

Hubbersburg.

Miss Hattie Mann, of Bellefonte, was the guest of Mrs. James Carner, over Sunday.

Mrs. A. H. McClintick and daughter, of Coalport, are visiting Mr. Samuel Hoy's.

Mrs. Ada Evans, of McKeesport and a sister of Benner Rumberger are visiting here.

Miss Emma Bergstesser is cavassing in our midst the premium she is after being a bicycle.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Miller and son Oliver, of Lock Haven, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. G. F. Hoy.

Rev. Runkle is having a series of meetings at Marsh Creek previous to communion services.

Frank Decker, of McClure, was called home on account of the sudden illness of his wife.

Edward Dunkle, the crack base-ball pitcher, is visiting his half-brother, Mr. Fred. Youm, having closed the season with the Philadelphia club.

Hon. John A. Woodward will meet the citizens on Saturday, Oct. 20th, between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock, to arrange for the farmers institute to be held here in December.

Will Lander, of Altoona, and Ed. Geary Esq., of Lock Haven, met at the residence of James Carner for a days hunt and recreation. The first party was going to supply Altoona with elk, antelope and various other game while the latter was satisfied with squirrel, pheasants, and turkey (if tame.) Mrs. Carner's watch dog seems to have no fondness for merchants and lawyers and urged the hunters to mount the roofs of out-buildings for protection. Any one hearing their screams would infer they were not lacking in lung power, but descendants of the American Indian.

Blue Grove Mention.

J. B. Ard is improving from his recent illness.

Mrs. H. H. Goss is visiting Altoona friends.

Mrs. J. D. Wagner is recovering from her serious illness.

Mrs. Cyrus Goss and family have taken rooms at her mother's on Water street, where they will be during the winter.

Rev. Hepler, of Lemont, and postmaster Miller went squirrel hunting half a day and brought down fifteen of the frisky tribe.

C. T. Lemou, one of Gatesburg's young nimrods, came in with an eighteen pound gobbler and its beard measured nine inches.

John E. Bressler, while preparing for a hunt, was handling his gun carelessly, when off it went and shot him through the nostril.

County superintendent Granley inspected our schools this week and found them in a flourishing condition. An unusual attendance is reported.

Miss Anna Musser has just returned from New York with a large assortment of the latest millinery. You are cordially invited to inspect the styles and carry home with you the chapeau that suits you best.

Corn husking is on the wane and much soft corn is reported. The crop is good only where the land has been well cultivated. The timely worm did much damage so that crop will be a short one.

E. F. Walters, the photographer from Nittany, is circulating through this section this week soliciting orders and delivering photographs that commend his work. He is a genial man who bears acquaintanceship.

Rev. J. Y. Brouse has a short absence from his charge and is shaking hands with his friends here. He preached in the M. E. church Sunday evening to a large audience. His preaching is always appreciated highly by our people.

Warren Bailey, general agent for a large carriage concern in Springfield, Ill., is east waiting for the prosperity train. Mr. Bailey is a well groomed man capable of filling the position he holds and he has many friends here, who are always glad to welcome him to the old home. Mrs. Bailey is with him and they are thoroughly enjoying their visit.

Prof. Weaver, county superintendent of Clearfield county, is this week dressed in overalls hustling in potatoes, picking apples and cribbing corn on his farm while Mrs. Weaver is stirring apple butter, arranging for the sale and getting the place in order for the new owner. The farm has been in possession of the Weaver's for three generations and Mr. Weaver only parted with it because he was not near enough to give it his personal supervision.

Recently, while calling on some neighbors in company with her brother, Robert, Miss Mamie Campbell met with an accident that might have cost her life. At Koch's Robert helped his sister into the buggy and then untied the horse not noticing that she did not have the lines. Before he could get in the horse, had started to run and Mamie was perfectly helpless. It is thought the seat tilted as she was thrown out on her head and was picked up in an unconscious condition. She was severely bruised but escaped almost miraculously from any serious hurt. The horse ran home and the buggy was but slightly damaged.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The November Century will contain an article on "The Growth of Great Cities," prepared by Roger S. Tracy, M. D. This will be accompanied by an inserted colored map of Greater New York, specially prepared for the readers of the magazine, and giving unpublished statistics.

Edward Grieg, the famous Scandinavian composer, has written a study of Mozart, which will appear in the November Century, in the series of articles on music by the leading musicians of the day.
