

SWEET WEDDING BELLS.—A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Turner, at Unionville, at 10 a. m. Thursday Oct. 19th, when their daughter, Susan N., was united in marriage to Mr. John Askins. Miss Harriet L. Turner, assisted as bridesmaid and Mr. David Yocum, of Kylesport, was the groomsmen.

The house was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, ferns and trailing pine. The ceremony was performed in the parlor, the couple entering as the strains of the march were played by the bride's sister, Miss Mary. The bride wore white tulle and the maid was also dressed in silk. The bride's bouquet was a rarely beautiful night blooming cereus. Rev. George King, of Millsburg, performed the ceremony and after the congratulations, dinner was served in the dining room.

The groom is a splendid young man and is an electrician employed by the Jeffrey Mfg. Co., of Columbus, Ohio. The bride is an amiable, genial young lady. She was formerly a student at the Central State Normal school at Look Haven, and is endowed with many rare traits essential to a good wife.

After the dinner the happy couple left on the 1:43 train for Indiana and were followed by the best wishes of their friends. The presents which they received were both useful and valuable; having included a long list of remembrances from friends.

BECK-HOUSER.—At noon on Wednesday the marriage of Joseph A. Beck, of Pittsburg, to Miss Maude Houser, was celebrated at the home of her father, councilman J. W. Houser, on East Bishop street, in the presence of only the immediate relative of the young people.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Holloway, of the Lutheran church, in the parlor of the Houser home, which was decorated with palms and cut flowers. Miss Maude Kennedy, of State College, and the bride's brother, Mr. John Houser, were the only attendants.

After the wedding a breakfast was served the guests, and the bride and groom left on the 1:43 train for a tour east; after which they will make their home in Pittsburg, where the groom is a machinist. He is a son of the late Henry Beck, of this place, and is an energetic, honorable young man who deserves all the happiness that the estimable girl he has chosen for a wife is capable of giving him.

HEINZ-GIVEN.—While John La Porte Given has not been a resident of Bellefonte for many years he has been by no means forgotten by a large number of friends here who will be interested in the following account of his wedding to Miss Irene Edwilda Heinz, of Pittsburg, which we take from the Post of Wednesday:

Miss Irene Edwilda Heinz, daughter of Henry J. Heinz, was married last evening at 7 o'clock to John LaPorte Given, of New York. The wedding took place at Green Lawn, Mr. and Mrs. Heinz's home on Pennsylvania avenue, East End, and although small was really a brilliant event. Not more than 150 guests were present, as many of the invitations issued were to distant friends, but quite a large house party has been entertained at Green Lawn since last week when the wedding festivities. Rev. Robert Russell, D. D., pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, officiated. She was given away by her father and had but one attendant, her cousin, Miss Myra Boyd. Mr. Given's best man was Richard Britton, of New York, and the ushers were Isaac Miller, of Philadelphia; Wm. C. A. Henry, of Annapolis, Md.; N. Lawrence Perry, of Glenn Ridge, and Howard Heinz, the bride's brother.

The beautiful home, which has been remodelled and refurnished for this special occasion, was thrown open last evening for the first time since its completion. The tapestried walls and fine and beautiful chiffoons in themselves, required little to add to their attractiveness in the way of floral decorations. While chrysanthemums were used with artistic effect in all the rooms. The ceremony was solemnized in the small music room, hung in old roses and carpeted in pink and white. An arch dividing this dainty little apartment from the living room, this was outlined with white chrysanthemums. The drawing room, which is also in pink, had white decorations, palms and foliage being used in the halls and about the staircase.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with full court train, bordered with narrow ruffles of chiffon. The yoke and sleeves were of white pointe d'esprit, and below the yoke was a drapery of handsome old pointe crossing at the waist line and falling in a soft shower over the front of the gown. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of white crepe de chene, with yoke and sleeves of finely shirred chiffon, and the deulletoe was bordered with a narrow band of point applique, touches of the same appearing on the skirt, which was white pointe d'esprit. On the bodice a band of green caught beneath the yoke fastened on the left shoulder in a large rosette, giving a chic effect to the costume, at the same time carrying out the green and white effect of the wedding. Her bouquet was La Franco roses. For the wedding supper which followed, the broad piazzas had been enclosed with canvas, lighted with electricity and handsomely decorated. The dining room was reserved for the bride's table, and decorated with white roses. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Given left for a wedding trip, and before taking possession of their home in New York, will return to Pittsburg for a large reception which Mr. Heinz gives at Green Lawn in their honor. Mr. Heinz's gift to the couple was a house and lot in New York, which will be their future home. The wedding gifts were unusually handsome and numerous for a small wedding. The bride is a graduate of Pennsylvania College for Women and has traveled extensively with her father. Mr. Given is a Cornell man. He has many relatives in eastern Pennsylvania, although his immediate family live in California.

The groom is the only son of the late John Given, of Bellefonte, and is a young man whose personal worth is best attested by the exceptional position he has already attained in the field of journalism. After a preliminary education in the public schools here he went to Altoona, where he worked in the reportorial departments of several of the papers of that city and later in Pittsburg and other places. Then he entered the Pennsylvania State College and was there for a year, leaving to complete his course at Cornell. At present he is holding a responsible position on the New York Sun.

—Rev. L. D. Ott, the Methodist minister at McVeytown and his nine and twelve year old boys, were shot by a hunter, on Monday, who mistook them for turkeys. It is a pretty state of affairs when a minister must be shot for a turkey.

Centre Hall.

Gross Yearich, of Philadelphia, has been in town for the past week.

Dr. J. F. Alexander, on Wednesday morning, went to Philadelphia.

The stone farm house of Col. Coburn, east of town, occupied by Perry Brown, is being repainted. Other improvements will also be made.

Ed Crawford, who is acting agent for a Harrisburg grocery house, had the misfortune to lose his horse last week from an attack of paralysis.

Mrs. Reynolds, wife of postmaster D. W. Reynolds, of Reedsville, spent Sunday with friends in town. Mrs. Clouse, of the same place, is the guest of ex-constable Swabb, and will stay for a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Deviny accompanied her here on Sunday.

John R. Lawyers returned from St. Louis last week where he had been staying for some time with his son, William. Mr. Lawyers is not favorably struck with Missouri as a farming country. In southern Illinois he says the corn is very small, but in central Illinois it is a splendid crop. He thinks Centre county not so far behind when all is done.

The public sale of Ciel Smetzler in George's Valley last week was well attended. The bidding was rather spirited on the cattle, although the prices of last fall and spring were not reached. One cow sold for $51.00, and several in the forties. The young cattle sold well, but not at the highest prices, considering the grade.

Miss R. L. Irvin's lecture on "Japan and Mission Work in Japan" in the Reformed church, Sunday evening, was the best of the kind ever given in the town. Her talk was full of interest from start to finish. The audience, which filled both rooms of the church, was exceedingly attentive. She is a pleasant speaker and her lecture would no doubt draw a good house at a fair admittance.

The music furnished by the Reformed choir on this occasion was also excellent. Frank Smith the merchant at the station, acted as leader and sang a solo. Miss Della Bartges presided at the organ in her usual good style.

ARITHMETIC HAS BEEN ADDED.—County Superintendent of public schools Gramley, on a recent visit to the borough schools, recommended, according to the statement of a member of the school board, that written arithmetic be taught every other day in the High school. Principal Wagonseller in an address to his school on the subject said that he would teach arithmetic not because he had to but out of his own heart. This is a frank admission that this particular branch of study is sadly needed in his school, but what reason can be given for excluding it for a month or more, and what excuse of any nature is there for denying the great majority of pupils in this High school the privilege of studying grammar, geography and United States history? Who dares to father the responsibility of championing the cause of the public borough schools as they are to-day.

It was said in these columns some time ago that probably the High school course was perfect in itself, but that the error was in applying it at the wrong place. This assertion is repeated, with respect to all concerned. Under the school laws the county and state superintendents must prepare or sanction the course of study for high schools, but it cannot be charged to them that in the schools in this place pupils are forced to study the branches laid down in this course who are not qualified in the common branches. And a nut the authorities are asked to crack is this: Where are these pupils to qualify themselves to enter upon the High school course? Can you see the significance in that question, or must it be dilated upon hereafter?

A high school is all right, but what is wanted here is an all right High school, with nothing neglected in the rudimental branches. There is a paragraph in the school laws of the State that reads something, if not altogether, like this:

"The only limit to the course of instruction in a common school is that set by the wants of the pupils and the discretion of the board. The higher branches of learning should not, however, be introduced till FULL provision has been made for the instructions in the rudimental branches of orthography, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography, grammar, United States history and physiology and hygiene of all who need them."

This is what is being contended for and it doesn't matter where these branches are taught, just so they are taught by competent instructors holding first-class certificates of undisputed ability. The borough High school is under the State school law termed as a second grade high school.

These sentiments are the sentiments of the people, not the opinions of a single individual. Public opinion should always be and is respected by unbiased officials.

Pine Grove Mention.

W. A. Tanyer enjoyed a brief visit at Grayville the beginning of the week.

Master Eddie Decker, son of mine host J. A. Decker of the St. Elmo, is sick with fever.

David Frantz, of the J. H. Mitchell farm, is laid up with sciatica and is in a serious condition.

Levi Krebs has been confined to bed for several weeks with stomach trouble but is now slowly convalescing.

Mr. Earnest Hess, of Shingletown, and her two interesting little girls were welcome visitors at P. F. Bottorff's Main street home this week.

Mrs. Swartzell, of Milroy, and Miss Emma Alkema, of Bellefonte, were guests at the parsonage last week and thoroughly enjoyed their visit.

Henry C. Campbell, of Fairbrook, is arranging to move into his new house at State College which he expects to occupy about the 1st. His son Milo and his bride will take charge of the old place.

Several parties from State College have leased a plot of ground near the old Baileyville mill on which a new creamery will be erected at once. The mechanics are going to begin work in a day or two and the building is to be put up with a rush. This is one of the best points in the county and the venture should be a paying one if well managed.

W. E. Burchfield, of Phillipsburg, and his brother-in-law, J. Albert Walton, who is administrator of the late W. E. Burchfield's estate, drove over the Alleghenies, on Wednesday, to dispose of some property belonging to the estate. Reed brothers bought a two-third interest in the mountain tract and D. C. Krebs and Bro. are clerking for the Main street residence, which Mr. Burchfield built just before he was elected register of Centre county.

The marriage of John B., oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Campbell, and Miss Drucie B. Waite was celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Isabella Waite, in Tyrone, Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. M. Fryinger, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist church, in the presence of a goodly number of friends and relatives. The bride is a most pleasant and estimable young lady, well fitted to make the home a desired retreat. The groom is a trusted official in the general office of A. G. Morris and a young man possessing many virtues and noble traits in character. After the ceremony and hearty congratulations a sumptuous wedding feast was indulged in. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell departed on Philadelphia express for a wedding honeymoon trip to the eastern cities, and upon their return will make their home in Tyrone, where the best of wishes of a host of friends abide with them, and may they live long, happy, prosperous and contented.
