

Democrats to Rule in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 20.—J. C. W. Beckham was declared Governor by the House and Senate again to-day making the sixth time these bodies have voted to seat the Democratic members of the Assembly...

Taylor will as once be notified of the joint vote, and then the matter will be taken to Court for settlement, but until ordered to surrender Taylor will remain Governor.

He will not be unwarded when he leaves the gubernatorial chair. President McKinley has sent word by a trusty lieutenant that his course in the last two weeks has incited his deepest admiration and he will see that Taylor is taken care of in the way of a foreign mission.

SOLUTION TO VEXED PROBLEM.

If Taylor remains in the State he would be the logical nominee next November, but by inducing the President to send him as Minister to some foreign country, the way is open to nominate a strong man for Governor and help out the Presidential ticket, which will also be voted for in November.

Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter, who was a disturbing element in Kentucky, Republican ranks, was removed and sent to Guatemala by McKinley, and the same plan is to be tried again.

The plan is to run ex-Governor Bradley for Governor and make a red-hot campaign, the National Republican Committee dumping a lot of cash into the fight.

Flight of Porto Rico.

Conditions Worse than During Spanish Regime. Immediate Congressional Action Absolutely Essential.

SAN JUAN, P. R., Feb. 19.—Several of the largest merchants of San Juan, upon being interviewed, unanimously expressed the opinion that immediate congressional action is absolutely essential to the interests of the island. They say that the crops are immovable, the proposed duty, under the Foraker bill, on sugar and tobacco being prohibitive. There are now 3,300,000 pounds of tobacco ready for shipment, and by August there will be 5,000,000 pounds.

There is no money to plant new crops or to pay laborers, thousands of whom are on the point of starvation, being unable to obtain work. The estates are idle, the bankers refuse to advance funds on account of the extension of mortgages; the planters are desperate and the people discouraged.

The local press expresses the opinion that the conditions of the island were better during the darkest days of the Spanish regime.

The Foraker bill would be acceptable without the duty, the merchants being willing to pay a revenue tax in lieu of the tariff, which would relieve the planters.

Pointed to Carnegie Profits.

Rev. Heber Newton Uses Them as Evidence of the Need for Government Control.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Cooper Union was filled tonight with an audience gathered to hear a discussion on the ethical basis of industrial organization. Prof. Charles Sprague Smith presided and read a letter from Rev. Dr. Heber Newton, in which the writer said:

"What a revelation of the spirit of our modern corporation has been given in the last few days in the astounding statements of the profits of the Carnegie company last year and for the present year. A company expecting to make from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 in the current year on a capital of $25,000,000, to what extent watered, we not know; asking the State to tax the whole nation under the guise of a tariff that it may be able to increase the wages of its workmen."

"No more revolting story is told than the story of the Standard Oil trust as Henry D. Floyd has given it. Regulation and control must be assumed by the State and pushed forward as fast and as far as needful. The end of that control is not to break down the high organization of capital but to safeguard it from its own greed and rapacity, to humanize it, and to naturalize it and ultimately to socialize it. The ultimate outcome of the trust seems to me what is practical in the dream of Socialism."

An Exciting Scene.

In the Death House at Sing Sing Prison—Roland B. Molineux Was Agitated.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—There was an exciting scene in the death house at Sing Sing prison this afternoon. All the men in the cages were greatly shaken. Roland B. Molineux was much agitated and was pale and drawn about the face when it was over. All the prisoners were in a similar condition. Dr. Kennedy is said to have been so affected that he could hardly stand.

Antonio Ferraro is to die next week for a murder committed in September, 1895. Since being in the death house he has proved to be most vicious and uncontrollable. Warden Johnson feared to inform him that all appeals for clemency had failed and that he might die next week. This duty he entrusted to an Italian priest from New York, who visits the condemned man occasionally. The priest went to the death house and informed Ferraro that he must expect to die any time after Sunday. The moment Ferraro heard this he burst forth into a prolonged scream. His screams in the silent room were fearful and were totally unexpected by the prisoners. For the greater part of half an hour Ferraro screamed hysterically, rushing about the cell and acting in a violent manner. Finally the priest calmed him somewhat leaving him seated on his cot rocking and moaning.

Potter county gave a majority of one thousand for the repeal of the special local option law that has been so demoralizing in many places there. The illegal selling of liquor was carried on in resorts known as "pigs cars" until they have become notorious as hot-beds of crime and the people of the county have decided that it is better to have liquor sold under the law's espionage than to undertake to suppress it through local option.

A LIVELY CLASS SCRIMMAGE AT SCOTIA.

The Freshmen and a contingent of the Sophomores of The Pennsylvania State College had a lively class scrimmage at Scotia on Monday afternoon and the residents of that place had a fine opportunity of witnessing a very amusing class scrap.

It was a result of the departure of the Freshmen for their annual class banquet. In this undertaking they are always opposed by the Sophomores, who are ever watchful to frustrate the plans of their junior classmen. Of course the Freshies keep as quiet as they can, but it is scarcely possible for a body of fifty or seventy five men to slip away from an institution without being discovered by someone and should the discoverer be a Sophomore the rallying cry of that class brings his mates to the scene and they try to prevent the departure of the Freshmen, kidnap their president, or play some other trick on them by physical force.

Last Monday the Freshmen, fifty in number, started for Tyrone for their banquet at the Ward house that night. The Sophs got wind of their plans and twenty-five of them boarded the same train. At Scotia the banqueters were all in one car and when they started to get out to catch an L. & T. train the Sophs tried to hold them in, so that they would miss the train and not get to Tyrone in time for their "feed."

A lively scrap followed, the door of the car was broken, several windows and seats smashed, plenty of heads bruised and clothing tattered, but finally the Freshmen conquered and went their way rejoicing, though looking decidedly the worse for the melee they had been in.

This "scrap" is purely an amusing incident in the college men's lives. It is not engendered by any malice and is as much a part of the course at the larger institutions of learning as if recognized as part of it by their faculties. If any damage is done to property it is nearly always of trivial nature and immediately paid for by the collegians and no one's comfort is disturbed except that of the boys who go into the "scrap" cheerfully and would be disappointed if they did not have it.

The Tyrone Herald, usually a very sensible paper, takes a highly distorted view of the episode.

COUNCIL IN SESSION.

—There were seven members present at council meeting Monday night and the following business transacted:

Jno. M. Dale Esq appeared and reported the bad condition of an alley at the rear of his home on east Linn street. The Street committee then reported that the alley had been fixed up as best it can until spring. The committee also recommended the laying of new walks in front of the Scott and Shoemaker properties on North Thomas street. Council then voted that the owners of it and the Curtin estate be notified to lay walks needed within twenty days.

The Water committee reported the boilers at the water works examined by an expert and pronounced in good condition, with the pumps running twenty-four hours a day. Ed Swiler asked to have water extended to his new house on Beaver street. Acting upon the complaint of C. M. Bower Esq., that there is a daily scarcity of water at his home on east Linn street, Mr. Houser recommended that council take steps to carry into execution the plans for the raising of the reservoir eight feet. The borough engineer was instructed to make an estimate of it and the cost of the work and report at the next meeting.

The ordinance opening Shaffer alley, the new way connecting east High and Bishop streets was adopted.

It was directed that the Finance committee rent the upper story of the old Udine house, on Logan street, for $2 per month. James R. Hughes appeared and asked council to re-imburse him for damages to a wagon in which he was driving on High street during institute week in December. Mr. Hughes had started with a party of ladies from the Bush house and when in front of Richard's store his horses took fright at a traction engine coming down street. They wheeled about, smashing in the front wheel of the trap. Complainant averred that he had had no warning from the people in charge of the engine, but council insisted that the responsibility did not rest with it and laid the matter on the table.

The following bills were approved and the meeting adjourned:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Amount. Includes R. Keller Co., A. Allison, Street pay roll, Hogarth & Hoffman, Ardell Lantz, Water pay roll, P. B. Crider & Son, W. B. Rankin, G. L. Potter, A. Allison, H. B. Fontius, J. H. Johnson, P. B. Crider & Son, Joshua Folk, Wilbur F. Harris, R. B. Taylor.

James Vallance Writes from the Philippines.

In His Own Inimitable Style the Ex-Cigar Roller Tells of His Experience as a Musketier.

When the 47th U. S. Vol. Inf., sailed from New York on the transport Thomas there were many Bellefonte boys with it. One wore the straps of a lieutenant, several the chevrons of the non-com. and quite a number were plain, every day private soldiers. There were many good fellows among them, but in the lot there was no more unique character than private Jim Vallance. Of course he isn't just the sort of fellow who would stand up in an old fashioned Methodist meeting to tell his experience, but if he lives to get home there will be a deluge of stories such as this town has never heard before about army life in the Philippines and the First national bank steps will be crowded every pleasant evening until Jim has run dry.

He has just enough Irish in him to make him smooth of speech and when it comes to fixing up a story with the proper trimmings he can make all the other members of the famous "Sons of Rest" mute as a sheeny with his hands tied. The letter below is to his fellow "Son," George Weaver, and is dated.

San Pedro, Macati, Dec. 30th, '99.

FRIEND GEORGE: I will now try and write you a few lines to let you know that I am still in the land of the living; at present feeling well and happy as a fellow can under the circumstances.

We arrived in Manila bay after being out forty-nine days from New York and en route touched at Gibraltar, Malta, Port Said, Suez and Singapore and if I ever get back I will sit down on the old bank steps and make you weary telling you about the trip. I am writing this in a Spanish General's house; that is, it was once, but we are using it now as a barracks.

We are on the firing line, but have not seen much excitement, except when on outpost duty the other night they sent a few snipers after us and proved that a tin soldier would not get much show, as it is the real thing that we are up against. Our company is the first company in the first battalion and as Maj. Wise, who has the reputation of being the hottest fighter who has ever come over, joined us at Manila, we expect to do some business before we get home.

This is a great country, hotter than hades and the natives run wild with little on them; occasionally having a handkerchief or banana leaf hanging from a string about their waists. The Utah battery put this town on the bum proper. It has been shelled from the Pasig river and you can bet they made a good job of it. It looks like a city that has been the scene of the sack after they had been "shelled" by the fakirs in the wake of Wallace's circus. The 21st Regulars are here from the north and they are the best and the best cut up. To tell the truth it looks as if the trouble is only beginning. We are stationed about half a mile from where Gen. Lawton was killed and he killed the very spot only two days before.

Wierd sights confront you here on all sides. Churches are torn to pieces and the dead scattered about from wrecked vaults that had not been opened for hundreds of years. Old convents and fortresses, centuries old, are blown to pieces and some of the scenes uncovered are nothing fierce. As far as I have been able to observe the land seems prolific of bananas, rice, cocoa nuts and monkeys.

Manila is a great city. It is a beautiful place and you might imagine the effect of the houses and parks verdant with such plants and trees as we see only in the hot houses at home. The things in general are different. The houses of the natives are nothing but a few bamboo poles; in fact they could scarcely be called houses, but they are so cute looking that I am at a loss to name them properly.

Oh, for one good drink of Bellefonte water. The fluid we get here is not fit to drink without being boiled first. Tell Reddy Smith he is missing half of his life, but if he was here he might miss all of it, and that is no joke.

From your friend, JAMES VALLANCE.

Centre Hall.

Finley Stover, of Potters Mills, and Miss Mary Koch daughter of George W. Koch were married in Bellefonte on Wednesday by the Rev. Reich of the Lutheran church.

Two more horse sales will be held at Runkle's hotel, on March 1st and 3rd, by Benjamin Gentzell, of near Zion; and C. G. Meyers, of Colbin, Ill., respectively.

James Durst, who in the spring will go to farming near Potters Mills, bought the finest team of draught horses offered at the horse sale yesterday (Thursday).

Will Boozer is assisting wiring and putting in phones for the Commercial telephone company at Lock Haven. He also looks after the lines somewhat here at his home.

The Misses Bible will build a new front to their farm house, below town, next summer. The old log part of the dwelling will be torn down. This structure is an old landmark, but its days of usefulness are about passed.

The election passed off quietly, but not without those having the ballot-itch scratching, for entirely personal reasons. The result was that those who were scratched the hardest had the largest majorities.

James Stahl was up to Newton Hamilton recently and brought back with him his father who will make his home here in the future. James will build an addition to his house which the elder Stahl and his daughter, Miss Jennie, will occupy.

Wm. Strunk and Oliver U. Strunk will move from Centre Hall. The senior Strunk will take up his residence with his mother at Green Grove, near Penn Hall, and Oliver will move there likely live for a year at Sprucetown. The Strunks sold their shingle mill and will now operate a portable saw mill the first contract being to cut a tract on the Arney farm now owned by the Homans.

Edward Foreman, our energetic builder and contractor, was married, Wednesday, to Miss Mary Goodhart. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, William Goodhart, at Penn's Cove station with only a few guests present but all the accessories of a promising, happy wedding. The groom is a young man of sterling worth and discerning ambition with many friends who wish him and his happiness and success.

The musical convention held last week in the United Evangelical church was an entire success. The concerts were well attended, and those who sang without exception would be entitled to personal notice but for want of space. The trustees of the church were much pleased upon entering the building Saturday morning to find that that furniture or fixtures were in no way damaged from the entire week's use. Neither were the floors soiled with tobacco, which speaks highly for the respect shown to their church.

The borough public schools had a special program for Washington's birthday. Each of the four schools had their own exercises. Some of the citizens and parents of scholars who take an interest in school work were present to witness the exercises. The amount raised for the soldier's monument in the different schools amounted to $10.01. Of that the High school, of which Prof. Wagonseller is the teacher, contributed $1.75; the grammar school taught by D. W. Geiss $2.06; secondary grade, S. H. Foreman teacher, .60, and the primary, Miss Annie Bartholomew's school, .55.00.

Barton's performance in the grange Arcadia Thursday and Saturday nights of last week were all that could be expected. He is, to say the least, a clever man. The Amazon march was very pretty and correct. The various business firms had their representatives decorated in good style and in some instances great artistic skill was shown. The grange Arcadia is now ready for business with five full sets of scenery composed of a street, parlor, kitchen, wood and prison scenes.

The ceiling and walls are handsomely decorated. All that remains to now make the hall first-class in every respect is to replace the temporary seats for those up to date, which will be done soon as possible. The meetings held in the Lutheran church are being well attended. They are conducted by evangelist Warden.

The Reformed class met in extra session at this place Tuesday and installed Rev. Kerschner and dismissed Rev. George, of the Rebersburg charge, and Rev. Runkle, of the Nittany valley charge.

Nittany.

Mrs. J. H. Beck has gone to visit her daughter, Mrs. W. Brant at Mt. Joy. Wm. Snavely shipped $40 worth of furs to commission men last week.

Rev. Bergen, of the Disciple church, preached in the chapel Sunday evening. Is this the 19th or 20th century? Ask Ed. Peck and James Irvin for the answer.

Quite a number of our young men have gone to Gracetown to work in the coal mines. Orwig has received the machinery for his new saw mill, which burned several weeks ago.

Howard Zerby sold a choice Guernsey cow this week. He keeps nothing but choice stock.

Sheriff Joe Emerick is collecting his remnant taxes and has proven himself an excellent supervisor.

Frank Emerick Jr. has severed his connections here on the R. R. division and gone to Logan, Moffin county.

Mr. Orndorf, of Green Burr, came to Huston for a load of coal and by a misstep, fell and broke his arm while here.

Members of the Evangelical church will hold a chicken and waffle supper in their church Saturday evening, Feb. 24th.

Mrs. Chas. Beck is seriously ill with heart trouble at present; the family have the sympathy of the entire community during their affliction.

Mrs. Robb has bought a house in Bellefonte and is preparing for sale here. Her greatest dilemma is what shall I keep and what shall I sell.

John A. Dorman, the clampon coon hunter, is devoting his time to repairing boots and shoes for a change from slaughtering the possum and skunk.

Mrs. Samuel Showers and her daughter, Mrs. Dan Diehl, have been ill the last two weeks with bad colds and sore throats. Mrs. Charles McClintic is also on the list of sick.

Elmer Snavely and Wm. Showers, two first class mechanics, were running the saw mill, owned by Al Spayd. The owner being laid up for repairs, logs accumulated in abundance.

John Shields, who had been laid off the R. R. division during summer on account of lame shoulder, is again afflicted, but this time his twinges are located in the ankle; his limb being very painful.

Rev. Emer, presiding elder of the Evangelical church, held communion services here last Sunday and also delivered an excellent sermon. Rev. Searls, one of the best educated ministers ever located in this charge, assisted in the services.

Tommy Bartley has some notion of having M. D. attached to his name. His wife had an attack of grip and thinking quinine tablets would assist the physician's prescription he administered several tablets, which caused her to become seriously ill. Dr. McCormick was soon at hand and advised proper treatment and the invalid is now in a hearty condition, Tom has taken his shingle down and it reads "I'll be a farmer."

Millhelm.

The entire Democratic ticket was elected in the borough.

Frank Woomer and Harper Springer, of Bellefonte, were in Millhelm Sunday.

Mr. Allie Homan, of Saxton, was the guest of Miss Mabel Zeigler, Friday and Saturday last.

Quite a few of our people attended the several concerts given by the convention at Centre Hall last week.

Mrs. S. M. Campbell gave a party at her home for her Sunday school class last Tuesday evening.

Charles Schaeffer, who is taking the creamery course at State College Sunday with his Millhelm friends.

Misses Kate and Nettie Stover, of Madisonburg, were the guests of their sister, Mrs. F. E. Gutelius, Tuesday.

Lewis Hassinger, Jacob Raymond, Oscar Wirt and John Wirt, with their families, will move to Patton, Cambria county, where they have procured employment in the tile works some time in the spring.

George Springer, the barber, sold his bird dog, Fan, last week, for $45. The dog was a Llewellyn setter bitch which had been raised and trained by Mr. Springer, himself. This is the second dog who he has sold.

The car load of horses bought for Frank Foreman by Messrs. F. O. Hosterman and Samuel Ulrich, was shipped to Philadelphia Tuesday morning. Geo. Strauser also shipped a load to Manheim, Lancaster county, Wednesday morning.

Miss Jessie Harter, of State College, came from her home to take charge of the domestic affairs in the family of her uncle, Wm. Miller. Some time ago Mrs. Miller while going up the steps fell and injured her right knee. Until about a week ago she was able to walk about and attend her household duties but since then the wound started to heal and now she is unable to walk.

The local K. G. E. lodge has invested in a polyphone and numerous records for the same. The songs, musical selections and recitations are as realistic as it is possible for a phonograph to make them. One number which is particularly fine is a reproduction of the chimes of Trinity church, New York city. The K. G. E. are certainly progressive which is plainly shown by their rapidly increasing treasury.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

Mr. Ernest Seton-Thompson, the author of "Wild Animals I Have Known," and whose "Biography of a Grizzly" will soon be published by the Century Co., has written for The Century Magazine several articles on "The National Zoo" at Washington, the first one of which will appear in the March number, with illustrations by the author.

Mr. Seton-Thompson, in this article, will make a powerful plea for the preservation of wild animals now threatened with extinction. He raises a question as to whether domestic animals have not been of more value to mankind than human inventions.

Everybody's Magazine for March is rich in that sort of pleasant reading that combines instruction with quick and easy interest.

Of the important articles is "A Glimpse of the Gern World," by G. W. Winterburn, M. D. This is the simple explanation for the month, and takes up the subject of bacteria and the enormous amount of good they do to humanity. Theodore Tacy tells of "The Silk Industry in America." His article is the first in the series "Great American Industries," and tells a remarkable story of a wonderful success following unnumbered failures. There are fifteen short stories and articles of the type dictated by the policy of this magazine, snappy, bright, interesting and clean.

Sim the Clothier.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT.

"SIM THE CLOTHIER," REYNOLDS' BANK BUILDING, ALLEGHENY STREET.

Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 27th, 1900.

DEAR SIR:

I desire to announce that I will open a first class Clothing and Gents' Furnishing store, which will be located in the vacant room of Reynolds' Bank Building, Allegheny street, Bellefonte, Pa., and it will be known as "SIM THE CLOTHIER."

During the past twelve years I was connected with the firm of Messrs. Montgomery & Co., in this place, as a buyer and salesman, and in that time I had ample opportunity to study the wants of our people and gain a good idea of what is required in this branch of trade; and it will be my ambition to give this venture the full benefit of that experience.

The store will contain an entirely new selection, as I have just returned from the Eastern cities where I selected the very latest and choicest goods on the market. It will be "up-to-date" in every particular, embracing those goods that will be popular and principally worn the coming season which every purchaser will appreciate. The stock will be large and carefully selected, to supply every grade of wearing apparel for men, boys and children and the best that the market affords.

I hope to merit, at least, a share of your patronage by being able to supply your wants, both as to the quality of goods offered and the low prices at which the same will be sold. The store will be opened March 1st, 1900, and I hereby extend a cordial invitation to you to call upon me on or after that date and see what I have to offer. It will be a pleasure to greet you, whether you purchase or not.

Yours very respectfully, SIM BAUM.
