THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Col. Amos Mullen has been granted a pension of $6 per month.

Peter Kelly, of Port Matilda, recently had his leg badly crushed while hauling mine prop timber.

The warm winds on Saturday made short work of the ice that had covered Bellefonte hills for several days.

The wind storm that proved so destructive in many parts of the State, last Saturday afternoon, did no damage in Bellefonte.

The Milesburg postoffice has been moved from the old quarters into a room especially fitted up for it in the Crider building on Mill street.

Former Governor Hastings' five horses and carriages have arrived here, and are ready for the use of the family when they return from New York.

A progressive euchre proved delightful entertainment for a party of young people at the home of Michael Shields, on Logan street, Tuesday evening.

Emon H. Swartz, of Altoona, was married to Miss Elizabeth May Walters, of Unionville, last Thursday evening. The ceremony was performed in Altoona.

D. A. Grove is going to give up the coal and grain business at Lemont in the spring and move onto the homestead of his late father, Michael Grove Esq.

White pine timber will soon be a curiosity in Taylor township. Chaney & Thompson have purchased the last tract in that region and it will soon be cut.

On Monday our townsman A. Baum, entertained his brother Samuel, who is extensively engaged in the mercantile business in Philadelphia and was here spending the day.

T. F. Musser, of Snow Shoe; S. K. Spangler, of Blanchard; and Nathan McCloskey, of Homola, are all fortunates who have recently been granted new pensions or had increases awarded.

While coasting on Willowbank street, Thursday night, Sadie Martin had three of her fingers smashed by getting them between the top board and the rear sled of the cutter on which she was riding.

On Saturday night Gregg post No. 95, G. A. R. had public installation ceremonies and entertained a large party of visitors at a camp fire. The officers have already been published several times.

O. D. Eberts, deputy treasurer under John Q. Miles, was in town on Saturday closing up a deal whereby he becomes owner of the mercantile business at Martha, formerly conducted by the late Mr. Shaffer.

At the annual election of trustees for the Methodist church, Bellefonte, held on Wednesday evening, Jas. K. Barnhart, S. D. Ray and Henry Lowery were chosen to succeed John G. Love, S. H. Williams and Wm. Straub.

George Weaver has been prostrated for two weeks with an attack of appendicitis. The true nature of his trouble was not discovered until he was too weak to undergo an operation, but it is thought he will pull through without it now.

Fred McCully has abandoned his intention of becoming a barber and has entered the foundry at the Standard scale and supply company Lim., works, to learn the moulding trade. William Rider has taken his place in Storm's barber shop.

It is rumored in Phillipsburg that W. H. Sandford, cashier of the First National bank of Patton will be called to Phillipsburg to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late O. P. Jones and Frank Lukenbach will be given the cashiership of the Patton bank.

Oliver Scott's negro minstrels, one of the largest entertainments of the kind, composed exclusively of colored people, and among them some of the best performers in their special lines before the public, will be the next attraction at Garman's. They come Thursday evening, January 26th, 1899.

"Dr." Albert Roberts' diphtheria remedy is apparently what the people want. Testimonials are pouring in from all directions and it keeps him busy mixing remedy enough to fill orders. On Saturday he received an order from M. G. Orwig, agent of the P. R. R. Co. at Houtzdale, who speaks of it as "a great remedy."

Shouting like a wild man and puffing worse than Corbett did when Sharkey worked him out of wind insurance agent Bob Hunter rushed down street yesterday at noon. As he had a grip in his hand we suppose most people thought he intended leaving town on a train that was fast disappearing when he first made himself prominent on the street. He had no notion of going away on that train or he would have started to get ready sooner.

The gospel meetings that had been advertised to be held in the court house in this place during the week had to be given up because evangelist Charles Inglis failed to put in his appearance. He was expected here Monday night and quite a large crowd of people gathered in the court house to hear him, but he did not come. On Tuesday night many of the people returned to be disappointed again. Then it was learned that the evangelist had left Trenton, the last place in which he had been working, and sailed for London on Tuesday.

GENERAL JACKSON WOODRING.—For about two years General Jackson Woodring, of Port Matilda, this county, has suffered from tuberculosis of the stomach and intestines and several months ago the disease assumed a more violent form, causing him great pain. Several physicians were in attendance at different times during his illness and everything that medical skill and the careful nursing of a devoted wife could do was done for him but on Saturday, at 10:25 p. m., January 14th, 1899, he found rest from his earthly suffering. A large number of sorrowing relatives and friends paid the last tribute of respect to him on Tuesday morning, last, when after an impressive service held in the Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Edwin White, of the M. E. church of Port Matilda, and Rev. C. W. Kishell, of the M. E. church of Snow Shoe, assisted by a large choir which rendered several appropriate selections, his mortal remains were laid to rest in the Presbyterian cemetery of that village.

General Jackson Woodring, son of Michael and Nancy Woodring, was born in Huntingdon county this State, Sept. 30th, 1853, and at the time of his death was aged 46 years, 3 months and 14 days. He was secretary of the school board up to his illness and served in various local offices and discharged every trust with care and fidelity. Personally a staunch Democrat he was elected in a Republican district on account of his worth and sterling integrity. For several years he has owned and resided in the former Hannon house property the only public stopping place for quite a distance around and he made his customers feel as if they were stopping for a rest at home, rather than at a public house.

He leaves to survive him his aged father and mother, several brothers and his immediate family consisting of his wife, Bella B. son, George C. and two daughters, Viola and Edith. A little daughter preceded him to the grave some years since and he is buried by her side. For his loving and tenderly devoted wife we hear nothing but praise for the ceaseless care and watchfulness over her husband during all his illness. The ministers dwelt particularly upon this and her neighbors are unstinting in their commendation. She did all that was possible for her to do to alleviate his suffering and may the God of the widow and orphan care tenderly for her and hers.

A few years since a friendship was formed between the writer of this sketch and the deceased which proved true and lasting till death. Words cannot convey the respect and esteem in which I held him. He had a host of friends and few enemies and his genial ways, encouraging words and helpful suggestions warmed and gladdened the hearts of those with whom he came in contact.

He died in the hope of a blessed immortality through faith in Christ as his Saviour and his sorrowing friends should remember that:

"Death's but a path that must be trod, If man would ever pass to God." A FRIEND.

MRS. MARGARET GRAY DORSEY.—The Braymer, Missouri, Dec. of January 13th, published the following notice of the death of a woman who was well-known in the upper end of this county. Her numerous friends and relatives here will be sincerely grieved to learn of her sudden demise. She was a cousin of the editor of this paper.

Mrs. Margaret Gray Dorsey, wife of Dr. D. B. Dorsey, died at the family home in Braymer, Mo., of the grippe, Thursday noon, January 12th, 1899, aged 65 years and about 3 months. She was born in Halfmoon valley, Centre county, Pa., on the farm of her father, Mr. Jacob Gray. Her husband, three of her sons, Dr. F. B. Dorsey, of Keokuk, Iowa; Dr. J. G. Dorsey, of Wichita, Kansas; and C. Purdue Dorsey, of Braymer, and her two daughters, Misses Luella and Eva, also of Braymer, survive her.

Her life was a model of simple devotion to duty, for the sake of the right, for the good of her fellow-beings, and from a sense of deep conviction of accountability to God. She was a loving and faithful wife and a most thoughtful, tender, and self-sacrificing mother. She was the light and joy of home. In her circle of friends she was always welcome because of her gentle and kindly spirit.

At the time of her death she was president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Braymer, to which office she had been twice elected.

For very many years she had been in feeble health and was a great sufferer. But she bore her affliction with devout patience and fortitude, "enduring as seeing Him who is invisible." It is our reverent belief that now she "is like Him" because she "sees Him as he is."

Private funeral services were conducted at the home, Friday morning, Jan. 13th, by Rev. J. W. Anderson, and the body was taken to Chillischoe for burial in the family lot in the city cemetery.

DANIEL F. LANE.—After having been ill only since Monday of last week Daniel F. Lane died at his home, on east Bishop street, on Wednesday evening. His first trouble was with kidney disorders, but grip developed later and precipitated his death. Deceased became a resident of Bellefonte about two years ago, when he came here to enter Krumrine's pharmacy on Allegheny street. He was 38 years old and is survived by a widow with three children; two boys, aged 12 and 7, and an infant daughter.

Services were held at his late home yesterday afternoon and the body was taken to Altoona, where it was met by relatives and will be buried at Alvaton, Westmoreland county, to-day.

GRIP CAUSED HIS DEATH.—Charles E. Davis, son of Frank P. Davis, died at his parents' home on Logan street on Tuesday evening. He had suffered a slight attack of grip on Saturday, but was able to be out on Sunday. That evening he suffered a relapse, typhoid pneumonia developed and he died.

Deceased was born in Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 19th, 1882. He was 16 years old at the time of death. He came to Bellefonte two years ago with his father who is employed at the Standard scale works. He entered the Bellefonte High school and was in the Junior class. He belonged to the Junior Undine band, the Y. M. C. A., and the Methodist Sunday school.

He is survived by his father and mother, one sister, Grace; one half-sister, Mrs. James Wain, and a half-brother, William Briggs, all of this place.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house. Interment in the Union cemetery. Rev. W. A. Stephens will officiate.

ELIJAH FISHER IS DEAD.—For two years the venerable Elijah Fisher, of Union township, had been afflicted with a succession of paralytic strokes and on Wednesday death released him from the helpless condition he had been in for so long. Pneumonia precipitated his demise.

Deceased was one of the best known citizens of Union township and was a brother of William Fisher, the nursery man at Unionville. Had he lived until March he would have been 83 years old. He is survived by his widow and three children: Mrs. Smith, of Phillipsburg; Mrs. Wm. M. Way, of Union township, and Willard, who lives in the old stone house at the Intersection. Miss Ella Levy, of Bellefonte, is a step-daughter. One son, John, was a soldier in the war of the rebellion, but came home sick and died.

Interment will be made in the family's private burying ground this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be conducted by the pastor of the Milesburg Baptist church of which deceased was a member.

WESLEY TATE IS DEAD.—Wesley Tate, who was a resident of Bellefonte a number of years ago, died at Grahampton, Clearfield county, on Saturday. He had suffered for years with miller's asthma, but only recently did it become serious. When in this place Mr. Tate was employed at both the Geo. W. Jackson & Co., and the Gerberich mills.

The body was brought here Monday afternoon and taken on up to the home of Benjamin Bodie, at Hunter's park, who is Mrs. Tate's brother. Burial was made from there on Tuesday afternoon.

Deceased was a son of the late William Tate, of Hunter's park. His widow and the following children survive: Ida, Harry, Bessie, Charley, Boyd, Fred and Marie. Mrs. Martin Reese, of this place, is a sister.

Miss Mary Evelyn Riddle died very suddenly at her home in Tyrone, Tuesday evening, her death having been caused by paralysis of the heart brought about by grip. She was born in the country about two miles distant from Howard, Centre county, on the 25th of August, 1831, and at death was 67 years old. All her early life was spent in this county. She was a graduate of Dickinson seminary, of Williamsport, and was a teacher in the public schools of that city for a number of years prior to going to Tyrone, in November, '85, when the two sisters and their brother, James F. Riddle Esq., established a home there. James F., died in October, 1895. Another brother, Nelson P., died at Howard about two years ago. Their father, William Riddle, died at Howard in 1861, and their mother, Isabella (Pemberton) Riddle, at the same place in 1865. Surviving are but the one sister and one brother, Miss Fannie M., of Tyrone, and Rev. Finley B. Riddle, now located at Wrightsville, Pa.

William Norman, who was born on a farm near Hannah Furnace, Centre county, Sept. 12th, 1876, died in the Homeopathic hospital in Pittsburgh, on Saturday, from the effects of a dose of poison he is supposed to have taken. Mrs. Ollie Gates and Mrs. Annie Spotts, of Port Matilda, are sisters. The remains were brought to Altoona and buried there Tuesday afternoon.

Grip caused the death of Mrs. Emma Stout, wife of Joseph Stout, of near Hubbersburg, on Saturday morning. She had been a sufferer with rheumatism for several years. She was 36 years old and leaves a husband and four children. Rev. Seavels, of the United Evangelical church, conducted funeral services on Monday.

DIED WITH DIPHTHERIA.—A very short illness with diphtheria resulted in the death of Wilbur Steine, the 6 year old son of Harvey and Mrs. Steine, who live at the rear of this building. The little fellow died Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock and as the disease was of a very malignant type interment was made that night at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. James Wills died at her home in Warriors-mark on Tuesday morning. She was 27 years old and is survived by a husband and three children. Grip caused her death. Interment will be made in the Warriors-mark cemetery this morning.

Clarence Dewey Gramley, aged 12 days, infant son of Clark Gramley, of Rebersburg, died on Thursday, January 12th, and was buried in the Lutheran cemetery at that place on the 14th; Rev. H. C. Sellen having officiated.

MISS MAGGIE BENNINGSON.—A short illness with grip resulted in the death of Miss Maggie Benningson, at her home, in Howard, Saturday evening. She became ill during the early part of last week but was not thought to have been in a serious condition until 5 o'clock Saturday morning, when she took a turn for the worse and died that night. Deceased was a sister of Capt. J. H. Benningson, of Jacksonville, and had lived at Howard with her sisters Misses Jennie and Mary. She was born in 1847.

Funeral services were conducted at the house by Rev. Pomeroy, of the Mill Hall Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Wharton, on Tuesday morning, and the body was taken to Cedar Springs for burial.

MRS. SARA LONG GARDNER.—Mrs. Sara Long Gardner, wife of Lynch Gardner, died at her home in Roanoke, Va., Wednesday afternoon. Deceased was the daughter of William Long, of Reynolds Ave., this place, and will be remembered by many friends here who will lament her sad death.

She was 33 years, 3 months and 12 days old and is survived by her husband and five children: Jean, Rebecca, Mary, Philip and the baby, whose birth caused the death of the young mother.

Interment will be made in Roanoke this afternoon.

An illness during two years with catarrh of the stomach terminated in the death of Mrs. W. C. Johnson, at her home, in Rote, at 7:30 Monday evening. Deceased was 63 years old and is survived by a husband and eight children. Funeral services will be held in the Lutheran church at Salona this morning. Interment will be made at Cedar Hill.

A fall of rock crushed Arthur George, of Troy's, near Phillipsburg, to death in No. 1 shaft of the Morrisdale coal company's mines on Monday evening. Ralph Ganoe, his fellow workman, had his leg broken and was cut about the head.

John Kelley, an employe of the Mill Hall axe works, died at his home there Wednesday evening, with consumption. He was 18 years old. The body will be brought here for burial in the Catholic cemetery to-morrow morning.

COUNCIL IN SESSION.—Mr. Houser, member from the South ward, was the only absentee at Monday night's session of council. The business that was transacted wasn't of great importance, however, and his absence wasn't a serious matter to his constituency.

The Commercial telephone company appeared and asked permission to run a line of poles along Curtin street instead of through the alley mid-way between Linn and Curtin streets. The reason assigned for wanting to change the line of poles is because there are already so many in that alley that another line can scarcely be put through. The matter was referred to the Street committee, with power to act.

The cow question was the next question considered. It was generally discussed, then referred back to the solicitor again for alteration and correction.

The electric lighting contract was the last matter considered. Mr. Shaffer's ultimatum to offer the Edison Co. $75 each per year for fifty are lights was answered by that corporation with a proposition to accept $82.50 per light. This didn't please council at all, for under such a contract $4,125 would be the cost per year for fifty are lights, when we are now getting twenty-seven are and fifty-three incandescents for $3,895. The agitation for a change was only begun in the first place with the hope of reducing the aggregate cost of the lighting. Under such a proposition it would cost the town $230 more per year for lighting than it is costing now and there would be thirty lights less. Of course the aggregate candle power of fifty are would be considerably more than that of twenty-seven are and fifty-three incandescents, but it is a question whether there could be as satisfactory lighting with a limited number of large lights as there is with the eighty of both kinds now in use. It is our opinion that the same satisfaction could not be secured and with this belief it seems unwise to consider a proposition that would have the borough pay more than it is under the present arrangement for lighting that does not appear to be as efficient.

A NEW MANAGER ELECTED.—At a meeting of the directors of the Commercial telephone company, held in this place Monday morning, the resignation of former manager W. L. Goodhart, of Millheim, was accepted and Hon. John T. McCormick, of State College, was chosen to fill the vacancy.

Mr. McCormick has assumed his new duties and is now daily directing the construction of the pole lines through Bellefonte. The plans have been materially changed, but the completion of the work will not be delayed thereby. Mr. McCormick will only have control of the construction work and manage the finances. An expert electrician will look after all wire connections and installing the exchange.

Deputy recorder Dukeman entered the deed of transfer of the Valentine iron company property from Robert Valentine to the American bonding and trust company of Baltimore city yesterday afternoon. There are revenue stamps on the deed to the amount of $41.25, though the sum named in the bond is only $1. The amount of revenue tax is fixed by the valuation of the property and runs at the rate of $1 per $1,000.

Work has been begun on the new electric lighting plant at Mill Hall.

Adam Kelley, having purchased the McEntire store at Fillmore, has been made postmaster of that place.

Rev. Hicks and some of the other prophets say that February is to be the real winter month and they advise all not to be deluded into thinking that the "back-bone of the winter" has been broken because we have had several thaws.

John W. Hooten, of Munson's Station, has purchased the Lloyd house in Phillipsburg and will take charge about January 23rd. Joseph Pickering, the former owner, had run the hotel successfully for several years. The new owner has been a boss in the Forest mines at Munson's.

It is predicted that the Nittany valley peach crop will be a total failure next season. The great drop in temperature on New Year's night is what played havoc with the buds. J. S. Brownlee, of Mackeyville, and Dr. Damm, two of the largest growers in the valley, have made examinations in their orchards and find that the buds are dead as can be.

News Purely Personal.

Robert T. Morris spent Sunday with his parents in Tyrone.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Montgomery are moving from their apartments in the Bush house, to their new home on Linn street.

Mrs. Wm. C. Cassidy started for her home in Canton, Ohio, at noon on Wednesday, after quite an extended visit to her parents in this place.

William T. Humes and his protegee, James Parsons, left for Philadelphia, on Monday morning; the former on business and the latter to resume his studies at the Williams' trade school.

Miss Helen Fuller, of Pittsburg, who had been the guest of Winifred B. Meek, in this place, for several weeks, left for her home on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. J. K. McFarlane, of Fillmore, was in town doing some shopping on Wednesday. Mr. McFarlane, we are sorry to say, has not recovered any from the attack of locomotor-ataxia.

Mrs. Joseph Holter, of High street, left for Philadelphia, on Monday morning, where she will enter the Medico-surgical hospital for treatment. She was accompanied by her daughter Susie.

Edwin G. Hutchinson, W. E. Gray's debarrier law partner, is down in Harrisburg this week seeing the fun and watching his big brother's chances of promotion in the department of agriculture.

Jas. A. Strunk, of Spring Mills, was in town yesterday; having driven up from his home to complete arrangements for moving in the spring. He expects to move onto the Reareick farm, about a mile below Potters Mills.

W. D. Strunk Esq., of Centre Hill, spent Tuesday in calling on his friends and attending to the business that brought him over. Mr. Strunk is one of the leading Democrats and influential residents of that section.

J. B. Beckley, of Fillmore, our friend John who has farmed one of the Brockerhoff farms up there for years and is a very familiar figure on our streets, dropped in on Saturday to square up and push his label along a whole year for a dollar.

J. Blair Alexander, who farms up near Unionville and farms good, was in town on Tuesday looking after a little business and part of it was to believe in reading his own paper and for that reason he keeps it paid in advance.

Simon Harper, of Centre Hall, was in town yesterday looking anything but like a man who has a notion of dying. Mr. Harper's condition last fall was considered hopeless, but he pulled through and we trust has another long lease on life.

Stewart, fine looking Jacob Karstetter, of Coburn, was a Bellefonte visitor on Saturday. He came up to look after the legal part of the transfer of some property he purchased near that place recently. Mr. Karstetter is one of the most prominent Democrats in that end of Penn township.

Dr. T. C. VanTries returned to his home in this place, Monday morning, after several days visiting with friends in Tyrone and Pennsylvania Furnace. The doctor has nearly recovered from the illness that came so near carrying him off and which nothing but Bellefonte air and treatment could have baffled.

Daniel Peters, a member of the Union township family, but now division boss on the Central R. R. of Pa., and postmaster at Mingo, was in town yesterday, taking a day off. He is considered to be one of the best men on the line and it is little wonder, for his schooling as a track-maker was under Pat McDonald, at Unionville, and there are none better.

Sixteen years ago Edward Seanson, then farming one of the Reynolds farms in Bener township, decided to go West and grow with the country. Now he owns three big farms near Grand Island, Neb., and looks as though he had developed and broadened with his acres, although he always was a mighty nice man. He was in town, Monday, en route to visit relatives at Linden Hall.

H. D. Rumberger, of Phillipsburg, representative of the Denlinger Bros. Oil company, was in town on Monday and was so busy that he didn't have time to get home for dinner. He is positive one of the busiest men you ever heard of. Why at night he gets so wrapped up in business with Morpheus that he can't excuse himself long enough to keep people's stables from burning down or their flower houses from freezing up.

J. B. Piper, of Pine Grove Mills, came down to town, on Wednesday, with quite a party of men from that way. They are all more or less interested in the outcome of a suit which will be tried here next court. It is brought by the defunct Iron City Mutual fire insurance company of Pittsburg to recover premiums which the insured in this county stopped paying after the company went into the hands of the receivers.

Next month A. Scott Harris intends starting for Black Hawk, Gilpin county, Colorado. He is going to work in a gold mine and does not intend to return until he has made his stake—maybe. Black Hawk is a mining camp of over 1000 people, thirty-six miles out from Denver and is located in Clear Creek canon, about twenty miles above hand some as he wanted the Pruner Hospital to be so turned it into a mill and will think a little more about the other.

A LARGE RECEPTION FOR MR. AND MRS. ARMOR.—Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Armor, of Axe Mann, returned from their bridal tour, on Saturday evening, and that night they were tendered a magnificent reception at the home of Mr. J. Donovan at that place.

They were met here by the groom's brother William who drove them directly to the Donovan home, where over an hundred guests had been invited to meet them. An elaborate supper was served the party and then the young folks repaired to the new home, just next door, which Mr. Armor has purchased for himself and there they danced the night away.

It was a very elaborate affair and those who were fortunate enough to have been in attendance will remember it as one of the most delightful social events of their lives.

The sick list still keeps growing and if our doctors are not reaping a harvest it is surely not the weather's fault; with one day balmy and warm like June and the next hailing, sleeting and freezing. Mrs. Margaret Alexander, Mrs. Jared Harper and her son John, J. Harry Green, Wm. W. Bell, Mrs. J. S. McCargar, Francis Speer, Ruth Trippe, Rev. Dr. Laurie, his brother, Thomas Laurie, John L. Laurie, Claude Moore, J. W. Conley, Mrs. Steele Hunter, Mrs. Arthur Kimport, Clyde Smith, Julia McCafferty, William Barnhart, Henry Brockerhoff, Mrs. Henry Walkey, Lois Kirk and Ross Parker's children have all been seriously ill this week. Rudolph Schad, of whose ultimate recovery there is not the slightest hope, is barely living after a brave fight for years with tuberculosis of the stomach and bowels.

Ask your grocer for our flour. "Finest" and "Fancy Patent" brands lead all others.—Phoenix Milling Co.

It is said that Oliver Scott has been getting material for an exhibition for the past two years. All his plans have matured, and his big colored minstrel company will soon be here. Forty genuine southern negroes will depict the oddities of negro life on the old plantation. A negro brass band and orchestra, military company in drills are a few of the many features. The company will appear in Paris during the Exposition in 1900, returning to America in 1901. They travel in their own private car. It is the largest and most expensive negro show ever organized to travel. Coming to Garman's, Thursday night, January 26th.

Chester D. Lowry, of Brookville, committed suicide last Thursday night by shooting himself through the heart with a double barreled shot gun. He did it in his own home by leaning over the muzzle of the gun and pulling the triggers with his toes, which he had barred by the removal of his shoes and stockings.

On Sunday Adam Hazel lost a black leather spectacle case containing a pair of spectacles, on the road between his home at Axe Mann and the home of L. C. Reareick, above Roopsburg. The finder will confer a great favor on Mr. Hazel by leaving same at this office.

Eat native wheat and ask your grocer for Phoenix Milling Co's "Finest" flour.
