Wilhelmina to Wed.

Betrothed to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin-Announcement of the Queen Made Through official

Queen Wilhelmina has proclaimed her ethrothal to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, the Official Gazette on Tuesday evening containing the queen's announce

The duke was to arrive at The Hague on Monday night, and to visit the Royal cas-

Duke Henry is tall, bright looking and German in appearance.

The marriage will take place next spring. A vast amount of interesting speculation has been set at rest by Queen Wilhelmina's announcement that she has chosen her consort. The "little queen" of the Dutch has been mated time after time, and the eligible princes of Europe have one after another been declared by gossip the favored suitor to her hand. But "Wilful Wilheltoina" as a British cousin called her, has proved as a British cousin called her, has proved wide of the mark all these rumors except the last. Her subjects expected she would announce her betrothal on her twentieth birthday, August 31st last. A few days previously a German paper declared Duke Adolph of Mecklenburg-Schwerin the prospective bridegroom. A denial was promptly issued at The Hague, but it is now seen that it was Duke Adolph's younger brother that it was Duke Adolph's younger brother

Duke Henry, who has won the prize.

The two brothers are cadets of the ducal line of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, the little grand duchy on the northeast coast of the German empire, the ruling house of which claims to be the oldest sovereign house in the Western world. The grandfather of the present Grand Duke Frederick Francis married three times.

Duke Henry, who will probably be entitled the prince consort in the Netherlands is the youngest child of the third marriage, his brother, a dashing cavalry officer of the Prussian guard at Berlin, Duke Henry is closely attached to the German court, holding the commission of a lieutenant in the Chasseur battalion of the Prussian guard stationed at Potsdam. He was born at Schwerin, April 19th, 1876, and is thus four years the senior of the young queen, who was born August 31st, 1880. The Dutch are intensely proud of their sovereign. She has borne the title of queen already for ten years, having succeeded to the throne on her father's death, in Nov. 1890. Since her coming of age, two years ago, and the assumption of actual power after the regency of her mother, Queen Emma, Queen Wilhelmina has endeared herself to her subjects, Her duties she has taken seriously aud, every morning will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowlesse har hard at work granting audiences the throne on her father's death, in Nov. to her ministers, reading dispatches and signing state documents, as methodically as Queen Victoria, to whose early life her own has so nearly corresponded. Exceedingly fond of out door life and amusements, she has become a familiar figure to ments, she has become a familiar figure to the loyal Hollanders-skating along the canals in the national fashion, tending her tulips or witnessing the manoeuvres of her troops, or leading her staff on horse back. she takes a lively interest in everything that concerns her people. At provincial and agricultural shows, and among the fisher folk of the Zuyder Zee, she has won all hearts by her natural affability. Her ardently patriotic bent is not the least characteristic that has knit the bonds of the people. At provincial and agricultural shows, and among the fisher folk of the Zuyder Zee, she has won all hearts by her natural affability. Her ardently patriotic bent is not the least characteristic that has knit the bonds of the future, but it is plans for the future, but it is nown that he is full of registance to his bright face, an exquisite milk and rose complexion, large hazel eyes and light Duke Henry, of course, will become his wife's naturalized subject. Many of the difficulties which beset in similar circumstances Prince Albert, the prince consort of Queen Victoria in England, are unlikely to arise in the present instance, as the only members of the house of Orange nearly related to the queen are the two princes of Saxe-Weimar, who are rarely in the Netherlands, although they are the next heirs to the throne, and consequently many awkward questions of precedence such as troubled the early married life of the royal English pair will not need consideration. Queen Wilhelmina, moreover, is one of the wealthiest sovereigns in Europe, enjoying a civil list of upward of fifteen million dollars per annum, besides an immense private fortune inherited from her father. She has been able to make a match free from political, dynastic or any other motive than that of her own happiness, and a gen-eral wish for its attainment will follow the course of this royal union.

Republican Veterans for Bryan Union Veteran Republican Liberty League Declares for the People's Champion.

There are some old soldiers of the civil war, old soldiers of Philadelphia, who do not believe in expansion by the sword.

The Philadelphia Union Veteran Republican Liberty League, at a meeting last night' took important action placing the League squarely on the Bryan platform.
At the meeting an election for officers was first held, with this result: President, John Logue, late of the California Cavalry;
vice president, W. H. Fagan, late of the John Logue, late of the California Cavalry; vice president, W. H. Fagan, late of the Twentieth Pennsylvania Cavalry; secretary, D. B. Meany, late of the Thirteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry.

The following resolutions and declarations of principles were adopted: The Pennsylvania Cavalry.

The following resolutions and declarations of principles were adopted: The Union must and shall be preserved. We pledge ourselves to uphold the Declaration Union must and shall he preserved. We pledge ourselves to uphold the Declaration of Independence; the Constitution and our flag are one and inseparable; expansion by the sword is obnoxious to Americanism; no alliance with monarchies; we oppose trusts and conspiracies against our people; we and conspiracies against our people; we believe in property honestly obtained, that as William J. Bryan has nobly upheld all the principles in the above resolutions contained, that each and every one of us will and shall do all lawful acts to secure his election as President of these United States.

A Singular Case. John Williams, a shoemaker of Donegal township, Butler county, on Sunday was suffering exeruciating pain from a sty on the left eye. He applied some shoe wax with a bandage to his eye before retiring. During the night his screams awakened other members of the family. It was found that the wax had drawn the eyeball clear out of the scoket many the cheek clear out of the socket upon the cheek. Physicians were hastily summoned. They were afraid to heat the wax to remove it. for fear of injuring the sight. After hours of work the wax was removed, but the eyeball refused to again go to its place. He could see out of the eye that lay upon his cheek when the other was closed. The unfortunate man has to be kept under the influence of morphine continually.

Rest Rooms for Farmers' Wives.

From the Outlook the following is taken: The rest rooms for farmers' wives which have been established of late furnish opportunity for mutual helpfulness and com-panionship between the residents of town and country. The main object of these institutions, which belong essentially to the progressive West, is making people comfortable, but the intellectual and social side of the question is also met. For a few years past social pavilions have been erected at many of the Western State fairs. Chippewa Falls, Wis., and Albert Lea, Minn., were pioneers in this movements, which is gradually reaching other towns which see the usefulness of providing a temporary rest room. To Rochester, Minn., is accredited the honor of opening the first permanent rest room in the West, and possibly in the States. A homelike room in the business part of the city is furnished with cosey chairs, lounges, books and magazines. Here country women are invited to stop when in town on a day's shopping excursion, and every convenience is provided necessary for the welfare of the woman who has ridden many miles to town. The comfort of this room appeals strongly to their hands in selecting a location for a home. They will certainly go about it in the wrong way unless they inspect the beautiful farming country have undertaken similar work. For in-stance, Anoka, Minn., is a small town sur-Railway in Marinette county, Wisconsin, where rounded by a large farming district, and the crops are of the best, work plenty, fine marthis place has a flourishing rest room, which was started two years ago. A Woman's sold cheap and on long time. Why rent a farm Exchange in connection pays the matron's salary, and tea and coffee are served for the nominal price of three cents. Winona, Northfield and Faribault, all in the State, have undertaken similar work with success. Following closely in this work, Eau Claire, Wis., boasts of a room whose guests, Claire, Wis., boasts of a room whose guests, average forty-five a day, and York, Neb., Burlington, Kan., and Jophin, Mo., have resting places provided for their country sisters. The latter place is situated in a mining district, and the miners' wives eagerly avail themselves of the rooms' privileges. Convinced of these successes, the Town and Country Club of Piqua, O., and consequently bears the relationship of an uncle to the reigning grand duke. Like club is under an efficient board of managers, and hopes to broaden its field as in Rochester, where sewing classes are condusted and interest taken in travelling libraries. Some of these rooms are self-supporting, others are under the management of wom en's clubs, and in some cases financial aid is given by merchants who contribute with the idea of building up trade. That they foster a spirit of friendliness between town and country women is shown at a recent meeting of the State Federation in one of sympathy between herself and the people. In appearance the queen similarly fulfills the Dutch ideal. She has a well form- ing ground to Europe and hopes there to interest European powers and yet save the ed, rather sturdy figure, an intelligent, Transvaal.

MAY RESIDE IN HOLLAND.

Kruger's first landing place is not certain, but it is believed that ultimately he will make his home among his kinsman in Holland. It is reported that he will disembark in Europe at Marseilles and go to Holland by way of Paris.

Another report is that Kruger will spend some of his time in Brussels and that will be one of his headquarters. These varying reports only indicate that he intends to visit the European countries that have evinced notable sympathy with the Boers in their strnggles.

Perhaps.

The patriotic purpose of the Times to aid in the restoration of the government to the principles on which its foundations were laid is a matter of sincere rejoicing among men who cling to the Constitution as the safeguard of popular rights. With millions of my countrymen I see in this loyal expression of fidelity to the simple faith of the fathers, as against the arrogance of a military system and the domination of lawless trusts, the promise of an awakening of the conscience of the people of Pennsylvania that must bear fruit in impelling lovers of civil liberty to greater and more determined effort to break the thralls that have chained them. The Democratic party is to be congratulated on the accession of a powerful ally in the cause of the people.

I am very glad to know that we have once more a strong and popular newspaper in Philadelphia advocating the cause of the Democratic party and the election of William Jennings Bryan to the Presidency. I congratulate the Philadelphia Times in the earnest and manly stand it has taken in advocating the interests of the common people, and its patriotic attitude in favor of the maintenance of a Republican government and the institutions under which this country, became great and prosperous. At this critical moment in the life of the Republic, the assistance which the Philadelphia Times can, and I know will, give in advocating a true American policy, and in defending the Stars and Stripes as the flag of the free, teaching a lesson of liberty, equality and humanity to the downtrodder and oppressed of all nations, and holding out to them the blessings which have been achieved under it is much needed, and I know your paper will receive a cordial welcome from those who hold patriotism above McKinley commercialism.
