THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Christian Lowry, of this place, has been granted a pension of $6 per month. The Central Commercial telephone company line-men are at work stringing wires from Loganton to Lock Haven. Harry Fenlon, of the Bush house, has been confined to his room for about ten days on account of the effects of a cold. The Bellefonte High school and Phillipsburg High school football eleven will play a game in this place, to-morrow, Saturday. The Thanksgiving assembly at the Pennsylvania State College will be given by the Seniors on Friday evening, November 25th. Telephone connection between Bellefonte and State College, over the lines of the Central Commercial Co., was effected on Friday. John J. Bower, who was accidentally shot in the shoulder several weeks ago, is improving, though the wound is still quite painful. A protracted meeting is being held in the Wolf's Store United Evangelical church, but no conversions have been made up to this time. The old stone steps about the court house are being reset. They had gotten in bad shape through the wear of years and needed resetting badly. Martin's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., comes to Garman's next Tuesday night. As is invariably the case with the bewiskered old show it will probably have a crowded house. Margery, Mr. and Mrs. Linn McGinley's little daughter who is quarantined on account of scarlet fever, is getting better rapidly. None of the cases are considered serious. Centre county is the largest county in the State; containing 1,227 square miles and 785,280 acres. Lebanon is the smallest, with 356 square miles and 227,840 acres. Clinton is about one-third less than Centre. The Union Thanksgiving services, usually joined in by the several congregations of Bellefonte will be held, this year, in the Reformed church, the Rev. Dr. Holloway, of the Lutheran church, occupying the pulpit. Charles Harter, formerly a student in the law office of J. C. Meyer, in this place, has purchased a large tract of timberland in Cambria county and has gone up there to see to the cutting of the timber. Saturday evening, Nov. 25th, the Franz Wilezek grand concert company will appear in the chapel at the Pennsylvania State College. The concert will be given for the benefit of the Free Lance. The prices will be 25, 35 and 50 cents. John F. Harrison has retired from the management of the bakery on Bishop street and his brother Charles, from State College, has taken charge. Mr. Harrison found that it was more than he could do to teach school and attend to business as well. J. C. Shaffer, the store keeper at Martha Furnace is so seriously ill with typhoid fever that little hope of his recovery is entertained. His wife has just recovered from an attack of the disease and his little son is ill with it now. Harry Jackson is suffering with a painful polypos in his left nostril. The growth has become so large as to have affected almost the entire left side of his face. Harry is at a loss to know the cause and thinks that it might be the after effect of the fever he contracted at Chicamauga. The K. L. C. E. society of the United Evangelical church, of Howard, will hold an oyster supper at the home of F. S. Dunham, on Main street, on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 24th, 1898. Ice cream and other refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to every one to go and partake of the good things to be served. Burglars entered the residence of Mrs. Anna Taylor, on east Howard street, at an early hour Wednesday morning. While passing through the parlor they upset a rocking chair, which made so much noise that the family was awakened and the intruders ran away. They were plainly seen by members of the Taylor household, but could not be recognized. One of the notable events in the last election in Centre county was the appearance of a staunch old Republican, 81 years old, at the polls up in Patton township, who declared his intention to vote the straight Democratic ticket. Though he probably will not have many more votes to poll it is creditable to the old gentleman that he has realized that it is never too late to reform. The large slaughter house owned jointly by the Phillipsburg beef company and M. I. Forey, located at Cold Stream, near Phillipsburg, was totally destroyed by fire at mid-night Monday. In addition to the slaughter house and cattle sheds, nine dressed carcasses, fifty beef hides, a lot of calf skins and sheep skins were burned. The loss is estimated at $2,000, against which there is a partial insurance. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin.

BELLEFONTE'S DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

Brigadier General Evan Miles, U. S. A., distinguished and promoted for exceptional bravery before Santiago, was an arrival in town on Tuesday evening and is a guest at the home of Mrs. R. V. Pugh, on Curtin street. His health is so shattered that he is receiving as few callers as possible, hoping that several weeks of quiet rest in this place will re-invigorate and bring about the robust health he enjoyed before participating in the Cuban campaign. General Miles went to Cuba as Col. of the 1st Inf. His first engagement was before El Caney, where he commanded the 1st, 4th and 25th regiments which formed the centre of Lawton's division. His heroic action there, supplemented by his work in the trenches before Santiago, was of such a character as to attract the attention of his superiors and about a month ago he received a commission as Brigadier General in recognition of his services. He is a son of Richard Miles, one of our olden day residents, and a nephew of Joseph Miles, deceased, whose late home is on Bishop street, just opposite the Catholic church. In 1861 he was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the army by Simon Cameron, the secretary of war. He fought with distinction all through the rebellion and continued in the service afterwards. He has been a great Indian campaigner. General Miles' mother was a Miss Van Cleve who was a teacher in the Bellefonte academy, when Robt. Valentine and his generation were boys, more than fifty years ago. The General is on his way to San Francisco, but expects to remain here several weeks. While in Cuba he contracted southern fever and was in a precarious condition when brought to the hospital at Ft. McPherson, in Georgia, from which institution he was only recently discharged.

A POUND SOCIAL AT HUBBERSBURG.

The Ladies Aid society of the Reformed congregation at Walker had a pound social at the home of Rev. J. M. Runkle, at Hubbersburg, on Wednesday of last week. There were about forty-five people present and all seemed to have fully realized their duty. The ladies took quite a lot of eatables with them and the men had fed for the parson's horse as their contribution so that both the wants of man and beast were abundantly catered to. The society presented Rev. and Mrs. Runkle with an artistic wheel quilt. The list of good things to eat included everything from turkeys down to milk and honey. Besides the pound gifts there were refreshments for the party, so that it was not long until a table had been spread and there was bountiful repast for all. After the dinner the president of the society, Mrs. Fred Schenck, called the assemblage to order and the business meeting was opened with a prayer by the pastor, Miss Mabel Yearick, the secretary, then read the minutes of the previous meeting and Mrs. G. D. Glossner made her report as treasurer. It showed that since the organization of the society, Feb. 3rd, 1897, up to the date of the last meeting, the proceeds had amounted to $220, which the ladies had expended in beautifying the church. Among the improvements made have been a new carpet, and inside sliding blinds. Remarks by the pastor followed this excellent report and then the president made an address in which she extolled the men who had lent a helping hand to the good work. This concluded the business portion of the program and the rest of the afternoon was given over to social enjoyment. Towards evening the party left for their homes, all having enjoyed the day immensely.

ARRIVALS ARE FEW AT THE JAIL.

The advent of a new boarder at the jail, a few days ago, was hailed with delight by the ten inmates who had grown sick of one another's society and longed for something new to drop in among them. The stranger was a gentleman by the name of Murphy, from Rush township. He decided to come over and board with sheriff Cronister because he and his wife had a few little differences and their society was no longer mutually congenial. In fact it is reported that Mr. Murphy, out of the goodness of his heart, thought he would be doing his wife a positive kindness by promoting her transit into the next world. And offered so to do. While it was not Mrs. Murphy's desire to cross her husband she preferred even that to crossing the Styx, but settled the whole matter more to her satisfaction by having Murphy brought across the mountain. INTERESTING COURSE OF ART LECTURES AT THE COLLEGE.—The department of industrial art at the College has been so fortunate as to secure a course of three lectures on art by Mr. George Breed Zug, of Pittsburg. The lectures are illustrated by photographs which Mr. Zug personally collected in Italy, and the collection has been said to be the finest west of the Alleghenies. Mr. Zug is already known as a lecturer in Boston, Philadelphia, at Bryn Mawr College, and other places, as well as in Pittsburg, and the public is anticipating a rare treat. The series began with the lecture given yesterday afternoon and will be continued this afternoon and to-morrow afternoon. The time of the lectures was set at 4 o'clock p. m., in order to give the people of Bellefonte and places in the vicinity an opportunity to attend. Course tickets for three lectures, only $1. Single tickets, 35 cents.

Tyrone is trying to organize a basketball team.

Harry Henderson, a Warriors-mark farmer, had 17 1/2 acres of corn that averaged 144 bushels to the acre. Martin's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. is the next attraction booked at Garman's. It will be here next Tuesday night. The borough of Somerset voted to build a $4,000 public building at the last election. Also to issue bonds for $20,000 for a public sewerage system. A twenty-five pound tumor was removed from Mrs. John Shaw, of Houtzdale, on last Friday. The operation was performed at the Cottage hospital in Phillipsburg. Jefferson county is to have a special election on Tuesday, Feb. 21st, 1899, at which time it will be decided as to whether the county is to have a county poor home, or continue under the present township system. The receipts of the Phillipsburg post-office for the fiscal year just closed having been in excess of $10,000 that place is entitled to free mail delivery. The service will be instituted there in a short time, so it is reported. "The Theatians," the Pennsylvania State College dramatic organization, are at work rehearsing the "School for Scandal." It will be remembered that they produced "The Rivals" here last spring and they did their work quite cleverly. Dr. J. B. Laird, who was a surgeon during the rebellion and afterwards located at Milesburg for the practice of medicine, died at his home, in Bellwood, on Saturday. Deceased was 73 years old and was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church. Uncle Tom's Cabin will be played at Garman's next Tuesday night. Though the modern interpretation of Harriet Beecher Stowe's great play has drifted about as far as possible from the original, the Martin company is one of the best that is playing it on the road and will probably please those who never get tired weeping when little Eva dies or laughing when Topsy does her funny "stunts" with aunt Ophelia. A special meeting of the Huntingdon presbytery was held at Tyrone on Monday for the purpose of dissolving the pastoral relations that had existed between Rev. T. S. Armentrout, of Spruce Creek, and his charge. Rev. Armentrout desired to be released so that he could accept a call to a church in the Lackawanna presbytery. He gave as his reason for desiring to make the change that his health has become such as to make it necessary for him to do as little traveling as possible. Blair county has taken the rather unprecedented course of releasing murderers rather than bear the expense of prosecuting them. Frank Wilson, who was convicted of murdering old Henry Bonneke, an Altoona reclus, and sentenced to be hung on Nov. 24th, 1897, was granted a new trial by the supreme court. Rather than lay out the $7,000 that would be necessary for the trial he was taken into court last week and discharged. It had cost $40,000 to secure his conviction at the first trial. The Kennedy players closed an exceptionally successful week's engagement at Garman's on Saturday. The S. R. O. sign was out before the curtain went up on the first act and the last appearance proved just as meritorious as the first. While the repertoire of the company is made up of the border drama style of plays they are all cast so that the exciting realism is had though they are toned down so as not to appear too full of blood and thunder. John J. Kennedy is clever enough to make a pleasing entertainment by himself. This is not too say that the other members of the company are not good. An anti spitting ordinance is badly needed in this town, for one can scarcely walk along the streets without having ones clothes contaminated. Our pavements are filthy with slime and tobacco juice. In the large cities the health protective societies have waged war so incessantly in this direction that everyone is beginning to realize what a dirty and disease breeding habit it is and stringent measures are being taken to prevent it. But here the spitter thrives and increases until your clothes are befouled by great squirts of tobacco juice, if you are obliged to go by their loading places, and, worse still, you and all your fellow creatures breathe in the microbes or disease germs which they scatter broadcast on the walks and then wonder why you have consumption or its like. The wind storm that blew up so suddenly late last Thursday night was more than the smoke stack on the steam laundry could stand and it went down before the blast. The large flag that had been floating from a cable stretched between the Bush house and the McClain block was blown down also. When the new roof was put on the Bush house a few weeks ago the mechanics removed the iron anchoring and just fastened the cable around one of the chimneys. Though it was fastened down close to the roof the weight of the flag in the gale pulled the entire chimney off. It was fortunate that there was no one passing on the street, for there was a perfect shower of bricks fell when the flag came down. D. C. Weik, of Milton, had just stepped out of the main entrance of the hotel, but had not reached the street when the crash caused him to change his mind very suddenly and scot back for the office.

DIED WHILE AWAY FROM HOME.

The death of Mrs. John H. Miller, of Rock Springs, occurred at the home of her brother, Mr. James Watt, in Tyrone, on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. The circumstances surrounding her death were particularly sad, since she had been in the best of health when she left her four children who are at home, on Saturday morning, Nov. 5th, and started to Tyrone with Mr. Miller to do some fall shopping. Upon arriving in Tyrone Mr. and Mrs. Miller went at once to the home of her brother. They had been there but a few moments when Mrs. Miller was taken suddenly ill with what proved later to be paralysis. Her condition was extremely serious from the first and but little hope of her recovery was entertained. On last Thursday she rallied slightly. Enough, however, to encourage a fleeting hope that she might recover, but directly she relapsed and sank rapidly until Monday, when she became unconscious and remained so until her death the next morning. Mrs. Miller was the eldest daughter of the late James Watt, who was one of the most influential citizens about Rock Springs. She was born in Mifflin county and was 52 years, 3 months and 9 days old. Nov. 18th, 1868, she was married to John H. Miller and ever since they had lived on a farm adjoining the parental homestead on which they had been married thirty years ago. To their union six children were born. They are Mrs. Carrie Wieland, Linden Hall; Mrs. Sara Lemon, Gatesburg, and Gertrude, Sumner, Blair and Maude at home. Besides her brother one sister, Miss Margaret, survives. Mrs. Miller was trained in the doctrine of the Presbyterian church from childhood and never suffered her interest in the church to lapse. She was a true christian woman, having given, both of her time and means in the service of the Master. She was a mother and wife whose loss will be sorely felt about the fireside that she elevated and brightened so much. The remains were taken home on Tuesday afternoon and funeral services were conducted there yesterday morning by Rev. T. S. Armentrout. Interment was made at the Graysville cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. O'BRYAN.—Charlotte, wife of Walter O'Bryan, died at her home at State College, on Thursday, November 10th. She had been ill for a long time and almost a month prior to her death she could take neither nourishment nor medicine. Deceased was the daughter of Zazous and Lydia Lytle. Her entire life had been spent on the family homestead, south of the College, until last spring when the condition of her health made it necessary for the family to move into their new home at State College, where she could receive more constant medical attention. She was a good woman, true and kind, and her place can never be filled. Her husband with the following children survive: Mrs. Decker, of Spring township; Piersol, on the homestead, and George at home. Her sisters and brothers are: Mrs. I. J. Dreyse, Lemont; Mrs. J. B. Ard and J. H. Lytle, Pine Grove Mills; Andrew Lytle, State College; and Moses T., of Nebraska. She was a member of the Lemont Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Branch cemetery on the 13th inst., Rev. Hepler having officiated.

DIED AT SNOW SHOE.—On Tuesday evening of last week one of Snow Shoe's most respected citizens, James Redding, died. He had been suffering with gangrene in one of his legs for some time and finally decided to undergo an operation. On Monday the affected member was taken off and the patient seemed to rally. On Tuesday he had a back-set and sank rapidly until he died. Deceased was 76 years old and had spent all of his life in the mercantile business in and about Snow Shoe. He leaves the following children: Henry, of Patton; Lawrence, landlord of the Mountain house, Snow Shoe; James, proprietor of the Allegheny house, Clearfield; Maggie and Mary Redding, of Snow Shoe. The funeral took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Snow Shoe. John S. Tome, who died at Jersey Shore at an early hour Monday morning, was a brother of Mrs. Louisa Bush, of this place. He was 65 years old and his death was caused by diabetes. Deceased was one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of Jersey Shore and is survived by his widow, with three children: Mr. George Tome, Mrs. Jennie Brown and Mrs. Carrie Sides. Mrs. Sara Elizabeth Keller, wife of Jacob Keller, Lock Haven's chief of police, died Sunday morning, after a long illness with a complication of diseases. Mrs. Keller was born at Beech Creek, Jan. 14th, 1860, and is survived by her husband and three children. Chas. Gobble, of Mingoville, died last Tuesday morning after a long illness with a generally broken down system. One brother, Jacob, of Nittany, survives him. His wife died several years ago. Interment was made in the Zion cemetery. John Friday died at the home of his son William, at Madera, last Friday night, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis. He was 68 years old and for a long time had farmed in the vicinity of Vail station. Mrs. Jane Johnston, aged 87 years, died at Mill Hall on Tuesday morning. Two sons survive her. The remains were buried in Brown's cemetery on Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Shunk died at Sober, last Friday morning, at the home of her grandson, James Miller. Deceased was 79 years, 3 months and 19 days old. Interment was made in George's valley on Sunday morning.

Eller and Williams' saw mill at Julian is in operation again, after a suspension of several weeks. While building a stable near Mingo-ville last Saturday Shuman Zimmerman, cut his thumb nearly off. A rusty nail in its foot gave a fine horse owned by Clayton Whitmer, of Fillmore, lock-jaw and it died last week. The coming marriage of Annie Keif and John Flack, of Coleville, was announced in the Catholic church on Sunday. A new time table will go into effect on the Central R. R. of Pa., on Monday morning, Nov. 21st. The morning passenger train will leave Bellefonte at 7:10 instead of 7:20; the afternoon train will leave at 2:40 instead of 3:45; and the night train will leave at 7:50, instead of 7:45. The arriving trains will reach here at 9:40 a. m., 5:10 and 10:27 p. m. Miss Margaret T. Hamill, formerly of Oak Hall, but now of Philadelphia, and Chas. J. Girvin, were married in the Tenth Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, on Wednesday, Nov. 2nd, by the bride's father, Rev. Dr. Hamill, assisted by Rev. Marcus H. Brownson. Mr. Girvin is a son of Dr. Girvin, of Walnut street, and is well-known about here, having graduated at State College in '93. News Purely Personal. Mrs. John L. Kurtz has gone to Philadelphia for an extended visit. G. W. McWilliams, of Fairbrook, and his son Henry were the out of town visitors last Saturday. Judge and Mrs. Cyrus N. Gordon, of Clearfield, spent Wednesday night at the Bush house. Dr. Frear, of State College, was in town yesterday on his way home from a meeting of chemists in Washington. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Valentine, of Atlantic City, N. J., are here visiting at the home of Mrs. R. V. Pugh, on Curtin street. Misses Myra and Emma Holliday, of north Allegheny street, returned from a ten day trip to Philadelphia on Tuesday evening. Edgar T. Burnside, of the Standard scale works, is off on a business trip to Williamsport, Harrisburg, Lancaster and Philadelphia. Miss Emma Montgomery, of North Allegheny street, departed for Pittsburg last evening, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Chas. J. McHugh. Hon. Robert M. Foster returned from a visit to the Uniontown soldier's orphans school yesterday morning. He reports things lively out in Fayette. John P. Harris, Jr., of Tyrone, was in town between trains Tuesday afternoon. He came down on business for the Blair county bank, with which he is connected. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Bell, of Huntingdon, were in town during the fore part of the week, visiting relatives here. They had spent Sunday at the old home at Aaronsburg. Mrs. John L. Thompson, of Lemont, was in Tyrone visiting during the fore-part of the week. She was there to see her son George mustered out of the Sheridan troop. They were here last evening on their way home. Mrs. Louisa Bush was called to Jersey Shore, Saturday, by the serious illness of her brother, John Tome, who died on Monday morning. Mrs. Calloway and George T. Bush attended the funeral at Jersey Shore, Wednesday. Wm. P. Duncan, one of Phillipsburg's leading financiers and coal operators, was in town on Tuesday, having come over to consult with Governor Hastings, with whom he is associated in some business ventures. W. Carroll Kipe, of Philadelphia, is in town again, after an absence of six months, though not his intention to tarry long on this trip. He is buying for Wilmer Kipe & Co., produce dealers in Philadelphia, and is in this section seeing what he can procure in their line. Col. and Mrs. W. Fred Reynolds, their two children with maid and nurse, returned from Philadelphia Monday evening in a private drawing room car. While away the Colonel attended the Yale-Princeton football game and had the pleasure of seeing the team of his alma mater down "old BH" by the score of 6 to 0. J. Fearon Mann, of Lewistown, was a Bellefonte arrival on Tuesday. His mission was wholly one of business, but Mr. Mann managed to call on many of his friends before leaving for home. He says that his daughter Anna has grown so much better that she is able to make trips to Huntingdon without a companion. Mrs. William C. Heine is home, after a four weeks stay in the German hospital in Philadelphia not entirely well from the effects of the operation Dr. Deaver performed but so much better that there is every encouragement of complete recovery. Her daughter Catharine, who has been in New York with relatives for some time, returned home with her. Squire O. H. Nason, of Martha Furnace, was in town yesterday between trains, having just come down to satisfy himself that he is actually alive and recovering from the serious attack of catarrh of the stomach with which he has been suffering for some time. Though he doesn't look much like an invalid his illness has been no joke. He hung it aside on election day and got out to vote in good shape. Michael Moyer Esq., of Cooper township, Clearfield county, was in town between trains yesterday afternoon. Mr. Moyer was at one time a resident of Rush township, this county, and is bemoaning the fate that he has gotten into such a Republican county as Clearfield appears to be. He is ston a good Democrat that he misses his annual opportunities to throw up his hat with the rest of us in Centre. Torrence Bell, the youngest son of William Bell, of Thomas street, dropped in from Long Island, N. Y., on Tuesday evening to visit his parents until December first. He has been gone from Bellefonte for nearly four years and looks as if life on the coast agreed with him. He is employed in the grocery business in the same town in which his brother, Dr. Finley Bell, is located and the latter's two little sons are here with him. Miss Julia Bell, the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Mary Bell, of Clearfield, returned to her home in that place last evening, after having spent several weeks visiting relatives in this county. The Bells formerly lived in the vicinity of Hunter's park and the young lady enjoyed the return to visit her many friends along Buffalo run. She is a niece of Register G. W. Rumberger at whose home in this place part of her time was spent. THEY KNOW A THING OR TWO.—Last week we mentioned what was reported to us as a fact, that the farmers' boys of Nittany valley were hunting quail with pug dogs and Winchester rifles. Not at all in a spirit of ridicule. Oh no! but just to show the sporting fraternity what ingenuity a well regulated country boy will display when hard pressed. With his pug dog trained to point quail and with an aim accurate enough to knock their heads off with a rifle ball the feats of the Nittany valley boys are not to be sneezed at. Yet a correspondent down there, who signs himself "H. J. B." views the whole thing as a joke and comes back at us with the following: "In your last issue you refer to the Nittany valley farmers' sons as going hunting with Winchester rifles and pug dogs. The boys say they know a cow when they see it and do not take it for a rabbit, as some of the club men have done. And they can very easily distinguish a sparrow from a quail and know that quails are not apt to be sitting at any one's feet. Then, too, when they return from a hunting expedition with a wild turkey it is the genuine article, and not a tame one with sand papered legs, as one of Bellefonte's editors has done." "H. J. B." Now what our correspondent says may all be true. We are not prepared to dispute a word of it, for we know a few of those Nittany club hunters and we have also heard of the same-looking game that the sporting newspaper men up town, Kurtz and Harter, have been bringing home lately. We have a strong suspicion that this "H. J. B." would come nearer the initials of the author if the two first letters were arranged so that they were in this order: J. H. and then an eek added to the B. THANKSGIVING DANCE.—The Senior class of the Pennsylvania State College will hold their regular Thanksgiving dance in the armory at the College, on Friday evening, Nov. 25th. The class of '99 has spared no efforts to make this dance one of the best ever held at Thanksgiving and it is expected to be a success in every way. The celebrated Stopper and Fisk orchestra, of Williamsport, has been engaged for the evening and, weather permitting, a very pleasant time will be had. THE UNDINE THANKSGIVING ASSEMBLY.—The Undine engine company will give its regular annual Thanksgiving assembly in the armory of Co. M, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 23rd. Admission will be by invitation only. The committee in charge is made up of J. H. Houser, chairman; R. B. Garbrick, Charles Hazel, William Hill, Harry Walkey, Edward Klinger and William Cunningham. The Phoenix Milling Co., having started their new mills, are now receiving wheat and other grains. Their old policy of taking wheat, etc., at the owner's risk, has been changed so that now the farmers may place their crops in the steel tanks recently erected and the milling company will be responsible for any loss that may occur to grain there stored. THE SALE POSTPONED.—The assignee's sale of the John Rupp lot on Curtin street in this place, that was to have been made on Tuesday morning at 10:30 has been postponed until Saturday morning, Nov. 19th, at the same hour. Sheridan troop of Tyrone was paid off and mustered out on Wednesday evening. Sale Register. THURSDAY, DEC. 18, 1898.—At the residence of L. H.
