Secretary Hamilton and the Grangers.

Secretary of Agriculture JOHN HAMIL-TON has been having more than his share of political tribulations of late. His identification with the QUAY ring has made him the target for all the abuse the "antis" can fire his way; because he is connected with The Pennsylvania State College the enemies of that institution are indulging in most sarcastic flings at him; but the unkindest cut of all comes from his companions of the soil, his farmer friends having turned on him.

From all parts of the State comes reports that the Grange is up in arms against Secretary HAMILTON because he has prostituted that department of public affairs to the clamor of office seeking political heelers. Instead of giving the places in the Depart- way to Pittsburg, which will be reached ment of Agriculture to the sons and daughters of farmers he is charged with having gone so far as to dismiss them so as to make room for Mr. QUAY's men out of a job.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 22 .- The gallant Pennsylvania fighters are gone. To-night six engines are hauling them up the slopes of the Sierres-780 lads in Khaki uniforms, who stood by Old Glory in the fever-lader swamps of the Philippines. There was a memorable farewell to these warrior-citizens this evening when they ing the dignity they preserve on most occasions. The nominations for teachers was as follows: Paul Fortney, Bellefonte; Rufus Strohm, Centre Hill; Miss Adelaide Shelly, Hatboro, Pa. The last two are both College graduates and have had successful experience in school work. The vote resulted as follows:

Strohm-G. W. Reese, John P. Harris, H. C. Quigley.

Shelley-Hard P. Harris.

After the teachers were elected there was another question of school books, in which the board took the rather questionable position of adopting books against the recommendation of the principal and teachers. The question of text books seems to be too deeply twisted for us to get an intelligent idea of the trouble so we will not impose an unreliable story on the public.

He had been well enough to sit up.

Hon. J. P. Gephart's condition is improved over last week. Though not able to sit up he seems much brighter and, on the whole, is decidedly better than he was last week.

Miss Josephine Joseph, of Allegheny times, visited Admiral Dewey today. The street, is reported in a very critical condiformer expressed the pleasure of the French tion. In fact she is so low that no hopes government at the Admiral's visit, adding his assurance of personal admiration. It is expected that Admiral Dewey will come to for her recovery are entertained. She is suffering with stricture of the œsophagus.

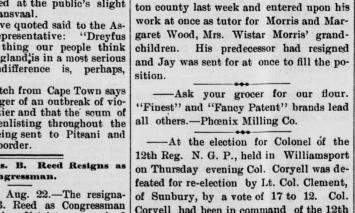

LIEUTENANT JACKSON ONE OF THE FORTUNATE. - Among the list of names sent in by Governor Stone, on Wednesday, to Secretary of War Root, from which he will select Pennsylvania's quota of officers for the ten new regiments that are to be added to our standing army, is that of Lieut. Geo. L. Jackson, of this place. comedy, will be presented by the local Lieut. Jackson feels reasonably certain of being appointed, in fact his assurance to that effect is almost positive for the reason that the Governor's recommendation is tantamount to an appointment and it will probably be a matter of only a few days until a commission as 2nd Lieut, in the regular army is issued to the Bellefonte sol-

> Lieut. Jackson is a son of the late Geo. W. Jackson, head of the banking firm of Jackson, Hastings & Co., and is 29 years old. He has been connected with the National Guard for a number of years and is 1st Lieut. of Co. B, 5th Reg. He served

In fact we know of no man more conversant with military tactics and discipline nor none who Coryell had been in command of the 12th for ten years. The new commander will would be more courageous in real service than Lieut. Jackson. An army life would change the regimental headquarters from Williamsport to Sunbury. The outcome suit him exactly because he is heart and of the election will reduce the 12th from a soul an army man and if it should be his senior to junior rank in the Brigade and good fortune to receive a commission and forces Col.
