

squable, resulted in the board sustaining the teacher, Harry Frantz.

Mrs. Charles Shatzer, of Altoona, and her bright little girl are welcome visitors at grandma Smith's on Water street.

Wm. J. Meyers, the hustling carriage maker at Alexandria, spent last week at his old bench doing up some elegant new jobs in H. M. Kreb's shop.

Supervisor Archev is getting in full time with the stone crusher and in consequence has the roads in pretty good shape for the winter.

Hess and Musser, threshers, have pulled to the last barn for this season's crops with a record of fifty thousand bushels threshed since harvest.

Squire Keichline, of Bellefonte, was in town the beginning of the week looking after his aged mother's comfort and happiness and shaking hands with old cronies.

Mrs. J. C. Milligan, of Juniata county, is visiting her Centre county relatives for the first time in twenty years. She is just as pleasant as ever and aside from her silver locks looks not a day older.

George W. Keichline and wife started for Philadelphia last Monday morning, where Mrs. Keichline will enter the University hospital for treatment. Geo. McWilliams, youngest son of G. W. McWilliams, went down to be treated for catarrh at the same hospital. His sister Alice went with him for company.

While pursuing some moonlight hucksters, who had confiscated a fine gobbler, Edward Savage Erb was shot through the coat which caused him to halt. Some weeks ago Mr. Erb had his buggy and harness stolen and although he offered a reward of twenty dollars he has heard nothing of them. Now the villains are after his poultry, nightly, and he does seem to be in hard luck.

Last Saturday evening as school directors B. B. Hess and Jacob Harpster were home-bound from a meeting of the board riding in Mr. Hess' buggy to have a little chat and leading Mr. Harpster's horse behind, the horse frightened and jumped into the rear of the buggy affecting the occupants much as a cyclone would. The wreck was adjusted but the Secretary did not find his satchel 'til the next day.

All Through Brush Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ocker are on the sick list.

The widow, Mrs. Franklin Hubler, is quite ill, having a fever.

Mrs. Evans is visiting at Bellefonte and Mr. E. is staying at the hotel awaiting her return.

The accomplished daughter of Mr. Jno. Wolfe, Miss Winifred, returned home from her trip to Bellefonte a week previous.

Mrs. John Ocker and her daughter, Mandie of Union Co., near Mifflinburg, visited friends at Rebersburg Monday and Tuesday last.

This cold spell of weather is doing some damage to the water pipes of the Rebersburg water Co., some having been frozen tight already.

Nearly everybody through the valley has finished butchering and are all looking forward to a splendid season of enjoyment through the holidays.

Austin Gramley, the Rebersburg landlord, was laid very low by the hand of disease last week but is up again and able to follow his business.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.—The people of Rebersburg and vicinity need not only be proud of the grand educational advantages which they have through their excellent public schools, but also of the splendid religious privileges they enjoy and the opportunities for doing good.

The following was the program for the week. Rev. T. S. Faus held revival meetings in the M. E. church, which he started several weeks ago, until Thursday evening, when he closed them. Eight professed to have been saved and on Sunday morning seven joined the church, after which the Lord's supper was administered.

Rev. Mumma, pastor of the Lutheran church, held meetings several evenings and on Saturday prior to communion on Sunday morning, at which time ninety nine gathered at the Lord's table. A very interesting feature at the Lutheran church is the question box on Sunday evenings in the C. E. meetings. At the first meeting "Temperance" was the subject. It was very ably discussed by the various members and it was decided that man should be temperate in all things, not only in drinking, and that the use of tobacco, in any form, is an evil second only to that of liquor.

A week of prayer was held in the Reformed church by Rev. George, as a preparation to communion on Sabbath morning, which was a very interesting service.

Very unexpectedly John Wolfe when on his way home from church with his family, suddenly became seriously ill and only got as far as C. Morris', at West Rebersburg, where he still remains slowly recovering.

Man is never so high
On the ladder of health,
That the hand of disease
Cannot reach him.
Therefore let us be ready,
Whenever he comes,
With Job-like patience
To meet him.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The Forum for December is full of good things, and its array of writers is a strong one. The leading article is by Mr. James Bryce, perhaps best known to American readers through his work "The American Commonwealth." The subject of his paper is "The Policy of Annexation for America"; and he approaches the question as "One who can honestly say that his only motive for writing is his interest in the welfare of the great country which he has so often visited." Mr. J. H. Eckels, comptroller of the Currency, in his paper on "The Wolcott Commission and its Results," argues that the failure of the commission ought to settle once and for all the idea of the feasibility of international bimetalism. Mr. Eckels claims that as bimetalism has never existed in this country, there is no ground for belief that it ever will. Senator Morrill contributes a third (and for the present his last) selection of "Notable Letters from my Political Friends," which contains some amusing and historically interesting epistles. Capt. J. C. Ayres, of the ordnance department, United States Army, pleads for a development of the National Guard in the direction of the establishment of an artillery service for sea coast defence. Mr. E. F. Lord, chairman of the congressional post office committee, in "A Step toward Economy in the Postal Service," suggests a plan whereby the department might save $13,000,000 a year. Mr. Charles A. Prouty, of the interstate commerce commission, discusses the question of "Railway Pooling,—from the People's Point of View"; Magistrate R. C. Kudlich, of New York, sets forth in an able paper "The Abuse of the Police Power"; Judge Agnew denounces the Hawaiian treaty on the ground of its unconstitutionality; Mr. L. L. Price of Oriel College, Oxford, treats of "The Present Condition of Economic Science"; and Professor Eichen, of Jena, one of the leading philosophers of Germany, writes of "Liberty in Teaching in the German Universities,"—his paper having special reference to the recent controversy at Brown University.

—For the thirteenth year the Columbia pad calendar makes its appearance promptly on time for 1898, and while its general style is of the same familiar character, the many bright thoughts it contains, contributed by its friends in many parts of the country, as well as abroad, are new, and will be appreciated by all who take an interest in bicycling, healthful exercise and good roads.

The 1898 Columbia pad calendar contains a convenient arrangement of dates that will prove useful to busy men, and as plenty of space is reserved for memoranda, the pad may be used as a diary and as a reminder for business appointments and obligations. It is neat in appearance, takes up but little room and is both ornamental and useful for the desk, while its stand is of such character that it may be used either upon the desk or hung upon the wall.

The moon's phases are indicated in the calendar for the benefit of those who wish to have this information. The calendar is ready for distribution and all orders for it will be filled upon the day of receipt. It can be obtained by mail prepaid for five two-cent stamps by addressing the calendar department of the Pope manufacturing company, Hartford, Conn.
