The Forbidden City.

A Glimpse of its Gorgeous Palaces and Sacred Places.

The interior of the forbidden city is divided into three parts by two walls running entirely through it from north to south, the eastern section of the city being given up to the officers of the Chinese boards of government and to the treasury of the palace, while that on the west contains a variety of buildings, memorial halls to distinguished sovereigns and scholars, the guardian temple of the city, and the government printing office.

"The telegram cannot go." "The editor asked: 'Are its contents not true?'" "The general replied: 'That does not signify. The telegram cannot go. If you undertake to reproduce any part of my paper here I shall suspect that paper, and as far as you are concerned I shall consider whether to banish you from the islands or put you in prison. Nothing that reflects on military operations can be sent out.'"

"The situation in my mind is as bad as it can be. Looking as I saw it, it was all the more probable that such things could be done under the American flag in the name of the American government."

"It will be a bloody and costly task to subdue the people over there. The national sentiment among the Filipinos is growing; not diminishing. I talked with large numbers of men of all classes, from the highest to the lowest, and found all with few exceptions, firmly imbued with the idea of national independence, and determined to submit with greater measure of regret to anything than what might be afforded by protestation."

"The Filipino forces are in possession of and are operating throughout the greater part of the country, the American authority being recognized only within the limits of army garrisons. While I was in Manila there was fighting between our troops and the Filipinos almost within gunshot of the city."

"I will say further that there is a condition of utter demoralization in Manila—gambling and prostitution, with barons every where."

"An American officer of high rank said to me on his departure: 'You are about to return to the United States. As a native of America, if you have any love for your country, for God's sake let the people at home what is being done here under the flag. I cannot speak; you can. If you desire the perpetuation of the republic you will not remain silent.'"

Earth Impoverished by the Sea.

A muddy river betokens one of the greatest of national losses. It means that the rich soil, which Jack Frost, and other national agencies have been ages in forming, is washing away into the ocean.

Million Demmy, 18 years of age, of Mount Joy, died Wednesday from the effects of Paris green. He had bought a bicycle on installments and was back with his payments. The dealer threatened to bring suit and this scared the young man so badly that he determined to take his life. He went to a cornfield on Monday, and after taking the poison, hid himself in a corn shock. He did not take enough to cause immediate death and on Tuesday crawled to a stream to get a drink, and was too weak to again secret himself. He was found a few hours later and taken to his home, where he died Thursday night.

Frightened into Committing Suicide.

The badly mangled remains of a man were discovered on the line of the Pennsylvania railroad a short distance east of Ryde station by Mrs. D. E. Bratton, agent at that place, at an early hour Saturday morning. The man had evidently been beating his way on a freight train, falling from it while in motion, his head and body being crushed, one arm and one foot being cut off, and presenting a revolting sight. There were no valuables on his person, but from a card of Monitors' union No. 33, of Reading, acknowledging payment of all dues to Sept. 22nd last, he is supposed to be known as John Maitland. The remains were taken to Lewistown for burial.

Robbed the Grave.

Robbed the Grave.—A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c., guaranteed, at Green's drug store.

Medical.

NOTHING TASTES GOOD And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be. This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating sparingly would cure dyspepsia, few would suffer from it long. The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system.

Noel Whipkey, of Higby, Pa., had no appetite and was fast falling away and growing weaker. He began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which gave him a good appetite, and he is now growing strong and fleshy. He recommends this medicine to the weak and suffering.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured the niece of Frank Fay, 106 N. St., South Boston, Mass., who writes that she had been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years; had been without appetite and had been troubled with sour stomach and headache. She had tried many other medicines in vain. Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla made her well.

Promises to cure and keeps the promise. Don't wait till you are worse, but buy a bottle to-day.
