Irene, the bright little daughter of James Wian, of west Logan street, suffered quite a painful injury Wednesday morning. While playing about the bed room she stumbled and fell against a sloop jar, cutting an ugly gash in the thick part of her leg. It required several stitches to close up the wound.

The abandonment of the pike from Centre Hall to the Millin county line has thrown that thoroughfare onto Potter township for maintenance. The result is that a petition will probably be circulated to make the "red bridge," which has been declared unsafe, a county structure.

Tomorrow will be the day for which Philip Meyer's sale is advertised and if you are in need of several good horses, fresh cows, a new Conklin wagon, a lot of baled hay, straw or numerous other useful farm implements or products you should attend. It will begin at 1 o'clock, p. m. at his residence at Boalsburg.

While driving near the High school building on east Bishop street, on Tuesday, Abe Baum's horse became unmanageable and the well known liveryman was thrown out of his buggy onto the road, but he did not think himself seriously hurt at the time. Later it was discovered that he had had two ribs broken and he was compelled to take his bed Wednesday morning.

At the Lutheran conference held at Salona last week resolutions were adopted praying Congress not to seat mormon congressman Roberts, of Utah. Among those who participated in the conference from this county were: Dr. H. C. Holloway, of Bellefonte; Rev. C. F. Aiken, of Pine Grove Mills; Rev. J. B. Leshar, Boalsburg; Rev. J. M. Rieck, of Centre Hall, and Henry Homan, of Oak Hill.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather there was a fair attendance from all the townships in the district. The speakers during the sessions were: G. A. Gettig, Rev. Mooman, Miss Mabel Norris, Edwin Smith, William Gettig, John Blair, Wm. Weston, Edith Zimmerman, J. R. Williams, Edith Herlacher, Miss Holt, Alice Buck, J. O. Harpster, Dr. W. U. Irwin, J. C. Hartsock, P. A. Sellers, and Dr. S. G. Coons. It was decided to hold the next session at Unionville, the second Friday and Saturday in January, 1900. The officers for those sessions will be: President, J. O. Harpster; vice president, E. J. Williams; secretary, Miss Alice Buck.

John M. Thurston, United States Senator from Nebraska, and one of the most prominent members of the upper branch of Congress, was married to Miss Lola Purman, in Washington, D. C., last Saturday. William J. Purman, the bride's father was born at Millheim, this county, as was also Mrs. Purman, whose maiden name was Harter, a daughter of the late John Harter of that place. When residents of Centre county the Purmans were known as Poormans, and shortly after their marriage they moved over into Sugar valley, near Loganton. After the close of the war they moved to Florida, from which State Mr. Purman was elected to Congress and served his term. Later they moved back to Sugar valley, where the present Mrs. Thurston was born twenty-five years ago. It was Purman's intention then to make his farm a great fruit growing place, the product of which he intended to manufacture into apple-jack, but before his plans matured he met financial reverses and was sold out. His next venture was as a hotel keeper at Espy, Columbia county, but lately he has made his home in Washington, D. C., where he has evidently prospered, for the family lives in nice style on Q street, a fashionable quarter of the city.

MR. FOSTER'S LATEST WEATHER BULLETIN.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm waves to cross the continent from the 12th to the 15th, and from the 17th to the 21st, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 21st, cross the west of Rockies country by the close of the 22nd, great central valleys from the 23rd to the 25th, and Eastern States 26th.

A warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 21st, great central valleys on the 23rd, and the Eastern States on the 25th. A cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 24th, great central valleys on 26th, and Eastern States 28th.

The temperature of the week ending on the 27th at 8 a. m. will average normal in the great central valleys, and below in the Atlantic and Pacific slope States. The rainfall will be above normal in the great central valleys, and below on the Pacific slope and in the Atlantic States.

The date of this bulletin will be near the end of a cold period, and a warm wave will then take a 10 days' lease on the country, following which will come the worst storm of the month, a cold wave, blizzard and snow in the Northern States. These spells of severe weather will reach the Southern States in a much milder form than in Canada and our Northern States.

A great rise in temperature was predicted from the 7th to the 18th, and a great fall will occur from the 19th to the 28th.

Nittany.

Joseph Erick Jr., left for Lewisburg last week, where he has secured a lucrative position.

R. F. Enrick has purchased the hotel property known as the Robb property, and will occupy the same this coming spring.

Dr. and Mrs. Adams, of Nippenoe, and Mrs. Loner, of Lock Haven, visited B. F. Shaffer and family last week.

The juvenile ninnies took advantage of the bright moonlight nights last week and chased the "hunnies" at rapid speed.

William Sheets lost one of his porkers last Tuesday. It died suddenly and is quite a loss to Billy as he earns his pork by the sweat of his brow.

Geo. Fletcher, his sister, Nannie, of Flemington, and Miss McCloskey, teacher of the Lamar school, called at the residence of A. A. Fletcher last Sunday.

A chicken and waffle supper was held at the residence of Rev. W. K. Diehl last Friday evening. Quite a number were present and enjoyed the occasion.

Hugh Taylor Esq., was here last week endeavoring to lease the mineral right on the Snavely farm, now owned by John Holmes. There is no better quality of ore in Nittany valley, than upon this property.

Mr. Philip Walters left this week to visit his daughters in Clinton county. Mr. Walters has passed his 82nd mile stone, and is exceedingly active. He is one of the most jovial and interesting men of his age in the valley.

Mrs. Charles McClintic is another victim of diphtheria. Mr. McClintic buried his oldest son sometime ago; his death was caused by the same disease. Citizens sympathize with him, as he has been an honest, hard working man, employed on the C. R. R. division and owing to the malady has been debarred from work the last month.

Mrs. Bierly, an aged lady of Snyder town, died last Friday of dropsy. She was buried at Tylersville, the following Sunday. Mrs. Bierly was the mother of Harvey Bierly, who buried his wife about three months ago, of typhoid fever. Several small children are left for the husband to care for. J. H. Beck and family have been exceedingly kind in assisting and comforting this bereaved husband during the last three months.

THE DISTRICT INSTITUTE.—Local institute was held at Clintonville last week, beginning on Friday evening. The house was crowded by citizens and visitors from different parts of Clinton county. Rev. Searles, minister in charge, delivered the address of welcome. Supt. W. E. Snyder and A. A. Fletcher were called upon for responses, after which Prof. Geo. Robb, principal of the Altoona schools was introduced and gave an interesting talk on "Higher Education."

Prof. Robb acquitted himself in an interesting manner and as an instructor has few superiors. The Pfifer orchestra rendered some fine selections and furnished the music for the evening. Saturday's sessions were well attended.

Pine Grove Mention.

Butchering season is here and now for the big hogs.

S. C. Fortney, one of Potter township's successful farmers, with his wife and little Tillie spent the first day of the week with his brother-in-law, O. B. Krebs, on Main street.

The last car load of apples were shipped from this point this week. Eleven thousand bushels have been loaded at this and Struble's station and most of them were billed to New York state.

The hunting parties camped over on old Tessey mountain have had good luck so far. The Shingletown Rangers have shot six deer and one bear. The Modocs have two deer and the College gang the same number.

The grist mill at this place has at last reached perfection and is running night and day to fill orders. Reuben Tressler, the miller, has had many years of experience. He is making the best grade of flour as well as accommodating his many customers from far and near with dispatch.

Manager John T. McCormick has several gangs of men at work erecting the Commercial telephone line along the turnpike via Grayville, and Franklinville to Spruce Creek to connect with the Phoenix line. John is a hustler and will have the line completed before the snow flakes fly.

On last Friday evening the home of Anna Dale was the scene of a pleasant reception tendered to her cousin, Luther K. Dale and his bride Annie J. Houser. A number of guests were present and a very enjoyable time was spent congratulating the bride and groom, who are representatives of two of the largest and best known families in this part of the county. The bride is a daughter of William Houser though most of her life has been spent with her aunt, Mrs. H. Eters, who has trained her thoroughly in the art of home making. The groom is Austin Dale's oldest son and a promising young farmer. After the wedding trip they will be at home at Kyle McFarlane's farm where a host of friends wish them good luck and happiness.

Mrs. Bumgardner—On last Friday night the home of William Bumgardner, at Boalsburg, was entered by the death angel and robbed of its comfort and delight. Mrs. Bumgardner had been ill for some time, but had recovered sufficiently to visit her parental home at Reading from which she had returned but a few days. Her death was a great shock to her family as well as the community. It was caused by heart disease and diabetes and she was comparatively only a young woman, thirty-seven, her home is broken up and her family inconsolable. She was a splendid woman, loved and respected by everyone who knew her and an earnest church and missionary worker. Her maiden name was Ruth Demoss and she was a native of Reading. Rev. Hepler conducted the funeral services at her home on Saturday evening, and early Monday morning her body was taken by Lewisburg to Reading, where interment was made on Tuesday. She is survived by her husband, mother and several sisters.

Centre Hall.

Mrs. Lyman Smith visited friends at Spring Mills this week.

Mrs. Wm. Ruhl, of Laurelton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. C. Nearhood.

Squire W. B. Mingle, beginning of this week, returned from a ten days' business and pleasure trip to Philadelphia.

Mrs. John Stuart and Mrs. Linnie Ruble, of State College, drove to town Wednesday to see their many friends here.

Samuel Shoop has returned from New Bloomfield, where he has been for several months, assisting his brother-in-law, James Stuart, building a house.

Samuel Rowe went up to Huntingdon Co., on Tuesday to set up a stone crusher purchased by one of the townships in that county from Rowe's firm.

The C. M. Parker concert company proved first-class. Every number was well applauded and every one in the house was highly pleased. Every number was the best number.

Lillie, daughter of W. P. Shoop, formerly of this place, died Monday in Scranton. She was aged about thirty years and married. Her father went down but the particulars of her death have not reached here yet.

Station agent Bradford no doubt will wonder when he will be a full centurion if he is now "a one-third centurion." The writer wrote centurians, the devil made it read centurion, and aggravated aggravated.

Dr. Glosser, who just located here last week and has quarters with Dr. J. F. Alexander, is securing a lion's share of patients who need medical attendance. He has met with marked success where his services have been called upon.

Rev. Firor, of Williamsport, who was announced to preach in the Reformed church Sunday night is unable to fulfill the appointment. Rev. Bickle, of Bellefonte, will hold services at Centre Hall in the evening, but at none of the other places in the charge.

A most interesting and well attended protracted meeting is now being held in the Methodist church here, under the leadership of Rev. Chilcote, of Spring Mills. Mr. Chilcote is being entertained at Mr. Kreammers and his meetings are inspiring as well as beneficial.

Jacob Shearer and Wm. H. Homan spent last week in the mountains with a party of Pine Grove hunters who had the good fortune to bring down six deer and a bear. Shearer was one of the lucky ones to kill a deer, and also had the experience of knowing how one feels after missing a six-pronged buck.

George Flory had a wood cutting bed Wednesday which neighbors responded. Mr. Flory has been a resident of Centre Hall for many years and did a many day's hard labor, but time is telling on him and he is not able to do such work to any extent now. From the work done on Tuesday it can be safely judged that Flory is in the good graces of his neighbors.

Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg, who pleased a large audience in the Reformed church, Sunday evening, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon at 10 a. m., on that day in this place. Rev. J. M. Rieck, of the Lutheran church, will act in a similar capacity in Boalsburg. This service should not be neglected by any one, for all have ample reason for giving thanks.

The evaporator closed for the season the other day. A large quantity of apples were used that in many instances would have gone to waste and brought the fruit-grower no returns, besides considerable money was paid to laborers. The plant proved a success and the owners, Messrs. Booser, and Minor, are not having any difficulty to sell their goods. Next year the concern will be enlarged and improved.

The Grange Arcadia stage needs better lighting. The foot-lights placed there recently, although not of the latest pattern, were an improvement, but still better lights are needed. The audience not only wants to see a general out-line of those on the stage but every expression and move of the muscles. The management no doubt will make an effort to provide this much needed improvement by the next opening of the hall to the public.

Rev. Rieck, a few years ago, purchased a tract of land on which to plant a peach orchard near Heavertown, Snyder county. Years ago an ore mine was in operation on the tract, and samples of it were taken to the Bellefonte furnaces for analysis. The product, which is fossil, can readily be sold if it tests forty on more her cent pure. A mine near by, which apparently is of the same nature, tests sixty per cent. With peaches above ground and ore underneath, Rev. Rieck's investment ought to prove profitable.

Public sale of farm implements and stock are becoming more numerous in the fall than heretofore. A few years ago, a fall sale was almost a novelty, yet last and this fall there have been a number in the valley. The prices obtained for implements and live stock are about up to the average of the spring sale. Horses, this season, have sold at a very fair figure, ranging anywhere from $40 to $100. If the fall sale is not over done it may prove an advantage to both buyer and seller, as it will distribute the sales more evenly throughout the year.

Progress grange on Thanksgiving give a turkey dinner at their hall after three o'clock. Oysters, ice cream, etc., will also be served. The price of dinner is twenty-five cents. The organization should be liberally patronized, owing to the fact that it built for the town its splendid hall at a large expense and gives it to the public for its uses at a trifling above the cost of opening and heating the same. An hour or more may be pleasantly spent at the hall on Thanksgiving—there is plenty of room for entertainment and all should take advantage of the treat.

With winter at hand everybody, old and young, has more or less time to spare for amusements, long evenings to devote to something either profitable or otherwise. Now, people want to be entertained, they want to go to places of amusement, and will go. The various forms of entertainment given in Grange Arcadia and the several lectures in the churches have proven very good, but the people in general would approve of a home talent entertainment by giving it a first-class house. There is an opening for some organization to make a good profit on its venture, besides the play, musical, or whatever it may be, would be of vast and lasting benefit to those participating. Who will size up to the occasion and seize the opportunity. If there is no one here who feels able to act as instructor, let one be secured from elsewhere. There is plenty first-rate material in the town, all it needs is some competent head to bring it to the front. This was shown conclusively by the plays given some few years ago. Bring out the talent.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hipple, who were visiting at G. W. Spangler's, left Wednesday for Baltimore where they reside.

There will be services in the Evangelical church, on Saturday evening, when Rev. Fiore, of Williamsport, will preside.

Will Taylor is at present serving Uncle Sam in the capacity of mail carrier, as Horner's horse is on the sick list.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

Sir Walter Besant begins in the December Century a series of papers illustrating life in East London, as it is today. His manner of treating the subject is that of the novelist, rather than the essayist, for he takes as his point of departure the birth of a typical girl of the East End—"One of Two Millions in East London,"—and traces her career to the time of her marriage at seventeen to a young countryman who has come up to town to make his living as a porter. Liza is a "poor school" girl, and Sir Walter holds that what the average East Londoner learns from books at school he afterwards forgets; but that the civilizing influence of the schools is insensible, and has marvelously transformed the East End within the past thirty years. No one knows more of the life of the poor in London than the author of "All Sorts and Conditions of Men," and no one is better known as their pictorial interpreter than Phil May, who collaborates with Joseph Pennell in illustrating Sir Walter's article.

The Thanksgiving number of the Saturday Evening Post, in its stories, poems, pictures and general articles, will be the most attractive number of the magazine yet issued. In this number Robert W. Chambers has a seasonable out-of-door story, entitled "The Hunter"—the romance of a poacher's pretty daughter. Other features are: Edwin Markham's latest poem, "The Lyric Seer"; "An Electrical Transient"—a tale of the Transval War by Robert Barr; "At Dawn," by Octave Thanet, and "The Minister's Henhouse," a droll story by C. E. Lincoln. Two notable articles in this number are "Lincoln as Candidate and President," by his old friend and political ally, Colonel A. K. McClure, and "Our New Prosperity," by Frank A. Vandervort, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

It will be on all news-stands November 23rd.
