JOHN CAMPBELL DIED AT JOHNSTOWN. -Old age was the cause of the death of John Campbell, who died at Johnstown last Friday afternoon. He was a wellknown resident of that place, where he had resided since leaving here in July, 1883. For many years Mr. Campbell was one of Bellefonte's leading carpenters and builders, having resided on Willowbank street when a resident of this place. He was 76 years old and is survived by his widow and the following children : Frank, of Bellefonte; Harry, of Glen Richey; Mrs.

Clint Lindsay, Walter, John and Chestie. of Johnstown. Interment was made in that place. -Aaron Stein died at his home in San Francisco last Friday. He was a native of Chester county, this State, but in the early days the family went West, where Aaron started in the service of the Overland Stage

Co. He prospered and died in a position of affluence. In 1856 he visited Philipsburg for his health and there met Mrs. Clara De Russ, an attractive widow. An attachment sprung up between them that was taking his seat in the sleigh one of the was quite romantic in its nature and in 1884 she journeyed to Los Angeles, where they were married. She survives him.

"ROBERT HARDY'S SEVEN DAYS."-In this issue the WATCHMAN begins in serial form Rev. Charles M. Sheldon's latest story, "Robert Hardy's Seven Days." Aside from the interest the author's recent noted attempt to ran a great daily newspaper "as Jesus would do it" attaches to the work it will be found to be deeply in-

It is the story of a rich man's last seven days of life. How he spent that brief period in trying to make amends to his Creator for having lived fifty years beneath a veneer of selfishness that knew but one law-that of self.

We call your attention to the story because of the prominence of its author, the interest of the story itself and the good it will undoubtedly do all who read it.

A HOWARD CHURCH SCORCHED BY FIRE .- The new church of the Disciples in Christ at Howard narrowly escaped destruction by fire shortly after noon last Sunday. The congregation had only dispersed from the morning service when the flames were discovered.

The alarm brought the local fire organization to the scene promptly and its efficient work saved the building, as well as adjacent property.

The church is heated by a large stove, the flue for which proved defective, thus causing the conflagration. Damage to the amount of $200 was sustained; the loss being fully covered by insurance in the Rankin agency in this place.
