Telephone for Two Languages. Story Told at the Expense of a Millionaire Brewer of Milwaukee.

J. G. Nolen, who is an old-timer in the electrical construction business, tells a story on "Val" Blatz, the millionaire brewer of Milwaukee. "Our company had had some correspondence with Mr. Blatz regarding the putting in of a telephone plant in his big brewery establishment and I was sent up to try to close a deal.

"I took a couple of 'phones with me in order to make a practical demonstration should one be required, and I went with the intention of making a sale. "I got to talking with Mr. Blatz and showed him the advantage of putting in our intercommunicative system throughout his establishment. He listened attentively and finally said: "Yes, that is all so; very true. But," and he spoke with the conviction of one who was putting a poser, "but my men down in the malt-house and the warehouse and cold storage are all Dutchmen.

"I, myself, though a German and a graduate of Leipsic and Heidelberg, can speak English, but what would your telephones be to my Dutch workmen, who cannot talk English at all? "Well, I saw how the land lay. Old "Val" could not get it through his head that the telephone would transmit anything but the language of America. I was bound to make the deal, as I said before, so I remarked to Mr. Blatz: "I can put on some German receivers if you so desire. I have some with me."

"I connected up the 'phones, made a show of changing the receivers, and in half an hour Mr. Blatz was talking to one of his Dutchmen down in the malt-house. He was delighted. "You may put them in," he said and I shall want one German one in each warehouse. English ones in my office and the business office and a German one in the cold storage house.

"We closed the deal and Mr. Blatz was glad to pay $2 extra for each German enunciation we put in. When the 'phones were shipped from the factory I had them labelled German and English, respectively, and the big brewer was perfectly satisfied. "It was five years before I saw Blatz again," concluded Mr. Nolen. "He recognized me at once, and said with a hearty German laugh: 'You are the accommodating gentleman who put in the German and English telephones for me. Well, you are a good one.'"

Crushed Her Head. Sad Accident to a Young School Teacher at Renova. Miss Avis Smart, a Renova school teacher, died Friday night from injuries received on the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad in the afternoon.

Preparing for the Worst. "We gwine ter sing seven hymns denurin' services," said the old colored deacon, "en a collection will be took up durin' each hymn; kaze dis hearn's war times, en dey won't be no money 'tall in de country after a while; hence we 'bleege for make hay while de sun shines!"

Too Poor to Buy Chairs. "I don't see why this country needs a standing army at all," said Jackson. "It doesn't," said Pifer. "But if it has any army at all it has got to be a standing one. We're too poor to buy chairs for it to sit down on."—Harper's Bazar.

Beats the Weather Bureau. A red sunset indicates a fine day to follow, because the air when dry refracts more red or heat making rays, and as dry air is not perfectly transparent, they are again reflected in the horizon. A coppery or yellow sunset generally foretells rain.

Not in the Same Class. Little Robbie—My mother belongs to the Daughters of the Revolution. Little Eddie—That ain't nothin' 'r to be stuck up about. My ma's got achainsless bike."

Mr. Bilmer? "Splendid house, Mrs. Bilmer. The government's goin' to increase tax on b-beer an' I've been layin' in summer shupply—thas all."

According to secretary Alger's estimates the war is costing the United States $1,250,000 per day. $50,000,000 has been appropriated and $34,019,997 more is asked for the balance of the fiscal year which ends on June 30.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

The newest shirt waist studs are diminutive. The spring skirts are repeated everywhere on the streets and in the show windows, and not to wear blue of some tone is to be one season behind the times. Azure and flag blue are the two favorite knots of this color.

The all-prevailing tint of the season is blue. The spring skirts are repeated everywhere on the streets and in the show windows, and not to wear blue of some tone is to be one season behind the times. Azure and flag blue are the two favorite knots of this color. Flag blue is but a synonym for Yale and Abess blue, but its vogue is slight beside the insistent blue of these or five puffs, an even number is not considered smart, are daily superseding the neat little figure eight we wore last year. Below the puffs peeping out behind the left ear a pair of corkscrew curls, of unequal length and about the circumference of a woman's fourth finger. These also are full of a ghostly suggestion of having no natural connection with the wearer's head, and yet they give a very coquettish little touch to the hard fast puffs. In front the hair is still wrinkled with irons, then cast over cushions, to form a more or less imposing pompadour, while a little hair fringes out on the forehead. At night the unique bow or loops—just two long and the bulk of every woman's locks comes up into a stately tower, helped out by the usual decorative aids. Just now they are selling the sweetest little wreaths of tiny pink rosebuds, white star jessamine flowers, and heath, to twine about the base of these hair towers, and women who believe they show even at night to better advantage with a low coiffure challenge their beauty to the cruel test of a spangled hair net. Not one in a thousand can brave and triumph over this ordeal, and yet the spangled nets find many wearers.

The broad sashes, whether made of material by the yard and trimmed, or just of ribbon, are usually fastened at the waist line in the back by being run through a buckle or by a fancy clasp. They have no bow or loops—just two long and the bulk of every woman's locks comes up into a stately tower, helped out by the usual decorative aids. Just now they are selling the sweetest little wreaths of tiny pink rosebuds, white star jessamine flowers, and heath, to twine about the base of these hair towers, and women who believe they show even at night to better advantage with a low coiffure challenge their beauty to the cruel test of a spangled hair net. Not one in a thousand can brave and triumph over this ordeal, and yet the spangled nets find many wearers.

At a reception held in a great hall in England not long ago, says the Ladies' Home Journal, Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone were honored guests. During the evening it happened that Mr. Gladstone was in a gallery directly above the place in the parquette where Mrs. Gladstone was chatting with some ladies. In the course of their conversation a question arose with regard to tickets from points on the line west of Baltimore, Lancaster, Reading, and south of Sunbury, all inclusive, at rate of single fare for the round trip to Chicago plus $1.85 to Naperville; these tickets to be sold May 23rd, 24th, 27th, and 28th and good to return until June 24th, except that on deposit of tickets with agent at Naperville on or before June 24th, return limit may be extended to June 30th.

Hardships of a Patriot. "William, you have made us wait supper for you nearly two hours." "I've been reading the bulletins from Washington." "And I've had to carry in the coal and kindling myself." "That isn't anything to what I've had to suffer. I've had all my corns crushed, caught cold, and lengthened my neck four inches. We've all got to put up with some inconveniences when the country is in danger, Miranda. I wish you would warm these potatoes over and make some fresh tea. I am hungry."

Spoons in Her Stomach. Remarkable Case of a Woman at a Pittsburg Hospital. Three silver teaspoons were removed from a woman's intestines at the Mercy Hospital in Pittsburg Friday. She went here one week ago, giving her name as Mrs. Lena Liggett, her age as 22, years, and her home as Stuebenville, O. She complained of pains in her stomach. An X-ray apparatus revealed the presence of the spoons. The woman is recovering. She has refused to give any information as to how or why she swallowed the spoons. The latter are on exhibition at the hospital.

He criticized her pudding and he didn't like her cake; he wished she'd make the biscuits like "his mother used to make." She didn't wash the dishes, and she didn't make the stew; and she didn't mend his stockings "as his mother used to do." Oh, well, she wasn't perfect, but he tried to do her best, until at length her time had come to have a little rest; so when one day he growled and whined the whole day through and through, she turned him up and fanned his pants "as his mother used to do."

An Order for Woolen Shirts. A shirt factory in Lebanon has received an order for 3,000 woolen shirts for National Guardsmen of Pennsylvania. The shirts for several regiments in the western part of the State, and a large order is expected in a day or two. The factory will be operated day and night to finish the shirts in the shortest possible time. They will be entirely of wool, though light weight and made for use in warmer climate.

Frank Stanton, whose death in New York was announced a fortnight ago, left a will, to a codicil of which the following was added: "I leave my interests in the hands of the Lord. May the Lord have mercy on me." One of Gotham's religious publicans in an editorial on the life of the deceased inadvertently quoted the postscript as follows: "I leave my interests in the hands of the lawyer. May the Lord have mercy on me."

He Loved and Won. Tom—"That friend you introduced at the club last night seems to be a melancholy sort of fellow. What's the matter with him?" Jack—"Disappointed in love, I believe." Tom—"Too bad; got the mitten, I suppose." Jack—"Oh, no; he got the girl."—Chicago News.

Long cravats, tied in a sailor's knot near the neck, are seen with vests.

Klondike Gold Coming.

Returned Miner Says It Will Amount to $20,000,000.

SKAGWAY, Alaska, May 2, via Victoria, B. C., May 6.—One more Yukoner, H. R. Miller, formerly of Escanaba, Mich., has succeeded in coming from Dawson to the coast over the trail. He left Dawson on March 21st, arriving here on April 27th. It is the opinion that navigation will open between Dawson and St. Michael about June 1st, or two weeks earlier than usual, owing to the warm weather that prevails on the Yukon. He looks for a general break-up of the ice this side of Dawson before the middle of May. Miller says the steamers Bell and Wear will be likely to take the first consignment of gold this year to St. Michael. There are now with the Victoria and St. Michael in the ice near Circle City. When the river opens the Bella and Wear will go to Fort Hamlin for provisions, taking out the gold on her return from Dawson. The Victoria and Saint Michael will steam to Dawson waiting there to take prospecting parties to the Stewart river and other recently explored territories. Fully $20,000,000 in gold will leave Dawson this summer, according to Miller's statement.

German Baptists' (Dunkards') Anna Meeting, Naperville, Ill.

Reduced Rates via Pennsylvania Railroad. For the benefit of persons desiring to attend the annual meeting of the German Baptists (Dunkards) at Naperville, Ill., May 29th to June 7th, 1898, the Pennsylvania railroad company will sell excursion tickets from points on its line west of Baltimore, Lancaster, Reading, and south of Sunbury, all inclusive, at rate of single fare for the round trip to Chicago plus $1.85 to Naperville; these tickets to be sold May 23rd, 24th, 27th, and 28th and good to return until June 24th, except that on deposit of tickets with agent at Naperville on or before June 24th, return limit may be extended to June 30th.

Explained. "Are you a native of this town?" asked a traveler of a resident of a sleepy little Southern hamlet. "Am I a what?" "Are you a native of the town?" "Hey?" "I asked if you were a native of this place?" "At that moment his wife, tall and sallow and gaunt, appeared at the open door of the cabin, and, taking her pipe from between her teeth, said, acidly: "Ain't ye got no sense, Jim? He means wuz ye born before you begun livin' here. Now answer him."—Harper's Bazar.

DISCOVERED BY A WOMAN.—Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W. C. Hammond & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at F. Potts Green's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.
