THE GAME LAWS.—It has come to that time of year when legitimate hunting can be enjoyed, and to save the sportsmen, who read the WATCHMAN, the risk of capturing birds or small game out of season, and the fines imposed for such offences, we give the following synopsis of the game laws of the State. We have published it on previous occasions, but that there may be no excuse for mistakes in this matter we give it space again :

Plover, July 15th to Jan. 1st.

Rail and Reed bird, Sept. 1st to Nov. 30th.

Geese and ducks, Sept. 1st to May 1st.

Woodcock, month of July and Oct. 15th to Dec. 15th.

Squirrel, Oct. 15th to Dec. 15th.

Quail and partridge, from Oct. 15th to Dec. 15th.

Pheasants, ruffed grouse and prairie chicken, Oct. 15th to Dec. 15th.

Wild turkey, Oct. 15th to Dec. 15th.

Elk and deer, Nov. 1st to Nov. 30th.

Hare and rabbit, Nov. 1st to Dec. 15th.

Under the new laws no more than ten pheasants (ruffled grouse) two wild turkeys, ten woodcock or fifteen quail may be killed by one person in one day, and no more than two deer in any year. Market hunting, buying, selling and shipment of game birds and animals are prohibited. The killing of birds other than game birds is prohibited. Sunday gunning is prohibited. Decoys may be used in hunting ducks and geese only. All game must be shot with a gun. Dogs must not be used to hunt deer or elk, or to capture or kill them in the waters, streams, ponds or lakes. The use of ferrets for huntiug game is prohibited. English and Mongolian pheasants are protected for five years from June 4th, 1897. Killing, wounding or catching with trap, net, snare bird-lime, or drugs is prohibited. However, English sparrows, kingfish, hawk-horned owl, barred owl, green or night heron are not protected. Fifteen days' time is allowed after the expiration of the season to dispose of game.

Pine Grove Mention.

Some of our forenoon farmers are done seeding.

W. D. Port and wife are on a drive to Bellwood and Altoona to be absent a week or more.

Our cattle king, A. M. Brown, is in West Virginia, this week, purchasing his winter feeders.

D. H. Krebs and family, of Half moon, spent Sunday at the old family home, on Water street.

Mrs. Rebecca Murphy is very sick at her home on Water street. There are no hopes of her recovery.

C. S. Fortney, one of Potter township's representative men, with his family, Sundayed with merchant O. B. Krebs.

Mrs. Belle Barr is at death's door with pulmonary trouble. Her physician and family have but little hope of her recovery.

Mrs. Mary, wife of George Custaborder, is suffering from a partial stroke of paralysis, effecting her left side, but is now able to sit up.

One of our boss threshers, Ernest Hess, has been laid up for the past ten days with tonsilitis from the effects of which he has been a very great sufferer.

Our soda fountain man, J. H. Ward, has turned the keys over to his sisters while he enjoys a short outing away down at Shamokin, where he formerly did a thriving business.

Mrs. Dr. Gibson, of Washington, Pa., is a welcome visitor at the home of her brother-in-law J. B. Mitchell, whose latch string hangs clear across the road, at his home on Main street.

Road supervisors, Campbell and Archey, are this week taking in the sights at the Williams' grove picnic with a view of making a selection out of the numerous stone crushers exhibited there.

Next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, a harvest home service will be held in the Bethel church which will be appropriately decorated with fruits and grains. Everybody is invited. Rev. Black will officiate.

Charles Rudy, who has been in bad health for several years, with his wife and interesting little family, are making a prolonged visit among old school mates here, with the hope of improving his health. His wife was Miss Bertie Musser.

Edward Rider was taken to the Danville asylum last Friday for treatment of softening of the brain. His many friends hope his stay will be short and that he will return home to his family happy and well. Isaac Gates accompanied him.

—Miss Clara Walker has just returned from a six weeks' visit to her brother-in-law Henry Meyers, down in old Virginia. While there she visited many of the noted battlefields and is brimful of note worthy events. She reports our Centre county people as getting along nicely in their new southern homes.

Last Tuesday John and Scott Bailey with their wives accompanied their sister, Mary Hewitt, in a drive over the Allegheny mountains to Philipsburg, where the party were royally entertained by Squire Laport and wife. Mrs. Hewitt will leave for her Kansas City home next week, perfectly delighted with her mid-summer visit among the mountains of the old Keystone State.

Wm. I. Thompson, president of the Commercial Telephone company, accompanied by directors J. T. McCormick, Revs. C. T. Aikens and W. L. Goodhart, passed over the proposed route last week locating the line westward from this place. At present the construction gang have the poles erected to this place. They have their headquarters at the St. Elmo and are a gentlemanly set of fellows, and speedy workmen.

Our jolly huckster Houck is in hard luck this week. On going to his stable on Monday morning he found one horse dead and the remaning one standing on 3 legs, suffering intense agony, so that he was compelled to purchase a whole team. To make matters worse he lost his wallet containing all his change, somewhere near Philipsburg, so that it will require the handling of many dozens of eggs, and pounds of butter, to replace the loss that falls heavily on an honest huckster.

Through the efforts of the pastor, Rev. Aikens, the Lutheran church at this place has been handsomely improved by the addition of new memorial windows of the most modern artistic workmanship. The designs are beautiful and the windows are made of the best cathedral and opalescent glass, securely leaded and cemented; they are churchly and neat and are memorials to the following: Rev. Daniel Moser, Rev. Chas. T. Aikens, (gift of Mrs. Aikens), Samuel and Mary Hess, Jacob and Amelia Weaver, Jacob and Catharine Kepler, William and Eliza Musser, John Musser and family, Young People's Society of C. E. The cost of the windows was almost three hundred dollars.
