The Approach of a Democratic County

Next Saturday, June 2nd, the primary election for the choice and instruction of delegates to the Democratic County Convention to convene in the court house here on the following Tuesday, June 5th, will be held. While the contest has been restricted to but one office the result is none the less important to the people of Centre county. This is not to say that any mistake could be made in selecting either one on the other of the several gentlemen who are in the field for legislative honors, but it is imperative that such a selection be made without introducing any element of discord in the various precinct primaries.

The present outlook is such as to warrant the statement that Democratic Assemblymen will certainly be elected to represent Centre county in the next Legislature, but the extremity is so vital to the welfare of the State and the honor of the county that not a single risk be taken. And for this reason the WATCHMAN urges all who have an interest in naming the candidates to attend the polls on Saturday and express their preference; knowing that when that is done there can be no dissatisfaction when the will of the majority records its verdict in the convention on Tuesday.

Make your fight at the primaries in the good spirit that should pervade all political contests, so that after the convention has done its work, if you have lost, you will have no regret and no scores to settle, for state officers, must necessarily be setbut like good Democrats will be able to tled by the political branch of the governroll up your sleeves and work for the men whom the majority have made your standard bearers.

United States Supreme Court Decides Kentucky Governorship Case.

Opinion of Chief Justice Fuller. Main Point Made is that the Case is Purely One for Kentucky to Decide. Taylor Says He Expected Nothing Else. Coming Campaigh Will be Warm.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The United States Supreme court to-day decided the Governorship case in favor of Governor Beckham, dismissing the writ of error from the Kentucky court of appeals. The opinion was handed down by Justice Fuller and the case dismissed for want of jurisdiction. He said the court should be the last to overstep the bounds limiting its jurisdiction and that the determination of cases of this character, contests ment. That branch had acted in the Kentucky case when the General Assembly took jurisdiction. TAYLOR HAS LITTLE TO SAY. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 21.—Governor Taylor arrived in the city from Frankfort to-day and went at once to the custom After reading the Associated Press dispatch from Washington announcing the Supreme court decision the Governor said : "I rather expected the decision would be against me. The adverse rulings of the state courts here made a sort of pessimist of me and I am not surprised that the error. This is not a time to talk. I will only reiterate my former statements in regard to the nomination, that it will depend on the will of the people." NEXT FALL'S CAMPAIGN WILL BE HOT. FRANKFORT, Ky., May 21.—Fire bells were rung and wild demonstrations occurred on the streets on the part of the Democrats when the news of the decision came from Washington. The decision means that there will be the hottest election in Kentucky for Governor next November that was ever known in the Commonwealth. Goebel on February 3rd, and under the law can only serve until the election of his successor at the next election. It is be-lieved Beckham will be the Democratic nominee and former Governor Taylor the Republican nominee. ator McClelland, of New York; President J. W. Bashford, of Ohio Wesleyan University, and many others taking part in the discussion. The majority of the speakers favored the admission of women. Dr. Chas. W. Smith, of the special committee closed the debate on the question, which he said, covered a wide range, from the Garden of Eden to the Day of Judgment. Amid tremenduous applause the motion to substitute the words "lav members" in section 1 and 5 of article 3, for the words 'layman" which has been agitating the Methodist church for a generation was settled in favor of the women.

This was the last point in dispute in the report on organic law of the church, and after a short debate the report of the commission as amended during the past few days was adopted by more than the necessary three fourths vote. The constitution, as approved by the General Conference will go to the 124 annual Conferences for final action. The Conference then adjourn-
