

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

The electric light plant at Long Beach, Cal., is managed by a woman, Mrs. Iva E. Tutt, who is superintendent and principal owner as well.

FAIRM NOTES.

Boards set up on each side of a row, or inclosing several rows, will accomplish more than any known method in blanching celery perhaps with the least labor and will during a spell of cool, dry weather do the work nicely, and if your plants are thrifty and in condition to send up strong stems the result will be fair if not entirely satisfactory.

—Dig away the earth around the peach trees to the depth of one foot and look carefully for borers. Then swab the trunk a foot below and above the ground with thick whitewash, returning the soil to the tree and banking up six inches or a foot above the level of the ground, leaving the tree in that condition until next spring.

—It is useless to attempt to raise geese successfully if they are afraid of their attendant. They should be treated with great gentleness, and have full confidence in their keeper.

—If cooped at night in a tight house, or even having open windows protected by wire netting, loss from dogs, cats and other animals is prevented, but the bedding must be renewed daily and removed frequently.

—They may be pastured from the start on growing rye, oats, millet and other green crops to their great advantage, or may be turned onto those crops when grass becomes old or dries up in hot weather.

—Failures to secure good crops of fruit result from so many causes that it is sometimes difficult to understand why failure should result when all indications are apparently favorable.

—The rise and fall of the pompadour has been publicly observed, but there seems to be no time when wavy hair is not distinctly fashionable, while the wise and observant women have thrown away the small bobs.

—Registration at Wellesley College shows the total number of students to be 653, of whom 188 are Freshmen.

—Little boys are clothed in harmony with the present military atmosphere and their capes fluttering in the Autumn breezes, show the red cloth lining and brass buttons belonging to a soldier's garb.

—Sailor suits for children from three to twelve years are made of all-wool serge, the collars handsomely trimmed with from six to twelve rows of white silk braid.

—The muffer belt, which is a large silk handkerchief made into a girdle, is one of the latest adaptations of fashionable women.

—A noted city dressmaker affirms that out of more than a dozen traveling costumes included among the bridal outfits she has very recently sent out from her establishment, 10 were made with a seven or five-gored skirt, and a jacket which was to be worn over a very handsome silk waist.

Jenks and Quayism.

Some Extracts From the Jefferson County Statesman's Speeches That Show Clearly Where He Stands On That Subject.

It has been alleged that the nomination of Mr. Jenks for governor by the Democratic convention at Altoona was brought about through the influence of Quay. Some of Mr. Swallow's stumpers are even yet so asserting in their speeches. The allegation is absurd upon its face.

—"It is well known and cannot be denied that Senator Quay has ruled legislatures for years past. His will was the law of the majority, and no bill of any importance was passed without his approval, nor defeated without his consent."

—"Upon the Republican party, with its glorious traditions, there has grown an ulcer. M. S. Quay, for twenty-seven years an office holder, twice a United States senator and again a candidate for election, has acquired his power by keeping an eye single to what benefits him."

GEORGE A. JENKS. States senator and again a candidate for election, has acquired his power by keeping an eye single to what benefits him."

—"Quayism is now the proper name of the Republican party in Pennsylvania. The particular characteristic of its managers is selfishness, as all officials are chosen, not for their peculiar fitness, but because of their willingness to scratch the scalp of the hands of Quay and help him throttle the will of the people."

—"The concentration of power in the hands of a single man in a republic is dangerous. The czar could not rule here because the people still have the spirit of liberty, yet they allow themselves to be ruled just the same by Czar Quay through indirection."

—"The real contest and issue in this election is between Quayism and the people of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The question you must answer on your conscience and on your character is: Who shall rule, one single, autocratic ruler, or the voice of the people honestly expressed by ballot?"

—"The whole of Quayism is corrupt and rotten, not only in dollars and cents, but in the principles that underlie it. A violation of the constitution of Pennsylvania."

—"We must settle this Quayism by saying that the people's rule should be resumed, and these wrongs should be no longer perpetrated."

Multiplying Offices.

How the Political Rounders Have Been Provided With Snug Berths and Fat Salaries.

The following carefully prepared table shows how the Republican machine has provided for political workers and their friends by securing salaried offices for them at the expense of the taxpayers.

If there were not enough offices to go around, more were created with an offhandedness which implied that the machine, not the people, were the only stockholders and directors in the management of the affairs of state.

Table with 2 columns: Office Name and Salary. Includes Executive, Auditor general, Attorney general, etc.

Total ..... 244 450 Increase ..... 206 Omitting contingent expenses, and counting the salaries at $1,400 per annum, the average paid to clerks, the cost per annum to the people for these unnecessary expenses exceeds $300,000.
