THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

A patent was granted recently to L. C. Wetzel, of this place, for a catch and lock.

Work is being pushed along amazingly fast on the Centennial now. It is going to be a rousing celebration.

Mrs. Matt Dooley, who has been so seriously ill for months, has improved so in the last few days that her friends are greatly encouraged about her condition.

Among the recent pensions granted are John T. Tate and Solomon W. Fry, both of Bellefonte, for $10 each, per month, also Samuel Zimmerman, of Milesburg, for $8 per month.

The plant of the Harrison Hosiery Co. at Millheim is to be lighted by electricity. A dynamo has been purchased and the surplus engine power will be utilized in running it.

The Pennsylvania R. R. Co. gardeners have been here and the flower beds about the station are well started in growth towards the beautiful condition they appear in later in the season.

Unofficial reports from the returns of the census enumerators in Bellefonte show an increase of population of about 1,000 in the borough. It will probably be in the neighborhood of 4,800.

Marion the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bauer, of Bishop street, while playing in her father's store, Monday, fell, striking her forehead and cutting it severely against a pair of scales.

On Saturday night the Meyer Bros. saw-mill near Coburn caught fire and was totally destroyed. It is supposed to have been caused from an engine spark. The loss is $600. No insurance. The mill will be rebuilt at once.

The old Christian church at Flemington is being torn down and an edifice, one story high will be erected on the same site. The new building will be 40x50 feet in dimensions, and it is expected will be completed about September 1st.

It is beginning to look as if the first meet of the Bellefonte Driving Association, on July 25th and 26th, will be very much of a success. On Wednesday four entries were received for horses from one of the best stables in Union county.

Capt. A. C. Mingle purchased the Parson's properties on Bishop and Logan streets at private sale for $2,850. At the time it was offered at public sale contractor Wm. Steele ran it up to over $2,600, but it was not sold at his offer.

Miss Myrtle Longacre has taken the place in the Bell exchange here made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Harry Yeager, who served the patrons of that corporation so faithfully before her marriage. Miss Margaret Teats becomes head operator and succeeds to the flower agencies held by Miss Triple.

Miss Esther Gray, youngest daughter of Mrs. Emma T. Gray, formerly of Philipsburg, but now matron of the Stroudsburg Normal school, was recently graduated from the Wyoming Seminary, at Kingston, with the highest honors in her class. She completed the four years course at that institution in two years and two terms.

Eleven students of the electrical engineering course under the care of F. F. Thompson, left State College yesterday morning for a week's visit and inspection of the great electrical plants in New York city. Eight of the mechanical engineering department left on the same train in charge of C. L. Griffin for a week's work in Philadelphia.

"Bill" Walker is back in town for the summer and the trout are necessarily being hooked out of Spring creek at an unusual rate. He arrived home Thursday night and the next morning the first thing he did was to land a trout out of the Bush house dam that was 16 inches long and weighed one pound and 9 oz after it was cleaned, that is, the trout did. He caught it on a red lizard.

James Finnegan was arrested and held under $400 bail before justice Sandford in Philipsburg on Tuesday evening, for selling liquor to minors, selling it on Sunday, and selling without license. His brother went on his bond for his appearance at court. Reuben Freeman, colored, at whose house Finnegan's "speak easy" was run, was also held under the same bond for his appearance here at court.

Constable George Miller, of Spring township, has issued warning to property owners within his district to the effect that he proposes carrying to enforcement the law regarding the extermination of Canada thistle. Constable Miller intends to do his duty, no matter who it hits, so the people of Spring township who have Canada thistle on their property had better start digging it out. It is far cheaper to destroy it yourself than to pay the law's price.

Work at the new fair grounds is progressing nicely. The water was turned out of the old and into the new channel on Wednesday and now the work of grading can be pushed along with greater speed. The drying up of the old creek bed was the signal for hundreds of boys to gather there and nearly every one of them came home with a nice string of suckers. Very few trout were seen and none are known to have been caught.

COUNCIL AND THE BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS.—All of the members of council were present at the meeting Monday evening and the following business was transacted:

C. M. Bower, as chairman of the committee on location for the soldiers' and sailors' monument, appeared and informed council that a site had been selected in the Diamond just west of the long crossing from First National bank to Blair's jewelry store. The plot is in the shape of a Keystone and takes up about 800 sq. ft. of the Diamond. Council acted unanimously upon an ordinance making the grant presented by Mr. Bower.

The Street committee reported the laying of several new crossings and sundry repairs. The Water committee reported work progressing on the pipe laying on North Allegheny street. The Fire and Police committee brought before council the probable need of extra policemen during the Centennial and the committee was given power to act in the matter, to purchase extra helmets and to mount several officers whose duty it will be to precede the parades.

The finance committee of the Centennial was present and asked for an appropriation of $500 from the borough. After some discussion it was unanimously granted.

The Burgess reported the collection of $30 in fines during the month. The market committee was instructed to cause the arrest of all huxsters found hawking produce on the streets earlier than 9 o'clock in the morning.

Probably the most important bit of business that came before the body was the instructing of the Nuisance committee to act in the matter of cleaning up the creek bed between the High street bridge and the water works. It has long been a disgrace and an eye sore but it remains to be seen whether this committee will be any more diligent in doing the work than several of its predecessors have been.

After approving bills to the amount of $760.55 council adjourned.

THE MULE BUCKED.—Jacob Spangler, a young man employed on the farm of Henry Gingerich near Linden Hall, met with a singular and serious mishap a few days ago.

He was working down with a mule and when the dinner bell rang he unwhipped, mounted the animal and started across the field to the house. He had gone but a short distance when the mule began bucking and Spangler was unseated. In falling off he was unable to extricate his one foot from the harness, but hopped on the other one, thus keeping himself up for a short distance. Then the mule began to gallop and being no longer able to run on one foot the unfortunate man fell over and was dragged about 80 rods, when his shoe tore off, leaving him free.

Elmer Campbell and some of the Gingerichs found him in the lane in a deplorable condition. Both bones of his right leg were broken, several ribs were broken, back and hip bruised, the skin torn in many places, but fortunately there was only a slight hurt on his head. Dr. Kidder was called and gave him the necessary medical attention.

Spangler is an unmarried man, 33 years old. His home is at Tylersville.

AN AFTERNOON WEDDING.—The marriage of Ruth E. Triple, youngest daughter of the late William S. Triple, and Harry C. Yeager, which was celebrated on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. D. Triple, on Spring street, was a very quiet affair on account of both families being in mourning. Rev. Dr. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. There were no attendants and only the members of the two families were present.

The bride, who is a most pleasant and affable girl, was gowned in grey with veiling trimmed with accordion pleating, ruchings and ruffles. Her going away gown was a dark grey tailor-made of Irish frieze. A luncheon was served directly after the ceremony and the young people, accompanied by several of the guests drove to Milesburg, whence they left on the 4:44 train for Pittsburgh. Upon returning they will go at once to the Brant house, of which the groom has been the nominal proprietor since the death of his father.

Not an invitation was issued for the wedding but that the young people have the good will and wishes of many friends was evidenced by the number of handsome presents they received. From the patrons of the Bell telephone exchange, where the bride had been head operator for several years, was fifty dollars in gold, while a silver set was the gift of the groom's employer.

CENTENNIAL PLANS MATURING.—The latest news as to the coming Centennial is the announcement of the Finance committee that the Bellefonte council has appropriated $500 to the fund and the County Commissioners have done still better by appropriating $1,000.

The Decoration committee has finally decided on the following plan for street decorations: There will be a great flag, with pennants, hung at every approach to the town; at each corner of the High street bridge will be erected a column and on the centre a high flag staff from the top of which the columns will drape lines of streamers giving a canopy effect; across High street, between McGinley's cigar store and Bezers', the principal arch will be erected upon which will be mounted a brilliant electrical banner, then columns crowned with colored lights will enclose the entire Diamond in a Court of Honor; other columns will be erected at Bishop and Allegheny streets and at Howard and Allegheny streets.

J. M. Rossman has been appointed postmaster at Clintondale.

A charter was granted, Tuesday, at Harrisburg, to the Karthaus Coal Mining company. The capital stock is $3,000.

For ten cents you can have a dish of good ice cream, in the basement of the Evangelical church, on Friday and Saturday evenings.

The production of "Vermont," which was to have been made in Lock Haven, Wednesday evening, was postponed on account of the death of Miss Elizabeth Sloan, one of the participants.

At the milk separating station at Fiedler there are seventy-five regular patrons. On Monday the pay for two weeks amounted to $260 for milk alone and over $300 for eggs.

Landlord D. H. Rhule will retire from the management of the Spring Mills hotel on the 28th and his son Edward will succeed him. Ill health has caused the veteran host to quit.

Mallory and Taylor, the Bellefonte artist photographers, have been given the official souvenir for the Centennial. They will issue such a book of photographs of scenes and historic points in Centre county as will make it valuable not only as a thing of beauty, but as an authentic reference book as well.

At Eagles Mere Chautauqua, July 18th to 24th, the Pennsylvania State S. S. Association will hold a remarkable summer school for primary and junior workers, with special work also to help superintendents and officers of the main school. Tuition is free. Boarding at low rates; apply to E. R. Keiss, Hughesville, Pa. Specially low rate on railroad from Williamsport.

The Juniata valley camp meeting association has issued its twenty-ninth annual circular containing much information about the expenses, accommodations and advantages of the Newton Hamilton grounds. The hotel will be opened on July the first, and the grounds ready for occupancy by August the first, but the camp meeting proper does not begin until Aug. 14th.

At a meeting held in Lock Haven Monday afternoon, it was decided that the Reformed churches and Sunday schools of Nittany valley, Bellefonte and Lock Haven, shall hold a union picnic at Hecla either on the 19th or 20th of July. It was also decided that invitations be sent to the churches and Sunday schools at Rebersburg, Centre Hall, Boalsburg and Williamsport, and A. Lukenbach, of this place, attended the meeting.

Under the bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the benefit of the militia, which has become a law, Pennsylvania will receive $60,000 to further promote the efficiency of its National Guard. This is the largest sum allotted to any State, with one exception, New York being entitled to $77,500. Heretofore the amount appropriated by the national government was $400,000. The appropriation to States is in the form of arms and equipments, no money being directly transferred from the United States treasury to any of the States.

The Pennsylvania railroad's new stone bridge now being erected across the Susquehanna river at Marysville will have four tracks and 48 spans, each 70 feet long. It will have a total length of 3,859 feet and when completed will be one of the largest stone bridges in the United States. The greater part of the stone for this great viaduct are secured from the granite quarries at Conewago. The outside casting is made from out stone. This is a shell of masonry. The inside will be wholly of concrete made of crushed stone and cement. The arches are being made of out stone. In the concrete base large steel rails will be placed to keep the stone work in tact against any strain.

Miss de Velasco, of New York, whose cleverness and amiability makes her ever a most welcome visitor here, was chairman of the committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution which recently unveiled a silver tablet at the old Avery homestead, in Westchester Co., N.Y., with such gratifying success. It may interest some of our readers to know that the chapter to which she belongs, the New York City chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, is the largest in that national society of more than thirty one thousand patriotic women. It has a membership of over four hundred, with Mrs. Donald McLean regent, and the tablet was given and affixed by it to the old brick Dutch oven to commemorate the heroism and patriotic services of Captain Thaddeus Avery and his wife.

Children's day services in the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday were very good. The sermon in the morning was for the little children and the pastor, Rev. W. P. Shriner, preached a very fitting and vitally important one for them. The service began at six o'clock. They were long, as usual, but so interesting that no one but the old growler complained. The little ones of the primary department did exceptionally well and their singing far out rang that of the older scholars. Little Miss Martha Barnhart, with her recitation "The Origin of the Violets," and Alice Lowry, who sang, were the stars and favorites of the evening. The collection of the day, which is always for educational purposes, amounted to $35.66.

AT THE ACADEMY.—Never in the history of the Bellefonte Academy has it had such a successful or prosperous year as the one just past. The dormitories were full and the work done in all departments was most satisfactory. Indeed it was so satisfactory that the faculty and scholars separated for the summer vacation the teachers were all re-engaged and many of the pupils registered for next term. It has always been a good school and now it is taking on the proportion of a big school for there are so many scholars that the corps of teachers has had to be increased. Maurice J. Babb, a graduate of Haverford college, who has been teaching mathematics at Dickinson Seminary in Williamsport for the last four years, has been secured to assist Rev. James P. Hughes, the principal, in the science and mathematical department. Miss Lawrence will have charge of the girls' department and teach English and modern language. She is Miss Julia Reed's successor and in succeeding that excellent teacher had quite a difficult position to fill. Miss Edith E. Wertz has been retained as head of the intermediate school, while the primary department, which has grown and thrived under Miss Overton's capable management until it is one of the successes of the institution, will continue under her care.

Prof. James R. Hughes, head master and teacher of classics, with Mrs. Hughes and Miss Overton are now out camping on the Allegheny mountains eight miles from Beech Creek with a party of their students. They went Monday to stay ten days or two weeks. With them are Joe and Helen White, Mary Crider, Helen and Roxie Mullen, Jennie Harper and Dick Quigley and Will Merry, of Beech Creek. Mr. James will not spend the summer at Cape May this season, as he has been doing for some years, but is going up into the northwestern part of the State to spend his vacation which began on Monday.

THE COMING CIRCUS.—The Rhoda Royal show, that is billed for this place, comes well and strongly endorsed by the press throughout the country and the many people who have witnessed its performances. This is nothing strange, however, when the sterling merits of its attractions and the experience of its executive staff is considered. The show has made a reputation for itself it is justly proud of, and this reputation has only been secured by fulfilling every promise made, dealing squarely with its patrons and furnishing a high class exhibition. The array of talent with this aggregation places it among the foremost of the many railroad shows of the season, and everywhere a hearty welcome has been accorded to it. One disagreeable element is conspicuous in its absence—that the rougher elements. The attaches of the show have received unlimited praise for their politeness and courteous treatment of patrons. Every town or city in which this amusement enterprise has been filled by the best of the amusement loving public. The features are certainly calculated to please and this fact, coupled with the carefully considered reputation of the show in general, has established for it a record that cannot fail to recommend it to all. Manager I. V. Strebis says: "The great Rhoda Royal show intend to win for itself a reputation solely on its merits. We make no promises we do not fulfill; advertise nothing we do not show; and give a clean, pure show, at which not the least offense can be taken. We want the public to tell us of any shortcoming and we will make them our critics. Our employees must be courteous and always study the interests of the people and our own."

DIED AT HUBBERSBURG.—Stewart Lee Bergstresser, of Smithport, McKean county, died at the home of his brother, Edward L. Bergstresser, at Hubbersburg, last Thursday. He was on a visit to his relatives in this county when he was stricken.

Deceased was born at Boalsburg in 1832. He was the son of Jacob Bergstresser, one of the early settlers who was interested for awhile with Gen. Irvin in the manufacture of iron at old Rock Forge. He was one of the oldest photographers in the State; having followed that business for many years.

The Bellefonte friends of Miss Elizabeth Sloan, of Lock Haven, were genuinely sad when the announcement of her death was made. It occurred at her home in that place on Tuesday morning, after an illness of only a week. Miss Sloan was a particularly bright and vivacious young woman, an ornament to society and a constant comfort to those about her in the home circle.

Anna May the interesting daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bickel, of Beech Creek township, Clinton county, died Sunday morning, after an illness of only a day with paralysis. She was fifteen years old and became affected on Saturday evening and died the next morning. Services were held at the home Tuesday morning and interment was made at Cedar Hill.

Johnson Gardner, one of the well known residents of Clinton county, died in Beech Creek borough Thursday afternoon from a complication of diseases. He was 72 years old. His wife and the following named children survive: Mrs. Edgar Holt, Northumberland; Bert, of Wiburh, and George, of Geneva, N. Y.

SECOND HEAVY REUNION.—The fourteenth annual reunion of the 2nd Pennsylvania heavy artillery (11th P. V.) will be held at Watsonstown and Milton, Pa., August 7th and 8th, 1900. Full particulars may be had by addressing Lew C. Fosnot, secretary local committee, Watsonstown, Pa.

News Purely Personal.

Miss Charity Mitchell, of Lima, Ohio, is visiting Miss Lillian Rankin, of east Centre street.

Miss Nancy McClain, of Spangler, is visiting her grandmother Mrs. Nora McClain, of Allegheny street.

Mrs. Margaret Wilson and Miss Nan Hoy were up at Unionville Wednesday attending a Missionary meeting.

Mr. J. B. Alexander, of Unionville, was in town yesterday attending his duties as administrator of the estate of the late Irvin Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Dale and their son went to Philadelphia Saturday ostensibly to visit relatives but really to see the pillars of the Republican party.

Mrs. T. C. Van Tries was in Unionville, on Wednesday, attending the meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Huntingdon Presbytery of the Presbyterian church.

Morris J. Loeb came up from Baltimore Saturday to see his old friends and sell a big bill for the firm he represents. Mrs. Loeb came with him to stay all summer with her mother, Mrs. Newman.

Miss Carrie A. Lawrence, principal of the girls department at the Academy, left Monday, for Ithaca, N. Y., to visit friends for a few days before going to her home in Plainfield, N. J., for the summer.

Miss Madge Gilmore left Sunday afternoon for her home in Philadelphia after enjoying a short visit at her cousin's Miss Mame Ceader's. Her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Ceader, went with her to stay until after the convention.

Col. and Mrs. W. F. Reeder went down to Philadelphia Tuesday with Wallace to see that he embarked safely and was provided with every comfort for his European trip. He sails from that port on Saturday to be gone about ten weeks.

Mrs. Harriet E. McGinley, who has been in Scranton for the last six months with her daughter, Mrs. Coolidge, has returned and is now at her son Lian's, on High and Thomas streets, where she makes her home and is a most welcome acquisition to the family.

Mrs. Katharine G. Dinges, who has been in Williamsport for the last four months taking lessons in miniature and china painting from a well known New York artist, has returned home and is making arrangements to open her studio and resume her class work at once.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Malin and their son Ogden left West Chester, Saturday morning, for a visit with Mr. Malin's mother who lives near that place. Of course, it is needless to say that the convention in Philadelphia had nothing to do with Mr. Malin's going just at this time.

Lee Larimer is home from Jersey Shore for a short visit to his parents in this place before going on to Sioux City, Iowa, where he will start in business. Everybody in town has likely heard of his coming, for he is radiant in the noisiest pair of bicycle stockings ever seen in the town.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Potts Green went down to Lewisburg Saturday to attend commencement at Bucknell University and enjoy its semi-centennial celebration. Mr. Green was one of its charter scholars and attended school there several years before its first graduating exercises, which took place fifty years ago.

John C. Miller, went down to Philadelphia Wednesday morning to help chase the Republicans out of the city after the adjournment of their convention. Had he gotten there in time he might have been able to give chairman Hanna a few pointers on how to run a Republican convention.

John Walker, of the firm of McCalmont & Co., went to Philadelphia on Saturday to mix in with the convention crowd a few days, but principally to be present at the marriage of his brother, Swinthen C. Walker, to Miss Davis, which was celebrated with quite an elaborate ceremony at Chadds Ford on Wednesday.

E. R. Chambers was one of the stalwarts, who spent the week in Philadelphia watching Hanna, Platt, and Quay maneuvering to keep themselves absolute monarchs of the Republican party. Mrs. Chambers and their daughter Helen accompanied him last Saturday, but they have been at Kennett Square visiting Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Worth.

Edgar T. Burnside, laid down his duties at the Standard Scale works, on Monday, and went off to Philadelphia for a time this week. If a great crowd and a plethora of Republicans can contribute to such a condition Edgar will probably want to fly to the Burnside lodge on Muncy mountain for the rest cure as soon as he gets home.

Bellefonte was well represented at Philadelphia this week for irrespective of party or faction they all wanted to gaze on the president makers of the Republican party. John M. Dale was anxious to get in the game early, so he started on Friday. Hon. J. P. Coburn and William P. Humes went Saturday. Leonard Rhone, L. A. Schaeffer, W. E. Gray and P. Gray Meek were the Monday morning's delegation while J. I. McClure and Harry Curtin got in on the ground floor by going before any of the others.

Samuel Levy, the representative of the Standard Oil company at Winona, Minnesota with Mrs. Levy, their two children and Mrs. Richter, Mrs. Levy's mother, are guests at the home of Mr. Levy's mother and sister, Mrs. Sue Fisher and Miss Ella Levy, in Milesburg. They arrived Friday night and even though it has been fourteen years since Sam left his native birth, he accepted a better position in the West his leave of absence expires on Monday. His family, however, will remain a month or too.

Martin Bingham, formerly of Spring Mills this county, but now a resident of the western part of Washington, where he has been for the last fourteen years, was in town Monday between trains on his way from Laureton, his native place, to Seattle. He has spent two years in the Klondyke district and is just as sanguine of its resources as when he went in first. Well might he be, though, for the nuggets that he carries with him are many and big enough to satisfy any ordinary mortal and he has well located claims, both in the Dawson and Cape Nome districts. He was East on pleasure and is going back to Alaska this summer.

Dr. Elizabeth Reifsnnyder, who has been in Shanghai, China, for the last seventeen years visited Dr. Edith Schud on Monday and Tuesday. She is the head of a large hospital supported by the Woman's Union board of Brooklyn, N. Y., which was one of the first charitable organizations to recognize the importance of medical help in the missionary cause and establish a hospital. It is outside the city walls just two miles from the west gate but an idea of its work and the dense population can be conceived when Dr. Reifsnnyder states that they have had as many as 40,000 dispensary patients in one year. This is her third visit home and she is not at all pleased with being away from China just at this time but on the contrary is regretting that she is not there to be of some use.

Bellefonte had a very unpretentious though exceptionally interesting visitor on Wednesday in the person of Mrs. Eliza Knox, of Buffalo-run. She has reached her eighty-seventh year and her activity is remarkable. With the ease of one far younger she got in and out of her buggy and when spoken concerning her active life at such an advanced age she smiled and remarked that she didn't propose to get old any sooner than she had to. Mrs. Knox is the widow of the late Hugh Knox and her daughter told us, while she was not listening, that she is an indigestible worker and the only way they can restrain her is to give her a horse and buggy and insist on her driving off for a visit among her friends in the vicinity of her home.

Former sheriff W. M. Cronister was in town on business on Tuesday.

D. J. Meyer, of Centre Hall, was in town last evening; having been over on this side on a cattle buying expedition.

A. Y. Wagner, who is gradually becoming accustomed to living a life of ease in Bellefonte after the years of indefatigable work as milliner, dropped in on Saturday for a pleasant little call. Mr. Wagner finds just enough pleasant diversion in looking after his fine farm.

Miss Kate Gummo arrived in town Tuesday morning from San Diego, Cal., on her way to her home up Buffalo-run. She is home for a much needed and well earned rest and came with the expectation of staying. She has traveled abroad extensively; lived in Minnesota and the great northwest for some years and has been twice across the continent in the ten years she has been in San Diego but with it all she cares most for the old friends and mountains of Pennsylvania.

On Saturday Mr. Alvin Pifer, one of the best known of the younger farmers in Marion township, was in town on business and social matters. He farms the old Jacob Pifer homestead about a mile south of Jacksonsville and being one of the heirs he naturally looks after it with most diligent care. Every inch of the property is worked in a most farmlike manner and in doing it quite all of Mr. Pifer's time and thought is taken up, so that he finds no time to waste in other channels, that are without profit. He is a member of Mrs. A. V. Smith, of this place, and a member of the well-known Centre county Pifer family.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of John E. Fryberger and Miss Caroline McGaffey, of Philipsburg. The ceremony will be solemnized in the Episcopal church in that place at 12:30 on Wednesday, June 27th. Mr. Fryberger is the eldest son of Capt. C. T. Fryberger and is very well known here, where he made his home with his grandmother, Mrs. John Bracbill, for a number of years. He is now connected with the First National bank in Philipsburg. Miss McGaffey is a daughter of Geo. W. McGaffey Esq., the wealthy coal operator and financier of Philipsburg, and is a very charming young woman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Patterson have announced the marriage of their daughter May and Mr. Milton Earl McDonnell, of Altoona. The wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents at State College on Tuesday at noon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Noble, of the Methodist church, and the young people left on the afternoon train by the way of Montandon for an extended journey East. Upon their return they will make their home in Altoona, where Mr. McDonnell is employed with the Pennsylvania railroad company as bacteriologist.

The wedding of Milton S. McDowell, the popular chemist of the experiment station at The Pennsylvania State College, and Miss Mable Snyder, of Beech Creek, will take place on Wednesday, the 28th.

Mrs. David Kerstetter, of Loganton, saw her first trolley car and took her first ride on one on Tuesday. She is 82 years old and in company with her daughter, Mrs. Susan Ohl, and Miss Julia Bower, of Rebersburg, was visiting in Lock Haven when she laid eyes on the wonderful trolley for the first time.

Centre county farmers who have cattle for sale can find a liberal purchaser by dropping a postal card to John Bezer, of Bellefonte. He knows what stock is worth and is always willing to pay a fair price.

NOTICE.—All persons are hereby prohibited from passing or tacking any notices whatever on the telephone, telegraph, or electric light posts in or about Bellefonte according to the Ordinance of 1885. This ordinance, hereafter, will be strictly enforced. EDWARD BLANCHARD, Burgess.
