

Mrs. LLOYD SMITH.—After weeks of illness and patiently waiting for what she knew to be the inevitable Mrs. Lloyd Smith peacefully closed her eyes on Sunday evening and fell into that sleep from which she will awaken to find herself perfectly whole; no longer blanched and wan by the wasting of consumption. Since the disease began to develop the advanced stages Mrs. Smith and her husband had made their home with her mother, Mrs. Amanda Waite, on North Thomas street, and it was there that she died; surrounded by all of those that were near and dear to her in Bellefonte.

Deceased was born in Bellefonte, Oct. 3rd, 1877. She was the daughter of the late Adam Waite and was a bright, prepossessing young woman. June 14th, 1898, she married Lloyd Smith; one child having been born to their union. It died several months ago. Besides her husband and mother are the following brothers and sisters: Robt. and Mrs. Richard Winner, Anderson, Ind.; Mrs. Harry Rhoads, of Osceola; George, John and Allan, of Bellefonte.

Interment was made from the United Brethren church of which she was a zealous member on Wednesday afternoon.

DIED FROM BLEEDING AT THE NOSE.—Mrs. Clara Cowher died at her home on the Thomas Way farm, in Half-moon valley, Friday afternoon, from exhaustion, caused by excessive bleeding at the nose. She arose in her usual health that morning, but soon afterwards her nose began bleeding and continued until she died; every effort to stop the flow of blood having failed.

Mrs. Cowher was the wife of John T. Cowher, who survives her with her one sister, Mrs. Simon Nolan, of Phillipsburg. Burial was made at Gray's cemetery Sunday.

William Seibert died at the home of his father, John Seibert, in the country above Roopsburg, early last Friday evening from the effects of asthma and consumption. Deceased was 27 years old and had been a member of the Buffalo-run Presbyterian church for several years. Surviving him are his father, four sisters and three brothers. Interment was made in Meyers cemetery on Monday afternoon.

Harry L. Watson died at Mill Hall, on Thursday evening, of consumption. He was 26 years old and is survived by his wife and two children.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—All but two of the members of council were present Monday evening when President Gerberich called that body to order for the transaction of the following business:

H. C. Quigley Esq. secretary of the Board of Health made the report for 1899 and asked for the annual appropriation of $100 for the year 1900. He stated that the Board's expenses last year had been $87 and also the term of S. H. Williams having expired as a member of the Board it would be well to re-appoint him. Mr. Williams proved more popular with council than the appropriation of the hundred, for they re-appointed him and held the hundred matter over until the next meeting.

The Water committee reported everything in good working order in that department, but urged council to start on the hunt for a very evident great leak. Sup't. Rine stated that on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock the pumps at the water works had to be stopped, in order to make some needed repairs, and were not started again until midnight. In that five hours every drop of water in the reservoir was consumed. As the reservoir held 237,000 gallons at the time it might be well to ask: Where did that water go to? Each man, woman and child in Bellefonte must have averaged 68 gallons of it, for there were no manufacturers consuming public water in operation at that time, none of the stores or other business places open. Of course if Sup't. Rine intends to get very inquisitorial we know one fellow who will confess to having used a bath-tub full of it, but where did the rest go? It might well be hunted up.

The Fire and Police committee reported its failure to rent a cell in the county jail in which to incarcerate the drunks and other daily offenders picked up by the borough officers. It appears that the old lock-up isn't good enough any more for the accommodation of such transients and the committee was instructed to look around a little for a suitable place. What has become of the lock-up that was to have been placed in the basement of the new public building? The matter of saving the rent of the present lock-up site was very greatly elaborated on when the plans for a public building, with a lock-up in the basement, were first projected. Then when that part of it was abandoned the excuse was given that a basement would be too unhealthy for such purposes and that all the room was needed for the steam plant of the house. Now the steam is being furnished by the public plant so there is no room needed for boilers and so far as the health question is concerned one is incarcerated in a lock-up long enough to injure them. Besides, Phillipsburg uses hers twice as much as Bellefonte, it is in the basement of the public building over there, and statistics don't show that town's mortality list to be any worse than Bellefonte's.

The appointment of a watchman for the Lamb street crossing of the P. R. R. tracks was announced and a vote of thanks tendered Mayor Nagney and Sup't. S. S. Blair for their interest in the matter.

After approving the following bills council adjourned:

FOSTER'S WEATHER PREDICTION.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 8th to 12th and the next will reach the Pacific coast about 13th, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 14th, great central valleys 15th to 17th, Eastern States 18th.

Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 13th, great central valleys 25th, Eastern States 17th.

Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 16th, great central valleys 18th, Eastern States 20th.

Temperature of the week ending 8. a. m. January 22nd will average above normal in the great central valleys and the Eastern States and below on the Pacific slope. Rainfall will be below normal in the great central valleys and above on Pacific coast.

About the date of this bulletin a low temperature wave will be crossing the great central valleys, eastward bound, carrying with it a frigid temperature, probably lowest of the month.

A three weeks' drought period with a rising temperature will follow, terminating in a thaw about 20th, and then another cold wave with rains South and snows North.

Preamble and Resolutions.

Adopted by Lick Run lodge No. 311, I. O. O. F. at the regular meeting, on the evening of January 10th, 1900.

WHEREAS it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from this life our beloved brother Dr. Lot R. Henry, late a member of this lodge, and whereas we desire to testify to his value in life, both as an associate here and as an honored member of the community, and whereas we are profoundly impressed with our loss in all the relations which he bore to us, therefore be it

Resolved, that in the life and labors of our late brother the principles of our beloved order were clearly set forth and beautifully exemplified; winning for himself the love and respect of the whole community, and by his example reflecting the very highest credit upon the principles controlling our order.

Resolved, that in his death our order and the community suffer the loss of a man of the most genial good nature, strong in his integrity, upright in his walk and conversation, just to his fellow men, of large charity, always in an unselfish, unostentatious way shunning publicity for acts of kindness rendered, yet always responsive to the call of the needy and the suffering.

Resolved, that we tender to his bereaved widow and children, our most sincere condolence and sympathy, and that an engrossed copy of these resolutions be presented to them.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge and that copies of the same be furnished to the local and county newspapers for publication.

"Some other world is glad to see Our star that's gone away; The light whose going makes our night Makes somewhere else a day."

Centre Hall.

Miss Emma McCoy returned home from Philadelphia where she had been for several weeks.

A fifty-dollar bill about the borough was circulated last week. There is a close association of the words liars and hell somewhere.

Milton Snyder's little daughter, Romie, has been seriously ill for some time. Dr. Musser was called in consultation with Dr. Glosser.

Feeds and seeds is what S. W. Smith is selling to farmers just now. Ten tons of bran were sold by him in less time than it takes to tell the story. He has a stock on hand at all times.

The benefits of the prosperity war to the Penns Valley farmer is best expressed like the abbreviation of the current year—'00. The apostrophe indicates the profit others are reaping.

W. W. Boob is the only man in town who had the good fortune to unload his stock of sleighs during the recent fall of snow. He is stocked up again, however—always ready to catch the trade.

Jefferson Hubler, of near State College, spent Saturday and Sunday with Robert Bloom, near town. In the spring Mr. Hubler will move to this place and do blacksmithing at the stand now run by George Rowe. The latter will become tenant on the farm owned by Sannel Bruns, a short distance east of town.

E. C. Nearhood and P. F. Keller have arranged to exchange business on April 1st. The former is a baker and is conducting a very nice business in town and runs a wagon to nearby places. The latter is one of the town's draymen and has been in the business for several years. Keller is now assisting Nearhood in the bake-shop, so he will be ready to take complete charge at the time mentioned.

Mrs. Martha P. Odenkirk died Saturday morning of last week at her home in this place, after an illness of several weeks. Early in the fall Mrs. Odenkirk had the misfortune to receive a very hard fall, which severely injured her hip. From that time she began failing, and finally the flesh was too weak to bear the burden and death came. The funeral took place Monday morning, the interment being in the Presbyterian cemetery at Centre Hill, where the whole family of Lingles now rest. She was a life long member of the Presbyterian church, and during that time supported it very liberally with her heart and purse.

Mrs. Odenkirk was the widow of George Odenkirk, who for many years prior to his death on Oct. 4th, 1877, was one of the most reliable and most substantial citizens of the community. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Odenkirk took place April 7th, 1863, in Potter township. For one or two years the couple lived at the Old Fort, from which place they moved to Centre Hill, to the place occupied by Mrs. Odenkirk at her death.

The deceased was held in high esteem by all. She was a woman who devoted her time to her own affairs, and all she ask of others was to do the same. She was kind and always rewarded a kindness shown toward her. For twenty-two years after her husband's death she lived alone in a well furnished and comfortable home, and it was very seldom she asked aid of any character from her neighbors, with whom she was always, however, on the best of terms.

The deceased died without heirs, but held considerable personal property and a farm of one hundred and eighty acres situated near this place—the old homestead farm. The whole of her wealth was given by will to her son, John G. A. Kennedy, and her children, to whom the grand-uncle took a particular liking. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy did many kind acts toward Mrs. Odenkirk, which were well rewarded. This is another evidence that roses are more acceptable during life than a mountain of cut flowers after life has left the body.

Millhelm.

Mrs. J. C. Miller, of Johnstown, was the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. H. Morris, for a few days last week.

Emmanuel Harter, one of Brush-valley's most successful farmers, sold a hog last Monday the live weight of which was 830 lbs. Dressed it tipped the beam at 725 lbs.

Last Sunday's snow storm gave rise to expectations of fine sleighing, and therefore much disappointment was expressed when the succeeding warm and sultry weather quickly turned the snow into slush and mud.

Rev. J. L. Lohr, who preceded Rev. H. W. Buck as pastor of the local charge of the United Evangelical church, but who is now stationed at Berwick, Pa., was called to Aaronsburg last week to take charge of the services at the funeral of Mrs. H. E. Crouse.

Farmer Hetzel was committed to jail last week by Justice F. P. Musser after he had confessed that he had stolen chickens from John Maize, a farmer residing west of town. He was taken to Bellefonte Saturday evening by constable P. P. Letzell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Frank left, Tuesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Edward Hoover, which took place Wednesday morning. Services were held at the home of the deceased at Laurenton Tuesday evening. Interment was made at Sunbury Wednesday morning. Mrs. Hoover died Monday, aged 37 years, 4 months and 11 days. Her maiden name was Alice Randabach. She was reared by Thomas Frank, father of A. A. Frank, deceased, and leaves a husband, a son and a daughter to mourn her departure.

Nittany.

Misses Clara and Ida Bickel, of Abdera, spent one day in our city last week.

James Neese, who has been afflicted with rheumatism for the last year, is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Tate and Miss Ponina Shields spent several days this week in Bellefonte and Milesburg.

Jacob Gobble, an aged citizen of this valley, is seriously ill at the residence of his son, in Lock Haven.

Miss Minnie Winkelman, the first graduate of the Lock Haven hospital, is visiting her sister Mittie.

Wendel Bartholomew, who has been passing through a long and serious siege of typhoid fever, is able to be around again.

Prof. I. D. Gresh, of Milton, has been conducting a singing class here, for two weeks past will close Saturday night, Jan. 20th with a concert.

R. F. Emerick's sale will be one of the largest sales of the valley, twenty head of cattle, thirty-two shoats, four brood sows, of the O. I. C. specie, horses and sheep. Watch for the date some time in March.

The ticket agent at Lamar, Mr. George Fletcher, in his spare moments continues to practice his artistic work. At present he is making a painting from Millet's renowned picture "The man with the Hoe." When it is completed it will be represented on canvas 33 feet.

Nittany Valley lodge, of I. O. O. F. will hold a banquet in their hall, Jan. 20th. Quite a number of guests have been invited. A program has been arranged to entertain those present. Rev. Runkle and Rev. W. K. Diehl will be present and respond in brief addresses. The Gutzel orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the occasion, also the Brooks Bros. of Pleasant Gap and the soloist of the same place, Miss Brooks, will favor those present with several fine selections.

Pine Grove Mention.

Mrs. Mary Ard is entertaining her niece, Miss Grace Lytle, of Bellwood.

James C. Hammer, of Altoona, is being royally entertained by J. W. Kepler Esq.

Mrs. John Musser Jr., has been ill for the last ten days with pleurisy and rheumatism.

Mrs. Nancy O'Bryan Glasgow, of near Lewisport, recently spent a day here, the home of her youth.

Ex-county treasurer J. B. Mitchell has so far recovered his normal health, from his recent illness, that he is able to be about his home.

Miss Levina Gates is ill with pulmonary trouble at her home in Tadpole. G. W. Bolinger is sick at the same place with a severe cold.

James L. Murphy has turned the key in his Water street home and hid himself off to Luzerne county, to visit his brother-in-law Rev. J. Y. Brouse.

The report that Dr. Houser was ill and going to Philadelphia for treatment is not correct and he is busily attending to his large practice as usual.

We are glad to note the recovery of Howard Black, of Huntingdon county, who has been very sick at the home of his brother, Frank, near town.

Miss Sadie Dannelly has accepted the position of operator in the Commercial Telephone exchange at State College and is filling the place most acceptably.

That old veteran Joe Hettinger, who was one of the first defenders, and his estimable wife enjoyed the sleighing last Saturday and drove up from Boalsburg to relish a good square meal at I. G. Walker's.

Richard Gates, one of the WATCHMAN's staunch friends, is sick in bed with a bad cold which he is trying hard to let go of. Farmer William Lytle who has been sick with pleurisy is on the mend.

Miss Lucetta Ward has laid by fashions and furbelows for a two weeks' visit among Baileyville friends. Her sister, Miss Mary, has accepted a clerical position in a large mercantile establishment in Pittsburg.

Miss Bessie Walker, teacher of the primary school at this place, who is suffering so severely from astigmatism of the eyes that at one time it was feared she would have to give up teaching, is some what better.

Geo. E. Corl has become the proprietor of the laundry at State College. The business has changed hands several times in the last year but as Mr. Corl is making some needed improvements and employing expert workers there is no reason why he should not give satisfaction.

A Sunday school convention is slated for the second week of February to be held in one of the churches here. The convention will be made up of all the Sabbath schools in this end of the county. A number of ministers will be here as well as superintendents to cover intelligently the field of Sunday school work.

L. W. Walker, of Fairbrook, has recovered sufficiently from his recent attack of rheumatism, which has laid him up for the last month, to transact business down at Linden Hall. Rumor has credited him with buying one of the brag farms down there and if it is true who knows how soon he will be appearing before Register Arcehy to be bowled out of the bachelor list.

In noticing the death of Emanuel Sunday we said he starved to death when we should have said he died of exhaustion superinduced by cancer of the throat. The appraisers of his estate have estimated it to be worth nineteen thousand dollars. His son J. Calvin has the refusal of the farm, stock and implements and the balance of the estate is to be divided share and share alike. Rev. Chas. T. Aikens is the executor. J. W. Sunday and A. M. Brown were the appraisers.

Mr. Charles C. Smith and his bride accompanied by their friends, were on their bridal trip of several weeks, spent among friends in Altoona and Clearfield county, by a royal feast, last Saturday, at the home of L. G. Walker. It was a regular course dinner and a number of friends and relatives were present to enjoy it. The bride, Alice Gray Matern, is a daughter of Rev. Matern, formerly of Stormstown, but now of La Jose, Clearfield county, where the marriage ceremony was performed during the holiday week. Charley is to be congratulated on securing such an accomplished young lady for his helpmate and companion.

The ownership of a number of properties about here have recently changed. J. G. Fortney has purchased the W. J. Meyers property now occupied by H. M. Krebs. James McCool has bought the two upper houses on Water street from J. B. Ard and Co. The one he will occupy and the other rent. John W. Miller has bought of J. G. Heberling the lot and cabinet maker shop on Main street, which he proposes to remodel into a dwelling to be occupied by him after April 1st. T. A. Frank has bought a home at Baileyville. R. G. Goheen has purchased the Boop home and ground near Baileyville. Mr. John Hopson, of Connecticut, has become the owner of the Stover and Rankin farms at Rock Springs. Mr. Hopson made his first visit here on the 5th and was very much pleased with Spruce Creek valley and his new possessions. He is a genial, affable man well versed in the ways of the world for he is president and treasurer of the Hopson and Chapin Manufacturing Co., of New London, Conn., a prosperous and big concern of the Nutmeg state. His father, George Hopson, was one of the pioneer farmers in lower Bald Eagle valley away back in the forties, but left there more than twenty-five years to embark in business in Connecticut. At his death his son succeeded him and in addition to his new purchases in this section he owns the Henry Meyers farm just west of Boalsburg one of the brag farms of the locality. It is his intention to spend several weeks each year on his farms, which eventually will become a great wealth and beauty.

JACOB CONDO DEAD.—Jacob Condo, one of the best citizens of Harris township, died at his home in Boalsburg, on Saturday morning, at 4 o'clock after a week's illness with pneumonia. On account of his age his friends had little hope of his recovery from the beginning of his illness. He was born near Aaronsburg August 12th, 1826, and in the fall of 1847, he married Rebecca Wolf, of that town. One year later death robbed him of his wife and child who were both buried in one coffin and the following year he married Mary Wolf, his first wife's sister. Their one child a beautiful young girl died April 1st, 1882, just as she was growing into womanhood. For more than forty years he followed blacksmithing in Boalsburg, but the latter years of his life were spent in farming.

He was a member of one of the oldest and largest German families in Centre county. Of his six brothers and four sisters, William, of Aaronsburg; Charles, in the West; I. J., and Robert, of Boalsburg, are living. He was a ruling elder in the Lutheran church and politically a most faithful and conscientious Democrat. His wife, who suffered greatly from rheumatism, was unable to attend the funeral which took place on Monday morning at 10 o'clock but the large concourse of people present fully testified to his fidelity and worth. His pastor, Rev. Lescher, assisted by the Rev. Black, paid a noble tribute to the white haired old patriarch, neighbor and friend who had entered into his reward.

[With apologies to Maj. Wm. Fry, our very efficient correspondent at Pine Grove Mills for infringing on his space, we take the liberty of appending a letter from Adam Bucher, well known to most Pine Grove readers, who is now in Oklahoma Territory visiting his brother Samuel.—Ed.]

JEFFERSON, O. T., Jan. 6th, 1900.

*** After a three hour sleigh ride in Altoona on Christmas afternoon we left the Mountain city that night on fast line and woke up at Harrisburg to find that there was no snow at all. It was clear and cold at Philadelphia, but we didn't see any more snow, even at Baltimore, which city I was very favorably impressed with. I could make it my home, but Pennsylvania will do for present emergencies. At Washington it was very cold and snow fell the second day we were there, sleighs were out and people seemed to be enjoying it immensely. People here are looking just and dirt. Finally we reached the much boomed Oklahoma to find it a pretty, productive looking country, fairly cold at this season, and quite inviting to anyone not so thoroughly wedded to Pennsylvania as I am. We reached brother Samuel's home on the second day of the new year. We found him well and properly proud of their first offspring, a fine baby girl of five weeks who they have named Catherine Grace.

This is what is known as the Cherokee Strip and in my judgment will make one of the nicest neighborhoods in the Union when it is laid up and under full cultivation. Mrs. Bucher agrees with me in this opinion, but she says she would not give up Altoona for it. After completing our visit here we will go up through Kansas and home.

Yours
ADAM BUCHER.

—AND THE— WALKOVERS FOR THE MEN Price $3.50

are the most stylish and the best wearers ever brought to Centre county.

We are not harping on raised prices because leather has gone up. Prices are still the same. We bought early and therefore can sell at the low prices. Plenty of time to tell you about the raise when it is necessary.

We have Nice Footwear in Slippers, Leggings and Childrens Pretty Shoes left from the Holiday trade, that will be sold cheap.

Don't forget we are selling working Shoes and Combinations at low prices
