-Bellefonte heard the first sleigh bells of the season last evening. The sleet that began falling yesterday morning turned into snow towards afternoon and, with a splendid bed beneath it, we now have the first sleighing. Other parts of the county have had sleighing since Christmas.

----Miss Julia Doran's many former patrons, as well as all Bellefonte people who are musically inclined, will be glad to hear that this young artist has so far recovered from a serious affection of the eyes, that she will be able to engage in active musical work again. She will resume her regular weekly trips to Bellef onte.

----Register Alex Archey had to go home to spend Sunday because "Turk" his pet collie dog had taken possession of his house during his absence and chased everybody out who attempted to enter the room, where the dog promptly ensconced itself in the Squire's easy chair the moment he left home. The dog evidently thought it was necessary for him to run things during his master's absence and no manner of persuasion could induce him to get out of the house.
