No insurgents have been seen anywhere near the railroad and it is believed that the only armed force of any size is in the mountains of the province of Zambales, to the west, although there are reports of insurgents concentrating at San Miguel de Camilang, west of Panique, and at Mangatarom (or Mangalaron) west of Bayabang. General MacArthur is prepared for the attack, his forces being disposed between Durban, province of Tarlac, and Dagupan. The Twelfth infantry, a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry and two troops of cavalry are with General MacArthur below Dagupan.

Two columns, one from Imus and the other from Bacoor, converged on the Sea-pote bridge, where they found a deserted Filipino camp. Two troops of the Fourth cavalry, four companies of the Fourth infantry and two guns of Captain Riley's battery proceeded to Annaboo, south of Imus, and came upon the enemy entrenched at that point. They scattered the Filipinos, but, as the latter were subsequently reinforced, the Americans returned to Imus under fire, seven of our men being wounded. Our scouts found fifteen dead insurgents at Annahoo. Thirty insurgents, under a major, es caped Bayambang, yesterday, about ten minutes before the Americans entered. Others, it is said, threw their guns into the river and now play the roles of the Amigos.
