

A BELLEFONTER TOOK FIRST PRIZE.—It will be gratifying to Bellefonters to know that one of the young women of our town has been honored with a prize by the judges of award for the elocutionary contest at the commencement of the Central state Normal school at Lock Haven. The contest was held Monday evening in the chapel. There were five contestants, four young ladies and one gentleman. Miss Elizabeth Faxon, a daughter of Thomas Faxon, of this place, was given the first prize in dramatics. In speaking of her performance the Lock Haven Democrat has this to say:

"The 'Coming Out' of Miss Cummings," by Miss Elizabeth Faxon, was a humorous as well as an able effort. Miss Faxon's individuality was admirably fitted to the selection. Her transitions from the free rollicking belle, and the other characters that were to appear before her, were made with a naturalness that indicated a perfect response of voice and body that was truthful and artistic.

FOSTER'S WEATHER PREDICTION.—My last bulletin gave forecast of the storm wave to cross the continent from 19th to 23rd, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about 24th, cross the west of Rockies country by close 25th, great central valleys 26th to 29th, eastern States 29th.

Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 24th, great central valleys 26th, eastern States 28th. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 27th, great central valleys 29th, eastern States July 1st.

Temperature and rainfall of the week ending 8 a. m. July 3rd will average about normal. The long hot wave predicted in these bulletins will end not far from June 20th with extensive rains and great fall in temperature, after which the weather will be more agreeable till we reach the heated term of July, complete forecasts of which will be given in bulletin of July 1st.

The long-ago forecasts that this would be a year of unusual, extreme and remarkable weather events is being verified by the actual weather of each succeeding week. These extremes will be continued into the fall and winter months with still greater force, and before we get through with these great magnetic disturbances it will have been demonstrated that planetary influences can produce uncomfortable environments for man and beast.

TYRONE IS GETTING READY FOR THE FIREMEN.—The Central district association of volunteer firemen of Pennsylvania will meet in annual convention at Tyrone on Thursday and Friday, August 10th and 11th. The district includes Centre and Clearfield counties and the towns of Tyrone and Bellwood in Blair and in addition to an annual business meeting for the advancement of all participating the firemen usually devote one day to a tournament, or a series of athletic sports in which they measure their skill in friendly rivalry.

Tyrone intends to do the right thing by the Citizens fire company, of that place, which has taken on the responsibility of being host for this seventh annual gathering of the association, and already the local committees have been set to work in anticipation of a great time.

The delegate convention will be held Thursday afternoon, when all the formal business of the association will be transacted.

Friday afternoon will be spectacular, exciting and entertaining. A parade of all visiting firemen will be held, moving at 1 o'clock. Immediately afterward the steamer contest will take place for a first prize of $50 and second prize of $25. The races will also take place Friday afternoon, and special prizes will be awarded for the following events:

Hose contest—Run 200 yards, attach to plug, 150 feet of hose, break connection and put on play pipe, (each reel to carry 200 feet of hose.) first prize $30; second prize, $15. Hub contest—Teams to start with wheel hubs over starting point running a single dash of 200 yards, hubs first over line to win, prize $15; prize drill for $15; largest company, prize $10; best uniformed company, prize $15. Potato race—Contestants to run 50 yards and gather six potatoes, one at a time, prize umbrella; tallest fireman gets a prize; best hand, prize $10; one hundred yards foot race, prize new hat. Grand free-for-all horse race—three companies to start, prize $50.

The present officers are: President, W. W. Carns; Tyrone; vice presidents, F. C. Walz, Bellefonte, and A. W. Baird, Osceola Mills; secretary, John C. Barclay, Clearfield; treasurer, E. W. Gray, DuBois.

Spring Mills.

Commercial agents passing through our village, report business on the road from fair to middling.

Robinson and Bros., the hardware merchants, have added a full line of groceries to their business.

J. I. Condo has commenced manufacturing carpets for the fall trade. He has lately introduced into his factory some very fine machinery.

The ladies of the United Evangelical church of our village will have a festival in the park on Saturday evening next. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody. Proceeds for the benefit of the parsonage.

F. H. Sheary, the tonsorial artist, has disposed of his tidy bouffant to N. J. Straub, of Elizabethville. We are sorry to lose Mr. Sheary, as he has been a good citizen and by his pleasant and agreeable manner has "won golden opinions from all sorts of people."

The building erected on the avenue by C. P. Long for Wilson Bros., and to be occupied as a skimming station or cream separator, is about finished. The machinery arrived here a few days since and will be placed in the building as soon as a few changes are made in the engine room.

Edwin, son of D. H. Ruhl, our village landlord and Republican candidate for the nomination for sheriff, was considerably astonished, on Monday last, when informed that a youthful lad and his sister had arrived at his residence as permanent boarders. Of course, Mr. Ruhl is happy, but when congratulated on this accession to his family, replies very seriously "only two fathers can imagine my feelings."

On Tuesday last C. P. Long and Samuel Krape in driving over Muddy creek in Georges valley, the bridge being under repairs and having only a temporary flooring gave way, precipitating the horse into the water below, the buggy remaining on the bridge. Messrs. Long and Krape hastily jumped out, and in order to free the horse were obliged to cut the harness and then had considerable trouble in getting him out of the water. Mr. Long had his right hand somewhat shattered, and Mr. Krape was considerably shaken up. Remarkable to say, the buggy was only slightly damaged while the horse escaped unhurt.

Centre Hall.

W. H. Bartholomew is working life insurance with a good will.

James A. Gregg and wife spent the beginning of this week with friends in town.

Insurance agent H. S. Satterlee, of Lock Haven, was in town this week looking up his interests.

Robert Cole, the Bellefonte architect, who can look upon his work with pride in this place, was in town Saturday.

Nellie Kerlin, who is in the beginning of her teens, is making a favorable impression by her solos in the Lutheran choir.

Who would suppose that there is sold annually in this town not less than three thousand dollars worth of tobacco? And yet everything goes on as usual.

Mrs. H. G. Strohmeier, whose illness was made mention of several weeks ago had a relapse the latter part of last week and is confined to bed again.

Dr. George Krumbine, a student at a medical institution in Baltimore, is here on his summer vacation. He has one year yet to complete his course.

F. A. Foreman is doing a good business for the Buchanan fence company. He is the successor of W. W. Dillett in the business and is one of the best wire fences in the market. A good farm house belonging to John W. Conley, east of town, died last week from inflammation of the stomach. Edwin Stump, a neighbor, also had the misfortune to lose a mule.

W. J. Zichman, a student at the Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, was doing the town in the interest of the Lutheran Observer and made a very interesting and instructive talk at the Lutheran League meeting Sunday evening.

Veterinary surgeon Fry, of Pine Grove, was one of the prominent grangers from his section who attended the dedication of the Grange Arcadia. He is thoroughly equipped for his profession, and besides can talk "farm" from a scientific standpoint.

Ed. Foreman is one of the rising mechanics and contractors in this section. He had the contract for "Arcadia" and at present has a force of men at work on the Pine Stump school house, which will be a model for a country school building.

George H. Emerick is justly proud over having one of the best, if not the best, fields of clover in this section. The crop is growing on a field that, before it became the property of Emerick, was decidedly the poorest piece of ground in the neighborhood. The radical change for the better was brought about by the liberal use of lime.

Drs. Bright and Jacobs held a consultation on Wm. Wolf in this place Wednesday. Although not officially stated, it appears that Mr. Wolf is suffering from a tumor on the liver. While not confined to his bed, he is at present unable to leave the house, but his many friends hope for a speedy and permanent recovery.

The corn through the valley has improved wonderfully during the last two weeks, and with favorable weather through the corn months of July and August an excellent crop may be looked for. The spring grains are in fine condition and the acreage quite large. Potatoes as a rule look promising, but too early for predictions of a crop. Bugs are plentiful in all quarters.

More than half a hundred young people gathered at the home to Hon. Leonard Rhone in response to invitations sent out by his daughter, Miss Florence, to meet Miss Taylor, of Wichita, Kan., on last night, (Thursday.) The guests were delightfully entertained, and speak of the occasion with great pleasure. Miss Taylor has many charms and did her full share in making the social gathering in her honor successful.

Amos Parker, one of the oldest residents of Black Hawk, had the misfortune to have an eye destroyed while blasting at Grossman's recently. He lighted a fuse and went to a place of safety, but when the report was not heard within a reasonable time he went to look for the cause and had almost reached the place when the explosion occurred with the result above mentioned. Mr. Parker was in service during the civil war and was well familiar with the smell of powder and the effects of its force.

A description of the hall is here unnecessary as the readers of the WATCHMAN have had it heretofore. It is due Hon. Leonard Rhone to say that his untiring efforts and support of the rank and file of the members of Progress grange that the crowning work of this subordinate grange was completed with the ceremony on Saturday. A noticeable feature of the proceedings was that there was absolutely no mention made of the financial phase of the institution, that having all been arranged previous. The Arcadia stands a monument to the efforts of the grange.

To show the necessity of care in the construction of building with reference to ventilation a case is here cited to show that that feature is not only indispensable for health but as well for the preservation of the material that enters into the structure. Four years ago the floors were laid in the Reformed church, which edifice is as handsome in every respect as any can be found in Central Pennsylvania. Since last winter there was suspicion that the floor of the vestibule was giving away, while every part of the other building was in perfect condition. Finally the carpets were lifted in that quarter, when it was discovered that the floor was totally wrecked by dry-rot, caused by an absolute lack of ventilation underneath. The floor and joists were replaced last week and a grate net to afford a circulation of air.

ARCADIA DEDICATED.—The dedication of the Grange Arcadia took place Saturday afternoon. The ceremony which was specially prepared for such occasions is very pretty and fitting and was well gone through with by the officers of the subordinate grange. Col. Weaver, on behalf of the State grange, received the keys from contractor Ed. Forman, they were delivered to the building committee, who in turn handed them to the master of Progress grange.

The lecturer of State grange delivered an excellent address, touching upon the topics of the day in a most forcible way from the standpoint of a farmer. Col. Weaver also gave an interesting talk. He rarely says anything unless he has something to say, and on this occasion he presented his arguments in choice expressions. Although the weather was threatening the attendance was very good, and an attentive audience it was. The music furnished by the several church choirs with Mrs. Finkle, of Farmers Mills, at the organ and Prof. Crawford, director, was excellent.

Rebersburg.

Miss Edith Detwiler is spending a few weeks with friends at Aaronsburg.

Miss Mamie Wolf is spending a few weeks visiting friends and old acquaintances at Lock Haven.

Your correspondent of this place has been silent for a long time but will endeavor to furnish the news from now on.

C. H. Bierly's new home is up and under roof. Charley will soon have one of the most attractive and desirable homes in the city.

Amos Fehl had the painters at work upon his house last week and as a result his house now presents a greatly improved appearance.

Rev. Robert Wolfe, of Kansas, is visiting friends in this valley. He preached an instructive and eloquent sermon in the Lutheran church last Sabbath morning.

George Smull, our insurance man, who is making his headquarters at Bellefonte, accompanied by Mr. Dean, another prominent insurance worker, from Altoona, visited here over Sunday.

The Evangelicals will hold their Children's Day entertainment next Sabbath evening. An interesting program, consisting of songs, recitations and addresses will be rendered. All are cordially invited to attend.

The Methodists, of Kreamerville, have lately organized an Aid society. The purpose of the society is to collect money to pay the church debt of about $200. They have already raised about $45.00.

Rev. Landis and wife, of Altoona, are visiting friends in our valley for a few weeks. He was a former pastor of the Reformed charge comprising Brush and Sugar valleys and has hosts of friends among us who are glad to see him.

Prof. H. E. Bierly, one of the faculty in the Florida State University, located at Tallahassee, has returned home after having spent a year in the land of flowers. He says he loves the sunny South and will return again at the close of the hot season. He is still an advocate of bimetalism and is ready to hurrah for Bryan as lustily as ever.

A lively, anecdote loving quartet visited our burg last Monday evening. They were Howard Klepper, Lock Haven; James Gregg, Milesburg; Warren Guise, Centre Hall, and a Mr. Gugenheimer. The cause of their visit was the meeting of the school board. Each of the above named gentlemen had an act to grind in the shape of books, stationery, etc.

Teachers have been elected for the schools of the township as follows: Livonia, H. C. Musser; Wolf's Store, Forest Emerick; Granleys, William Limbert; Rebersburg, Winifred Morris, Calvin Morris and Viletta Wolfe; Harter, T. A. Auman; Madisonburg, H. A. Detwiler and Charles Smull. Brungart's school is not yet supplied.

A spirit of unrest, of criticism and of fault-finding, such as we never witnessed before, has recently taken hold of our people. It seems as if Diogenes were again resurrected and had hypothesized most of us. Let us stop and consider ere this matter goes too far and the wounds we make are too deep to be healed. To your tents, O Israel!

Pine Grove Mention.

Some of the golden news is now being cut.

Frank Graham, J. M. Kepler's boss farmer is on a strike.

Aust. Smith, of State College, spent Sunday with his mother, on Water street.

W. E. McWilliams is circulating among the farmers selling binder twine.

Last week little Leslie, son of Prof. J. A. Weaver, was thrown from a horse and broke his arm below the elbow.

Prof. G. W. Weaver is having his house, on Main street, re-roofed and remodeled by a new gable and other improvements.

Miss Wilda E. Gates, of Loveville, and James W. Masser, of Warriorsmark, were married in Tyrone at noon on Wednesday by the Rev. J. A. Dunlap.

Little Grace Irvin, daughter of Daniel Irvin, fell from the upper story in the old Baileyville mill onto a stone pile and received several ugly cuts on her face and head.

Prof. S. C. Miller and wife came up from Lock Haven on Tuesday on their bicycles not so tired but that they enjoyed the ride. They will spend part of their vacation at the Miller home, just east of town.

Mrs. Mary Bortor was in Philipsburg last week and so thoroughly enjoyed the strawberries, which she picked and revelled in, that she thinks of persuading his better half to give up milling and go to truck farming.

A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday, June 15th, at Wm. Hoy's near Houserville. The contracting parties were George W. Sarson and Minnie S. Bubb. The words which made the happy couple one, were pronounced by Rev. W. H. Mattern, of Stormstown. The best man was Ira Benner and the bridesmaid was Miss Mary Sarson. The house was handsomely decorated for the occasion and a large number of guests were in attendance.

Children's Day services in the Presbyterian church, last Sunday evening, were carried out with flying colors. The choir fairly surpassed all its previous records and Dr. Woods conducted the services so enthusiastically that his plea for a liberal collection met with a hearty response. Rev. Hepler was present and delivered a very good address on purity. The floral display was fine and the entire pulpit was covered with a bank of exquisite roses.

Major S. H. Thompson and wife, of East Waterford, Juniata county, are visiting friends in this section after an absence of thirteen years. They were formerly from Stormstown, but fifteen years ago he handled the yard stick and measured molasses in the old Sample building and he has changed but little since. They are out on a regular tour and during the summer expect to be at Liverpool, Columbia, Williamsport, Renovo, Sunbury, Half Moon, Lewistown, Freeport and many other places with friends.

McKinley and the Old Soldier.

COMMUNICATED.—I hope you will permit me through the columns of your paper to give the sentiments of an old soldier who served four years in the Civil war.

I have been a close observer of the different administrations from 1863 down to the present date, and I am forced to confess, never under any other administration, was there so much promised and so little done for the old soldier, as under the McKinley rule. The first move in favor of the veteran was to place at the head of the Pension Department a man whose sympathies run directly against the northern soldier. This man, Clay Evans, was chosen for a political purpose, but that move will never win. I trust my comrades will not again be duped by oily tongued orators who advocate the re-election of and continuance of McKinley rule.

You have been deceived once. Will you be again? I think it would be well for us to follow the example set by our New York comrades. They denounce Clay Evans and ask for his removal and you can safely say we have scores of men in this vicinity who would endorse his speedy removal. What would we have said if a Democratic administration had placed at the head of the Pension Department such a man?

A LIFE LONG REPUBLICAN AND OLD SOLDIER.

Among the many great story tellers who are to be frequent contributors to The Saturday Evening Post, of Philadelphia, is M. Bret Harte, who is now engaged upon a series of four short stories dealing with California life in the days of the great gold fever. A Treasury of the Redwoods, the first of these characteristic tales, will appear in The Saturday Evening Post of July 8th. The series is along the lines upon which Mr. Harte made his first brilliant successes.

School.

NOT AN ORDINARY SCHOOL

When Williamsport Dickinson Seminary was founded money making was the last thought of its promoters. To give the young men and women thorough intellectual instruction and careful moral training at the lowest possible cost was the paramount aim. It still remains its paramount aim. New buildings have been added, the equipment has been enlarged, the faculty broadened step by step, but still remains true to its first principles. It is a Home and Christian School, but not sectarian. It provides for health and social culture as carefully as for intellectual and moral training, taking a personal interest in each pupil and adjusting methods to needs, believing that true education seeks to develop the highest type of manhood and womanhood. Athletics directed by a trained athlete make ball-field and gymnasium real values. Nine regular courses, with elective studies, if desired, offer wide selection, while 11 skilled teachers classify and instruct, making school work other than drudgery. Music, Art, Elocution may be studied with other branches or alone under teachers with best European and home training. Home, with tuition in regular studies, $25.40 a year, with discounts to ministers, teachers and two from same family. Fall term opens Sep. 4, 1899. Catalogues free. Address Rev. EDWARD J. GRAY, D.
