that starving Cubans are being made well. It is that they are being made into Americans. A stomach full of corn meal is a stronger bid for allegiance than 20,000 bannered forts and 200,000 soldiers. And the fact that American bacon and corn meal are now as general over Cuba as Spanish flags and bayonets makes the Cuban feeling universal.

La Lucha, after stating the sharp contrast between the great Spanish governmental carnivals in Spain and the great American succor to starving Spanish subjects in Cuba, says :

"Not only have our neighbors not forgotten, but they augmented their charity, which is immense, and each day it prom-ises to be greater in attaining the ends which its beginners and supporters have in mind. The truth is it began in a small government donation of $500,000; later in he distribution of small quantities of food; then clothes, medicines and other things, and this charity will have organized throughout the island great economic kitchens and hospitals capable of feeding and sheltering each its hundreds of persons.

Letters and dispatches received during the last three days by Mr. Klopsch from American consuls and consular agents confirm the intensity of the suffering of the destitute all over the island. Even Mr. McGarr, consul at Cienfuegos, who until recently did not believe the reports about the situation, says that in his district at least 15,000 persons are dying of hunger.

In 402 towns of the island, in the different provinces, 205,000 reconcentrados are dying. It is estimated that 300 tons of flour and fifty tons of sausage are necessary to relieve their immediate needs. American charity will be extended as far as possible. Mr. Klopsch says that the reconcentrados look upon America as the home of angels, and they say that in the Americans is their only hope of salvation. A central station for the relief of the starving people in Havana city has been opened under the direction of Mr. Klopsch. It is in a large building on Estrella street and it is expected that 12,000 persons will be relieved there. Mr. Klopsch expects a new cargo of pro-visions from the United States and says it will probably last, with the stock already at hand, some ten days more.

Another station is to be established on San Lazaro street, and several kitchens for cooking the food of the reconcentrados will be started in different parts of the city. A kitchen in San Lazaro street will cook for 2,000 sick persons.

Spain refuses to allow the hungry to work. Blanco refuses permission for the Cubans to use American tools and American-purchased seed in raising their own food. Cuban soil is not allowed to support Cubans.

Spain condemns every one of the destitute to die, or American charity must continue. Spain forces the very thing she objects to by refusing to allow the Cubans to support themselves, and Blanco seems to been compelled to outdo Weyler. Weyler established zones of cultivation about the concentrated towns, and Blanco, so far has refused the American Cuban relief committee permission to put tools and seeds in the reconcentrados' hands.

If Weyler's zones of cultivation were only cultivated, if the people were only allowed to help themselves, then American Dru charity would soon become superfluous in 25c.

what the most brilliant Havana daily first annunciates in the article quoted, is not that starving Cubans are being made well. of good people in each town have been se-cured, and where none are now available the Mayor has been made the consignee. Almost all the Mayors under the new regime are Cubans, and naturally will see that the food will go to its proper destination. But if some are dishonest, the class of provisions sent, while sufficient to save life, is not very salable, and the Mayor could much better afford to give it away than to steal it. Furthermore, a corps of inspectors from willing workers in Havana will make tours to inspect the food.

Now that America feeds Cuba, let Spain allow them to plant and cultivate the food which in two months of Cuba's rapid growth will sustain them.

SAFER TO SEND THROUGH NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 21.-The Central Cuban Relief Committee gives notice that no shipment of Cuban relief supplies should be made to Gulf ports. The Plant system of ships sailing from Savannah and Tampa, Fla., will furnish free transportation, but these vessels being small can carry only supplies originating along the line of the Plant system of railroads.

All other shipments from any other part of the United States should be consigned to the Cuban Central Relief Committee, at New York, and the committee requests all steamship transportation may be arranged.

Many a reader of this in WilkesBarre has seen the large watch sign that hangs out at No. 40 North Main street. It is there to tell the people who see it that Rob-ert W. Haight, watchmaker, etc., can be found at that location, and perhaps you may doubt the following, in which case you can always find Mr. Haight at this ad-dress, ready and pleased to verify it. may doubt the following, in which case you can always find Mr. Haight at this ad-dress, ready and pleased to verify it. Watchmaking, as it is called, is no doubt thought to be comparatively easy business on the constitution of a man, but this is not the case. The constant stooping po-sition maintained while at work brings with it many aches and pains. Such posi-tions in time effect the action of the kid-neys, and this is just what it did in the case of Mr. Haight, and he began to look for a remedy that would relieve. At last he was rewarded. One day he read of Doan's Kidney Pills. Nothing was claimed for them but that they were a kidney cure All the ills the flesh is heir to were not set down as being subject to their wondrous influence, and this inspired confidence in them. The symptoms described by kid-ney sufferers were his symptoms. He be-gan taking them. Three or four doses brought a change, and day by day he grew better, and now he says: "I am entirely over my trouble. Home remedies I have used, but found but little relief of a tem-porary nature. My greatest trouble was fameness and stiftness in the back, with sharp, shooting pains in the region of the kidneys. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a good and safe remedy, and I recommend them to others." No better proof of merit can be offered than the plain facts as stat-ed by those who know by experience.
