Thanksgiving Day.

Turkey in the oven,
Punkin pies all made;
Let's peek in the pantry—
Hain't a bit afraid.
Hain't she full of goodies?
My, how we will eat
When we get a chance ter
Tackles turkey meat!
Say! That turkey's stuffed ez
Full ez er'n stick!
Guess, though 'tain't no fuller
'N' I'll be pretty quick
My, I wish they'd hurry!
Dinner time comes slow
When a fellow's waited
All forenoon, yer know.
Here she comes, erstamin!
Hip, hip, hurrah!
Say! There's nothing finer
'N' Thanksgiving day!

Where Did We Get the Thanksgiving Festival.

The threads that make up the warp and woof of the history of Thanksgiving are wide-spread and far-reaching. Some of these strands stretch back through distant ages, to the banks of the Nile, others to the ancient Hebrews, still others to the Greeks and Romans; not a few start from more modern looms.

Looking back along the track of history, we find that nearly every nation had a Thanksgiving festival. The ancient Egyptian husbandman observed a day of feasting and thanksgiving annually after the ingathering of the harvests. It was a day of religious worship as well as of festivity, and many a precious offering was laid upon the altar of Isis, the holy mother, who protected the harvests, and many a procession, crowned with wheat leaves, walked to her temple where they sang praises to the goddess.

The Greek Thalia in honor of Demeter, and the Roman Cerealia in honor of Ceres, were both thanksgiving festivals observed in connection with the annual returns of the fruits of the earth.

Under the Hebrew dispensation Thanksgiving was observed as the Feast of the Tabernacles, or of the Ingathering, only instead of one day there were seven days of the celebration. During this time the people lived in booths or huts made of boughs and grasses. By day there were thanksgiving banquets, processions to the temple, and costly sacrifices; by night there were illuminations, and the singing of hymns by the grandest chorus the world ever heard.

One of the great fete days of Old England, and the most popular after Christmas and May-day, was the Harvest-home, a rural festival held at the close of harvest time. There were sports and gambols on the village green of every hamlet at these times, wrestling matches between the young men, feasts of archery and dancing, followed by a sumptuous feast, when a good deal of hearty food was consumed, and a large quantity of beer was drunk in the hearty English fashion.

Missionary Work of Methodists.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—The general committee on missions of the Methodist Episcopal church at its session to-day, proceeded with the appointments for domestic missionary work.

Appropriations for the various Indian missions were made as follows: Michigan, $300; North Montana, $1,200; Northern Minnesota, $400; Northern New York, $413; Oregon, $672; Puget Sound, $350; Wisconsin, $384.

For conferences north of the Potomac and the Ohio and east of the Mississippi river the appropriations were: For Detroit, $4,330; Eastern Maine, $1,607; Maine, $1,210; Michigan, $3,600; New Hampshire, $1,161; Northern New York, $1,073; Troy, N. Y., conference, $900; Vermont, $1,210; West Wisconsin, $4,000; Wilmington, $600; Wisconsin, $3,552.

Very little opposition was made to these appointments, but there was a long and somewhat spirited debate over the amount to be given the Black Hills mission. A motion was made to give $4,300 for the Black Hills school. Several bishops in opposing the notion claimed that the school was a private institution and did not belong to the mission.

If the precedent were established of appropriating missionary money for educational purposes, the speakers argued, the committee would be involved in endless trouble. The matter was finally disposed of by appropriating $4,320, simply for the general missionary work at Black Hills. The Dakota conference was granted $9,200 and $1,310 was voted to Des Moines.

The afternoon session opened with Rev. Bishop John H. Vincent, in the chair. The devotions were led by Rev. Dr. J. McCabe, of Tennessee.

The foreign mission of North India was taken up. The North Nebraska, hoped consists of the northwestern provinces east of the Ganges and the province of Oudh. This mission was established in 1856, and was organized into a conference in 1864. It has 38,278 members and probationers.

The sub-committee of the missionary board recommended $61,720, including $600 to increase the salaries of the preachers who are in dire distress. It will be remembered that India has greatly suffered from famine. There was much discussion and foreign missions were finally laid on the table to make way for domestic.

The first taken up was the Kansas conference. Dr. H. H. Hodge, of Nebraska, hoped there would be no reduction. Dr. King, of New York, said there had been such prosperity this year in Kansas that it could stand a cut when a reduction must be made somewhere. Dr. Martindale and Bishop McCabe spoke for Kansas and $1,200 was voted. Minnesota received $3,437 and Nebraska, $2,150; North Dakota, $3,640; North Nebraska, $5,000, and Northwest Iowa, $3,500.

At to-night's session the committee made the following appropriations:

In the Mountain Region—Arizona, $6,000; Colorado, $8,255; Idaho, $4,000; Montana, $5,800; Nebraska, $4,000; Mexico, English, $5,280; North Montana, $4,400; Utah, for work and schools, $10,600; Wyoming, $5,500.

Pacific Coast—California, $5,870; Columbia river, $7,500; Oregon, $4,600; Puget Sound, $5,000; Southern California, $4,750.

For white work in the south, Maryland and Delaware excepted, a total sum of $148,925; for colored work, mostly in the south, a total sum of $34,005.

—The Methodist Episcopal church of the United States has increased her average annual missionary contributions $8,517,500 years from $108,300 to $2,304,900. The average per member has risen from less than 20 cents to $1.02. While the aggregate wealth of the United States increased in fifty years 302 per cent, and the value of farms and farm property increased 100 per cent, the missionary contributions of the church increased 60 per cent. The facts show that the growth of missionary spirit has greatly outstripped the growth in our material progress.

—A girl baby was brought to a clergyman in Syracuse to be baptized. The minister asked for the name of the child, and the father responded, "Dinah M." "But what does the 'M' stand for?" asked the clergyman. "Well, I don't know yet," the father replied. "It all depends upon how she turns out. If she is nice and sweet and handy about the house, like her mother, I shall call her Dinah May, but if she has a fiery temper like mine, I shall call her Dinah Might."

—An Aggrieved Wheelman.

"I don't believe I quite understand your contention," said the Judge to the bicyclist; "it seems that the prisoner is a house mover; that he was moving a small frame house at the time of the trouble, and that you ran into the house. I can't see what offense was committed." "But your Honor," protested the bicyclist, "I rang my bell when I was half a block away and he paid no attention to it." —Detroit Journal.

Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at F. OVER STUDIED.

A YOUNG LADY'S HEALTH RUINED PREPARING FOR GRADUATION.
Was Over-ambitious and Went Beyond Her Strength. Constant Pain and Misery. Her Critical Condition.

From the Democrat, Shelbyville, Ind.

In one of the main streets of Shelbyville, Indiana, resides Mrs. Emily Edwards and her seventeen year old daughter, Cora. The young lady is one of the charming misses of the city, she being known for her beauty and perfect health.

"Although enjoying good health now," said her mother to a reporter recently, "she has not always been so fortunate. I suppose Cora, until two years ago last March, was as healthy and strong as any girl of her age. She was attending school and was studying hard. Perhaps she was too studious, for we noticed that the healthy color in her cheek was rapidly disappearing, and she was becoming pale and sorrow. Dark, swollen circles began to appear under her eyes, and she rapidly became worse. We were living in Franklin, Indiana, at the time, and Cora would have graduated that Spring. She stopped attending school and endeavored to get a rest, but her health kept falling. Her blood was colorless and impure. She would also have sick headache, could scarcely eat or sleep, and was almost continually in pain. Nothing which we did for her seemed to do any good.

"Different physicians treated and prescribed for her she kept getting worse. She had formerly weighed 90 pounds, but during her illness her weight had dwindled down to 79 pounds. We began to think there was nothing we could do for her benefit, when I happened to notice an article in a paper regarding the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I thought that if there was ever a pale person it was certainly Cora, so I decided to buy a box of the pills and let her try them. It was the first of last May when she began, and near the middle of June when she stopped using the pills. The first dose helped her, and after the first box had been taken, she was a different girl. She continued with this medicine and when she had taken eight boxes a complete cure had been effected.

She is now stronger, can eat more, sleeps better, and weighs more than she did before she was taken sick. I am sure too much cannot be said about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in her case, as they undoubtedly saved her life. We have recommended them to a number of sufferers."

The young lady said a word of approval, and that she felt very grateful for the benefit received through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. "I agree with my mother," said she, "what I would not be living to-day had I not used these pills."

To leave no doubt as to the truthfulness of her story Mrs. Edwards cheerfully made the following affidavit:

SHELBYVILLE, IND., May 13, 1897.
This is to certify that the above story concerning the illness and subsequent recovery of my daughter Cora, is an exact and truthful representation of the facts in her case.
