

FARM NOTES.

An overgrowth of rye or wheat in the fall can be held in check by sheep, and greatly to the gain of the flock.

The farmer who does not improve his stock cannot compete in the market with his progressive neighbor. The butter from a cow which produces 10 pounds a week can be sold at 20 cents per pound and give a larger profit than the butter from a cow giving only five pounds a week and sold at 30 cents per pound.

Grinding the corn and cob does not add much to the ration, but the ground cob serves to dilute the grain and increase the bulk, which makes the combination better than the ground grain alone.

There is plenty of work to do in winter if the farm is rightly managed. It is the season of the year for all repairs and renewals. Every implement or piece of machinery should be overhauled and all repairs ordered, so as to be ready for spring work.

Velvet rolled to suggest a huge rose is a popular style of trimming hats. One of the latest imported models is of chinchilla, and it is needless to say that the shape is the lowest turban with the rolling brim.

Cows go dry from mismanagement more than from any other cause. Irregularity of milking and failure to "strip" when milking will cause a cow to dry off. The richest milk is the last drawn from the udder, and for that reason alone the dairymen should strip closely.

There is nothing so repulsive as a wet and filthy barnyard, in which the animals are compelled to walk knee deep in filth. Such a condition is not only unhygienic and can be prevented if the barnyard is kept well supplied with absorbent materials.

Manure can be spread on the clover fields with benefit and will not only increase the yield next year, but also serve to protect the young clover during the winter. Cold weather will not seriously damage clover, but when there are "warm spells" in winter, and the ground freezes and thaws, the plants may be thrown up and the roots broken.

Occasionally some one rises up and emphatically condemns the use of salt for hogs, but fails to give the reasons for such strong assertions. It is just as reasonable to say that manure is not good salt. The digestive organs in the hog are nearer in resemblance to those of man than any other animal.

A good skin food can be made of one tablespoonful of pure olive oil, one of rose water, beaten to cream. Rub this into the skin until entirely absorbed every morning after washing in warm water and castile soap.

Milk is an excellent poultry food, fed in any way. It is the cheapest animal food that you can buy if you can get it for one cent a gallon. Recent experiments have proved it to be one of the best hot weather animal foods for chickens laying fowls.

The dressiest shoe for semi-dress occasions, calling, teas, etc., where a calfskin shoe is not dressy enough, yet where an evening slipper would also be out of place, is the straight, foxed patent leather, with kid top, buttoned, not laced, and with extension soles.

The most desirable jacket is the double-breasted, tight-fitting, semi-box front, or entire box front, with velvet collar, dart seams, open a trifle, with rounded corners and sleeves put in absolutely plain.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

A collection of crests, monograms and similar devices cut from letters may be utilized by arranging them on frames of white wood, which may be purchased ready for ornamentation.

I know a girl who is very stylish and she hasn't money. She says she would rather have a gown made to wear one season according to the latest ideas, wear it out and then have another one, than to put all her money into one gown so expensive that she feels it is a crime to get a new one for three years.

The sleeves were laid in tucks and a long shaped cuff over the knuckles was of red velvet. She used a dark blue silk petticoat that she wore under a foulard all last summer and so saved the expense of a lining.

Velvet rolled to suggest a huge rose is a popular style of trimming hats. One of the latest imported models is of chinchilla, and it is needless to say that the shape is the lowest turban with the rolling brim.

If you want to give your last year's fur or velvet coat that was made with a belt and a blouse front the French style, when wide black satin ribbon—quite sash width, in fact, and having fringes on the edge or pleated chiffon. Wind it twice around the waist and bring it up to the armpit on the left side, tying it there in a knot, letting the ends fall quite to the knees.

An accomplished woman of the world should, above all things, possess the secret of never allowing her sentiments to be read in her face. Anger, gaiety, all that which is exaggerated can rage in her inner being, but never be allowed to be perceived.

Nearly every gown has a narrow belt made of stitched satin or taffeta drawn and fastened invisibly in front in the effort to secure the Parisian girle effect, which makes the back appear short and the line over the bust to the waist unattractively long. It is these details in dress that now distinguish the smart from the dowdy woman.

Pillows are never used upon brass bedsteads in the day time, the round bolster being sufficiently ornamental. The pillows are in force at night, however, and will be doubtless a hundred years hence.

The round bolsters, so fashionable, have needful made cases to suit. These are somewhat hard to make unless one knows exactly how. First cut the linen the proper length and width, then work eyelet holes a short distance from either end, scallop the edges and buttonhole. Draw ribbon through the eyelet holes, and there you are.

A good skin food can be made of one tablespoonful of pure olive oil, one of rose water, beaten to cream. Rub this into the skin until entirely absorbed every morning after washing in warm water and castile soap.

Delectable Dishes for the Holidays.

PLUM PUDDING. One pound stoned, shred fine; one pound raisins stoned, one pound currants, two tablespoonfuls of flour, nearly a tinful of grated bread crumbs, twelve eggs, beaten separate, one-fourth pound citron, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one very small teaspoonful of mace, two glasses of brandy; wet and flour a square of muslin or linen; pour the pudding into it, tie it up tight and boil from three to five hours; a nutmeg can be added.

LEMON CUSTARD. Four lemons, grated, four cups sugar, four cups water, four tablespoonfuls butter, four tablespoonfuls of cornstarch; mix them; let it come just hot enough to boil; after it cools add four eggs, well beaten; bake on a crust.

CRULLERS. One and one-half cups of sugar, two eggs, one nutmeg, a large tablespoonful of butter, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a little salt, flour enough to make a soft dough. Bake in lard. Cup of milk.

WAFFLES. One quart flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, one large tablespoonful butter, two eggs, one and one-half pints of milk; sift together flour, sugar and powder; rub in the butter cold; add the beaten eggs and milk; mix into a smooth, batter that will run easily from the mouth of a pitcher. Have the waffle-iron hot and carefully greased; fill it two-thirds full.

TAFFY. Two cups New Orleans molasses, one cup brown sugar. Let boil until crisp; then add one tablespoonful of soda, putting in a little at a time. Beat light, add nuts and beat again.

CARAMELS. One and one-half pounds brown sugar, one cake chocolate, one cup cream, one cup molasses. Butter size of an egg.

WALNUT CANDY. One large cup of molasses, one cup sugar, one-half cup vinegar, one-half cup water, one quart walnut kernels. Butter size of an egg.

FROZEN CUSTARD. Make a boiled custard of one quart of milk, four eggs, and one and one-half cups of sugar, and one tablespoonful of gelatine dissolved in a half cupful of cold milk. Let the custard cool, then put it in the freezer, and as soon as it commences to freeze add one pint of whipped cream and flavoring.

ICE CREAM. For one quart of milk use from two to four eggs, according to the size, six to eight ounces of sugar, and from two to three teaspoonfuls of extract of vanilla, lemon, orange or other extract. Scald the milk, beat the eggs and sugar more thoroughly, and stir into the milk briskly; strain it, heat gradually until it begins to thicken; keep continually in motion while freezing. The extract should be added after cooling before freezing.

CHICKEN CROQUETTES. One pair chickens, fifty oysters, or half dozen sweetbreads, pepper and salt to taste, 1 tablespoonful of parsley, and mixed with 4 raw eggs well beaten. Put on the fire 1 qt. milk or cream, and one-quarter pound butter; let it come to a boil, then stir in stale bread crumbs to the consistency of mush, take it off and let it cool, then stir all together; if too thin add more bread crumbs until thick enough to mold, then dip in beaten egg and cracker dust. Fry in boiling lard until brown.

Democrats Now Take the Lead. Offer House Resolutions Giving Independence to the Philippines—Are Opposed to Coverture—Would Insist that the $20,000,000 be Refunded—Want to Know if Our Constitution Does Not Prohibit Slavery and Polygamy in the Sulu Islands.

Two joint resolutions were introduced into the House recently by Representative Williams, of Miss., which are the result of consultation among a number of Democratic leaders in the House, and are understood to be expressive of their general position on the Philippines. The first resolution follows:

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled: "That it has always been our intent and purpose to recognize the inalienable rights of the Filipinos to self government and national independence, and that in pursuance thereof, we shall make formal recognition of these rights and withdraw our land and sea forces upon our establishment of peace and the inauguration of a constitutional government, or governments, by the people of the islands or any of them, provided the said government agrees to refund the $20,000,000 which was paid by us to the queen of Spain to give us in fee simple, with right of sovereignty vested in us, place suitable for a naval station and other places fitted for coaling stations, and to grant the American people in perpetuity the right of free access to all of their ports for goods, merchandise and persons bent on peaceful or missionary pursuits."

"Be it further resolved that the judiciary committee of this House be and is hereby instructed to investigate and report upon the legal and constitutional aspects of our governmental relations to the people of the Philippine Islands, and especially to those of them in the group hitherto or now ruled by the so-called Sultan of Sulu, and to determine and report to the House whether or not in the opinion of said committee the said islands are within the jurisdiction of the United States, and if in the jurisdiction of the United States, whether or not a constitutional prohibition of slavery and the statutory prohibition of polygamy do or do not apply to them and their people, and should or should not control federal officials in all their acts and conduct in connection with the government thereof."

Horrible Affair. Mother, Who Put Oil in Stove, Is Dead, Father and Child Are Dying.

As a result of using kerosene oil to start a fire, Mrs. A. J. Clark, of Walnut near DuBois is dead, being burned almost to a crisp, her husband and little daughter are in the Adrian hospital, the former at the point of death and the child dangerously burned. It is here to be hoped that both will be spared for life.

Mrs. Clark put some wood in the kitchen stove, in which she supposed the blaze had gone out, and poured oil on it. The moment the oil struck the smoldering fire there was an explosion and the burning fluid deluged the woman and her daughter, who was at play in the room. The screams of his wife and child brought Mr. Clark from another part of the house. In his efforts to save his dear ones his clothing caught.

The neighbors, who quickly assembled, finally succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but by that time Mrs. Clark was dead.

Mrs. Clark and the child were removed to the hospital. The home of the ill-fated family was completely destroyed.

PAID DEAR FOR HIS LEG.—B. D. Blanton of Throckmole, Tex., in two years paid over $300.00 to doctors to cure a running sore on his leg. Then they wanted to cut it off, but he cured it with one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Guaranteed cure for piles. 25cts. a box. Sold by F. Potts Green druggist.
