National Destiny We Cannot Have Vassals Nor Distant Possession American Soil is Our Limit-All Statesmen Agree-

Republicans Determined to Overthrow the Nation There is not an opinion in favor of the principle that the United States can possess colonies, vassals or territory not to become states in the Union. McKinley himself was of that opininon until he changed his mind and forced congress to take the great step towards the destruction of a people's government, the obliteration of popular sovereignty and the creation of an independent, personal empire.

Here are the truths expressed by all of our statesmen, beginning with Mark Hanna. A close study of them will reveal the fact that McKinley and the Republican leaders are departing from these truths and violating their own

U. S. Supreme Court. "The genius and character of our institutions are peaceful, and the power to declare war was not conferred upon congress for the purpose of aggression or aggrandizement, but to enable the government to vindicate by arms, if it should become necessary, its own rights and the rights of its citizens. A war, therefore, declared by congress can never be presumed to be waged for the purpose of conquest or the acquisition of territory; nor does the law declaring the war imply an authority to the president to enlarge the limits of the United States by subjugating the enemy's country." -Fleming vs. Page.

Mischievous Blunders.

It is unfortunate that Secretary Root's legal adviser, Mr. Magoon, found it necessary to give two contradictory opinions on the status of Porto Rico, one holding that the constitution was extended to that island when the peace convention was ratified and the other insisting that Porto Rico is not a part of the United States. Vacillation of that sort will be made the most of by opponents of the administration, and already it is being said by them that the second opinion was produced under pressure exerted by the trusts whose interests are to be promoted by a tariff on Porto Rican products.

Supposing the first opinion to be sound and correct, the president told congress that "our plain duty is to abolish all customs tariffs between the United States and Porto Rico and give her products free access to our mar-kets." Relying upon the superior le-gal soundness of the second opinion, some of the party leaders insist that Porto Ricc should be treated like a foreign country and a tariff be placed upon her products. If the second opinion be correct, it is a great pity that Law Officer Magoon made such a mistake in the first. He should have made sure he was right before going ahead. His blunder is bringing much trouble to the party and making it difficult to controvert those who allege that the influence of the trusts is too potent in shaping the policy of the administration. The Republican party has enough to do fighting its avowed enemies without having to fight the consequences of blunders made by maladroit statesmen in its own ranks. Some changes in leadership appear to be desirable.—Philadel-phia North American, Rep.

It remained for Mr. Grosvenor to point out the inconsistency of the gentlemen who declined to change their minds on the Porto Rican question .-Washington Post.

Senator Pettigrew is branded as a traitor for asking in behalf of the Filipinos what Washington and Jefferson demanded for the American colonists.—Kansas City Times.

With Mr. McKinley a candidate for re-election, the question is to be asked if he has been a dignified, consistent, statesmanlike, self reliant president in his first term of office.—Boston Herald.

With 12,200 men thrown out of work by the steel and wire trust, 5,000 thrown out of work by the tobacco trust and 1,000 thrown out of work by the sugar trust recently, John Archbold's assertion that trusts insure men wages all the year round smacks of irony.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Pennsylvania Republican platform is long. It contains nearly 2,000 words. But there is not one word in it with reference to the president's colonial policy. Cuba, Puerto Rico and the Philippines are all unmentioned. Is this a case where "silence gives consent?" Or does it mean that silence was the price of harmony?-N. Y. World.

The men who, like Paul, have gone to heathen lands with the message, "We seek not yours but you," have been hindered by those who, coming after, have reversed the message. Rum and other corrupting agencies come with our boasted civilization, the free consent of the governed and and the feeble races wither before the hot breath of the white man's vices .-

We are not trying to array one class against another; we are trying to that which belongs to another, whether teach each class its relation to every other. General Longstreet has been well taken care of since he united himself with the Republican party after the close of the war in reconstruction times, having held federal office whenever the Republicans were in power. He is now commissioner of railroads, succeeding General Wade Hampton, who held the office under Cleveland. Its salary is $5,000 a year, and it is generally considered one of the nicest pickups in the federal service. Why a pension when General Longstreet holds such a lucrative position?—Pittsburg

I left the Republican party in 1896 because of its adoption of a platform favoring the gold standard. I predicted then that it would follow it up by establishing by law a gold standard if it came into power. This it has done, adding to it a provision that will practically destroy the greenback and treasury note, and turn over to the banks the sole issue of paper money in the United States. The financial ques-tion is not settled by the passage of we shall secure a proper bimetallic system. If I had not left the Republican party in 1896 I certainly should have left it on the passage of the gold standard bill of the present session. If Mr. Bryan is nominated on a platform recognizing the financial plank of the Chicago platform of 1896, and I have no doubt he will be, I shall give him my hearty support. I believe he has a very much better chance for success now than he had in the contest of 1896. I think the American people have become better acquainted with his have become better acquainted with his character, and none but fanatics believe there will be any danger in his election. Personally, I have a high regard for Mr. Bryan, both as to h.s. moral qualities and his great ability. I may not agree with him on sone Green drugs without benefit.
