"Our prediction last month of the awful storm conditions that would exist between the 5th and 11th, and would cause destructive hurricanes and tidal waves along the gulf coast; and fearful storms on the Great Lakes; was fulfilled with a vengeance unparalleled in American history! The greatest danger from regular storm periods during the current month will be between the 5th and 13th, and the 17th and 27th, and from reactionary storm periods from the 1st to the 5th, the 12th to the 18th, and from the 20th to the 21st. The gulf and Atlantic coasts must watch out for more destruction by wind and to result from the unusual planetary conditions that now exist. As soon as the planets leave their present positions and swing around a little more into the "water signs" great torrents of rain will fall upon America and cause unprecedented floods. troubles and suffer extremely from the power of the elements. The islands will be in great danger of tidal waves, and watch out. The ships upon the high seas breaking up in great confusion."

ROBERT WARING Esq.-Robert Waring, who died at his home in Tyrone, on Sunday afternoon, after an illness extending over a year with sarcoma, was well and favorably known in this county, where he spent many years of his life.

He was the son of William aud Helen Roberts Waring and was born at Breinton, England, April 22nd, 1821. Fourteen years later he came to this country and located in New York, where he became an apprentice to a carpenter. In 1836 he went to live with his uncle John Shaw near Philipsburg. Later he located in the vicinity of Boalsburg and remained there stroke. until 1844, when he returned to England.

Upon returning to America he embarked in the nursery business with his brother William in the vicinity of Oak Hall and while there taught school at Shingletown. In 1845 he was married to Lucy Steele Wieland and later they moved to a farm near Linden Hall, where they resided until 1851, when deceased went to Tyrone to take charge of a nursery and lived there ever after.

He served in the rebellion with Co. F, 77th P. V., and was a charter member of the First Lutheran church of Tyrone.

Surviving him are four of the nine children born to them. Mrs. Waring died in 1895.

Squire Keller is engaged in repairing the school building in order that it will be better lighted and ventilated. The front door will be closed and a large window will be substituted for it and the partition will be taken out that separates the hall from the school room. The stairs to the upper rooms wave ; and earthquakes will be most liable | will thus start direct from the main entrance which will be a decided improvement.

Miss Dora D. Gramley, daughter of Thomas and Sue E. Gramley, died at the family home at Oak Hall on Thursday, the 28th, of typhoid fever. She had been sick only two weeks and her death was particularly sad The old country will experience great for she was young and promising and earnestly awake to her opportunities. She was twenty-three years and eight months old and was an active church, Sabbath school and Christian Endeavor worker. > William E. Meek, of Fairbrook, suffered a stroke of paralysis on Friday which occasioned his family much concern, in-as-much as it is the second one he has had in the last year He was out in the yard looking after some work when John Bressler, who was doing it, noticed that he was deathly sick and started to help him into the house and found that his left side was paralyzed. Dr. Woods was summoned immediately and while he found him in a very precarious condition thinks there is no immediate cause for alarm as he has improved so noticeably. He is a man of wonderful will power and strong physique and his friends have hopes of his ultimate recovery unless he should have another

Markle died at her home, two miles west of this place, on Tuesday evening of dropsy and heart failure. She had enjoyed fairly good health until a month ago when she was taken ill and declined rapidly. Elizabeth Duffey was born at Lemont, Jan. 20th, 1823, and was married to Jacob Markle April 30th, 1839. Seven children were born to them and of her family five are living. John W., of Bellwood; J. Cal. and Mrs. Chas. Varner, of Grazierville; Dr. A. R., of Tyrone; and Mrs. J. M. Kepler, of this place. She was a consistent member of the Lutheran church and always attended its means of grace when she was able. She was laid to rest in the cemetery here on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock with Rev. Aikens officiating.

The Daughters Express their Gratitude.

BELLEFONTE, PA., Oct. 1st. 1900. The Daughters of the American Revolution hereby gratefully acknowledge the courtesy of the School Board of Bellefonte, in generously permitting the use of the public school building for the historic loan exhibition during the Centre County Centennial, and they do further express their appreciation of the services of the ladies who made this exhibition such a marked success.

The Society also recognized the valuable services of the Bellefonte public journals, in gratuitously advertising the exhibition. To one and all who favored the Daughters with their presence, counsel and financial support in that undertaking, the Society extends its most sincere thanks, and while the proceeds were devoted to the erection of the soldiers monument in our town, the Society appreciated fully the generous aid of the HEATON.-In Boggs township, on Sept. 28th, 1900, Claire Raymond, infant son of Edward and Eva Heaton, aged 6 months and 9 days. Died of cholera infantum.

Claire, thou art gone forever, can it be That we no more thy face shall see Thy cradle stands there as before, But no dear baby any more.

And oh how sad and drear our heart, That we from our darling had to part; The vacant chair where his form had been Was where our darling knew no sin. But his voice is hushed and his grave is filled And in his home fond hearts are chilled, Though we must toil on just as of yore, And dream of our loved one gone before.

Our darling Claire is safe from harm, As he sleeps in the Saviour's loving arm; But in that home on the other shore There will be parting there no more. And in our sorrow we can tell Our Father doeth all things well.

In the beautiful hereafter— In the life that is to be— Somewhere in God's sweet forever, Claire, we hope to meet with thee.
