THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Admission to the Centre county fair will be only 25cts.

Israel Freeze, of Bellefonte, has been granted a pension of $30 per month.

Mrs. McMinn is ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. R. Curtin, at Roland.

All the corn in the vicinity of Rebersburg is reported as being out and some of it is husked.

The Coburn Water Co. has been granted a charter by the State Department at Harrisburg.

Former register G. W. Rumberger has accepted a position in A. J. Grist's store at Unionville.

Up to last Saturday Dr. Dumm, the Mackeyville peach grower, had sold four thousand baskets of fruit.

There was quite a heavy frost in this part of the county on Tuesday night. It nipped some of the tender flowers.

Save your tall corn, big pumpkins, prettiest apples, best vegetables and grain. They might all win nice cash prizes for you at the fair.

The annual re-union of the veterans of the 49th Regt., P. V., will be held this year at Bellefonte on the 25th and 26th of October.

Over one thousand bushels of peaches have been picked from the Kister & Boob orchard near Aaronsburg and the crop is said to be not near exhausted.

Potatoes are being bought up in the vicinity of Aaronsburg at 40cts a bushel. Several thousand bushels have already been shipped from the station at Coburn.

Rex Cooper, the athletic young son of H. S. Cooper, formerly of this place, is mentioned as one of the most likely candidates for tackle on Cornell's foot-ball team this fall.

A rumor is in circulation to the effect that Chester DeVonde, the young actor, has married his leading lady, Miss Florence Gar, whose name is Wright. She is a Williamsport girl.

The premium list for the Centre county fair appears on another page of this issue. Get your exhibits ready. The premiums will all be paid in cash and are worth trying for.

The seventeenth annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Centre county will be held at Unionville on Thursday, Sept. 27th. All are cordially invited to attend the sessions.

The change in the temperature in this section on Monday was nothing less than marvelous. The mercury fell twenty degrees in a very few minutes and there was a general scramble to store away straw hats and shake out winter flannels.

Several parties who are violating the game laws in certain parts of the county are being watched and will be hauled up with a sudden jerk very soon. It can be expected that Judge Love will not deal very lightly with this class of offenders.

While putting off a "pop" blast in No. 3 quarry at McCalmon's, on Friday afternoon, Howard Martin was painfully injured. The blast went off prematurely and Martin was struck in the face by flying stones, besides being badly burned.

The high winds lately have played havoc with winter apples all over the county. The ground in most every orchard is covered with wind-falls and many of the farmers are giving them away to whoever will take them. Very few are left on the trees for fall picking.

The ladies are reported as being very much interested in the outcome of the fair. Many of them are already experimenting with their favorite cakes and it is likely that there will be such a collection of them for the judges to pass upon as has never before been seen in this section.

In a runaway at State College Sunday morning John Shope, the driver of the creamery wagon, was severely injured. He was on his regular morning round delivering milk when his team frightened and ran away. The wagon was a complete wreck and one of the horses was pretty badly hurt.

Edward M. Grist has severed his connection with his father's store, A. J. Grist's, in Unionville, and gone to Philipsburg to take a place in the wholesale establishment of Platt-Barber & Co. It goes without saying that the Philipsburg wholesalers could not have secured a steadier, or more trustworthy young man than Mr. Grist is.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonis Graner have just returned from quite an extended stay in eastern cities, where they were buying the largest and most varied line of goods that has ever been shown at the Lyon & Co. stores in this place. Consignments are arriving daily now and great bargains will be the order there this fall and winter.

The Centre County Fair promoters have decided not to permit gambling or any sort of a game of chance on the grounds during the fair. This is a step that the public ought to appreciate, as it was taken at a great sacrifice. The gamblers and fakirs usually pay well for their privileges, but the fair people are going to have none of them.

JAMES W. ALEXANDER.—Few deaths that have occurred in this community have been any more of a surprise or been fraught with more sorrow than was that of James W. Alexander on Friday afternoon. It had scarcely been known that he was ill when the announcement of his death was made at his home on south Thomas street, about 4:30 o'clock, it was so unexpected as to have been discredited by many who had seen him, apparently in his usual health but two days before.

While he had complained more or less about temporary pains in his abdominal regions ever since returning from Chickamauga he never gave the trouble serious thought. It culminated Thursday morning, while he was sitting on the front porch at his home. He was seized with violent pains and had to be helped to bed, where Dr. Looke found him in agony with what was thought to be a stricture of the bowels. The physician worked all day with him and by eight o'clock in the evening he seemed to be resting easier. An hour later, however, there was a decided change for the worse and another physician was called in consultation. Mr. Alexander's suffering became so intense that it was apparent that he could not survive unless an operation would be performed. Accordingly Dr. Cozer, of Williamsport, was sent for and arrived with a special nurse on the 9:53 train Friday morning. His diagnosis was a confirmation of that of the local physicians and they prepared to operate at once. When the incision was made it was discovered that the bowels were gangrenous and that nothing could be done for the sufferer.

James heard the fatal announcement with the fortitude of a hero. He was satisfied that everything possible had been done for him and set about arranging his business affairs as unconcerned as if he might have been going off for a little journey. His suffering all the while was agonizing, so that in the afternoon he fell into an unconscious condition and slept away to his death.

James W. Alexander came of a good old Scotch family, who emigrated to this country about 1736. They were among the early settlers of this part of the State and his great grandfather served with Washington during the Revolutionary war.

Deceased was born August 24th, 1864, and had his early home on "Sunny-side" farm in Spring township, just north of town. He was the only son of the late Senator Cyrus T. Alexander, a prominent lawyer and Democratic politician in his time. After attending the public schools of the borough for some time he entered the Bellefonte Academy, where he was in attendance three years. In 1880, on the sixteenth anniversary of his birth, he entered the Freshman class at The Pennsylvania State College and in 1884 he completed the scientific course graduating with the degree of Bachelor of Science. After his father's death, which occurred in 1885, he prepared for the bar under the direction of Judge John G. Love and was admitted to practice in Centre county, March 4th, 1890. He inherited his father's large and complete law library and had already won a reputation as an accurate student. He always practiced alone and did a general law business.

On July 10th, 1894, he enlisted in Co. B, 5th Reg. N. G. P., as a private and rapidly rose to the rank of sergeant. During the Spanish-American war he served with credit as a member of this company. He was a bright, genial fellow, with a clear, fine mind that might have made him a leader at the Centre county bar. His social side was fully developed and he was a member at one time or another, of a number of the local fraternal organizations. He had helped to organize the Heptasophis and until recently was very active in the local Eagle castle. He was a member of the Logan Engine Co. and it was largely through his instrumentality that the Bryan club was organized in this place last week. Surviving him are his mother, and one sister, Mrs. H. S. Yarrington, of Richmond, Va.

Funeral services were conducted at the house, on Monday afternoon at 2:30, by Rev. Dr. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, after which the long cortege that escorted the body to its last resting place in the Union cemetery was formed. The Coleville band led the way, then Co. B, 5th Reg. N. G. P., the Undine Fire Co.; the Logan Engine Co., Knights of the Golden Eagle, Heptasophis and members of the bar. The service at the cemetery was very brief and at its conclusion three volleys were fired over the grave then clear and sad rang out the bugler's taps, the last tribute having been paid to the dead.

The floral offerings were very lavish. Noticeable among them were a beautiful rose and star, a single star, a pillow bearing the inscription "Our Brother" and a shield of immortels.

FORTNEY HILTON DRANK A QUART OF WHISKEY AND DIED.—Fortney Hilton, whose reign as "the only real sportin' coon in town" will be remembered in Bellefonte, was found dead in his shoe-shining chair in Coulter's cigar store in Johnstown early Sunday morning.

The coroner held an inquest on the body and decided that death had been due to dropsy, though there is a well grounded rumor that Fortney had undertaken to drink an entire quart of whiskey at one time, on a wager.

When here he was in the employ of the Brokerhoffs.

An infant son of George Homan died at his home in Aaronsburg and was buried at Wolf's Chapel last Saturday morning.

Mrs. HANNAH P. DOWNING.—The death of Mrs. Hannah P. Downing occurred at the home of her grandson, Albert Downing, near Vall at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, September 12th. Her death was caused by injuries sustained in an accident that befell her on August 31st last.

Deceased was born near Clearfield, Feb. 5th, 1820, making her age over 80 years old, and she was a member of the Society or Friends. Her husband, John F. Downing, died December 5th, 1889. Surviving her are the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Julia Way, Mrs. Hulda Irvin, Curwensville; Mrs. Rebecca Bean, Pittsburg; Robert Downing, Culp; Emanuel Downing, Wilkensburg. Two brothers, William Wilson, of Stormstown, and John Wilson, of Loveville, also survive her. Since the death of her husband she had made her home with her sons and daughters at Curwensville and Pittsburg.

Services were held at the Friends meeting house in Half-moon valley, on Saturday morning, and interment was made in the burying ground there.

W. W. Clark, a well-known resident of Eagleville, this county, died very unexpectedly while on a visit to his daughter at Grayson, La., on Friday. Only a day or so before the news of his death was received a letter to relatives at home stated that he was in the best of health. Deceased was 65 years old and had been in the lumber business most of his life. Surviving him are several sons and daughters. Interment was made from his late home on Monday afternoon.

Harrison Walter Breen, son of Valentine Breen, of Spring Mills, died last Saturday at the age of 11 years, 4 months and 21 days. He was a very bright child and had already won quite a local reputation as a juvenile elocutionist. His parents have the sympathy of the entire community.

John Bathurst died very suddenly at his home in Roland at noon on Wednesday. Apoplexy was the cause. He had been working at the Tyrone forge but was home on a visit at the time. He was 45 years old and is survived by four children. Interment will be made in the Eagle cemetery this morning.

The Salona quarries resumed operations on Monday.

D. H. Ruhl is going to quit the livery business at Spring Mills.

Rebersburg residents are improving their homes by removing their yard fences.

The Allegheny conference of the U. B. church met at Greensburg on September 19th.

J. M. Heckman last week bought the J. B. Heckman estate property in Gregg township for $1,025.

Jonas Stettler, of Tyrone, has purchased the Continental hotel in Philipsburg and intends running it.

Tuberculosis caused the death of "Budweiser," C. K. Sober's horse with a record of 2:22 at Lewisburg on the 7th.

Owing to a wage misunderstanding among the fatteners and cutters the Bellefonte glass works will not resume for several weeks.

Dr. F. K. White, of Philipsburg, has purchased the residence of Hon. J. N. Casanova, on south Centre street, in that place.

W. M. Stover, the Aaronsburg cider press man, recently made 88 gallons of cider out of 15 bushels of apples belonging to J. C. Stover.

Mrs. J. B. Kreamer, of Rebersburg, fell from a bench on which she was standing on Saturday, and sustained a severe sprain of her wrist.

Lieberman, the cash clothier of the Arcade, is away in the lead of the rest just now. He is giving a ticket to the fair to every purchaser of $5 worth of goods.

A defective fire caused a fire that destroyed Speer Burrell's home and stable, one mile west of Spring Mills. The property was occupied by Ira Bartley and was not insured.

M. Fauble's "Grapeshot" is being worked on the Bellefonte track and will be entered in the free-for-all at the Centre county fair. He is just fast enough to make the winners go in less than 20.

The work of installing Coburn's new water plant has begun in earnest. A charter has been granted the company, most of the main ditch from the mountain reservoir to the town has been dug and a car-load of pipe is already on hand for laying.

Mr. B. B. Wilson, of the Howard Creamery Co., expects to move to this place from Coburn about Oct. 1st. The Wilsons are endeavoring to centralize their extensive dairy interests in the county and Bellefonte is to be made the main office. We welcome such an energetic young business man to our town.

The Milton fair this year, which is to be held on the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th of October, promises to be one of the largest and most interesting exhibitions of Central Pennsylvania. For the trials of speed alone premiums amounting to $2,200 are offered, and for agricultural and other exhibits equally liberal awards are promised.

RURAL MAIL DELIVERY IN CENTRE COUNTY.—It is quite probable that within a short time two routes over which mail will be delivered free in rural districts will be established in Centre county. One will comprehend a greater portion of Potter township, while the other will operate in Ferguson.

The Potter township system is well under way. Frank I. Taylor, of Media, one of the inspectors of the rural mail delivery system for the Post-office Department, arrived at Centre Hall on Tuesday and remained there until yesterday, going over the ground carefully. He was very favorably impressed with the need for the system in that locality and with the road facilities. In fact, so much so that he left with the intention of giving the application his most earnest recommendation.

The proposed route through Potter township will have Centre Hall as its central point and will run daily to Old Fort, west by way of J. Moyer's and stone mill to Runkle's corner, northeast to Centre Hill, thence to Ied Mill and W. W. Spangler's, thence to Poters Mills, northeast to M. J. Decker's, west to Henney near Potter's Mills, north to H. Royer's school house, thence to W. A. Kerr's, west to P. Smith's, north to pike and east to D. C. Keller's thence to J. M. Decker's and Plum Stone school house, west to P. Brown's, J. Snyder's, Mrs. Susan Stump's, George W. Koch's and back to post-office.

The Ferguson township people happened to be at the Granger's picnic yesterday and presented their petition for free delivery to Congressman Hall in person. He endorsed both it and the Potter township route, and assured the petitioners that he will spare no effort in the work to secure the establishment of both routes speedily.

The Ferguson township route covers 22 miles. It is intended to be made a daily delivery and will cover the following territory:

Starts at Penna Furnace, goes by way of Baileyville and Rock Spring to Ross' near Pine Grove, thence north to White-hall, road, thence to Van Tries', thence to Fairbrook, thence to Gatesburg, thence back to Penna Furnace.

NERVY BURGLARS.—Last Thursday night burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to crack the safe in the P. R. R. station at Mill Hall. Notwithstanding they shot it several times and with such force as to nearly wreck the building the inner door refused to open and the cracksmen left without being able to get at its contents. The safe was so badly wrecked that it had to be sent to Philadelphia for repairs.

The coolness of the burglars was displayed in the following incident. Four Milesburg boys, James Martin, Edward McClellan, Joseph Shope and John Ammerman, who had been in Lock Haven that evening, had gone out to Mill Hall to wait for a freight train that would carry them home. They were sitting in an empty box car when a man appeared at the door and ordered them to stop talking so loud, then he told them if they made any outcry at the noises they would hear he would shoot them. The boys were thoroughly cowed by this time and the burglar then pulled the car shut, fastened it and left to go about his work. The prisoners in the car heard a number of explosions, but were afraid to make an outcry for fear they might have one set off for their own benefit. They had to remain in the car until Friday morning, when men going to work at the brick works heard their cries for help and released them.

THE GALVESTON RELIEF FUND.—A fund has been started in Bellefonte for the stricken sufferers in Galveston to which all who feel able should contribute something. Such a calamity as has befallen that fair southern city is unparalleled in our country's history and we who never feel the awful destruction of wind or wave should feel it our special duty to give something to the relief of Galveston's unfortunate.

The Jackson, Hastings & Co. bank is the depository and assistant cashier Mitchell is treasurer of the fund. Leave or send your contribution there with him and you will receive the proper credit.

Up to this time the following contributions have been received:

- Six young men..... $6.00
St. John's Reformed church, through Rev. Bickel..... 15.00
C. Y. Wagner, Rock Spring Mills..... 10.00
Daniel H. Hastings..... 10.00
Friend..... 5.00
Public Schools of Bellefonte, through D. O. Eitel..... 15.00

RICHARD LUTZ'S GIANT CORN.—Farmer Richard Lutz, who lives below town, made a regular little fair ground out of our office a few days ago by bringing in some of the tallest corn we have seen in many a day.

There are four stalks, tied together, and they are 10 ft. high. In addition to their resemblance to telegraph poles each stalk bears an ear of corn that is a beauty. The ears range in length from 9 1/2 inches to 11 1/2 inches and they are well filled with perfect grains.

If all of Mr. Lutz's corn is like the samples we have on exhibition he will have no reason to complain when he comes to crib it this fall.

Harvey W. Burd, of Rebersburg, expects to leave for Philadelphia next week to take a three year's course in veterinary science at the University of Pennsylvania.

Donald Somerville, formerly of this place, has tendered his resignation to the New York Central R. R. Co. as inspector of bridges and buildings for its Pennsylvania division.

Mrs. Nathan Reeman, of Princeton, Ind., who had been visiting her parents, the Baums, in this place for some time left for her home on Friday.

After a visit of two weeks with her sister Mrs. Mary Hamilton, of Howard street, Mrs. Bridget Nolan returned to her home in Washington on Monday.

Miss Elizabeth Blanchard arrived home Monday from Europe, where she has been the entire summer with Mrs. Stetson, of Ashbourne, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Will Clark, who has been visiting Mrs. Louise Bush and her sister, Miss Amanda Tomb, for the past week, returned to her home in Altoona last evening.

Col. W. F. Reynolds, John Blanchard Esq. and Edmund Blanchard Esq., were a trio of prominent young Bellefonters who went east on business on Monday.

Congressman Jas. K. P. Hall, of St. Mary's, was in town yesterday calling on his friends in this locality and spent part of his time at the Granger picnic.

George McMahon is here from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on a visit to his mother and sisters in Bellefonte. He is looking as if life in the Empire State suited him very well.

Mrs. H. S. Cooper and her daughter Emeline have returned to their home in Ithica, N. Y., after a pleasant summer with Mrs. Cooper's aunts, the Misses Benner, in this place.

Miss Elsie Weaver, a daughter of J. C. Weaver of this place, left for Kee Maw College, at Hagerstown Md., on Tuesday. She is an instructor in music in that institution.

Mrs. Annie S. Caswell and little Miss Mildred have closed their home on Penn street and are going to Coatsville today to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Keese Van Ormer.

Lieut. Chas. J. Taylor, instructor in plumbing at the Huntington Reformatory, spent Sunday in town and was here to attend the funeral of his old comrade in arms, Jas. Alexander.

Henry Lyon, the popular Bellefonte butcher of several years ago, was in town to spend Sunday. He has disposed of his grocery store in Danville and is now selling fruits for a Philadelphia house.

Miss M. Snyder, the Bishop street milliner, left for New York on Tuesday morning and expects to be gone long enough to purchase the smartest line of millinery she has ever shown here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith, with their baby, of Wellsville are here on a visit to Mr. Smith's home and before returning will spend a few days at Unionville, where Mrs. Smith resided before their marriage.

Willis Bortoff, who has been connected with the Harris hardware store in this place for five years, has given up his position and entered the Pennsylvania State College to take a course in electrical engineering.

Dr. W. C. Irvin, of Julian, was in town yesterday afternoon on his way out to Axe Manan, where he was called professionally. The doctor's practice is by no means confined to the immediate locality of his home.

Mrs. Thomas Faxon, of east High street, took her daughter Elizabeth to Philadelphia recently to enter McGibbony College in that city. Miss Elizabeth is a graduate of the Lock Haven Normal and has rare elocutionary powers.

Rev. Dr. Laurie, Mrs. Laurie, Misses Jessie and Bertha Laurie, Durbin Gray, Mrs. James H. Potter, Janet Potter, Edgar T. Burnside and Hard P. Harris were the Bellefonters attending the Laurie-Newaker wedding at Danville on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Gerberjeh and Archie Allison, of this place, and Hon. W. M. Allison, of Spring Mills, have just returned from Atlantic City, where they had an enjoyable outing attending the convention of the State Miller's Association.

Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, was in town on Friday night on his way to Erie. He returned yesterday and brought with him Master Henry Snyder Illingworth, who is going up to Pine Grove to help his grand-father make cider and boil apple butter.

Mrs. Harvey Yarrington, of Richmond, Va., who arrived in town last Saturday morning on account of the sudden illness and death of her brother, James W. Alexander, will spend a month or two with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Alexander, before returning to her home.

George T. Bush arrived home Tuesday morning from his European trip. He sailed on the Potsdam from New York July 7th with a party of congenial L. A. W. friends and had a delightful time while viewing the Paris Exposition, the Alps, the Passion Play at Oberamagat and wheeling to one of the way places in France, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, England and Scotland.

Mrs. F. C. Richard, of east Linn street, has improved enough from her long illness to be able to go to Philadelphia on Wednesday morning. She was accompanied by her nurse and son Charles and will make quite an extended stay with her daughter, Mrs. Hill, who has lately moved into her home in that city. Charles took his wheel along, intending to try some of the fine rides about the city during the ten days he will have off from business.

Fred Montgomery, youngest son of postmaster W. W. Montgomery, has given up the idea of being a miller and intends to devote his time in the future to the mechanical end of railroading. He has gone to Wellsville, Ohio, to enter the Ft. Wayne shops there and begins by taking up the work at the very bottom of the ladder. We hope that Fred's measure of success will be as full as has been that of other Bellefonters who started in the same field some years ago.

Harry Leyden, of Hamilton, Ontario, was in town on Monday to attend the funeral of his cousin James Alexander. He has been located among the Kanucks for five years now, so long that he has become satisfied that they are a thoroughly pleasant class of people to live with. He is superintendent of the city's lighting and power plant and that he is regarded as an expert in that line is attested by a recent splendid offer he received from an English syndicate to go to Victoria, Australia, to take charge of the largest electrical plant there.

THE GRAND FRATERNITY.—Supervising manager C. W. Jones, of Philadelphia, organized and instituted Bellefonte Camp, No. 67, in Eagle hall, on Friday, Sept. 14th, with a large charter list of representative citizens. The Grand Fraternity provides for its members an annuity in their old age and to the widows and minor children of its deceased members, thereby assuring them of a fixed support. Camps have lately been organized in Huntingdon and Tyrone and we welcome the society to Bellefonte, believing it to be to the advantage of our citizens to have an opportunity of securing a membership in such an organization. The camp here starts out with flattering prospects of a large membership in the near future.

The following are the officers selected to guide the affairs of the new camp: Past commander, H. S. Taylor Esq.; commander, Frank Warfield; vice commander, Dr. Joseph E. Ward; recorder, Frank Naginny; treasurer, Curtis V. Wagner; marshal, Geo. W. Hall; guard, Joseph L. Runkle; secretary, H. P. Shaffer; examining physician, Dr. R. G. H. Hayes.

The camp will hold its next meeting on October 1st in Eagle hall.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by orphan's court clerk, A. G. Archey, during the past week:

- Aaron Cole and Blanche Williams, both of North Philipsburg.
Edwin Brown, of Poters Mills, and Lizzie Fiese, of Tusseyville.
George A. Chubb, of Woolridge, Clinton county, and Tillie Shearer, of Bellefonte.
O. W. Marks, of Taylor Twp., and Henrietta Ellis, of Clearfield.
Nelson A. Coufer, of Yarnell, and Anna B. Allison, of Howard.
A. M. Sloteman, of Bellefonte, and Lizzie Cole, of Linden Hall.
John L. Harshbarger and Lizzie Bohm, both of Linden Hall.

FAXON-ANDERSON.—Miss Mary Merrill Faxon, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Faxon, of this place, was married to Dr. H. Anderson, of Philadelphia, on Saturday evening, September 8th. The ceremony took place at half past six and was witnessed by only a few friends and relatives of the couple.

The bride looked charming in white, with a shower bouquet of bride's roses and was given away by her uncle Edmund Faxon. After the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will have apartments at the "Argoe," on Pine street.

MARRIED AT LINDEN HALL.—Deputy recorder Ambrose Sloteman and Miss Elizabeth Cole were married at the home of the bride, in Linden Hall, on Tuesday evening at 7:30. Rev. J. M. Reaick, of Centre Hall, performed the ceremony in the presence of the family and a few guests who had been invited to witness it.

The groom is a resident of Pleasant Gap, but has been recorder Robb's deputy long enough to make many friends in this place who will wish him lasting happiness in his matrimonial venture. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Cole and is said to be an exceptionally bright and vivacious young woman.

Notice to Farmers.—You should bring your wheat to the Phoenix Milling Co. because we pay the market price for it. You should exchange your wheat at the Phoenix Mills because you get the best grade of flour in return for it. A 5lb. sample of our flour will be given free for every farmer who comes to the mill and asks for it. THE PHOENIX MILLING CO. 45-28-1f Bellefonte, Pa.
