

PARTICULAR ABOUT HOW HE WAS TO BE BURIED.—The late Dr. William V. Runkle, who died in Philadelphia on last Christmas morning, seems to have had rather original ideas about the manner in which a body should be buried. The doctor's remains were brought to Tusseyville, this county, his birth place, for interment and the funeral was conducted strictly in accord with the way he requested in his will.

The will was entered for probate in Philadelphia, a few days ago, and contained this singular clause.

"To my executors I also exclusively entrust the conduct of my funeral, directing them to do so in the manner following, and no other; that is to say, they shall inter my remains in the cemetery at Tusseyville, Centre county, Pa. My funeral shall be plain and simple; everything of the best, but not gaudy. No clergyman of any creed or denomination of whatsoever shall officiate at the house or cemetery at my funeral; no society or lodge to which I may belong at my death shall have charge of my funeral. Thirty-six hours after my death my body shall be laid in state in my home for eight hours, where all my friends shall be invited, through two daily papers, to view my body. At the expiration of eight hours my casket shall be closed and my body conveyed to the cemetery, there to lie in state for two hours, such to be made known among friends and citizens, and welcoming them to the funeral. At the expiration of two hours my body shall be confined to my grave in peace and silence."

Dr. Runkle was a son of judge John Runkle, Dec'd of this county, and a brother of Rev. Calvin Runkle, of Huhlersburg.

With the mercury 15 degrees below zero and the sleighing excellent everybody is happy.

We are indebted to Supt. W. C. Patterson, for a copy of the calendar of the Pennsylvania State College for 1898.

Henry Snyder has become the owner of the Jonathan Musser farm. Newton Neidigh will move onto it April 1st.

Last Saturday Dr. Woods and wife gave a dinner party at their cosy home on Main St. for their Boalsburg relations.

Mrs. Olie McWilliams Bowersox was taken to the University of Pennsylvania on last Tuesday for treatment. We hope her recovery will be permanent.

John C. Nail, the jelly patent medicine vender, made his midwinter trip through here last week. His liniment is said to heal everything but a broken heart.

The ground hog had good reason for being frightened back into his hole Wednesday, and from all indications he did not get back any too soon or he would have frozen stiff.

We are sorry to note the illness of a former Centre countian Jonathan Miller, who is suffering from a partial stroke of paralysis, at his Indiana home in this State. He is a brother of D. L. Miller, of this place.

Jake Wagner, one of our mossback Republicans who gave up looking for the Hanna prosperity to come out of the West, has gone to Laurelton to hunt for some of the promised good times. Jake is still for Quay.

Mr. Curt Musser, contractor, butcher and bookkeeper out in the Smoky City, was in town this week transacting business relative to his father's estate. While here he disposed of the down town property to the Tanager Brothers who will occupy it after the 1st of April.

Much disappointment was felt among our hunters when it became known that Andy Lytle had disposed of his pet bear to an Alton party. Andy had been a little uneasy for some time for fear the bear would die, so when he had an offer of $28 spot cash, he accepted and brim not being in a playful mood was shot and shipped to the Mountain City by express.

J. B. Ard has disposed of his interest in the grist mill, which has been in the family for over a half century, to Renben Tressler and G. B. Campbell, who now represents one half interest while P. F. Bortoff, Mr. Ard's former partner, still retains his half. Mr. Tressler comes with the best of recommendations as a practical miller and millwright, and as soon as the weather permits will put the mill in good repair and make business hum.

Last Saturday morning, as Squire Miller, his wife and Sam Summer were on their way to church their horses jumped across a small water course near Penna. Furnace and broke the neck yoke frightening them and causing them to become unmanageable. Mr. and Mrs. Miller realizing the situation jumped out, but young Summers, who was driving, held on to the lines 'til the sleigh struck a pile of lumber and he was pitched out on his head. The horses broke loose from the sleigh and were caught after a long run, but the harness was gathered up in pieces and fortunately no one was hurt.

Green Decker, one of Gregg township's rock-ribbed Democrats and up-to-date farmers, visited here recently and talked hopefully of the new telephone that is to connect Spring Mills and Pine Grove in the early spring. We hope his predictions will come true and now the only thing we need, to make us a real live town, is some new houses and buildings. There is not a vacant house in the town and if some of our capitalists would take hold of the enterprise they would find it a paying investment. Pine Grove is beautifully situated on the summit of Penna and Spruce creek valleys, with good railroad facilities, within easy reach of the county seat and right in the midst of a rich farming community so there is nothing to hinder it from becoming a first-class town.

THE COLLEGE BANQUET.—On last Thursday evening the 27th, the Old Fellows, of State College, celebrated their sixth anniversary with a banquet at hotel Grieb. Covers for one hundred and sixty guests were laid and many of the prominent professional and business men were present. After Dr. Colfelt had invoked the divine blessing, the following menu was enjoyed, cold ham, oysters, barbecued chicken, fruit, ice cream, cake and coffee and to say that it was appreciated is only mildly expressing the pleasure it afforded. The exercises were held in the hall, which was crowded by eight o'clock. Chaplain Rudy offered prayer, Miss Maud Kennedy was organist and the College Glee club was present to add to the enjoyment of the evening. Hon. R. M. Foster introduced Dr. Colfelt as the speaker of the evening and indeed his address was an inspiration; an inspiration for the lodge to more conscientiously practice the principles upon which it is founded; an inspiration to outsiders that an organization devoted to the well being and protection of humanity could grow and prosper as it had in every direction and an inspiration to all who heard him, that in fellowship there is strength and in brotherhood, love and charity which is the aim of the organization.

Boalsburg.

Mrs. Jacob Straw is suffering with a felon. David Straw Sr., is confined to his house on account of a severe cold.

P. H. Meyer shipped a car load of fine timothy hay to Tyrone, last week.

Miss Mary Reish spent Saturday at the home of Jacob Meyer, east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jared Kremer, of Centre Hall, said "We gates" to us last week.

Miss Marion D. Moss, of Reading, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. A. Baumgardner.

John Fortney and Adam Hosterman shipped a car load of hay to Lewisburg, recently.

The Reformed choir of this place, will conduct a song service in the Bethel church, at Pine Grove, Sunday evening, Feb. 6th, everybody is invited.

The local teachers' institute to be held here, Feb. 4th and 5th, promises to be a grand success. Profs. Gramley, Benedict Jackson and others, prominent in school work, will be in attendance.

Misses Laura Keichline, of Rock Spring; Kate Treister and Mollie Hoffer, of Centre Hall; Hay, of Bellefonte and Geo. Tibbens, of Lemont; visited their many friends here last week, and attending services in the Reformed church.

The services in the Reformed church last week were exceedingly well attended and much interest manifested. The pastor, Rev. A. A. Black, was ably assisted by Rev. M. L. Firor, of Williamsport, whose discourses were strong and instructive, and were listened to with marked attention. Rev. C. A. Bushong, of the Reformed church at Laurelton; Rev. Hepler, of the Presbyterian church; Rev. G. W. Lesher, of the Lutheran church and Rev. Potts, of Centre Hall; also were present during the week.
