

Gold is to be made the standard, the only standard of value. Gold that has played the coward and traitor in every time of danger, gold that sneaked away at the first alarm of corflict in our civil war and did not come out of its hole till long after the danger was over, gold that never was true to any nation in time of dire distress brazenly comes to the front and asks to be crowned king, and the demand has been granted. Wall street's god, the golden calf, is to be set up as a fetich for the nation to worship. Great is the power of mammon. Supreme at last is the will of Wall street.

Who says that monopoly doesn't pay? The Puliman Car company has been declaring 8 per cent dividends on $54,000,000 of stock, and in addition a present of $18,000,000 in stock has been made to the stockholders. The stock has been watered over and over again until it is now many times the amount paid in, yet the public must pay big dividends on the whole $54,000,000. Since the Wagner and Pullman companies have united the last hope of anything better from the Pullman company has disappeared. If this were a government of the people, by the people and for the people, something would be done, and that right speedily.

suggestive cartoons in which he is made to appear as the leading man. With an air of injured innocence he declares that the position of United States senator should be one of dignity. Marcus is quite right, but unfortunately in this world, populated chiefly by sinners, of whom Mark is not the least, and what should be is not permitted to be. Senators who get their seats by bribery should be ousted and consigned to political oblivion, but instead of that they are sometimes placed at the head of their party. It is the man and not the position from which dignity must come. Some men would dignify a prison cell, while others would disgrace a throne. Marcus Aurelius Hanna doesn't belong to the first class.

The independents have been making much ado over Beveridge's speech in the senate. He was selected to go over to the Philippines because of his spouting ability and not because he is a man likely to say anything against his employer. His speech was the effort of a special pleader, and to a great extent squarely contradicts Prof. Schurman, the head of McKinley's Philippine commission. Analyzed, Beveridge's speech simply means that because the Philippines offer a good opening for American speculators and office holders and has abundant room on which to plant the American flag we should course, in the name of God and destiny. Beveridge had spent months in preparing his speech and repeated it verbatim as written, yet Senator Hoan
