A little bit of skylight blue. A little flitting bird or two, A hilltop soft and hazy.

A little view of winding lane. A little dream of springtime rain, From cloudlets white and lazy.

A little scent of rose buds, A little green of waking woods In dances wild and mazy.

A little sound of straying feet, A little glimpse of blushes sweet, And in the grass-a daisy.

Facts About Salaries

Something Concerning the Salary of Preachers Who are Popular. Some Editors Well Remunerated Princely Salaries of Churchmen Rendered Absolutely Necessary by their Extraordinary Expenditures. Phenomenal Fees for Lawyers.

In offering Dr. Emil G. Hirsch \$15,000 a year for fifteen years to remain as its pastor, Sinai congregation of Chicago will pay him as large a salary as is received by any clergyman in the United States. It is the same that is paid Bishop Potter, of New York, who, however, has a rectory fur-nished, heated and lighted free of cost, and is provided with a private secretary. The late Rev. Dr. Hall, of the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church of New York, during the last years of his life, received the largest salary ever paid to a clergyman in the United States, which was \$20,000 a year, with a manse. Mr. Beecher received \$20,-000, without the manse. Dr. Hall's salary proper was \$15,000, and \$5,000 additional was contributed by Robert Bonner and two other wealthy members of the congrega-tion. His successor, Mr. Connell, who comes from Regent's Park Presbyterian church, London, is offered \$10,000 and a residence. That is the salary paid to Dr. Gregory, dean of St. Paul's cathedral, and Dr. Bradley, dean of Westminister Abbey, London. Dean Farrar received \$7,000 a year The hierarchy of the church of England enjoy enormous salaries, which are necessary to maintain the large establishments required of them. The archbishop of Canterbury received \$60,000 a year, but \$10,000 each. he needs every cent of it to meet his social and ecclesiastical obligations at Lambeth palace, the home of the primate of the church of England. The salary of the archbishop of York and that of the archbishop of London is \$50,000 a year. The arch-bishop of Ireland receives \$12,500. The other bishops of the church of England are paid from $\pounds 2,000$ to $\pounds 5,000$ a year. The average pay of a vicar in Eugland is \$3,500 outside the large cities. In the cities the salary varies according to the wealth of the paid from $\pounds 2,000$ to $\pounds 10,000$ parish, from \$2,500 to \$10,000.

The Episcopalians and Presbyterians pay larger salaries than any other denominations, but the pulpits most envied in the United States are those of the collegiate Reformed Dutch church of New York city. There are seven or eight churches of that denomination under the same management and supported from an endowment that is exceedingly rich. Its income is next to that of Trinity church, and amounts to several hundred thousand dollars a year. The pastors of the collegiate churches are paid $10,000 for life and are allowed to retire from active pastoral work when they reach the age of 65 years.

Trinity parish is the richest in the world, and has an income of about $300,000 from buildings and other investments. It supports five or six churches, several schools, congress, and the other is Jack Wallace a hospitals and other charitable institutions and pays the manager of its business a salary of $10,000 a year. The rector of Trinity church receives $12,500. The same salary is paid by St. Thomas's and St. Bartholomew's. I was informed by good authority that five clergymen in New York city received that salary and at least twelve received $10,000 a year. The average pay of a clergyman in New York city, excepting the pastors of mission churches, is probably $6,000.

The editorial profession is not so well paid. There are probably sixteen editors in New York, not proprietors of news-papers, who receive $10,000 a year or over. The Journal and World have four each, the Herald two, the Times, Post and Brooklyn Eagle one each. The highest editorial wives; in his own words, "they is more salary paid in the United States is $15,-

Editorial writers of recognized ability, city editors, news editors and managing editors on the large daily papers are paid from $5,000 to $7,500 a year.

A few physicians in New York make very large fees. There are two or three specialists whose incomes will exceed $50,-000 a year, perhaps ten make $25,000 and perhaps twenty make $15,000 to $20,000. Ten thousand dollars a year is considered a large practice.

The salaries of our college professors do not compare with those of Europe, although public school teachers in the United States are paid two or three times as much. The teacher of an ordinary school in England, France or Germany who makes $25 a month is doing well, but several chairs at Oxford. Cambridge, Edinburgh, Glasgow and Aberdeen universities are worth from $10,-000 to $12,000 a year. The same difference is found in the government service. High officials are paid two or three times as much in Europe as in this country, but ordinary clerks enjoy not more than one-third or one-fourth the compensation that is received for corresponding services in the United States. The university professors in Europe often enjoy hereditary grants and dues from students, which are not cusand dues from students, which are not cus-tomary in the United States. The chair of anatomy in Edinburgh medical faculty is probably the most valuable of any profes-sorship in the world, being worth about $25,000 a year. One of the professorships in the University of Berlin is worth $15, 000, but there the popularity of a professor has a great deal to do with his commensation. In the United States the compensation. In the United States the college faculties receive from $1,500 to $4,-Ever since the civil war Wallace has 000 a year.

We hear a great deal about the enormous fees charged by city lawyers, and many of the stories are no doubt true. Nelson vear made a failure of a crop and has this vear made twelve bales of cotton with the Cromwell, of New York, has the reputation of receiving the largest single fee ever paid to an attorney for a single service, which was $260,000 cash for advising and is still hale and and hearty, stands erect, assisting Decker, Howell & Co., a firm of brokers, during the panic caused by the collapse of the Villard Northern Pacific syndicate about twelve years ago. His lients not only cheerfully paid this amount but after their affairs were settled presented him with a handsome silver service prop-erly inscribed as a testimonial of their confidence and gratitude. Mr. Cromwell received a similar amount, and some say even more, for his services as counsel for the receivers of the Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central railroads; $300,000 was tucky; even the ears of corn are made up paid to the attorneys who advised the re- of kernels.

negro cotton farmer. Wallace is the oldest man in Tupelo, if not in the State of Mississippi. He proves by dates and circumstances that generally convince that he is 110 years old. He was born soon after the Revolutionary War, and, while he was not George Washington's body servant, he can distinctly re-member that when he was a boy the white folks talked a good deal about George Washington. During his 110 years on this earth he has had an interesting matrimonial experience. His own longevity and the rather short lives of his wives have caused him to marry six times. Three times he went to the altar with young girls, and his three other wives were widows. His conclusion is that widows makes the best savin' an' more knowin' is their main advantage." Wallace is the father of forty-eight children two dozen boys and two dozen girls. The oldest is a man of 78 years and the next is a woman of 77. They alternate boy and girl all the way down. There are six pairs of twins among the children, and there is a boy and a girl in each pair. Each of the six wives has been the mother of one pair of twins.

Although Wallace has been chewing corn bread and side meat for more than 100 years, he has never lost a tooth. During the last ninety-five years of his life he has chewed tobacco, and he is still chewing, in spite of four cent cotton and the tobacco trust.

Some of Wallace's stories about his early life are what might be expected. He happened to be awake when the stars fell in. 1833. While living in Missouri he saw the first steamboat that went up the Missouri river. He once rode a race horse that belonged to Thomas H. Benton. He once whipped old Tecumseh in a fist fight on a Christmas Day. He lived in Missouri be-fore the Louisiana purchase was made, and remembers being a Spanish subject. An odd gift of Wallace's is his power to see snakes when nobody else can. If you traded with one merchant in Tupelo. He has always paid his account promptly, has year made twelve bales of cotton with the help of two small boys. He has rented land for another year and expects to plant walks with ease, rides his mule without trouble and bids fair to live until the stars fall again.
