REST TIME SONG.

The Sandman comes with his old grav sack Filled with dust for the little one's eyes; He sifts it out with a lavish hand And he hushes the baby's cries

The Sandman clasps in his wrinkled palm The soft hands of my baby so fair, And baby's frolic gives place to calm As he yields to the Sandman's care.

The Sandman beckons the flying dreams, Bids the sweetest and fairest to stay. And angels watch o'er that baby's rest Till the dawn of the glad, new day.

"Nid-nod," he whispers to my dear, Baby knows well what he means; The white lids droop o'er the eyes so blue And they're off to the land of dreams. -Harper's Weekly.

Censorship Reacts on Administration.

Inhibited Anti.Imperialist Documents Demanded All Over the Country. Kept Under Lock and Key. Senate Custodian Ordered Not to Give them Out. Emory Smith Issues a Statement Designed to Show that Atkinson Wanted) to Send Pamphlets to the

The postoffice department officials, already sore at themselves for the embar-rassing results of their action in excluding the Atkinson pamphlets from the Manila mails, were additionally aggravated today by the unfounded report that use of the domestic mails had also been denied Atkinson. This report the assistant attorney general, Mr. Tyner, of the postoffic department, declared with heat to be without foundation.

Notwithstanding this denial, it is a fact that the Senate document room is refusing to send out the pamphlets, which are printed as public documents, or to give them to applicants for them even on an order from a Senator or member. No doubt Senators or members themselves will past year, 1,643 members were initiated not be refused the pamphlets when they and 341 were reinstated. State secretary not be refused the pamphlets when they apply in person for them. The action of the man in charge of the Senate document room is probably taken on the theory that it would be pleasing to the administration and to the majority of the new Senate. It all shows the subservience which the administration's policy of imperialism is likely to meet with about the capitol, no matter to what length it may go. is likely the matter will be the subject of an investigation when Congress reassembles, for the anti-expansion Senators will hardly submit in silence to the outrageous disregard of their rights on the part of the employes of the document room.

PEOPLE WANT TO READ THEM.

The effect of the agitation brought on by the exclusion of the Atkinson pamphlets from the mails has been to create an immense demand for the documents from all parts of the country. They seem destined to have an immense circulation, to the intense chagrin of the expansionists and the administration. There is excellent reason to believe the latter is already thoroughly tired of its policy of throttling public opinion and recognizes that Postmaster General Smith made a bad mistake in issuing his

The postoffice department made public a letter to Mr. Atkinson on whichthe action of the department in seizing his pamphlets was based. The following statement was given out by Postmaster General

Emory Smith: "In view of the statement of Edward Atkinson that he sent his pamphlets only to Admiral Dewey, General Otis, President Schurman and three or four others, the letter of Mr. Atkinson containing his application will be of interest. It is as follows:

"Boston, April 22nd, 1899. 'Sir-I desire to send a large number of the enclosed pamphlets on "The Cost of a National Crime." "The Hell of War and Its Penalties," "Criminal Aggression: By Whom Committed?" to the officers and privates in the Philippine islands. I therefore desire to know whether or not these documents can be sent directly through the war department or may be forwarded in due course of mail. A list of regiments is desired, and if there are printed lists of officers available they would serve me a very useful purpose. "EDWARD ATKINSON." THEIR ALLEGED DESIGN.

"No answer was made to this letter, except to send an official copy to the post-master general, who issued instructions to the pamphlets. The spirit and design of the pamphlets will be indicated by a few extracts. In one of them Mr. Atkinson says:

"I will append one question to each reader: "How much increase of taxation are you willing to bear and how many or your neighbors' sons are you ready to sacrifice by fever, malaria and venereal disease in order to extend the sovereignty of the United States over the West Indies and the vard of her mother's residence.

"Again, after describing what he calls 'The Hell of War and Its Penalties." Mr. Atkinson says: 'Lest others should be entrapped into enlistment in the regular army had attempted to take her life with and or volunteer service in the tropics, it will gave her a sound thrashing with it.

the power to enter into international relations, and they may yet be recognized and rightly recognized by other powers.'" MCKINLEY CRITICISED.

Of the President, Mr. Atkinson says: "Is it not our misfortune to have in the chair of the President of the United States a man of weak and uncertain purpose without con-victions and unequal to the emergency, who having declared that an act of aggression would be a National crime, has trifled with the question?

I know no men whose names will go down among the mothers of the land, even in the near future, subject to greater exe-cration then the names of the men who have brought this act of criminal aggression upon the Nation.

"By whom was this attack authorized?
What induced the Filipinos to resist the forces of the United States? Who began ridiculous! You don't have to give women that fight? As yet we have no evidence. Who is responsible? Aguinaldo says 'the President of the United States is responsible,' and I think he goes far to prove it."

money to learn how to talk." "No," responded Mr. Hardscrabble, feelingly. "I've noticed it's when you don't give them money that they do their best talking."

Edward Atkinson said in Boston, Saturday, that the demand for copies of the pamphlets, which the attorney general re-cently ordered taken from the Philippines mails, has increased so rapidly within the past few days that the supply has been exhausted temporarily.

Headless Corpse Found.

The Body Was That of an Italian Who Disapped a Few Days Ago.

WILLIAMSTOWN, N. J., April 30.-The headless body of Guarro F. Feo, an Italian of this place, who disappeared on April 27, was found to-day at Blue Anchor, Camden county, a short distance from here. Two hours later his head was picked up in a pine field 300 yards from where the body was found. Feo was undoubtedly murdered, and Francisco Abbatto, another dago of this place, is now in jail on suspicion of having committed the crime, as he was the last one seen with Feo. On April 22nd Feo and Abbatto went driving, but only the latter returned home. Feo is said to have had $600 with him when he left home.

Suspicion was at once placed on Abbatto and he was arrested last Friday. Feo's wife was also taken into custody as a witness. Searching parties were sent out each day, but no clue was found until to-day, when blood was seen on the road near Blue Anchor. A search was made and about seventy-five yards from the road the body was found. The head had been cleanly severed at the shoulders. There were stab wounds on the face and neck. The Italians of this section are much excited and threats of lypching are being freely made. Abbatto was a boarder at the Feo residence.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics Concluded Its Work at Shamokin Last Evening.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 3 .- At this morning's sessions of the Junior Order United American Mechanics, it was decided, after a spirited contest, to hold the next annual convention at Punxsutawney. Numerous reports of the representatives to the national council were adopted. During the Walter Graham recommended the work of district conventions and urged the visitation by officers of the state council during the year.

The council concluded its work here this evening. The following officers were elected: State councillor, S. C. Greene, of Phil-Davis, of Duquesne; state secretary, Walter Graham, of Philadelphia; state treasurer, Charles H. Kurtz. of Philadelphia, state inductor, George W. Sides, of Bain-bridge; state examiner, F. D. Thompson, of Allegheny City; state inside protector; G. W. Metz, of Shamokin; state outside protector, A. M. Rush, of Riegelsville; representative to national council, H. M. Pa.

Holstein, of Harrisburg. A resolution was adopted commending the country for freeing Cuba and acquiring the new possessions. A resolution was adopted requesting Governor Stone not to reduce the public school appropriation.

A Periodical's Advertising.

The Ladies' Home Journal is a persistent advertiser for advertising, and its announcements are generally models of their kind. Here is a sample:

The Ladies' Home Journal wants the advertising of manufacturers of and dealers in high grade goods that women buy. It wants such advertising on a permanent basis. It has no space or time for the experimental or spasmodic advertiser.

If you want to advertise once or twice just to see what will happen, don't come to the Journal. For the probabilities are that nothing would happen.

There is no reason under the sun why people should answer the first advertisement of yours they see.

You may be an old concern, but to them you are new. They are now buying of somebody else the article you sell. They will make a change only when convinced of the wisdom of such a course. You can't expect to convince them with one advertisement nor with two. But if your goods and your prices are right you can convince them in time. The first few advertisements will convince some people. Then every additional advertisement will convince more people—many more than any previous advertisement. Every advertisement carries the influence of all its predecessors. If you keep it up continuously and intelligently it's only a question of time when you'll have the postmaster at San Francisco to hold all the trade you're entitled to, and that's all the trade anybody ever gets-and holds.

A $4,000,000 Building.

John Wanamaker will erect a gigantic store building at Thirteenth and Market streets, the site of his present store, in Philadelphia. The proposed structure is to be 12 stories high and will probably be complete in two years. The new structure is to be 500x250 feet in size and it is proposed to build it in such a fashion that the operation of the present store shall not be interfered with. To do this the new store will be constructed in four sections, each section to represent a quarter of the build-It is understood that when finished ing. the building will have cost him $4,000,
