A Preposterous Claim.

Nothing could present candidate SWAL-Low in a more absurd light than his claim that he was the original discoverer of the machine abuses, and the first to make a movement for their correction. In one of his speeches he exclaimed, "how suddenly Mr. JENKS and his Democratic supporters became reformers. Why didn't they begin the attack on the QUAY machine?"

Is it possible that the doctor does not know that the Democratic party has been fighting the Republican machine, and exposing its corrupt practices, ever since it pensation for everything they did, and secured the controlling power in the State? The action of the Democracy of Pennsyl- served his people diligently and faithfully vania has been a prolonged protest against in whatever position he was placed without the machine misrule, and that it has not expectation of, or demand for extra pay. proven more successful was because there were too many citizens who, like doctor served, and one upon which he is still SWALLOW, continued to support this cor- serving, is that of the Soldier's Orphan rupt combination while the Democracy was waging war against it, and but recently mittee is both onerous and expensive. All this was going on while Dr. SWALLOW was acting with the party whose misrule the Democrats were trying to correct. At every state election for at least a quarter of a century the Democracy of the State fought the Republicans on the ground of their corrupt management of the state government, and in two instances elected a Governor whose honesty and observance of Democratic principles temporarily checked the reign of profligacy in our state affairs. The extravagant waste of the public money by reckless legislation; the use of the state funds for political purposes; the saddling of unnecessary and expensive offices upon the tax payers, and the unfaithful service of state officers at great public expense, were abuses that had been exposed and made the subject of attack on the Republican machine by the State Democracy long before Dr. SWALLOW suddenly discovered that there was a corrupt power misruling the State, and made a sensational attack on it. The only charge he made that had any novelty about it was that the rascals had fired the capitol, and although it is probable that some of the gang did burn the old structure, he failed to sustain the charge in the prosecution to which he was

The doctor's claim to being the original reformer and the first to attack the QUAY machine has rather too unsubstantial a foundation to warrant his getting a swelled head over it.

-Deputy Secretary of Agriculture JOHN HAMILTON is itching to get on the stump for QUAY. He is a Republican, 'tis true, but what right has he to carry an office that should be purely non-partisan into the politics of the State. It would not be so odious to have the Deputy Secretary of Agriculture trying to bolster up the waning power of a boss, but when he permits himself to be called a "Professor" of an institution with the teaching force of which he has not been connected for twenty years he is doing it an injustice that every friend of The Pennsylvania State College has a right to resent.

-You know where Foster and Wet-ZEL stand. They are both unequivocally against QUAY. If you are tired of QUAY and Quay-ism in Pennsylvania the only way you can help yourself to get rid of such a parasite on your manhood is by voting for men who are pledged to try to defeat him. Proved Himself Honest.

The only and very queer charge the Republican papers are making against representative Foster is that he was a member Legislature. This may be reason enough with brains enough and with that kind of go-a-head-itive-ness, that commands attention and respect of his opponents to a sufficient extent to call them to recognize his abilities and place him in important legislative positions, is not the kind of a repreobjects in view, and bosses henchmen. desire nonentities as Legislators-tools who except to take and obey orders, as the boss may give them.

But Bob Foster is not one of this kind. He knows what he does and he knows why he does it. He was an independent, straight-forward Representative. He came home from Harrisburg with clean skirts and the knowledge of having tried to do the best he could for the interest of the people of the county he represented.

There is no one who has yet dared to charge him with any wrong. If he had committed any, if he had failed in anyway to do his duty, it would long since have been heralded through circulars, and the Republican papers to the voters of the county. If he had been a "rooster," or had tried to fleece the tax-payers with unjust bills for the extra service it would have political purity is not conducting an honbeen charged against him long before this time. But he was not. His only offense was that he was important and influential enough to be placed on "important committees?" What a complaint?

Swallow's Political Dishonesty.

At no time since the campaign opened was there reason to believe that Dr. SWAL-Low had a chance of election, and now it of some of the most important committees is evident that if he polls as many votes as of the House during the last session of the be did last year it will be about as much as he is able to do. The citizens of both for some people to oppose him. A man parties who are being moved by a desire to overthrow a corrupt machine are not disposed to throw away their votes.

This is a fact that renders SWALLOW'S election an impossibility and will make him a bad third in the race, and yet he is claiming, as he did in his speech at Johnssentative some people want. Bosses with town last week, a vote of 525,000. Such an extravagant claim shows either a discreditable ignorance of the situation, or a can be worked and who amount to nothing willingness to resort to conscious misrepresentation by a candidate who claims to be the special representative of honesty in politics.

That the candidate who assumes to base his contest on one of the ten commandments is not too honest to misrepresent is additionally proven by his continuing to repeat the charge that GEO. A. JENKS is under the control of political bosses. Such a misrepresentation could have been excused at the beginning of the campaign, when Dr. SWALLOW might have pleaded his ignorance of politics and of public men, but to continue so false a charge after the honesty, honor, and high character of the Democratic nominee has been so fully revealed. is rather strong evidence that the candidate who claims to be the champion of

The Cuban Colonel Torriente is carrying on a strong campaign against the Americans and Calixto Garcia, whom he professes to look upon as a traitor to the Cubans and as bribed by American gold. A secret circular has been sent to the presidents of the Cuban patriotic committees denouncing a large number of Cubans who are looked upon as traitors to the cause of Cuban independence and attached to the Americans. The circular recommends a vigorous contest against not only Spanish residents, but against Americans as well, "who are endeavoring to steal the Cubans' victory. The Spanish Colonel Cervera, military governor of Marianao, pays daily visits to the insurgent camps in his district advising the Cubans not to surrender their arms and to make resistance until the independence of the island is declared. Col. Cervera is an intimate friend of Gen. Parrado, president of the Spanish evacuation commission. During the last two weeks several hundred Remington carbines and large quantities of ammunition have been ent from Havana, it is presumed, by some of the Spanish chiefs. The Spanish residents criticise in very severe terms the behavior of some of the Spanish chiefs, who, it is alleged are working in favor of Cuban ndependence, advising the Cubans to persist in their revolutionary attitude. Many Spanish residents here have written long etters to friends in Madrid in order that the home government may be made acquainted with what is happening in the island, and have requested that the evacuation may be completed as soon as possible so as to avoid prolonging the existing dangerous condition of affairs.

He thought the camp site unfit for so large an army but committee met at the mayor's office and so far as food went, the privates were fed better than the officers. He said that at day's program and to postpone the parade one time the beds of all the patients were on the floor and that there were some cases when they were on the ground. Asked as to the competency of the surgeons at the hospital he said there was one man in the hospital whose proneness to profanity unfitted him for the service. This man was Major Hubbard, surgeon of the Ninth New York. "His profanity was of such a villainous character" said Major Vickers, "as to pretty nearly make me sick and I know it could not have had a pleasant effect upon patients."

Lieutenant Colonel Bisbec, in command of the First infantry, told the story of transportation of his regiment to Santiago and briefly described the fighting about Santiago; spoke of his experience in Cuba; important one to you all. At, least, I should say if I had been on shore no enemy would have been permitted to land. I cannot say how it was with the Spaniards." He said there was considerable difficulty in getting food while in front of Santiago, but we had enough. He said if there had been more to eat the men would probably have been sicker. He expressed the opinion that the only deprivation had been in not having proper food for the sick. They could not take the food in the condition it was in, he said. He thought the rations contained too much fat meat for the to be torn away, root and branch, from climate. Colonel Bisbee stated that himself and sixteen men were the only mem-

Colonel James P. Fife, of the Third Tennessee, whose regiment had been encamped at Chickamauga as a part of the First division of the Third army corps previous to removal here, said the commissary supplies had been excellent in quality and ample in quantity till within the past month. Colonel Fife said in reply to questions that a canteen had been main tained in his regiment, and beer in large quantities had been sold. Most of the receipts, amounting to $400 or $500 per day of the canteen, were from beer.

"Did you consider it proper for your general beer gar den for all the camp?" asked Dr. Conner, reading from a letter as his authority. Colonel Fife answered: "No, but that the beer was there to be sold." He denied that beer was sold to be carried away, except to officers, and advocated the sale of heer in canteens as a protection against more serious indulgence in whisky. He expressed the opinion that Chickamau ga was an excallent camp site, but he considered the water supply bad as it was arranged. He thought a pipe line should have been run to the camp from Crawfish

Expected Riot Averted.

Several Blacks Fired into a Crowd of Whites and Wounded Three Men CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 24th.—A special rom Lumberton, N. C., says: The expected riot between the races at Ashpole, this county, Saturday night, was averted. A telephone message from Ash-pole stated that a crowd of mutinous negroes, who had been around the village all day making threats, had entered the village armed and the whites expected to be attacked any minute and asked that aid be sent. Several men went down from here, and, as the negroes seemed to be quieting down, the whites dispersed, a few gathering around a small fire in the centre of the street as a guard. About three o'clock several blacks slipped up near the crowd and fired into them, wounding three men, none seriously. They then ran and the whites immediitely wired to Florence and procured bloodhounds, which were met at Elrod by a special engine, which had them at Ashpole by 10 o'clock. Immediately the dogs struck a hot trail and by 1 o'clock four blacks had been caught. They were taken to Ashpole and, it is said, have confessed that they were in the crowd and have implicated several others, some of whom were caught. This morning the sheriff is hunting others. The captured negroes told who burned Tubbs' store, at Ashpole, on Thursday night.

The negroes are confined in a box car at Ashpole and are well guarded. It is reported that the posse in pursuit of the other negroes have shot one of them. It is impossible to get telephone connections with Ashpole to confirm the report.

THE CAMPAIGNING PARTY HERE TO-MORROW NIGHT.-The George A. Jenks campaigning party will be in Bellefonte, October 20th. It will be their first visit to this county since the great state campaign of 1898 has opened.

The Jenks party includes, in addition to ex-solicitor General George A. Jenks, ex-Congressman W. H. Sowden, of Allentown, candidate for Lieutenant Governor; Captain Patrick DeLacy, of Scranton, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs; Calvin M. Bower, of Bellefonte, candidate for Superior Court Judge, and Jerry N. Weiler, the workingman's friend, candidate for Congressman-at-large, together with a corps of newspaper men representing the big dailies of Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Harrisburg and Scranton.

The crowds that have greeted this party wherever it has been since the opening of the campaign is clearly indicative of the revolution against the boss and machine in politics, aroused as the people are against treasury looters, promoters of padded payrolls and inflated investigation bills, they have turned out in great numbers to hear Mr. Jenks' proposition as to how best reform can be installed at Harrisburg. His frank expressions, great sincerity and undoubted honesty of purpose have won his audiences wherever he has spoken. The secretary of the national House of Representatives has been flooded with requests for the House record of Mr. Jenks' conduct as a member of the Forty-fourth Congress. This is a mirror, so to speak, of this remarkable man's life. The fearless leader of that Congress is the same George A. Jenks who now, in the name of reform and common honesty, asks that the machine be ousted from the state capitol. His record as solicitor general of the United States and as assistant secretary of the interior is also attracting considerable attention. Every act contained therein, official and otherwise, indicating the noble, fearless character and integrity of the man. His supreme conservatism and high regard for the truth have won him thousands of votes in this campaign. In spite of the fact that the paid agents of the machine have been at work seeking flaws on his record since the day of his nomination by orted from Guantanamo that Lieut. the Altoona convention, not a reflection has been cast upon his record, either as a citizen, a lawyer or a public official. It is remarkable of him that not once during this campaign has Mr. Jenks made a statement against the machine or the Republican party that is not either a matter reputable witnesses. Even his statements as to the inequality of the Republican tax laws, showing as they do, the evident unfairness of this system, remain uncontradicted by his opponents. It seems that his every word is truthful and as far beyond reproach as though it had been quoted directly from the Bible. What he would do to wipe out the ma-ready said. Those who know him deem this entirely sufficient; he said: "I would use my best endeavors in the interests of the commonpeople. I can promise nothing more than this-I shall do my best." To anyone who knows Mr. Jenks, these words speak volumes. Anything further would e superfluous.

Corporal Sowden, with that famous "use the federal patronage for what it is worth" letter of Senator Quay, and his undeniable evidence of the sale of federal and state offices throughout the Commonwealth, together with his bold and fearless arraignment of the machine, is arousing the people wherever he goes.

Mr. Sowden is a wonderful man. He is admittedly the greatest stump speaker in Pennsylvania to-day, perhaps in the country. It is alleged that Senator Quay has recently said of him that "He is the most dangerous man that ever took the stump against my people."

Senator Quay is also alleged to have said that the greatest mistake of his political life was the costermonger letter that he addressed to Mr. Sowden in which he called him a liar and a dog. For three days later, in Senator Quay's own handwriting, Mr. Sowden proved beyond all doubt the statements he made and which called forth this abusive letter, written on the United States Senate's letter heads.

Capt. Patrick DeLacy, the hero of the Battle of the Wilderness, and a comrade of corporal Sowden, has worked wonders by way of stirring up the old veterans who now appreciate the fact that Senator Quay has surrounded himself with a select little band of professional political soldiers, Wherever the party has been "the boys" are in revolt against this little band of office holding soldiers, whose records as warriors are short, but whose office-holding records are long.

Jerry N. Weiler, through the various bills introduced at his instance in Congress and by him in the State Legislature, in the campaign he has been carried from the meeting places on the shoulders of the workingmen, whose sensible appreciation brings them close to Mr. Weiler.
