

Pine Grove Menton.

For a time our genial young friend J. C. Ward is engaged with Morgan, the furniture man, at State College.

Mrs. Mary Ward occasionally enjoys a ride over our new railroad and is this week visiting relatives in the Lumber city.

Merchant O. B. Krebs, a few nights ago, cooped a moonlight huxter in his henery. For the present he is giving no names for publicity.

From the amount of firing along the mountain in the early morning hours it would seem that squirrel season is here.—Nit.

Station agent Tate and wife, Sundayed at his parental home, near Lemont, at Andy Jackson Tate's mansion, where the youngsters love to congregate occasionally.

Walter Woods, a student of the Bellefonte Academy, Sundayed at home on Main street. Walter is an exceptionally bright boy and someday will write M. D. to his name.

All persons who failed to attend services in the down town Bethel church, last Sunday morning, missed a treat from that popular young pulpit orator, Ralph Hingworth.

Harry Imboden and Luther Sunday, of Fairbort, are on a strike for more wages in order to clothe and feed the new girls that arrived at their respective homes this week.

Miss Mary Garner is a very sick lady. Her host of friends will be sorry to hear. She is truly an ideal lady and her recovery is hoped for. At this writing there are slight indications for the better.

Miss Sue Dammley, last Monday, left for Hallsburg, where she will, for the third session, instruct the young America's. Miss Sue has won for herself a reputation as a teacher and well do the Walker township directors know it.

On account of our unintentionally misrepresenting John Weber's big taters in our last letter he wants some one to do the digging and he will furnish the flowers to keep our grave green. The tubers he showed us weighed 21 lbs. Now strip off your fighting togs, John.

After a ten day's visit among Snow Shore and Phillipsburg friends Mrs. Mary Boffor returned home much benefited by the trip. While at Phillipsburg she was the guest of county auditor Frank Hess whose family took special pains in making her stay pleasant.

Adam Louck, a Fairbrook farmer, is the mail carrier from that place to Penna. Furnace and return. As this is Adam's second venture we hope he will continue as no more accommodating or genial officer could be had. Always willing and ready to safely deliver all packages entrusted to his care.

Miss Alka Musser, one of our estimable young ladies, took her departure, last Monday afternoon, for Milroy, where she will furnish the fair sex of that place with the very latest styles in headgear at bottom prices. Anna will remain at the old place on Main street, where she has a full line of fall hats and bonnets in styles to please her customers.

For sometime negotiations have been on the way for the McWilliams farm, at Tadpole, probably better known to our readers as the Tommy Mays' farm, which Mr. William Richie purchased last week. Mr. Richie is a stone mason but hereafter will devote his attention to raising stock and big pumpkins for the fairs.

Wm. Witmer, one of our big "Branch" farmers, is no longer a tenant farmer for on Monday of this week he purchased the Armor farm, on Buffalo Run, said to be one of the blow farms of that section. We are sorry to lose Mr. Witmer as a neighbor, but are always glad to see our friends succeed and more especially when success comes from honest toil and frugality.

Cyrus Hunter, the popular marble man from Stormstown, was hustling around here yesterday soliciting jobs and succeeded. He was accompanied by his son, a gentlemanly youth, truly a chip of the old block. When we last saw them we thought they were planning to capture the entire grave yard at Meek's church.

OFF FOR SCHOOL.—Last Monday morning's train carried three of our promising young men to their winter studies. John G. Miller was destined for Carlisle, where he will live into Gladstone, J. Baker Krebs and F. W. Bailey will enter the Penna. University, at Philadelphia, with a view of fitting themselves for extracting and making grinders.

ANDY LYTLE'S TUMBLE.—Tax collector Andy Lytle had another exciting experience in an apple tree. Some four weeks ago he fell from a tree, badly using up his left side, arm and shoulder. On Monday last he had the same experience. Mashing up his left side again; so he is seriously thinking of investing in some reliable insurance company.

NEW I. O. O. F. OFFICERS.—Last Saturday evening J. B. Heberling installed the following new officers for Penna Valley lodge I. O. O. F.:

N. G., Gordon Harper; V. G., A. B. Tanyer; secretary, A. G. Archey; assistant secretary, S. C. Miller; treasurer, J. G. Heberling; warden, W. H. Fry; Con., J. B. Heberling; O. S. G., N. T. Krebs; I. S. G., J. D. Tanyer; R. S. S., J. W. Fry; L. S. S., S. E. Goss; R. S. to N. G., A. J. Tate; L. S. to N. G., A. S. Walker; R. S. to V. G., David Otto; L. S. to V. G., John Gummo; representative to grand lodge, J. W. Fry.

AN OLD ARM CHAIR.—Carriage builder H. M. Krebs, of this place, has in his possession a relic that is a century and a half old. It is an arm chair that was originally the property of Jacob Hertz, who ran the old "Red House" tavern, between this place and Rock Spring, in the early days of the century. The tavern is now the home of Jacob M. Kepler and in its day was a famous resort.

Mr. Krebs can be seen, most any evening, unconcerned in the old arm chair, on his porch on Main street, sending clouds of smoke skyward from a long "Junia" toby.
