

Too Many Cooks Spoil the Broth.

COMMUNICATED.
It is plain to be seen that few residents of Bellefonte read the county papers from the fact that a stranger representing the Home society, of Penna., has, within the past week, been organizing a branch of said society in Bellefonte churches, and many persons evidently consider it a new theme in this community. Should some of our good friends have taken a county paper they might plainly see that such an organization—only under a different name—the Children's Aid, has been in existence here for ten years. In fact for the past five years the work has been carried on so successfully, in a quiet but modest manner, with but four workers, and in all the years of arduous labor, providing for the welfare of destitute and neglected children, this society has not received $20.00 from the county for their work. Many times has the treasury been so scant that some of the officers were compelled to take the children under their own roof; boarding them free of cost until a good free home was offered, and after all these years of labor, which in truth it may be called, it seems to us the community does not pay much of a compliment to the good women who have carried on this work in caring for the outcasts, and saving dollars for the taxpayers, that they should allow a stranger to take money, as well as clothing, from the town and appropriate this for outside work, when the mission is right at your door and has not been recognized for years.

The women who are engaged in this work do it from the love of humanity only, and throughout twenty-seven counties there is but one paid officer. Whereas, the Home society has eight well paid workers to the writer's knowledge, there may be more. A short time ago the general superintendent of this branch came into the county and was asked by a very poor man, who was ill, and utterly unable to provide for his two motherless little ones, if the Home society would receive his children and provide good homes for them. The reply was: "Yes, provided you give me $60.00 for the boy and $50.00 for the girl." The poor man was crushed, as such a sum was a stranger to him. He then came to the Children's Aid society and the ladies kindly took his little ones, clothed and boarded them for five months, finally obtaining excellent homes for them, defraying the expenses, save $5.00, which was given as a thank offering by the father.

This illustration is only given to cite one of the many cases of which the Aid society is subject to. It is the earnest wish of the ladies, connected with the Aid society, that the Home society shall be zealous in their work and add to their band as many unselfish and christian workers as the Aid society now possesses. May all give a helping hand.

Centre Hall.

Lyman Smith, wife and baby are off on a few weeks' visit to Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kreamer visited their daughter, Mrs. Jennie Heckman, at Lock Haven, a few days last week.

H. G. Strohmer erected a splendid monument in the Millheim cemetery to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Zeigler, father and mother of Daniel Zeigler.

George Michael can boast of the largest wheat crop in the immediate vicinity of Centre Hall, he having threshed more than eleven hundred bushels.

Due preparations are being made for the chicken and waffle supper Thanksgiving evening at Grange Hall. The attendance without a doubt will be large.

Rev. R. B. Wolf is editor of a sprightly church paper, The Lutheran, devoted to the interests of Lutheranism in Greenwood county, Kansas. The paper is published in Eureka, where Rev. Wolf, formerly of this place, is pastor.

Forest Ocker, of this place, and Miss Orpha Gramley, of Rebersburg, were married at the home of Charles Gramley, father of the bride Sunday afternoon. The party are at present on a wedding tour and will return the beginning of next week, when the groom will resume his duties as clerk at Wolf and Crawford's popular store.

The Howard creamery company churned its first butter this week at the new cream station. Four wagons gather the whole milk, and after the cream is separated therefrom, the skim milk is returned to the farmers. As a consequence of this new system butter advanced two cents, and the man who keeps the cow is glad. The new creamery pays twenty cents for butter fat and the Spring Mills creamery eighteen cents for butter, which is claimed by the latter to be equal to twenty cents for butter fat. It is more than likely that the product of the cow will be more profitable this winter than heretofore, which will be an incentive to give the much misused animal better care and attention. The average product of the cow in this valley could be doubled with proper care and feeding, trebled by weeding out the beef element, and quadrupled by careful breeding.

Pine Grove Mention.

Miss Ina Krebs spent Sunday with her cousin Belle Musser.

Our old friend Saml. H. Bailey is suffering from a partial paralytic stroke.

Squire Keichline, of Bellefonte, was the guest of his mother one day this week.

Dr. Frank Bowersox lost his fine grey driving mare recently with pneumonia.

Our young Presbyterian divine Ralph Illingworth has accepted a call near Erie.

Mrs. Daniel I. Johnson, of Pine Hall, is ill with dropsy that is causing her friends much alarm.

Daniel Irvin has purchased the Penna. Furnace farm probably better known as the old Bryson farm.

Charles Segner, son of Michael Segner, is so seriously ill with typhoid fever that, for a time, very little hope was entertained for his life.

A dog war is raging in Tadpole. Howard Musser's flock was badly mottled a few days ago and he is mad clear through so that he means death to some one's dog.

Deputy postmaster J. H. Ward is the proud possessor of a gold nugget sent him from the Peace River mines by his brother Dr. Tod Ward whose letter appeared in last week's WATCHMAN.

An agent for a creamery firm is here working up a creamery project. S. W. Ward, of Baileyville, has agreed to give the ground and take two shares of stock and from present indications it looks as though it would be a go for two thousand dollars have already been subscribed.

The post mortem examination of Charley Musser by Drs. Woods and Kuhn revealed the fact that he had died from a cancerous growth in the stomach and bowels.

Post master Hess has just received a fine new post office cabinet but it will not be put in place in the present office as he contemplates moving the office up town near his residence.

Wm. I. Thompson, president of the Commercial Telephone Co., was in town this week hustling around in the interest of his company. Five 'phones are already in good working order in the place and more will soon be put in.

Private John Hastings, a member of the Sheridan troop, has been laid up ever since his return from Porto Rico. He is now down with a relapse but his attending physician, Dr. Houser, thinks he will pull through at his Gatesburg home.

Jim Taney and his chums bagged a dozen cotton tails last Saturday and the young nimrods, who shot farmer Miller's golden pheasant pullets for quail, are wiser and poorer although, the Squire was very lenient with them and only charged them 60cts. apiece.

John G. Bailey was a delegate to the Presbytery at Tyrone, last Monday, to notify that body of the resignation of Rev. T. S. Armstrong from the Spruce Creek charge to accept a call at Wyalusing. The Rev. will preach his last sermon at Graysville on the 27th.

Directors McCormick and Aikens, of the new telephone line, went over the route westward the early part of the week and decided to continue the main line along the White Hall road to the intersection of the pike at Penna. Furnace thence to Spruce Creek.

T. J. Jamison, one of Gregg's staunch Democrats and representative business men spent the early part of the week at D. L. Miller's writing up the insurance business. Tom was accompanied by his jolly wife and Jennie Miller, who noted many changes in the 30 years it has been since she passed her girlhood here.

Milliken McWilliams, a tar on the St. Paul during the late squabble, is spending a ten days' furlough at his Rock Springs home and his associates have thoroughly enjoyed his adventures at Santiago and Porto Rico. At the close of his vacation he is to report the training ship Richmond at League Island as he has enlisted for five years.

Caroline wife of Peter Johnson, died at her home on Water street, Tuesday the 15th of a floating kidney, from which she had suffered for weeks. She was the mother of 12 children of whom two daughters and one son are living to mourn, with her husband, her death. She was 65 years old and a consistent member of the U. B. church and her pastor, Rev. Dr. Freeman, conducted the funeral services, which were held on the 16th. Interment was made in the new cemetery.

Old Tussy is fairly alive with hunters these days. The Matoes are in camp at the head of the meadows and have four deer hanging up; a well equipped party from Indiana are located in the old Sansserman place on Stone creek; the "Rough Riders" under the leadership of J. W. Kepler have pitched their tent in the kettle; a party from Harrisburg is camped on the Jolany field while Judge Kiley's gang are farther west in the Diamond valley.

Last week most of our young voters were home to register their protest against dishonest government and incidentally have a good time. Among them were Saml. McWilliams and Alfred Bowersox from the Lock Haven State Normal; J. Baker Krebs, from the University in Philadelphia; J. G. Miller, Carlisle Law school, and G. W. and J. C. Ward, and J. M. Keller from Pittsburg. One of the social events during their stay was the celebration of the twenty-first birthday of George Bell, only son of J. N. Bell. The party was so well arranged and planned by his mother that it was a complete surprise. Early in the day he was decoyed away from home by his friend, Harry McCracken, and upon his return found a full house and a warm welcome. Among the presents he received were a valuable hammerless gun and hunting outfit, a new suit of clothes, overcoat, smoking set, and the usual amount of neckties, bric-a-brac etc. Delicious refreshments were served and the guests all enjoyed the affair thoroughly.

On last Saturday morning a sad shooting accident happened on the south side of Tussy mountain that cost Clem Lightner, son of John Lightner, of near Stoffys, his life. Lightner was out camping with a band of Indiana hunters as man of affairs about camp but on that eventful morning had taken a gun and started to hunt. Not long after, a shot was heard in the direction he had gone but no one became uneasy about the young man until night, when he did not put in his name. Sunday morning the alarm was given and Stone valley turned out to hunt over the mountain for the lost man who was found dead with his gun by his side. The bullet had entered his chin and passed out through the top of his head, and the supposition is that he had stooped to raise a large stone to get at a rabbit when in some manner his gun fell and discharged the load into his head. The deceased was a well to do young lumberman and his untimely death should be a warning against the careless handling of fire arms. He was buried on Tuesday at 10 o'clock in the Stoffy church yard.

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, in the Providence of God, death has been permitted to again claim one of our number, past grand, Henry T. Ryman, who for nearly half a century was a most worthy member of Bald Eagle lodge, No. 410, I. O. O. F.

Resolved, that in the death of our deceased brother our lodge has lost one of its oldest and most loyal members, and our town one of its most respected citizens.

Resolved, the life of past grand, Henry T. Ryman as a member has furnished an example of consistency and faithfulness to his lodge, and zeal and firmness in the principles of our order, which every member should follow, and the memory of him be most fondly cherished.

Resolved, that in this affliction we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family of our deceased brother.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our lodge, and a copy of the same under seal of the lodge be given the family of our deceased brother.
