

William L. Barker, of Buffalo, N. Y., a Staff Captain in the Salvation Army, was in Bellefonte this week for the purpose of establishing a permanent branch here, but when he discovered what it would cost to maintain a hall in Bellefonte he abandoned the idea.

Altoona is being flooded with counterfeit 25 cent pieces bearing the date of 1899. A revenue officer gathered in 31 of the spurious coins in a short time one day last week. They are described as having more of the appearance of tin than the genuine coin, the milling being perfect and the coins of excellent workmanship.

Bishop E. B. Kephart, D. D., L. L. D., of the United Brethren church and who is well known in Centre county from having preached in the various United Brethren churches many times, sailed Wednesday on the Atlantic liner, Oceanic, for England from whence he goes to Freetown, Sierra Leone, West Africa. Bishop Kephart takes with him four ministers, three of whom are accompanied by their wives, as missionaries from Pennsylvania.

The Snyder county leader, who is still mad because he didn't get the post office, in this place, and is doubly mad now because the county seat has been voted out of his mouth, gets back at the party he professes to belong to, by advising it to abandon its efforts to carry the county, "shut up shop and go-a-fishing." This is about the first bit of sensible advice we have seen emanate from that source, and is likely to be accepted and carried out by the better element of his party, so long as he assumes to speak for it, than any other he could have given.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING.—Mr. and Mrs. H. T. McDowell, of Abdera, have issued invitations to their friends to join with them in the celebration of the twenty fifth anniversary of their marriage, at 12 o'clock, noon, on Thursday, November 30th.

THEIR WOODEN WEDDING.—Wednesday evening, of last week, Capt. and Mrs. Hugh S. Taylor celebrated the fifth anniversary of their marriage. The forty or more guests present were royally entertained. Choice refreshments were served and the evening was most pleasantly spent by all. Captain and Mrs. Taylor were the recipients of numerous useful presents in wood, consisting of tables, chairs, stands and bric-a-brac.

FOSTER ON THE WEATHER.—Temperature of the week ending Nov. 30th will average about normal.

Fourth storm wave of November will reach the Pacific coast about 16th, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 17th, great central valleys 18th to 20th, eastern States 21st.

Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 16th, great central valleys 18th, eastern States 20th. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 19th, great central valleys 21st, eastern States 23rd.

EXTENDING THEIR LINES.—The Lock Haven Express says arrangements have been completed by the new Commercial telephone company for extending their lines into that city and the work of erecting poles and wires will be commenced immediately. The lines will also be extended to Tyrone and Philipsburg to connect with other independent lines now in operation. The new company has over 400 phones in use in Centre county and has 115 miles of wire erected. The company has a line erected to Sugar valley with a number of phones in use. It will be but a few weeks now until Lock Haven will be in communication with all these places over the new lines.

BIG PURCHASE OF LAND.—E. M. Huyett of Centre Hall, last week succeeded in closing negotiations with the estate of the late W. A. Thompson, at Potters Mills, whereby he becomes owner of 1600 acres of mountain land. The tract extends from Potters Mills south and is covered with a fine growth of timber. The transfer also includes several houses and buildings on the tract. There is enough timber on this tract to keep three mills busy cutting for four or five years. Mr. Huyett has now in his possession about 2300 acres of land in that section, part of which is cleared. Three mills are running steadily with orders ahead to keep them at work for several months. In addition to this E. M. Huyett on Tuesday closed a deal with W. Boal for an additional hundred acres.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by orphan's court clerk, G. W. Rumberger, during the past week: Melville Kunes and Mabel Gardner, both of Blanchard. William Thomas Heaton and Bessie E. Huey, both of Millmore. Jacob L. Sunday, of Axeman, and Margaret M. Albright, of Benner township. Edward Dobson and Amanda Howe, both of Philipsburg. Henry F. Pownell, of Tyrone, and Sarah Price, of Snow Shoe. H. W. Rote, of Penn Cave, and Mary Kern, of Madisonburg.

Thomas King Morris, of Tyrone, and Winifred Barron Meek, of Bellefonte. John Straka and Rose Malick, both of Gorton Heights. John E. Mullin and Viola Auman, both of Coburn. Howard H. Miles, of Port Matilda, and Metta I. Lucas, of Fleming. Howard A. Scholl and Hannah M. Hall, both of Union township.

DOGS KILL SHEEP.—Within the past two weeks William Allison, of Spring Mills, had twenty-two sheep killed by dogs. The first night the dogs got into the flock they killed ten, the second night nine, and the third night three. Mr. Allison's flock has thus been considerably reduced in numbers while the dogs continue to roam at large.

MRS. JAMES HAUS.—After an illness of several months duration Mrs. Mary Haus, widow of the late James Haus, deceased, of Millingburg, died at the home of her brother, G. R. Spigelmyer, in this place, Wednesday evening. The remains were taken to Millingburg on the early train this morning for interment beside those of her husband.

GEORGE W. ENGLISH.—A gentleman well known in Bellefonte from frequent visits to his sister, Mrs. W. Morris Furey, just east of town, died at his home in Woodcliff, Bergen county, N. J., on Saturday, aged 46 years. In addition to Mrs. Furey deceased is survived by another sister, Mrs. J. G. King, of Prentytown, N. Va.; two brothers, Dr. W. T. and H. D. W. English, of Pittsburg; and a wife and three children. The remains were taken to Pittsburg yesterday and interred in the Home-wood cemetery.

MRS. ANGELINE MULLEN.—Mrs. James Mullen, died at her home in Clearfield, the 5th inst., of paralysis. Mrs. Mullen was enjoying good health for her 66 years of age, performed her own household duties the day before her death and was planning a visit to Bellefonte. She is survived by three sons and two daughters, viz: Frank, of Curwensville; Lynn, of Lewistown, and Thomas, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Agnes Graham, of Bellefonte, and Margaret Duff, of Lewistown, also three sisters and two brothers. There are Mrs. Plummer, of Tyrone, and Mrs. Stine, of Indian Territory; Robert Lanich, of Tyrone, and George Lanich, of Clearfield. Funeral services were held the following Tuesday, interment at Clearfield.

AN ABLE EDITOR DEAD.—John F. Meginness, the veteran journalist and historian of the West Branch Valley, died suddenly at his home at Williamsport Saturday evening, Oct. 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Meginness had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. He had returned to Williamsport Saturday evening from Sunbury and hurried from the station to his home. Being short of breath, he sat down a moment and then with great pride opened his Golden Wedding book, which he had received bound that day and which contained all the newspaper accounts of his wedding anniversary. As he was explaining to his wife the title page, he fell back dead. A physician was summoned, who stated that death was due to a collapse of the heart, which had resulted from his hurried walking.

Mr. Meginness was 72 years old. His life was spent in teaching school, editing papers and writing histories. For many years he edited the Jersey Shore Republican and the Gazette and Bulletin, Williamsport. He also wrote "The History of the West Branch Valley," published the monthly magazine entitled "The Historical Journal," and wrote many articles over the signature "John of Lancaster."

Mr. Meginness was well known throughout Centre county and will be remembered as a gentleman whom it was always a pleasure to meet. The funeral took place Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Millheim.

Dr. J. F. Harter, deputy revenue collector, was in town several days this week.

David Emigh, of Logan Mills, Clinton county, visited the family of J. P. Condo last week.

J. C. Keen left for Altoona Thursday of last week for the purpose of seeking employment.

Miss Onmacht was the guest of W. H. Smith and family, Saturday and Sunday last.

Chas. Royer left last week for Pittsburg. Word received from him lately states that he has procured a paying situation.

C. A. Albright, the coachmaker, is confined to his bed with typhoid fever. He is rapidly improving, however, and will doubtless soon be about again.

The Millheim band turned out on Friday evening and gave sheriff-elect Brungard a rousing serenade. Mr. Brungard made a few very appropriate remarks, as did also Prof. Rothrock, principal of the Millheim schools, and editor Raine of the Journal.

The party which annually leaves town for the purpose of hunting deer, left Monday morning for a two weeks' hunt at Prices, near Zeiglersville, Mifflin county. As they have the reputation of always bringing game home with them several families are anticipating feasts of venison.

A party of hunters left town Wednesday of last week for a few days' hunt in the mountains northwest of Madisonburg, known as Little Sugar-valley. The members of the party were C. H. Overholzer, Edward Lenker and Wm. A. Hoffman, of Millersburg; Geo. Springer, the barber, Harry Fisher, Milfred Stover and C. H. Morris, the druggist, of town. They returned Friday of the same week with 19 pheasants, 3 quail, 2 grey squirrels, a rabbit and a wood cock.

Centre Hall. Ex-sheriff John Spangler is in Philadelphia the guest of his son, Col. J. L. Spangler. Since Jim Sando came home from Cincinnati, the rabbits have been shedding tears. Lyman Smith is playing the role of fruit tree agent when engaged at carpenter work. John Rhodes, of Laurelton, is visiting the families of Rev. Rhodes and F. M. Crawford. An effort is being made to organize an Order of Modern Woodmen of America in Centre Hall. It is a fraternal benefit society.

E. M. Huyett, the local lumber king, with his wife and daughter, are in Reading for a few weeks' stay.

Dr. J. F. Alexander put up extensive lattice work from his house to stable. He can now reach all his outbuildings under roof.

Jacob Lee, with his wife and son Roy, on Saturday went to Gaines, where Eugene Shadle has become the proprietor of a splendidly equipped hotel.

Dr. E. J. Wolf, who was here on Sunday in the interest of the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg, secured a number of subscriptions which footed up handsomely.

John Van Pelt is back from Hastings, where he was located the past summer doing his share in taking care of the large coal interests of Messrs. Hastings and Spangler.

Runkle's popular Centre Hall hotel has a large list on the register for this and the past weeks, which is an indication that the outside world thinks it worth the while to court the trade in and around this place.

Simon King was in town recently. He is the proprietor of the Coburn house at Coburn, which has been greatly improved in the interior, and where one will always find the best of accommodations, and a table fit for the lords.

After being announced a half a dozen times the Lutheran church is at last receiving its promised paint. Perry H. Luse erected the necessary scaffolding around the towers and Messrs D. Ole Stover and D. Luse are doing the painting.

John S. Auman put a new gasoline engine in his flour and chop mill at this place. His milling trade is on the increase, and he is preparing himself to be able to accommodate his many customers in the most satisfactory manner.

Ex-commissioner John Wolf, of Miles twp., spent Sunday with his brother, Rev. Dr. E. Wolf, who was the guest of the Wolfs here. Mr. Wolf will quit the farm in the spring and move to Rebersburg. The old homestead will be titled by his son-in-law, John Zeigler.

F. W. Bradford, upon becoming a one-third centurion, was given a surprise by a number of his most intimate friends gathering at his home. A feast and a general good time socially was the program. Bradford is the station agent for Centre Hall, and is one of the most obliging of the line.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Van Pelt, of Ithaca, New York, made their appearance rather unexpectedly Tuesday and are the guests of Mrs. Annie Van Pelt. The Van Pelts were residents here for years until they moved to Ithaca to educate their son Harvey, who at present is taking a medical course at Cornell and will finish in New York city. They will return home on Tuesday.

Dr. H. H. Glosser came up from Philadelphia this week and will aid Dr. J. F. Alexander to take care of his extensive medical practice. Dr. Glosser is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and comes with the highest personal and professional recommendation. He entered the University from his home at Paola, this state, having first graduated at the Pennsylvania State College.

Much of the Democratic success in the two districts of Potter township was due to the untiring efforts of their respective chairmen, Messrs George H. Emerick and George L. Goodhart, not only to get out the full vote but to have a straight ticket voted. A little marriage connection with a part of the Republican ticket didn't have any effect on Mr. Goodhart's democracy—he urged all to vote right, and to vote right meant straight Democracy.

The C. M. Parker concert company is booked for Grange Arcadia Saturday evening of this week. The company sings at Chambersburg this evening, and is much superior to those usually stopping in places as small as Centre Hall. The company is composed of a soprano, mezzo soprano, mezzo contralto, alto, contralto, violinist, reader, accompanist and its manager, Mr. Parker, Admittance 15 and 25 cents. Those who go to hear the Parker company will hear something new—it won't be the same old thing.

Rev. A. A. Black, the popular pastor of the Boalsburg Reformed church, will hold services in the Reformed church in this place Sunday evening. The following Sunday, 25th inst., Rev. Firor, of Williamsport, will fill appointments on the Centre Hall charge of the Reformed church as follows: Tusseyville, Saturday evening previous; Farmer's Mills, 10 a. m.; Spring Mills 2 p. m.; Centre Hall, 7:30 p. m. Rev. Firor is known to many of the people here, being a member of the Classis to which this charge belongs and no doubt will have large audiences.

The recent rains have had little effect on the mountain and valley springs. As near as the eye can judge the springs that supply the borough plant with water have neither diminished or increased since August. They just hold their own and nicely furnish the town with water and have to spare. The drought of the past season has had no parallel heretofore, and it is reasonable to expect that since, through an unprecedented drought, there has been ample water for the town's needs, there will be no danger in the future of a scarcity.

Every one has been vexed at times to know how certain reports become circulated, when apparently there was not the least foundation of truth upon which they could rest. An illustration is here given of how a report was widely circulated recently, that Simon Ripka had committed suicide at Penn Hall. Young Ripka has a rather unsavory reputation and is somewhat of a hunter and recently mistook a tame turkey for a wild one and bagged it. The consequence was that his whereabouts were inquired after a few days later and here comes the point that is wished to be brought out. Not being found at his usual loafing place on this occasion, the telephone was resorted to to locate the youthful hunter. Penn Hall was rung up and asked whether Simon Ripka had been seen in that neighborhood. "He had been here," was replied, "and got shot." At this instant, with no intention at "rubbering", the telephone girls caught up the conversation, and not having heard the whole of the colloquy, they at once were impressed that young Ripka "got shot" at Penn Hall. In a short time the exchange was called up by a Coburn party and asked what was new in Centre Hall. "Nothing," said a voice, "except that Simon Ripka got shot at Penn Hall." What further quizzed about the incident Frank Fisher, of Fisher brothers, was given as the author-

ty. Now Frank Fisher is thoroughly reliable and no one would doubt his word, even over a wire, which carries a lie just as gracefully as the truth. The rainy day sprouted the story, and finally some one had the audacity to say that the lad had blown the top of his head off with a load of buckshot in the good old-fashioned way of setting the gun off with the great toe, and that the body was found in a decomposed state. Not satisfied with even these minute details of the catastrophe as already learned, Mr. Fisher was again called up for possibly the hundredth time that day and asked whether it was true that "Simon Ripka got shot." Merchant Fisher is of a contentious turn, and heretofore simply answered "yes," but aggravated at the idea that a bit of shot could not be sold in their store without being bored to death by telephone inquiries as to its truth, he determined to be more explicit and in a firm tone answered: "Yes; Simon—Ripka—got—one—pound—of—shot. D'you—understand?" It was plain enough.

Pine Grove Mention. Mrs. Dr. Woods is slowly recovering from an attack of gastric fever. Farmer James G. Tyson lost a valuable cow last week from town aill. The last several weeks have been favorable weather for the growing wheat that has quite a large top.

Ex-county Treasurer J. B. Mitchell is a gain able to be about after several week's illness, caused by a bad cold.

Mr. James Aikens, the State College Wana-maker, accompanied by mine host, Grieb, spent Sunday last in this place.

George Gardner is home from Pittsburg. We regret to say his visit is marred by an attack of sciatica confining him to bed.

Will Goss is no more a down townner. Last Monday he moved his family into the J. H. Light house on Main street, a very desirable place to live.

After several weeks' visit among former Centre countians, Mrs. Christian Melcher last week returned to her home in Bloomfield, W. Va.

Dr. Woods is making some needed improvements on his property. Among them is a new carriage house. S. A. Dunlap did the carpentering.

W. H. Saussner and George Bigler Meek, two of Altoona's six footers, spent several days among old chums in and about our town last week.

Mrs. Rev. Brouse and Mrs. Mary Orr are being royally entertained by their bachelor brother at the old Murphy home on Water street this week.

G. W. Musser, one of Blair county's fancy stock raisers and farmers, and his wife enjoyed a drive among his friends on the Branch last week.

J. Mill Keller and wife, of Pittsburg, are visitors at the Squire Keller mansion on Main street. While here Milton will be in search of savory meat.

James B. Heberling is now comfortably located in his splendid new home recently built on the old Artell corner, which is a most desirable home, it being one of the best finished homes in town.

Rev. C. T. Aikens is in attendance at the Lutheran conference at Salona this week. On account of pressing business at home the layman, A. M. Brown, was unable to accompany the Reverend.

W. H. Goss, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Elsie, and his aged mother, were delighted with their drive down Branch valley, making short stops among relatives not seen for many years.

Ex-Judge Krebs, of Clearfield, was among the mourners at the Krebs funeral last week. He tarried several days to note changes as well as improvements about our town. He was accompanied by his wife.

Michael Hess, one of Harris township's big farmers as well as one of the jolliest of men, picked six hundred bushels of choice winter apples from his orchard this fall. Most of them will be shipped to York state.

Mr. Ira Hess, of Altoona, joined the Shingletown rangers in camp over on Sand Knob, where they have three fine deer hanging and hope to double the number this week. Ira brought down a twenty pound wild turkey which he expressed to his mountain city home.

One day of last week, while Fred Botorf left his team stand for a minute to look after something in the railroad station, the team took fright and ran away. Colliding with a tree, one of the horses crushed its skull and had to be shot. The other horse was not hurt but the wagon got some breaks that were speedily repaired.
