resident of our township.

Mrs. E. C. Frye returned home Tuesday after a week's visit among Tyrone friends.

Mrs. Samuel and Laura Feltz, of Altoona, are happy visitors among old acquaintances here.

Samuel Rowe, who represents the Altman Mfg. Co. transacted business here a few days ago.

Mrs. Frank Koch, of Bellefonte, is a welcome visitor at Amos Koch's, near Fairbrook.

Mrs. G. W. Keichline is recovering from an illness which caused her family some anxiety.

Mrs. D. W. and Mrs. J. H. Miller are driving through Mifflin county this week visiting relatives.

Last Saturday the old Glenn homestead, just east of town, was sold at public sale to H. C. Campbell, for nine hundred and ninety dollars.

Isaac Underwood, the genial Bellefonte implement man, circulated among the farmers Monday, and report says he sold a clover huller of the Birdsall make to Mr. Gardner.

Vance the brush slinger made his headquarters at the St. Elmo, last week, while he literally painted our town "yellow." This week he is doing Boalsburg up in bright colors.

D. M. Nideigh, one of State College authorities, was hustling around yesterday in the peach business. His fruit is the largest variety ever offered to our people, who are buying freely.

Mrs. Arthur Bailey is here on a two week's visit while Arthur is stopping at a Pittsburg hotel. The Bailey home, just at the edge of our park, is a fine summer resort as the many city visitors will testify.

The venerable Henry Bloom, who has been quite ill with pulmonary trouble, takes great pleasure in showing his friends a twelve foot corn stalk of the Bryan kind, which grew on his farm.

The parsonage is closed this week so that those who are equipped with the necessary license will call on the squire. Rev. Aikens is attending synod at Newport, while his wife and son are tarrying among Mifflin county folks.

J. H. Weber is supplying State College people with the choicest lot of potatoes they ever had. They are of the Rural New Yorkers and Rose of Erin varieties, some of them tip the scales at 1 1/2 lbs. and this in a poor year.

C. B. McCormick has purchased the J. Shannon McCormick farm and is now monarch of all he surveys. We congratulate Charley for he could have made no better investment than the old homestead around which so many pleasant memories linger.

Our newly wedded couple, Wm. Brown and wife, have moved to Boalsburg into the house vacated by Prof. Rothrock. Wm. is an up to date farmer bound to get his share of this world's goods, and will do his part in swelling the Democratic majority in old Harris.

The Boalsburg Odd Fellows will hold a public meeting in the Reformed church at that place, on Thursday evening, the 14th of October. The meeting will be one of unusual interest and thorough preparations are being made to have it a success. Rev. J. C. Hart, of Jersey Shore, will make the principal address. A hearty welcome is extended to every one. Admission free.

Robert F. Sample, proprietor of the West End hotel, Uniontown, Pa., stopped off between trains, one day last week, to say "howdy" and note the improvements, which have been made in the last dozen years. Bob was for some years the chief clerk of a big coke concern but he left that to go into the hotel business when the duets are rolling in more rapidly. He pays $3000 rent and employs ten helpers so that it is no little thing. While here he was the guest of Joe Ard.

ANOTHER OLD RESIDENT GONE.—On the 24th William Kaup died at his Oak Hall home, without pain or suffering he peacefully fell asleep after a life of 81 years 9 months and 1 day. He was a carpenter by trade and lived a useful humble life respected by all. He was a consistent member of the Reformed church to which he had belonged from boyhood. He is survived by his brother Levi, of Mifflinburg, six sons and two daughters, George, Reuben, Isaac and William, of near Bellefonte, two sons in the West, Mrs. Holter, of Howard and Anna at home. He was buried on the 27th in the Boalsburg cemetery with Rev. Black officiating. The pallbearers were Austin Dale, Andrew Knepp, Emil Peters and J. S. Poorman.
