A Hopeless Attempt.

A despatch from Matanzas, Cuba, to the New York World, gives a thrilling picture of the desolation prevailing throughout the island, the result of the cruel war. The population is being gradually exterminated, and, by the time the war is over, as now prosecuted, there will be nobody left but the insurgents in arms. If our government do not appreciate now, the necessity of intervening, when will its eyes be opened? The despatch to the World says the hospitals are overflowing with starving innocents, and the barracks crowded with the destitute and dying. A report made by Governor General Blanco, shows that General Weyler was furnished an army of 192,000 regular soldiers, of whom only 89,000 remain effective. The hospital list accounts for 40,000, leaving 63,000 who have died from wounds or disease. With this evidence before us, the attempt to conquer the Cuban rebellion is hopeless.

The ocean is said by some to be more productive than the land. An acre of good fishing ground will yield more food, they claim, than an acre of the finest farming land.

Emanuel Pletcher—His Record as a Soldier.

Emanuel Pletcher died, Nov. 12th, 1897. Aged 67 years, 11 months and 18 days and leaves one son, Edward, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; three sisters, Mrs. Annie Peters and Miss Sara Pletcher, of Howard, and Mrs. Leah Wetzel, of Milesburg; two brothers, Daniel, of Flemington, Clinton Co., and Joseph, of Blanchard.

HOWARD, Nov. 22, 1897. To the Editor of the DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN:—Will you permit me a small space in your paper for the purpose of giving a short record of one of our comrades of the late war, who was a faithful soldier for the term of three years.

He enlisted in the beginning of the war, as early as Sept. 23rd, 1861, in Capt. Austin Curtis's Co. D. 45th P. V., at Harrisburg, organized in camp Curtis under Col. Thos. Welch, who was commanding camp Curtis at the time. October 21st the regiment started for the field of action, and afterward joined Gen. Howard's (late major Gen. Howard Sherman's grand army) brigade at Bladensburg, D. C. and were ordered to the southern department, arriving at Port Royal entrance, December 23rd, 1861. They remained in this department until the 18th of July, 1862, when they again embarked on steamship Arago, for Newport News, where they joined the Ninth Corps, Co. D. army then organizing under the beloved chieftain, major general A. E. Burdesides. In the latter part of August, 1862, the Corps joined the Potomac army, then returning from the peninsular campaign, they so remained with this army until February 15th, 1863. At that time they were again ordered to Newport News, where they arrived Feb. 18th, 1863. They were under instructions at this place until March, 1863, when they started for the department of the Ohio, which was then assigned to Maj. Gen. A. E. Burdesides, our former commander. From this they were sent to the army of the Tennessee, under Gen. U. S. Grant. They so remained until August 5th, 1863, when they were again sent to the department of the Ohio and in the latter part of August, 1863, the movement under Burdesides commenced towards Knoxville, Tenn. They remained here until Jan. 1st, 1864, when the Regt. was re-enlisted and renumbered as a veteran organization. On the 15th of January, 1864, the Regt. started for home on veteran furlough. On March the 9th, 1864, the Regt. was re-organized at Harrisburg, Pa., under Col. John I. Curtin, (late Brevet Brig. Gen. of Vol.) Col. Thos. Welch having been promoted to Brig. Gen. and died at Cincinnati, Ohio, in the latter part of August, 1863. The regiment started for Annapolis, Md., July 10th to 14th; Blue Springs, Tenn., Aug. 10th, 1863; Campbell Station, Tenn., Nov. 16th, 1863; Siege of Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 17th to Dec. 5th, 1863; Wilderness, Va., May 6th, 1864; Spotsylvania, Va., May 12th and May 16th to 18th, 1864; North Ann River, Va., May 24th, 1864; Bethesda Church, Va., June 3rd, 1864; Cold Harbor, Va., June 5th to 12th, 1864; Front of Petersburg, Va., June 17th, to 18th, 1864.

Mr. Pletcher saw some very trying times in his travels as a soldier. Some time in July, 1864, as he was passing from the picket line to the rear, on some detailed duty, he was wounded in one of his legs, sent to the hospital and remained there until in Oct., 1864. Then he came back to the Regt., at Poplar Grove Church, and on the 21st, of October, 1864, his time of enlistment being up he did not re-enlist and got his discharge on the 21st of Oct., 1864. We are all passing along the line and it will not be long until we will all have to answer to the roll call of the Great Commander of us all.

Yours in F. C. and L.,

COMRADE.

Record Breaking Porkers.

The appended communication from one of our College township friends knocks the claims of other districts, as producers of large porkers, into smithereens. DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN READERS:—College township never acted or tried to set the hog but we have a man within our borders while making no pretense to being a champion hog raiser nevertheless gets there just the same. His name is Jacob Shuey and an excellent citizen, withal. On Thursday the 24th inst., he butchered his hogs, three in number, the combining weight aggregated 1829 pounds. They weighed, respectively, 518, 553, and 538 pounds. Now gentlemen step up and be counted if you can beat us in weight for the same number of hogs killed by one man at one time. X. Y. Z.

Early last Thursday morning robbers broke open the back door of the postoffice at Coalport, Clearfield county, blew open the safe and secured $300 worth of stamps and change. They took the railroad track speeder and rode to Frugality, where they "ditched" it and took to the woods. Postmaster O. B. Thompson offers $300 reward for the capture of the robbers. The evening before the robbery two strange characters in women's clothes were seen about Coalport. They were ungainly and handled their skirts badly betraying their sex.

A Milesburg Girl Married at East Tyron.

Wednesday evening, November 24th, at seven o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. G. W. Gardner, at East Tyron, Miss Margaret Gray was led to the altar of matrimony and united to Joseph A. Fry, Rev. V. F. Rue, of the Columbia avenue Methodist church, performing the ceremony. There were present about fifty invited guests, and after the knot had been tied and congratulations extended all were invited to participate in a wedding supper. It required four tables to seat the guests, but all found a place and the good things with which the tables were loaded soon disappeared.

The serenaders with their horns, and other clattering machines, including all kinds of wind instruments, soon made their presence known and kept up the din until the groom went to the door and invited the participants to partake of some of "Chings" best. They left satisfied. The best man was Wilkins Owens, and the bride's best friend was Miss Mattie Murray. Many costly presents were given to the happy couple. Like sensible people they did not go off on a wedding tour, but settled down to housekeeping on Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Fry, nee Gray, is a daughter of Centre county, having been born and raised at Milesburg, and is a young lady of many prepossessing habits and has many friends, not only in the county in which she had her bringing up, but also in her home of adoption. Mr. Fry, the happy groom, is a native of Tyron and is employed at the paper mill and is a young man of exemplary habits and no doubt the lives of both will be made happy in the new union.

Hublersburg.

It is reported that three new houses will be erected in our town next summer.

Prof. Sharp, the noted ventriloquist, has returned home from a very successful business trip.

Rev. Runkle was recently called to Mechanicsburg to officiate at the funeral of one of his former parishioners.

Edward Reish and Miss Cordia Reigel, of Salona were united in holy wedlock on Tuesday evening of last week at the Reformed parsonage, by Rev. J. M. Runkle.

The stove mill, which has been in operation a short distance below town during the last eight months, will shortly be moved to Hecla, where the owner has contracted for four hundred acres of fine timber.

Our muddy school grounds have assumed quite a different appearance since thirteen loads of sawdust were hauled onto them and other improvements made which will add greatly to the comfort of the scholars.

The hour for services in the Trinity Reformed church was changed last Sunday from 2:30 to 7 p. m. at which time the pulpit was filled by Dr. Gerhart, of Bellefonte, in the absence of the pastor Rev. J. M. Runkle, who preached in the First Reformed church of Altoona.

Colds and Sore Throat.

This is the season for colds and sore throats among the children, but if these ailments are attended to in time, no serious trouble need follow. For a cold in the head or influenza induce perspiration, either by an old fashioned sweat or by hot foot bath, followed by frequent doses of aconite. Stir six drops of aconite into one-third of a glass of cold water and give a teaspoonful every half-hour until perspiration is profuse.

For an adult use twelve drops instead of six. One should be careful not to get in a draught of cold air or otherwise expose themselves when taking this medicine, as it opens the pores. If the head is very much stuffed use a solution (mild) of salt water, snuffing it into the nostrils.

If there are raw sores in the nose use vaseline upon them; it relieves the irritation and heals them quickly. Tonsillitis and sore throats showing patches are treated similarly. Stir one dessertspoonful of sulphur into one-half glass of sweet milk and use as a gargle; sulphur is a capital germicide, but is not very soluble; it has to be rubbed into the milk.

If in gargling some is swallowed no harm will follow. In fact, it is good for the bowels, which should be lax when working off a cold. If fever accompanies the sore throat give aconite as prepared above.

If, however, the patient grows worse, the patches grow larger and whiter, the throat fits, headache and vomiting occur, a physician should be sent for at once, for these symptoms indicate diphtheria. Slippery elm tablets are excellent for sore throat, especially at night, when the throat is raw and irritated; hold them in the mouth as far back as you can, they will melt and trickle down upon the inflamed membrane forming a soothing coating.

Nothing equals belladonna for a "cold in the bones." Prepare as you would aconite, giving it every half hour; give the patient a foot bath and keep him in bed until the aches and cricks disappear, which will not be many hours.

Do not be surprised if the patient is very wakeful, for belladonna is not a sedative by any means. A gargle of salt water taken every morning will keep sore throats at bay; it is also very cleansing, and altogether an excellent habit to form.

For many, many years the chrysanthemum flourished in Japan without attracting the attention of the rest of the world. In that country it is esteemed no more than any other flower. Like all flowers, too, of Japan, it is odorless, thus proving the old saying the "language of Japan has no alphabet, the birds no music and the flowers no scent."

According to a decision in an English court, a man has a good case against a clergyman who persuades the former's wife to go to church instead of staying at home and cooking his dinner.

When wear begins to exceed repair in your body you are going to fall sick.

The signs of it are: loss of flesh, paleness, weakness, nervousness, etc. The repair needed is food. You think you eat enough, and yet you feel that you wear out more tissue, energy, nerve-force, than your food makes for you. The difficulty is that you do not digest enough. And this is so serious that you can't digest what you eat, take a few doses of Shaker Digestive Cordial. The effect of it will be to increase your flesh and make you feel stronger. You won't fall sick. Proof that it is in control of your repair apparatus. It's easy enough to test this for yourself. Take a few bottles of Shaker Digestive Cordial. Sold by druggists at 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

DON'T STARVE

BECAUSE YOUR STOMACH DOES NOT CRAVE FOOD. TAKE HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA AT ONCE AND BE CURED.

It is said dyspeptics often starve themselves because they suffer by taking food, and they eat less and less until the stomach loses all desire for food. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by toning and strengthening the stomach, creates an appetite and gives digestive power. Food is then assimilated, and nourishes and strengthens the whole body. Thousands have been cured of dyspepsia by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THREE BOTTLES CURED "My father had a stomach trouble and he was always tired. He got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it did him so much good that he took another bottle. When he had taken three bottles he was entirely cured. He has gained in weight since taking Hood's and we would not be without Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills in the house." KATIE E.
