

Centre Hall.

John Savelly will erect a shingle mill on Egg Hill where he expects to cut a large number of shingles.

W. H. Kuhn, who for the past two years has lived at Jersey Shore, will make his home with S. W. Smith, his son-in-law, in this place.

The linemen of the Bell telephone company have added several more wires to the already numerous lines running to the exchange in this place.

Howard Emerick has secured a position at the Warren State hospital, and will go to that place in a short time. He has a brother at the institution doing service.

Veterinary surgeon Rider, of this place, made application for an army position and the other day received notice that he would be ordered to report in a short time.

Grandmother Miller, mother of barber Jerry Miller, had a light paralytic stroke one day last week. Mrs. Miller is well up in the eighties and is a person of remarkable endurance.

F. E. Arney's baby boy has been seriously ill for some time past, but is improving at present. Mrs. Annie Van Pelt has recovered from a rather serious illness which continued for two or more weeks.

Some one jokingly remarked that George Koch's candidacy for the Legislature is helping the industries of State College since it was the cause of the establishment of a button factory in that town.

The Hemphill residence is receiving a coat of paint. This is one of the prettiest homes in Centre Hall, and was built by W. H. Runkle, who is now successfully operating Centre Hall's hotel.

If the weather is favorable considerable corn will be planted the latter part of this week. The cold weather during April kept farm work back, but the corn crop will be put in in good time, however.

The Sunday papers were eagerly bought at ten cents per piece last Sunday. A little high, but these are war times. The WATCHMAN bulletin gave out the news of Dewey's heroic act and that made Sunday paper reading stale.

James H. Lohr, formerly of this place, but now of Philadelphia, is here on a short visit. He holds a good clerkship at the Pennsylvania railroad headquarters. Wm. Lohr, Sr., accompanied him from Lewisburg, and was glad to see his many old friends again in this place.

W. O. Rearick is just completing this year's out-put of Centre Hall corn planters which have gained a wide reputation upon their own merits. The implement is the best of the kind on the market. There is not a dropper to be found on any other machine that works as true as the one used on this planter.

At the communion service held in the Lutheran church last Sabbath twelve members were added by confirmation and three by certificate. Frank Smith is a valuable acquisition to the choir of that church as was demonstrated by last Sabbath. Mrs. F. M. Crawford, soprano, and Miss Estie Ocker, alto, rendered a beautiful duet.

The WATCHMAN'S war bulletin is closely watched every day, and the appreciation of the management's efforts to give Centre Hall correct and reliable news is shown by the citizens adding their names to the WATCHMAN'S subscription list. This is not more than right. A newspaper as complete in every detail, as thoroughly Democratic, and fair in its criticisms, should be well supported.

Dollar wheat brought a large amount of that commodity to the market this week. The grain fields are looking well as a rule through the valley, and it is hoped that the price will remain as it is for the coming crop. The farmers are not believing that when the dealer settles with them in white metal that they are only getting fifty cents for their grain. It would be an easy matter to contract with the farmers for the future crop at the rate of a standard silver dollar for one bushel of wheat.

The annual meeting of the Reformed and Lutheran cemetery association will be held in the Reformed church Monday evening of next week to select trustees. The association's finances are in good condition. The cemetery was greatly improved, this spring, by leveling the portion upon which the old Reformed church stood. Private parties are making their annual efforts to beautify individual graves, and by the last of May the old burying ground will present an appearance that will indicate that the buried dead are not forgotten.

George H. Emerick is seriously contemplating the purchase of a threshing outfit for the coming promising large crop of grain. If he does go into the business he will secure the best machine on the market, with all the modern improvements. And why should not this section have an up-to-date machine of this kind. Much of the dust threshers must endure while the operation of separating grain is in progress is overcome with the best improved threshers, and Mr. Emerick will be one of the first to introduce these admirable features next fall. Farmers will tumble in when the time comes.

The Penns Valley ministerial association met last week at Lemont and was well attended. It is the purpose of that body to prepare a chart of the district covered by the ministers interested which includes the territory between Spring Mills and Pine Grove Mills, also State College, Lemont and George's valley. The proposed chart will show all public roads and residences thereon and names of occupants. The idea in the mind of the ministers is to divide the territory and see that the different families are called upon by the pastors, obtain their temporal needs, if any; their church proclivities, etc. Rev. Leisher, of Boalsburg, has charge of the work. "Pulpit preparation" was one of the subjects discussed.

The West Susquehanna classis of the Reformed church will meet in Centre Hall, Wednesday, 18th inst. Rev. Eisenberg, Ph. D., pastor of this charge, together with his congregation, are making all necessary preparation for the event. The territory covered by this organization includes Centre, Union, Snyder and Clinton counties, and has a membership of about thirty. The sessions will be opened Wednesday evening by retiring president, Rev. S. L. Whitmore, of Millburg. The stated clerk is Rev. W. Haas, of Selingsgrove.

Thursday evening Dr. Callender, of Mechanicsburg, secretary of foreign mission board of general synod, will speak on foreign missions.

Friday evening Rev. T. M. Yundt, of Bethany home, Womelsdorf, will present the cause of the orphans.

Saturday evening will be devoted to educational work by the members of classis.

Sunday morning the Sabbath school scholars will be addressed, after which there will be communion services.

If the proper arrangements can be made the union society Christian Endeavor, the United Evangelical C. E. and the Luther League will hold a union meeting Sunday evening at 6:30, when topics especially for young people will be discussed by visiting ministers.

At 7:30 home missions will be discussed by Rev. A. C. Whitmer, of Lancaster, who is missionary superintendent of the Eastern and Potomac synods.

The day sessions will be devoted to the regular classical work and the doors are open at that time, to the public in general.

The splendid choir of the Reformed church is making preparations for a feast of music. No one will fail to be both entertained and interested at any of the meetings.

Roland.

Mr. Robert Jacobs is recovering from his recent illness.

Harry Leathers is soliciting scholars for the school he expects to teach at Mt. Eagle this summer.

Mrs. Sarah Brown, of Lock Haven, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Neff, near this place.

Mrs. Vanscoyoc, of Tyrone, with her little granddaughter visited her sister, Mrs. Jennie Curtin, a few days ago.

Mr. George Orris, of Bellwood, was lately seen spinning around on his wheel. We presume he was calling on friends in this vicinity.

In view of the war with Spain some of our gentleman friends are already enlisting. Some have gone. We hope the brave boys in blue may come back to us, without a wound, after the conflict is over, which we hope may not be of long duration.

House cleaning is being done in many homes around here. Yards are beginning to look real nice. So much rain has prevented garden making, and the farmers were obliged to stop the plough until the ground becomes dry enough to sow oats.

The beautiful spring flowers adorn our yards and gardens and all nature now presents a lovely appearance to the eye. Well may the poet exclaim,

"Hail May, bright, welcome May, Charming, sunny, month of May, Like the birds we chant the words, To welcome lovely May."

A number of our men and boys have lately been spending much of their time fishing in the Bald Eagle creek. Alfred Gates seems to capture the finest catfish, while Sammy Barthurst is more of an expert among suckers and eels. Haste Leyman would enjoy the fun had he time to go along, but farming is his occupation at present, and the balance of the time reading war news.
