THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

S. J. Yarnell has been appointed post-master at Snow Shoe.

They arrest bicyclists over in Phillipsburg who ride in that borough without a bell.

John S. Holmes, of the vicinity of Jacksonville, recently raised a stalk of corn that was 14ft. and 8 inches tall.

H. A. Snyder has been appointed post-master at Blanchard, this county. He was one of seventy fourth-class appointees announced on Saturday.

Five car loads of apples and fifteen car loads of wheat have thus far been shipped from Nittany valley farms to markets in distant parts.

The "Sporting Craze," that was to have played at Garman's last night, did not reach here. The company disbanded on account of poor business.

Our weekly weather prognostications can be found on page 6 of this issue. In conjunction with it Mr. Foster gives a full forecast of November weather.

Former sheriff Wm. A. Ishler is proudly exhibiting six large potatoes that were recently raised on his farm near Linden Hall. Their combined weight is 12lbs.

A party of Bellefonte young folks enjoyed the superb evening, on Wednesday, by driving to the Old Fort, where they took supper and returned by moonlight.

An eight and one half pound boy baby came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cruse, on east Linn street, last Friday afternoon. Both mother and son are in good health.

The Jewish residents of Phillipsburg have taken action toward securing a cemetery for themselves. They have purchased an acre of ground adjoining the Phillipsburg cemetery and are getting it in trim shape.

The consolidated Milesburg-Coleville band will hold a ball in the armory of Co. B, in this place, on Tuesday evening, October 26th. The consolidated orchestra will furnish the music and preparations are being made for a big time.

Owing to the crippled condition of the Susquehanna University foot ball team the game at State College, advertised for to-morrow afternoon, has been canceled. State will play no more games at home before going to the University of Pennsylvania next Wednesday.

W. V. Hughes, one of Altoona's leading contractors formerly of Bellefonte, has received the contract from A. B. Cunningham & Co., to build their new six-story wholesale tobacco warehouse building fronting on Market street, Philadelphia, and will begin the work in a few days.

Every holder of a ticket for the People's popular course of eight entertainments for $1 is entitled to one seat, but those who prefer can have their seats reserved in advance by the payment of 10 and 20cts extra for each entertainment. The admission for single entertainments will be 50 and 75 cts.

Among the speakers who have been chosen to discuss topics of interest to farmers at the farmer's institutes in the State during the coming winter are Prof. W. A. Buckhout, Prof. Geo. C. Butz, Dr. H. T. Fernald and Dr. William Frear, all of the Pennsylvania State College. The choice was made by the state department of agriculture.

George W. Jackson, senior partner of the banking firm of Jackson, Hastings & Co., has been confined to his home, on Linn street, for a week with a severe cold. For a time he was threatened with pneumonia, but the danger from that is past now, though he is not regaining his accustomed health with that rapidity that his friends would like to see.

Dr. Isaac Guss, of Phillipsburg, who recently won $25 for having formed 1,554 English words from the words "Silver Knight," is working to win the $1,500 offered by the National Recorder, of Washington, to the person who makes the most good English words, using only the letters that are to be found in "Patent Attorney Wedderburn." He has about 10,000 words already.

The Pennsylvania State College football team made a splendid showing against Princeton during the first thirteen minutes of play in their game, on Wednesday, but then weakened and were beaten by the score of 34 to 0. State undoubtedly has splendid material, the equal of the best of them, but lacks in that good, hard, honest training that gives endurance and is the only thing that will work them up to the standard that such men should attain.

The Bellefonte chapter Daughters of the Revolution made a change in the plan of their delightful gatherings by driving to the Old Fort, last Thursday afternoon, and taking supper at the historic old hotel. The ladies had a dual purpose in their visit. Besides enjoying the social features that are so charming in their order they talked over the scheme of erecting a tablet at that point, where they believe the first building in the county was erected. The fort was established by Gen. Potter, in 1777, and was as a protection from Indians.

PETER MENDIS A FREE MAN.—For twenty-days Peter Mendis was forced to remain in jail here because the district attorney had put confidence in the story of a disreputable character who, after failing in an attempt to blackmail the poor Italian, accused him of having poisoned his business partner, James Maria, twenty-two months ago.

It is to the credit of the court that no further postponement of the habeas corpus proceedings was made. The hearing had already been held up twice to await the report of the Philadelphia experts on the stomach and intestines of Maria, that had been sent there for analysis. On Monday afternoon the hearing was called for the last time and so that no further injustice would be done Mendis the Commonwealth undertook to show that it had sufficient evidence on which to hold him, disregarding the report on the stomach.

Just why this evidence was not presented at the first hearing was not discovered until Monday, when its wish-washy character made sport for the large crowd of people who had gathered to hear the case. The Commonwealth was afraid to present it and persuaded the court to hold the Italian over in jail until something could be heard from Philadelphia. But as everyone expected nothing incriminating was heard from the experts and after showing about the measiest case that has ever been presented to a Centre county court, on a serious charge, the Commonwealth apologized to the court and asked for the release of the prisoner.

Apologies won't repay Mendis, nor heal his wounded honor for the twenty-days he had to spend in prison.

The hearing involved the examination of Joshua Foulk, Hard P. Harris, John Howley, Dr. Locke, county coroner, Mrs. Anne Spearley and C. M. Parrish, druggist. All of the witnesses had had some connection with Maria's sickness, burial or the exhuming of his remains. Their testimony developed nothing that has not already been published concerning the case. Mrs. Spearley, the star witness for the Commonwealth, got on the stand to tell "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth" and "sassed" the attorneys to her heart's content, but unfortunately the "truth" she told on the stand did not tally with what she had told the district attorney before and she was not in the box long until the court wearied of such a sorry perversion of justice and wrote out a discharge for Mendis.

The Italian was very happy that night and held an impromptu reception wherever he met anyone.

THE MAN WHO SAVED GEN. BEAVER'S LIFE GETS A MEDAL OF HONOR.—Frederick F. Rohm, of Harrisburg, has lately been awarded a congressional medal of honor for distinguished service at the battle of Reams's Station during the civil war. The occasion for this conferring of such an award on Mr. Rohm is so closely allied with the military career of one of Bellefonte's most distinguished citizens that the following story of it will doubtless prove of interest to most of our readers.

Frederick F. Rohm is a watchman in capitol park, and did not learn of his good fortune until he read it in the newspapers. He received a letter from secretary of war Alger on Monday. Rohm's gallantry consisted in saving the life of General James A. Beaver, at the great risk of his own. Gen. Beaver has never forgotten his rescuer, and when he became Governor he appointed Rohm to a position at the state arsenal, and subsequently secured for him the place he now fills. Gen. Beaver did much toward securing the medal for the brave watchman and has telegraphed his congratulations.

The story of the loss of Beaver's leg and his rescue by Rohm is part of the history of the battle of Ream's Station. August 16, 1864. Beaver was at the time colonel of the 148th regiment and Rohm was chief bugler of the 16th Pennsylvania cavalry. Just after the Sixteenth had passed a small piece of woods about 100 yards from the Union line of intrenchments, Rohm noticed a field officer lying on his back in the dust in the middle of the road waving his hand toward the cavalry. His attention was attracted to him by the fine new dress uniform and the shoulder straps of a colonel which he wore.

Rohm jumped off his horse and taking his blanket placed the officer upon it and with the aid of three other men dragged him back to the intrenchments under a heavy fire. While he was being placed in an ambulance Rohm asked the wounded officer his name. "Beaver" was the faint response. The spot on which Beaver lay when rescued by Rohm soon after became the fighting ground between Hancock's corps and Hill's men, and had the wounded officer not been carried away he would have been trampled to death in the awful charge which followed. As a result of the wound Beaver lost his leg.

SALONA'S REMARKABLY OLD MAN.—Samuel Hartman, of Salona, is probably the oldest man in Nittany valley. He has lived a score of years more than the time allotted to man, yet he is able to move about as a man many years younger. It is hard to realize there are men living to-day who were of school age when we fought with Great Britain, in 1812. Mr. Hartman was, in 1835, a gatekeeper on the old canal, and can relate some interesting anecdotes. He cleared a farm in the wilderness when the nearest neighbors were miles distant and when a wolves prowled about at night. He was a member of one of the first abolition organizations and afterward became identified with the Republican party, but for several years he has been an uncompromising Prohibitionist.

It was thought that the fires in the new glass works, in Lock Haven, would be lighted yesterday. It is expected that the blowing of bottles will be begun on Monday.

Frank D. Fisher, head of the book binding department of the Democrat Pub. Co., of Lock Haven, was in town, on Tuesday, taking measurements for some fine work they expect to do for the county commissioners.

Port Bilger was severely injured by being kicked in the breast by one of his father's horses last Friday morning. The accident occurred at his home, at Arctic Springs, between Phillipsburg and Beaver Mills.

Miss M. Snyder announces to her customers that her fall opening will be on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 20th and 21st. An elegant display of imported hats and bonnets. Novelties a specialty. Miss Breem, formerly with Hilton, Hughes & Co., of New York, is trimmer.

Alva S. Grow, local editor of the Bellefonte Republican in 1878, has been appointed bank examiner by commissioner Gilkeson to succeed Oscar A. Neff, of Altoona, resigned. The salary is $10 a day. He is the Republican register and recorder of Clinton county, serving his second term.

MILLINERY OPENING.—Miss Maize Graham announces that the opening of her line of fall and winter millinery will be made today, Friday, October 15th. She has just returned from New York with the finest assortment she has ever shown in town and invites everyone to call at her millinery, corner Allegheny and Bishop streets, on her opening day.

I. O. O. F. OFFICERS.—Bellefonte lodge I. O. O. F. installed its new officers, who will serve for the next six months, last Thursday night. They were: Past grand, Sigmond Joseph; noble grand, J. Will Conley; vice grand, A. B. Lukenbach; secretary, H. B. Pontius; treasurer, Isaac Miller; assistant secretary, Harry Everhart; chaplain, J. B. Smith; warden, W. Harrison Walker; conductor, Thomas Moore; guard, Herbert Miller.

THE GUN BLEW UP.—Yesterday Benj. Shaffer, of east Howard street, borrowed Jerry Shutt's muzzle loading shot gun and began to clean it up preparatory to taking a hunt to-day. After he had it in good shape he decided to try it and went out into the back yard to shoot it off.

The breech blew out sending the full charge of powder into his face, seriously injuring him. Dr. Harris was called in, but the unfortunate man's face is too badly swollen to permit of the removal of the powder from his face and eyes. Though he will not lose his sight it is feared that that of his right eye will be impaired.

Kene's saw mill, near Eagleville, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. Partially insured.

About 7 o'clock Monday evening Kellerman's house, in Tangletown, near Milesburg, caught fire from a defective flue. The Citizen's hook and ladder company of the latter place was on the scene promptly, however, and soon subdued the flames.

ANOTHER LARGE BARN BURNED IN BRUSH VALLEY.—Last Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock the large bank barn owned by Mrs. Philip Hubler, located near Rebersburg, was discovered to be on fire and the entire community was thrown into a fever of excitement. The barn was completely enveloped in flames before they were discovered and all effort to save it was fruitless. Nothing is known as to the cause of the fire.

The building was insured for nearly $2,000.

BALD EAGLE VALLEY'S LARGEST BARN IN ASHES.—The monster barn on "Mud lick" farm, 12 miles west of Julian, was totally destroyed by fire, on Wednesday night. The farm was occupied by H. K. Mattern and everything he had in the barn was burned, with the exception of the live stock.

No idea as to the origin of the flames is had. There was some insurance on the property, but not enough to cover the loss.

A PECULIAR GAS LEAK.—For some time the odor of illuminating gas had been detected near the entrance to Rowe's furniture store, in the Bush arcade, on High street, but the pipe men in the employ of the gas company were unable to locate it. The mains are from ten to eighteen feet deep along near the High street bridge, having been laid years ago before the street was filled up to its present grade. This makes it a difficult job to strip them, so it was put off as long as possible with the hope that the locality of the leak could be nearly located by the odor.

On Monday it became so strong, just in front of Rowe's show window, that a hole was punched into the earth between the paving stones and tried with a lighted match. No sooner had the light been applied than with a terrific report a jet of flame shot high into the air and another blew a large stone from the foundation wall and shot far out into Rowe's cellar. The gas had followed the pipe into the cellar and for awhile made it very dangerous. The place was full of mattresses, burlap, excelsior and other inflammable furniture packing so that it required considerable work to keep it from taking fire.

It was nearly mid-night when the pipe was stripped and found to have been broken almost in two.

ANNIVERSARY MEETING.—The annual gathering together of the friends of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. to commemorate with fitting service the closing of a year's work and to pray that the richest blessing may crown the work of a new year will be held in the Presbyterian church, on Sunday evening, October 17th. Rev. Dr. Lawrence M. Colfelt will deliver the address and everyone is cordially invited to attend the meeting. A male choir will sing with W. T. Meyer, as organist.

The condition of the Bellefonte association is most encouraging indeed. It needs but a visit to the rooms to convince anyone of the good work that is being done there and the number of frequenters of the reading, game and conversation rooms, the gymnasium and bowling alleys is the greatest earnest of their attractiveness.

Lately the halls and assembly rooms have been freshened with new paint, the howling alley overhauled and other improvements made that lend an additional charm to the building. It is a splendid rendezvous for boys and young men and, in truth, many older gentlemen find pleasant recreation in the association rooms, where the pure, moral atmosphere that pervades every nook and corner is a constant revelation to them.

There are many Bellefonte parents who have not the slightest idea where their boys spend their evenings and, probably, less concern, yet if they were to institute a search some night they might be surprised to find them comfortably reading wholesome literature or indulging in beneficial athletic sports in the association rooms; there under the care of a pleasant, christian manager.

THE BELLEFONTE Y. M. C. A. AND PEOPLE'S POPULAR LECTURE COURSE.—Because of the fact that a misunderstanding is reported to exist in some quarters relative to the interest the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. has in the proposed course of eight entertainments to be given in Bellefonte during the coming winter the board of directors of the association, at a meeting last Monday night, took action practically as follows:

Though subscriptions have been solicited for what is to be known as the People's course of eight entertainments, under the announcement that the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. is to share in the profits of the enterprise, the directors of the association disclaim any agreement or contract of any participation, whatever, in it.

The misunderstanding was in the sale of season tickets which were said to have been offered for $1, without any explanation of the fact that an additional charge of 10 and 20cts will be made for reserved seats at each entertainment.

The course is a particularly strong one and will prove highly satisfactory to the town, but the association does not care to be identified with it and does not expect to share in the profits, if there be any.

THE NEW UNION CHURCH AT HECLA DEDICATED.—Christ's Union church at Hecla park was dedicated, last Sunday, under most auspicious circumstances and the brightest of fall sunshine.

The church was built to fill a long felt want for a suitable place for christian worship and the title to the property is so vested that members of any denomination can use it for religious purposes. While there are many families in that community of different sects there are not enough of any particular one to support a church alone, hence the building of the Union.

Rev. J. Sechrist, of Howard, conducted the dedicatory services and was assisted by Rev. Crittenden, of this place. Quite a large number of people attended and the indebtedness was wiped out, leaving a small balance in the treasury. The site for the building was donated by the late J. Cline Zimmerman.

CATHOLIC CHURCH SOUVENIR.—The dainty little souvenir book which has lately been issued by St. John's Catholic church, of this place, will be put on sale next week. It is an artistic book and will be an interesting heir-loom in any household in this community, whether in town or country, and will be more interesting still ages from now. The price has been fixed at 50 cts and the proceeds will be for the benefit of the church.

The Jacksonville Christian Endeavor society held a very entertaining social at the country home of Mr. William Irwin, about two miles east that place, on Friday night. Regular monthly socials are a feature of the work of the Jacksonville society and are proving so attractive that a great many young people of that community are being brought under the wholesome influence of the society.

There will be a special meeting for directors, officers, members and contributors to the Y. M. C. A., in the association rooms, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Dr. Colfelt will talk on the work of the association. Owing to the limited seating capacity of the rooms admission will be by card. Those desiring to attend can secure cards at the association rooms.

The new United Brethren church, in Phillipsburg, was raised on Saturday and it was expected that it would be under roof by the end of this week.

A NEW HALL FOR CENTRE HALL.—Work has been begun on the new town hall that the Grangers are to build at Centre Hall and by next spring that town will have one of the best appointed public meeting places in the county.

The new hall is to be built in the southern end of the town and will be of brick. It is to cost about $5,000.

Mrs. Nancy Guipe, aged 93 years and 6 months, died at the home of J. J. Johnsonbaugh, near Hecla park, on Monday morning at 3 o'clock. Deceased was a widow. Her burial was made on Wednesday afternoon from the new Union church at Hecla.

Mrs. Susannah Biddle, relict of the late George Biddle, of Scotia, this county, died at Arch Springs, last Friday, in her 70th year. Deceased had been ill for some time with typhoid fever. She was born near Buffalo Run and interment was made in Gray's burying ground, near Stormstown, on Sunday. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Christian Denage, Bellwood, William, Phillipsburg; Mrs. John Rumberger, living near Warriorsmark; Mrs. William Musser, South Phillipsburg; George, Lewisburg; Mrs. Ed. Gingery, Arch Springs, at whose home she died, and David, of Scotia.

GEORGE GILL SKIPPED OUT.—George Gill, who will be remembered as having played ball with Tyrone when the old Mountain league was in existence, played during the past season with Lock Haven. The pay of the players was a little slow down there so last Saturday they closed the season with a benefit game and dance for the players. It is claimed that Gill handled the funds and instead of distributing them he kept the entire amount and departed. He passed through this place Saturday night.

KILLED ON THE BEECH CREEK.—A. H. Clark, a Beech Creek R. R. brakeman, was killed by being struck on the head by the over-head bridge, above Mill Hall, yesterday afternoon. His body was found lying on top of a car when the local freight pulled into Beech Creek. His head was crushed in.

KILLED NEAR HOUTZDALE.—Alex Doran, of Cross Forks, Potter county, was struck by an A. & P. connecting special train near Houtzdale, last Saturday night, and received injuries from which he died a few hours later. He had formerly lived at Houtzdale and had returned on a visit to his mother-in-law who lives at Old Moshannon, a suburb of the town. After taking a few drinks he started for her home. When near the Prospect shaft he sat down on the track and was struck by a special train that was speeding towards Phillipsburg.

He is survived by a widow and three children.

News Purely Personal.

W. S. Baine, of Altoona, an employee of the Altoona and Logan valley electric railroad, passed through this place, yesterday afternoon, on his way to visit friends at Pleasant Gap.

Elihu W. Turnbach, of this place, in the fore part of the week in this place in the interest of Platt, Barber & Co., wholesale Phillipsburg grocers. He was buying apples and potatoes.

Will H. Keller Esq., of Lancaster, is in town on a short business trip. He arrived Wednesday evening and is stopping with his brother Harry, on east Linn street. He will spend Sunday here.

James H. Speer, of Abilene, Kansas, a brother of Mr. W. T. Speer, of west High street, spent Tuesday night and Wednesday as his guests.

Dr. John F. Alexander, of Centre Hall, was in town, on Tuesday, and took dinner at the Bush house. He was here in conference with a number of county physicians relating to business of their medical society.

George Armor, youngest son of Mr. Monroe Armor, of east Linn street, returned to his duties as car accountant for the Poughkeepsie and Eastern railroad, on Tuesday evening. He had been home for a week's visit.

Mr. Louis Kohlbecker, of Milesburg, one of the young musicians interested in the new orchestra down there, was in town, on Saturday, looking after some business incidental to the proper equipment of the organization.

Frank Wetzel, the Milesburg coroner virtuosus, was in town, on Wednesday, and tried to make believe he was mad because some fellow said to him on the street "chase yourself back where you belong." He did it at all right, when he got ready.

Dr. John Clark, well known in Bellefonte, has returned to his home at Glen Campbell, Indiana county, after a pleasant visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, near this place. Miss Anna Clark accompanied her brother to Glen Campbell for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob D. Hassel, of Syracuse, arrived in town last evening, and are visiting at Mrs. Hassel's father's, Mr. A. Bann's, on east Bishop street. It is Mrs. Hassel's first visit home on her marriage and she will remain for a week or two, while Mr. Hassel enters to his jewelry trade in this territory.

Hon. John T. McCormick, of Ferguson township, spent Monday in town settling up the business of his lamented father's estate. Happily for the family there was none of that unpleasantness that often accompanies such sad duties. The impress of the straight-forward life of the late J. Shannon McCormick is recognized in all of his children and that is the reason they could "just settle the business up without any trouble whatever."

Mrs. Aaron Williams surprised her numerous friends in this place by dropping in on them last week, but disappointed them, straightway, by announcing that she had not returned to stay. She is living with her mother and widowed sister, at Richmond, Ind., and while they all suffer more or less with malaria they will not leave unless it is to move on to Colorado, where a brother is employed as an electrical manager. Mrs. Williams was just here to attend to some business pertaining to the settling of her lamented husband's estate.

Louis J. Evans, not so long ago a resident of Bellefonte, but now located at his old home in Curwensville, dropped into town, on Saturday, to spend a few hours with his friends here. He was on his way home from Wilkesbarre, where he had been attending the state firemen's convention and looked decidedly natty in his green uniform. While here Mr. Evans was a member of the Bellefonte band and was employed at the Standard scale works, but left that plant to accept a position with Alley Bros. & Co., tanners, of Curwensville.

Alfred Belty, of Chicago, spent Monday in Bellefonte and was the guest at dinner of J. C. Meyer Esq., of Curtis street. Mr. Belty is one of the foremost music publishers of the West and has nineteen volumes of church, choral and school music on the market. He is originally from the vicinity of Madisonburg, this county, and twelve years ago directed the singing of the Farmer's Mass, in Humes' hall, in this place. That was his last visit here and consequently he noticed many changes when he arrived on Monday. He has been down in Brush-valley for a week or more and was on his way back to Chicago.

BUYING LARGE QUANTITIES OF APPLES IN CENTRE COUNTY.—The farmers of Centre county are realizing ready sale for their apples at McCalmont & Co's., of this place, and Shortledge & Co's., of State College, whose salesmen are buying all the apples they can secure. They have already purchased about three thousand bushels. The men who are buying state that if the apples had been sprayed in due season, there would be more than twice as many good winter apples for sale; the worms having destroyed or injured, in some instances, more than one half the crop. Oregon Atwood and James Roan have started the old cooper shop at the mill works and are making the barrels in which the apples will be shipped. The farmers pick the apples and haul the barrels from the nearest station. The buyers do one half the work in barreling and the seller does half, after which the seller delivers the barreled apples to the nearest railroad station. The buyers of the apples pay the freight on the empty barrels to the station to which they are shipped. This gives a market for apples not heretofore realized by farmers in Centre county.

THE DIRTIEST TRAMP ON EARTH.—The Tyrone police captured what then believed to be the dirtiest tramp on earth a few days ago and took up a popular subscription to buy soap with which to wash him. After they had secured twenty-five cakes of cleaner the grave question as to who would do the scrubbing arose. The mess was such a filthy one that for awhile it looked as though the hobo would escape to further enjoy himself in his portable wallow. But just as the police were about to let him go a colored train jumper was brought in and given his option of becoming a human washing machine or spending ten days in the Hollidaysburg jail. He chose the former and went to work.

It took everyone of the twenty-five cakes of soap to get the various crustaceous deposits off of him, but when done he looked like a different man. His picture was taken before and after the operation and will be used as a soap advertisement. The removal of the stiffening of dirt left the poor hobo so weak that he had to be sent to the county almshouse to recuperate.

THE CHRONOTHANATOLECTRON SHOW.

Well, why don't you pronounce it and go right a head reading that this show is going to be the most novel and entertaining in its features of any that has ever exhibited in Bellefonte. It will be here for three nights only, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 2nd, 3rd and 4th of Nov., and in order that everyone can see it the admission has been fixed at the surprisingly low sum of 10cts.

The greatest features will be the singing and dancing, Mother Goose drill and the exhibition of the marvelous chronothanatolectron which goes far ahead of the kitescope.

The show will be given in the armory of Co. B, corner of Lamb and Spring streets, and will be for the benefit of St. John's Episcopal church.

MRS. GILMORE'S MILLINERY OPENING.—Friday and Saturday, Oct 15th and 16th, to-day and to-morrow, are the days Mrs. Gilmore has fixed for the first display of her fall and winter millinery. She has a larger and better selected line than ever and cordially invites all the ladies in the county to call and see the new things in her store in the Brockerhoff house block.
