as pleated seams—that is, a series of stitched pleats down each side of the seam. -It is claimed that twenty pounds of pork (live hog) can be made from one bu. of corn, but no portion of the corn must be wasted by lack of warm shelter or a variety The effect is also given in circular skirts where a bunch of stitched pleats is put to-gether at every 12 or 15 inches apart. Both these skirts flare from the knees depend on the condition of management. Corn and milk will give greater gain than down, and the bottom is usually finished can be obtained from corn without milk, or from milk without corn, for the reason that one kind of food supplies some element that may be lacking in the other. Corn is deficient in lime yet lime is essential in producing bone. Milk and cut clover pressed velvet on heavy fabrics. One of the newest skirts has the front gore plain, the top of the side gore fitting and the lower three-quarters of the side gore laid in tucks and stitched to the top (scalded) and bran contain lime, but are of the side gore by a small cloth band. The tight-fitting top of the side gore is not as fattening as corn. A combination of foods cheapens the cost of corn and other substances, because there is a greater gain often trimmed in some way. For a slim woman the prettiest method in the weight of the animal.

is a fitted piece of deep yellow lace cut in points, these points reaching down on the tucks. -There may be other grasses just as beautiful for an early spring or late fall lawn as blue grass, but I have not seen them. The trouble with blue grass is that With a stout woman the trimming may be of pointed bands of half-inch wide tafit is no grass for the heated part of the year. Taking all things into consideration one would probably be more satisfied with a feta or liberty satin. The tucks of the side gore are stitched down nearly to the bottom and the front seams are outlined grass that does not become dry and dead during the summer. Nothing is more orna-mental than a shapely arbor covered with some leafy vine. For this purpose wild grape is both hardy and of a beautiful shade with either taffeta or lace. Women are delighted over this skirt, and find it one of the most agreeable styles for spring. Another skirt shows the front gore in a contrasting material, while the sides and backs are laid in groups of tucks. of green It will furnish an abundance of shade. Woven wire fencing makes an excellent trellis for vines. The only drawback is that the wire becomes heated in the sun and burns the vines. Unless the vines are heavy enough to shade the wire, it is Before the warm weather begins every precaution which cleanliness and care can give should be taken to remove all debris not advisable to use the fencing. -Avoid not only from the precincts of the cellar and kitchen, but from the yard and the vistiffness. Make circles and curves the rule. stiffness. Make circles and curves the rule. Do not make a straight path where it is possible to make a winding one. This may not be considered sensible by this business like age, but it adds beauty to a lawn. —Do not feed musty hay to dairy cows, nor, in fact, any kind of fodder that is musty. Moldy feed is a bad thing to have around in any case and should be thrown out. Us-ing it as cow bedding is likely to make the cloth gowns, but, although it is no longer ing it as cow bedding is likely to make the matter worse, for the whole stable will be scented with it, and in the morning when the milk is drawn it will certainly be taint-ed and this taint will grow as the cream ripens. It is not advisable to use this for bedding and depend on airing the barn enough in the morning to get the smell out.
