-Rev. E. C. Houck, of Milesburg, was in town yesterday making plans for his month's vacation which he expects to take with relatives in Huntingdon county. In speaking of the delightful weather yesterday and Wednesday he said that it reminded him very much of South Dakota, where there is almost the nourishment in the air that is gotten from good beef steak. -Mrs. John P. Harris, accompanied by her daughter and grand-daughter, Mrs. Frank Warfield and Mary Warfield, have gone to Atlantic City for a two weeks stay. They went yesterday and Miss Mary Harris Weaver, who is in Hahnneman hospital, Philadelphia, recovering from an operation for appendicitis, will join them just as soon as she is able to travel

-Mrs. E. J. McCloskey, of Plainfield, Ill., and her neice Mrs. John K. Ray, of Tyrone, former residents of Spring Mills this county, were guests of Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson on Howard street, emont, who is a banker at Rushville, Neb., and during the Centennial. They were both so loyal to their native county that they found no fault with its celebration or its attending inconveniences and that when Mrs. McCloskey is almost seventy-nine years of age.

> -Sol Poorman of Zion was in town on Saturday taking a little preliminary look at the Centennial decorations. Mr. Poorman said that they had had a little rain down that way Thursday evening, but not near enough. Talking about the grain crop just harvested he said that the fly had worked great damage in two fields that had otherwise promised very fair crops. Mr. Poorman was able to gather up a good bit of the fallen grain by raking it ahead of the binder.

-The Centennial has been the cause of bring ing together again many of the Bellefonte in ilies, the members of which have scattered to all parts of the country in recent years. Among these reunions none are larger or jollier that that of the family of Mr. and Mrs. A. Baum, of east Bishop street. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Reesman and their daughter are here from Princeto Ind.; Mrs. Jos. Metz, from Trenton, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Monish, of New York city, were all here for the Baum family reunion

In addition Senator W. C. Heinle, Cap't. H. S. Taylor, county chairman J. K. Johnston and several others went along. There was no contest, of course, but the Democrats of Centre attended with a good delegation to assure the other parts of the district that we are all more than pleased with Hall's nomination.

-Mr. A. J. Weaver and his eldest son drove over from their home at Colyer on Saturday to attend to some business that Mr. Weaver very sensibly decided he wouldn't have time to lo after during the excitement of the Centennial. While here he told us of a frightful accident that happened at the saw mill there last Thursday ternoon. Eddie, the four year old son of Hayes Shultz, was sitting on the railroad track when a truck loaded with lumber ran clear over him. It broke his leg in two places, but otherwise he miraculously escaped unhurt. The men who were pushing the truck could not see the child on the track because the pile of lumber was higher than their heads.

-Among the hosts of people who were here last week and who found time to drop in for a few moments chat at the WATCHMAN office were : J. W. Rowan, the great cord wood contractor of Benner Twp.; Thos. Foster, the wholesale grocer of Philadelphia; Wm. Brouse Jr., of Boalsburg; Harry McDowell, of Abdera; W. T. Bailey, of Stormstown; Robert F. Sample who is making money fast in the hotel business in Uniontown Hon, J. K. P. Hall, our Congressman and nom nee for a second term; John Pennington, a former Pine Grove boy who has charge of several repair departments in the big Westinghouse works in Pittsburg, and who learned his trade at the Jenkins foundry in this place; Mayor Jackson, of Lewistown, who came over to pay his first visit to the town and got so ill that he couldn't enjoy it at all: Frank Lingle, of Patton, who is the original Centre county jail bird, having been born in the bastile when his father was sheriff of the county years ago; S. C. Burnside, of Philadelphia, who is full of ancient political history and jokes but always one of the most welcome visitors to Belleonte; John Shaffer, of Lock Haven, who ran on the "old Snow Shoe" years ago and came up to greet his friends once more; Bob McGhee, of Lock Haven, fire marshall, health officer and general promoter of everything good, bad or indifferent, was here with the Hope fire engine that has been in use 25 years and Bob has looked after it for 17 of them. He won first prize with it and went home happy with his fifty; Danny Woods, of Tyrone, and 'Squire Cullen, of Spruce Creek, both of whom admitted that they have nothing to do any more but run around and they found Wednesday's job just to their liking.

It was necessary to run five heats to decide the race, which was as exciting as it could be until "Roanoke," the DuBois horse showed signs of distress and began going back until he finally choked up and fell on the back stretch in the last heat. The horses finished as follows.

The running race proved even more expostponement until Thursday and Friday. -C. M. Wentzel, a drover from Shamokin, went to Henry Garrett's, east of Wolfe's store, on Monday, to purchase a cow. Mr. Garrett was away and when Wentzel entered the yard he was pounced upon by a large dog and severely bitten about the legs and hands. The dog knockhim over and he was only able to protect his face by keeping it buried in his hands.

08----On last Friday Mrs. William Wilson Curtin and her daughter, Marion Harding Curtin, were driving from Devou, a resort near Philadelphia, to Bryn Mawr, when their tries. As is always the case with running horse frightened at the cars and ran away. Their trap tipped up at a turn and Miss Curtin was thrown out, then her mother jumped. The former was not seriously hurt, but the latter struck on her head and suffered concussion of the brain. Mrs. Geo. Harris, received many congratulations on the perfection of their work. It was the most magnificent display ever seen here.

-The Centennial, the first of the series of summer dances, was given in the Armory on Tuesday evening under the direction of Richard Lane, Wilson Gephart, H. Laird Curtin and Wallace Gephart. The patronesses were Mrs. D. H. Hastings, Mrs. W. F. Reeder, Mrs. C. F. Montgomery, Mrs. M. D. Burnett, Mrs. G. M. Andrews and Mrs. Jos. L. Montgomery. The Chappell orchestra, of Williamsport, furnished the music. There were quite a number of out of town guests present and the dauce was voted a delightful success.

-Johnny Williams, the Bush house bell boy and mascot, came very near having his lamp put out for good on Wednesday night of the Centennial. He was standing in the Diamond, when he was run down by a wagon. It was some time after the accident that his unconscious form was found in the muddy street and carried to the emergency hospital, where Drs. Harris and Hayes were in attendance. He was found to be badly out about the face, had won it easily, but there was enough excitement in the struggle for second money to keep the crowd on tip toe throughout every heat. When entering the stretch in the last heat "General Coxey" tripped in his hobbles and fell as if shot. The driver ran right out of the sulky over the horse's body and wasn't off his feet for a second. Irv. Gray's horse "Luella McC." was ex-

Monday they all went to the Cave on a little picnicking expedition the pleasure of which not even a hard rain interfered with.

-Wm. Bigler, of Clearfield, superintendent of the sub-treasury at Philadelphia during Cleveland's second administration, was one of our distinguished visitors last week who got tired and went home before the real celebr tion began. Centre county has always claimed his father as one of its Governors, but Gov. Bigler was not a native of the county and only lived here while he 45-28-tf was serving his apprenticeship in his brother John's printing office. He afterwards secured a second hand press and moved it on a two horse wagon to Clearfield to make his fortune.

-Geo. B. Snyder, who is well known about Eagleville, State College and Bellefonte, writes that he is drinking good water and breathing pure air while spending a few weeks with a surveying party at Farrandsville, all of which enjoyents we are glad he is taking, but when he attempts to spike the WATCHMAN's guns with proposition to vote for its editor if the paper will try to make no converts during the coming mpaign it looks very much as if we were to b made the victim of a "heads I win, tails you lose scheme, which we didn't expect young friend to spring on us.

-After doing the Centennial Mr. and Mrs John Todd Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hess, of Philipsburg, took a drive over the county, in many parts of which the men have warm per sonal friends. They were traveling in their own carriage, in which they had driven from Phil ipsburg, and went at their leisure. Centre Hall Spring Mills, Millheim, Boalsburg, State College ngletown and Pine Grove were all points where they stopped and enjoyed themselves; re turning here Sunday evening, and starting be coward Philipsburg the next morning. On their ray home they stopped to rest awhile at former sheriff Cronister's home in the Bald Eagle

While in Millheim Mrs. Tood took the first horse ack ride she has taken since a girl on the farm and it was such great sport that she never noticed that her watch had bounced out of her pocket, until the dangling guard attracted the attention of one of the party. The watch was gone, but it was found later in the day, lying on the hard road, with nothing broken but the crystal.

Lost Pocket Book.

Lost on Tuesday, a pocket book containing money and mileage book belonging to Mrs. C. E. Cooke, of Jeanette. Anyone returning the same to Miss M. Snyder's millinery will be liberally rewarded.

Notice to Farmers.

You should bring your wheat to the Phoenix Milling Co. because we pay the market price for it.

You should exchange your wheat at the Phoenix Mills because you get the best grade of flour in return for it.

A 5lb. sample of our flour will be given free to every farmer who comes to the mill and asks for it. THE PHOENIX MILLING CO.
