Democratic Rally in Bellefonte.

There will be a great Democratic meeting in the court house in Bellefonte on Wednesday evening, Oct. 17th, under the auspices of the local Bryan and Stevenson club.

The speakers will be the Hon. HARRY E. GRIMM, of Bucks county, candidate for Congressman-at-Large, and the Hon. A. B. OSBORNE, of Erie.

Both of these gentlemen are brilliant talkers and an interesting discussion of the issues of the campaign will be made. All are earnestly invited to attend the meeting.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Next week the great Centre County Fair. Are you coming?

Weber Thomas, of Howard, is the grower of a 25 lb. water melon. He raised it in his garden.

Miss Nell Anderson, of Bishop street, is recovering from a threatened attack of appendicitis.

The men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 4 o'clock on Sunday will be led by Mr. Newton S. Bailey.

A washout on the Bellefonte Central railroad at Witmer's delayed the morning passenger train an hour on Monday.

Col. W. Fred Reynolds offers a prize of $5 for the best coat sired by "Pride of the North" that is exhibited at the fair.

Garman's, next Wednesday and Thursday nights, Oct. 17th and 18th, "The South Before the War."

W. J. Carlin, the Rebersburg merchant, has decided not to close out his business, and will continue at the old stand.

Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, who is here visiting his mother for two weeks, will locate for the practice of medicine in Scranton.

Jacob I. Condo, who had been a helper for blacksmith Charley Shearer at Millheim, has come to this place to work for George Mallory.

Up to yesterday secretary John Blanchard had received 106 entries for the races here during fair week. Sixty-three horses are represented.

Mrs. Ellis Shafer, of Madisonburg, has been removed from the Williamsport hospital and is at her brother's home, J. W. Hazel's, at Spring Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beezer, of Howard street, are pardonably elated over the arrival of their first child, a healthy little boy who came on Sunday.

Next Wednesday and Thursday nights the "South Before the War" Co. comes to Garman's for a presentation of that characteristic plantation play.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hunter, of Curtin street, are receiving the congratulations of their friends. A baby daughter came to their house Thursday evening.

Mr. Jonathan Miller, of Reynolds Ave., has given up his position as head miller in the Unionville grist mill and is at his home in this place for a period of rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Otto, of east Lamb street, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter Edith to William H. Smith, of this place. It will be a home wedding on Wednesday, Oct. 17th, at 4 p. m., with Rev. W. P. Shriver, of the Methodist church, officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Brew, of Oakland, Md., have issued invitations for the marriage of their sister, Minnie Thomas Brew to Harry Esling Fenlon, on Wednesday evening, October 24th, at 6 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed at "Brew Mawr" and Mr. and Mrs. Fenlon will be at home in Bellefonte after November 12th.

Rev. C. N. Woodson, pastor of the Bellefonte A. M. E. church, has gone to Pittsburg to attend the conference of his church and it is quite likely that while there he will be given another appointment. He has been in Bellefonte as long as their ministers are usually permitted to remain and while here has done a good work.

One of the most interesting guests at the Hastings-Hickok wedding was the veteran Perry Steele, of Axe Mann. Though past eighty-five he attended the church service, reception and wound up at the dance, which he enjoyed probably as much as anyone there. And it might be said right here that few of the boys of this day can dance anything like Perry did away back in the fifties, when Potter's Mills was the social centre of all the country round.

Frank Youm, right tackle on The Pennsylvania State College foot ball team, and well known in this place, was badly hurt in the foot ball game at West Point, on Saturday. His cheek bone was crushed in so that it is feared he will be disabled for life. It will be remembered that Earl Hewitt, State's quarter back, was so seriously hurt in the West Point game last season that he could not play any more that year. Neither team was able to score in the game.

A BEAUTIFUL FALL WEDDING.—The most notable social event and the largest wedding that has ever been celebrated in Bellefonte was that of Miss Helen Rankin Hastings to Ross Anderson Hickok, of Harrisburg, in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

The three thousand invitations that had been sent out brought hundreds of guests to town and the glad sunshine of a perfect fall day seemed to be carried clear into the night by the brilliant functions that marked its close.

The Presbyterian church, the largest in town, was crowded long before the hour for the ceremony and the street in front was thronged with people who were unable to gain entrance at all. The interior, so beautiful without adornment, had received just a touch from the hand of a professional decorator, but enough to make it in full harmony with the quaint beauty of the bridal party.

Precisely at 7 o'clock Mrs. J. Malcolm Laurie, the organist of the church, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, and from each side of the altar and to the right and left of the high organ rail came the ten bridesmaids, five on each side. They were Miss Margaret Scott Graham, of Pittsburg; Miss Louise Heffelfinger, Minneapolis; Misses Charlotte and Clara Rust, Cleveland; Miss Mary Bous and Miss Harriet Gilbert, Harrisburg; Miss Catherine Lawson and Miss Nellie McCormick, Williamsport, and Miss Adaline Harris and Miss Elizabeth Breeze, the granddaughters of ex-Governor Curtin, of Bellefonte. To the further end of the church walked the bridesmaids, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Louise Hickok, of Harrisburg. The ushers quickly followed the bridesmaids and awaited the bride's coming. Upon her entrance the entire party moved to the altar.

First came the ushers, Richard Cameron Haldeman, Charles W. Hickok, Wm. O. Hickok, Orville Schell, Frank J. Hall, Charles D. Brady, George W. Reily, Frederick Brooke, Edward H. Brewer and Colby M. Chester. Then followed the bridesmaids in white tulle silk, with old fashioned full skirts and garlands of pink roses across the front. The waists were cut with low neck and had small tulle sleeves. Each maid wore a little veil that was fastened with tall Prince of Wales feathers. They carried bouquets of pink cosmos. The maid of honor followed. Her gown was made like those of the bridesmaids, but it was all in white and she carried white cosmos.

Then came the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, former Governor Hastings. She was gowned in pure white satin with long train. Her slashed waist was heavily trimmed with Venetian point lace. She had full puff sleeves, over which hung her long bridal veil and she wore but one piece of jewelry, a magnificent diamond sunburst, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

At the altar steps the groom, Ross Anderson Hickok, was waiting with the best man, his brother, Orville Hickok and as they met they were grouped, forming a most charming picture, when Rev. Dr. Laurie, who twenty-three years ago had married the bride's father and mother in the same place, stepped forward to perform, the ceremony. The ring ceremony was used, to which Dr. Laurie added a short nuptial talk.

After the wedding, the bridal party went direct to the Hastings home on Allegheny street, where at 7:30 the reception began. The house, the finest in town, needed no decorations, but there, as well as at the church, an artist had been at work and the effect was enchanting. Governor and Mrs. Hastings received in the red room, assisted by the bride and groom, and Mrs. Hickok, mother of the groom. Mrs. Hastings' gown was of white brocade silk with pink flowers, out low and at the neck. She wore a lace fichu and white pompon hair ornament. The groom's mother wore black velvet, with lace trimming. Refreshments were served in the dining room, but the bridal party were seated at a table especially reserved for them in the pink drawing room.

The reception was followed at 10 o'clock by a dance given by the young men of the town in honor of the visitors, in the armory of Company B, a short distance from the Hastings' home.

At 10:30 Mr. and Mrs. Hickok left by a special train. Their honeymoon will be spent in New York, Washington and Old Point Comfort. The bride's traveling gown was a tailor-made dark blue cloth, and with this she wore a tiny toque of the same color. Mr. and Mrs. Hickok will be at home after Nov. 10th, at their residence, 221 West State street, Harrisburg. The bride's favors to the maids were blue enamel pins, while the groom's favors to his ushers were gold link sleeve buttons engraved with appropriate initials.

The groom was a noted football man at Yale. He was graduated from that institution in '97, served during the Spanish war, first as private in Battery A., of Philadelphia, and later as first lieutenant of Company M, of Gettysburg. He is now connected with the W. O. Hickok Manufacturing Company, of Harrisburg, the employees of which sent him a huge loving cup as a wedding gift.

The bride is the eldest daughter of former Governor and Mrs. D. H. Hastings and has always been regarded as one of the popular members of the younger social set in the town. She is an exceptionally sensible girl and the simple, charming manner that has won her the well wishes of hosts of friends was not in the slightest changed by her schooling at Osgontz or the ultra life in the executive mansion of Pennsylvania.

The gifts number more than five hundred and are simply lavish. They were displayed on the second and third landings of the grand stair case and embrace many costly wares in silver, cut glass and china, as well as rare pieces of bric a brac in gold, bronze, onyx and marble.

Among the guests present from a distance were the following: Philadelphia, Mrs. S. Cameron Burnside, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fell, the Misses Henkle, Miss Mary Garrett, Col. John H. Sanderson, Col. and Mrs. Jas. H. Lambert, Mr. W. P. McGuire and Col. and Mrs. John J. Rogers.

Pittsburg, Mrs. N. McKee Graham, Mr. and W. O. Hickok, 4th, and J. M. Curtin, Harrisburg, Mrs. W. O. Hickok, Mr. and Mrs. G. Irwin Beatty, Colonel and Mrs. Howard L. Calder, Captain and Mrs. John C. Delaney, Miss Mary Reilly, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Wambaugh, Mrs. Frank R. Schell, Mr. Wm. P. Schell, Miss Mary Gray, N. Y., Miss Elsie Haldeman, Frank J. Brady, Mrs. Spencer Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin N. Nead, Miss Snodgrass, Mrs. Lewis D. Beiler, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund B. Benke, Miss Lillie Coyle Hench and Mr. Nicholas P. Hench.

Williamsport, Hon. and Mrs. H. C. McCormick, and Mr. Clinton B. Coleman. Miss Margery Knowles and Miss Marlow, of Richmond, Va.; Miss Abernethie, of Camden; Miss Maude Rowland, Chelton, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McIntire, Altoona; N. Y., Miss Mabel Sheldon, Renovo; Mrs. F. E. Saltsman, Miss Saltsman, Miss Elizabeth Peale, and Miss Sara Good, Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McIntire, Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Morris, Tyrone; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Tyrone.

In addition to these there were hundreds of guests present from every quarter of Centre county. All of the wedding party were entertained at the Hastings home. On Monday evening there was a dinner at the Country club at Hecla and Tuesday evening the dinner for the wedding party, which was one of the most elaborate of the series of events before and after the wedding.

Wilson Gephart is in the infirmary at Princeton, with an injured knee. He jumped off the grand stand and hurt it.

Charles Meyers, a well-known Lock Haven freeman, died of cancer of the stomach Friday night. He was 50 years old and had been seriously ill only a few weeks. A widow and four children survive him.

Visitors attending the county fair next week should experience no difficulty in obtaining all they want to eat. Clyde Blackford alone is making preparations to accommodate and feed thousands. A big undertaking, but Clyde thoroughly understands his business and Blackford's restaurant always did have the run.

J. Minnie Johnson, who will deliver his pictorial lecture on John Bunyan, in the U. B. church this evening, is very highly endorsed by both press and pulpit. His lecture is illumined with hundreds of lantern pictures and is said to be exceptionally interesting. The admission will be only 10 and 15c. Remember, this evening in the Bellefonte United Brethren church.

CENTRE COUNTY FAIR.

BELLEFONTE, OCTOBER 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th.

ADMISSION 25 CENTS.

ONE FARE EXCURSION RATES.

The Boob peach orchard near Aaronsburg is to receive an addition of 4,000 trees next spring.

While attempting to make a flying switch on the N. Y. C. at Mill Hill, on Monday, a brakeman threw a switch too soon and three cars and an engine were derailed. The cars were so badly broken up that they had to be burned.

The Lock Haven hospital fair is proving a great success. On Saturday, alone, the receipts were $1,027. Among the contributors of money we notice Miss Humes and Miss Baum, of Bellefonte. The promoters of the fair are confident that they will net $5,000 during the week.

There has been considerable trouble in the working of the Bellefonte furnace since it was relighted. The output has been something marvelous, but they have been experimenting with a malleable coke iron which must be made at low heat and there is constant danger of chilling. The iron that is being made is so tough that it is impossible to break them in the usual way and new moulds have to be used.

At their annual convention at Allentown on Wednesday the County Commissioners of Pennsylvania decided to hold their next state convention in this place. Commissioners Meyer and Heckman, clerk Boyd Musser and attorney J. C. Meyer, represented the Centre county board at the convention and it was evidently due to their good offices that Bellefonte was selected as the next place of meeting. Messrs Meyer and Musser were both elected members of the executive committee.

Railroad agent F. W. Bradford at Centre Hall has figured out that during the past year 100 cars of cattle have been shipped from that point alone. Most of them have been milk cows that have gone to the suburbs of Philadelphia, where they are sold under the hammer at prices ranging from $40 to $100. Among the buyers and shippers of this grade of cattle are former treasurer D. C. Keller and his son Rollie. They are traveling about over the county continually, buying up the best cows they can get hold of. They prefer those with calves at their sides and ship the calves right in the car with the cows, selling them together.

A STATE COLLEGE STUDENT PROBABLY FATALLY HURT.—The students at The Pennsylvania State College were celebrating the good showing made by their foot ball eleven, in the game at West Point, last Saturday evening, and the demonstration wound up in a melee that might have a fatal termination for Robert Ross Luckie, a member of the Junior class.

After the usual explosion of exultant college boy spirit on the campus a party of students decided to make a raid on the College canteen, where large stores of cream, milk and ice cream are always on hand. The place had been raided several times before, so that the College authorities had placed watchmen there. On Saturday night Davy Slagle and Robert Johnston-baugh were on guard. They were soon overpowered, however, and locked up themselves. Some other employees of the College heard the racket and went to the rescue of the property, then a general fight ensued in which Luckie was struck over the forehead and left temple. He fell to the ground unconscious, but was carried to his room later. He could not be revived and laid in a semi-conscious condition.

Dr. Robinson, who had the case, called Dr. Hayes, of that place, and Dr. Christ, of State College, in consultation and an operation was decided necessary. It was performed on Sunday afternoon. The skull was trephined in four places and a very large clot of blood removed from the brain. Immediately after recovering from the ether Luckie became conscious and has been so ever since, though his condition is still regarded as almost hopeless. The physicians have been unable to stop the flow of blood from the aneurial artery except by packing.

Luckie's father, who is a prominent Chester dentist, with his mother and a trained nurse arrived at the College Monday morning.

No one has been able to find out who struck the blow that caused the injury.

ACADEMY—DICKINSON.—Several hundred people went down to the fair grounds, Saturday afternoon, to see the foot ball game between the Dickinson Seminary team from Williamsport and the Bellefonte Academy boys.

Though the visitors were much heavier and older than the locals they were unable to score and only once during the entire game was the Academy goal line in great danger.

The prettiest play of the day was a fake on a cross pass by which Austin Eadon was able to make a run of forty yards. Randolph Hoy, at left end for the Academy, played a very snappy game; getting down the field well on punts and tackling often and sure. The score was 0 to 0.

BARNARD WILL VISIT BELLEFONTE.—The committee on design for the soldiers' and sailors' monument met in the office of John C. Miller, in the Arcade, on Tuesday evening, the following members having been present: Dr. Geo. W. Atherton, James Harris, Chas. M. McCurdy, Jno C. Miller, Robt. F. Hunter and Geo. R. Meek.

The only business of importance transacted was the adoption of a resolution to ask for a joint meeting with the executive committee of the Monument Commission, so as to ascertain exactly how much funds will be available for the monument.

Dr. Atherton, chairman of the committee then gave a very delightful talk on his interviews with French and Barnard, the sculptors, regarding the monument. Next to McMonnies they are the most eminent sculptors in the country and both became interested in the monument for Centre county. Especially the latter, who is a native of Bellefonte. While French's "Minute Man" at Concord has brought him great fame Barnard, though a younger man, has risen rapidly in art, and it is most gratifying to learn that his interest in this monument at his boyhood's home is so enthusiastic that he will visit Bellefonte. He is at present under contract for some work for the Buffalo exposition and just as soon as it is completed, and our executive committee decides how much it will have to spend, Mr. Barnard will come here to look over the field and his designs will be among those that will be presented.

D. J. Neiman, of Millheim, and Miss Rae Mamolen, of Lock Haven, were married by Rabbi Yaffa at the latter place last Thursday evening. The groom is a merchant in Millheim and his bride is a daughter of Morris Mamolen, of Lock Haven. Owing to the serious illness of the bride's mother the wedding was very quiet.

News Purely Personal.

Hon. A. O. and Mrs. Furst left for Philadelphia on Tuesday morning.

J. Mac. Curtin, of Pittsburg, came home for the Hastings-Hickok wedding.

Mrs. W. S. Zeller spent the fore part of the week with relatives in Lock Haven.

D. B. Kunes, of Eagleville, has gone to Winter City, Miss., for a stay of some length.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith, of this place, spent Sunday with John F. Smith, the former's brother, at Chester Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Tate, with their three children, from Philadelphia, were here to spend Sunday with Mr. Tate's mother.

Edgar T. Burnside, of the Standard Scale Co., left for a trip through the Clearfield coal region, on Wednesday afternoon.

Hard P. Harris, after three weeks with his sister, Mrs. W. H. Galway, at Radford, Va., returned home on Saturday night.

Miss Helen Thompson, of Lemont, left for Minneapolis, Minn., yesterday, to make a six weeks visit with Miss Lide Mitchell, of that city.

Walter J. Christy, of the Pittsburg Commercial Gazette, was in town on Monday getting a link on the political situation in Centre county for his paper.

Rev. D. L. Jones, formerly of the Buffalo Run Presbyterian charge, was an arrival in town Tuesday morning. He is now located at Stillwater, N. J.

Rev. H. C. Parlos, who was a Methodist minister here twenty-eight years ago, was a guest of Rev. Shriver on Wednesday. He is located at Renovo now.

Mr. and Mrs. James Garner, of Hubersburg, were in town on Saturday on their way home from a delightful trip through parts of New York State and Canada.

Dr. J. Edward Gray, who came up from Williamsport Wednesday, to attend the Hastings-Hickok wedding, was entertained at the home of Rev. M. L. Smyser.

Mr. O. B. Krebs, of Pine Grove Mills, was in town on Friday on business pertaining to the estate of his father, the late Levi Krebs, of which he is one of the executors.

Mr. Edward B. Rankin, who has one of the largest insurance agencies in the city of Harrisburg, came up on Tuesday to be here for the wedding of his niece, Miss Helen Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Malcolm Laurie returned from their wedding tour Friday morning and went at once to their new home on Howard street. The "Go Easties" made it pleasant (?) for them, that evening.

Boston Veilholder, a very prominent resident of Snow Shoe township, this county, expects soon to move to Virginia, where he is engaged in an extensive lumber operation at Traveler's Report, on Greenbrier river.

Charles Thompson, son of John I. Thompson, of Lemont, left for Logansport, Ind., on Monday morning, there to accept a position in the railroad shops, which was secured through Supt. Geo. L. Potter, formerly of this place.

Hon. Leonard Shreve, of Centre Hall, was in town on Monday settling up some of the business of the last Congress' picnic. He says their picnic this year was far more successful than last, and they are going right on to improve and get ready for next year.

Mrs. Mrs. Hassel, nee Rosie Baum, of Washington Court House, Ohio, was an arrival in town Tuesday morning, with her sweet little daughter Elizabeth. As she has not been home for more than a year she will make quite an extended visit.

Miss Julia L. Reed, formerly an instructor in the Bellefonte Academy, has returned to Cuba for the winter. She had been spending the summer at Sharon, Conn., and returns to the island to resume her work in the Colegio M. L. Dolz, Prado 64, Havana.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Holt, of Philadelphia were in town on Monday. The former said he came all the way over here to save sixty cents on the valuation of a horse by the assessor, but we are inclined to think that the real reason was to meet Mrs. Holt, who had been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. Y. Date, at Lemont.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ervin Borchers, of Knoxville, Tenn., who had been guests at a home of Col. and Mrs. Reeder on the hill for a few days, left for the South on Monday morning. Mr. Borchers has extended his business interests, very materially since his last visit here, thus making the demands on his time much more exacting.

J. B. Fleisher, of Jamestown, was in town on Wednesday attending to some of the business in settlement of the estate of his father, the late Daniel Fleisher, of Centre Hall. Mr. Fleisher is a prosperous merchant at Jamestown and though it is a veritable hot-bed of Republicans he has clung steadfastly to the good old Democratic ideas that he learned when a boy in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Fleisher has a brother in Oklahoma, who is a candidate for Legislature and we are glad to learn that his chances for election are good.

SPECIAL FEATURES AT THE FAIR.—The Centre County Fair, to be held on the new fair grounds, Bellefonte, Pa., on October 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th, promises to be a great success in every way. The management have secured, at a great expense, a variety of free attractions to be presented before the grand stand during the races. Among others, the Elliot brothers, of New York, will show their enchanted horse and comic acrobatic feats, two acts each day. Professor Harry Smith will be there with his wonderful boxing dogs and he will also have a boxing bout of three rounds between himself and Mrs. Smith. His diving dog is another attraction that will be presented in connection with his splendidly trained dogs. In addition to this, there will be a great balloon ascension and parachute descent by Mlle. Louise Wrence, of Baltimore, at three o'clock each afternoon, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Varied other amusements will also be found upon the grounds. These, taken in connection with the excellent exhibits that are now assured, make it quite plain that the fair is to be a marked success.

The special return train to be run over the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad on Wednesday and Thursday of fair week, running as far as Coburn, will leave Bellefonte at 6:30 p. m., giving ample time to enjoy the whole day and return home if desired. No one should fail to be present at this grand opening.

HON. A. O. FURST WILL LECTURE FOR THE PLEASANT VIEW CHAPEL.—The members of the new Pleasant View chapel are to be congratulated on having secured the Hon. A. O. Furst to lecture for them on the Passion Play at Oberammergau. During a recent trip abroad Judge Furst witnessed the remarkable production and we know of no one more competent to describe it in graphic and interesting style.

The time for the lecture has not been decided, but it will probably be given in the court house at some time during the week after next.

Lyon Co's. new cut Kersey Overcoats for men all colors from $4.50 to $15.

An ice cream and cake festival will be held on the lawn of the Coleville chapel tomorrow, Saturday evening, for the benefit of the chapel fund. Everyone who enjoys good things and wishes to have a pleasant time is cordially invited. If the weather is inclement the chapel will be used.

The ladies of the Milesburg Presbyterian church will hold an ice cream social at the parsonage in that place on Saturday evening, Oct. 13th. The income will be for the benefit of the fund to repair the parsonage.

Lyon Co's. all wool mens suits $4.75.

The capacity of the Harrison hosiery factory at Millheim is to be increased at once. Last week the management accepted the largest contract ever known to have been closed by a factory of the capacity of the Millheim concern. As the operatives are becoming more expert their wages are advancing.
