In the Earth Drying Up!

The drought of the present year is acknowledged by all to have been the most serious ever experienced, and the prospect of rain-fall of sufficient volume to restore the earth's much needed water supplies in the near future is not at all encouraging.

Scientists declare that the amount of water on the earth's surface, and the prospect of rain-fall of sufficient volume to restore the earth's much needed water supplies in the near future is not at all encouraging.

In many instances small streams, which fifty years ago were the favorite swimming or fishing resorts of the youths of that time, have almost entirely disappeared from sight or become mere muddy streaks through the land, which formerly grew green along the banks of rushing rivulets.

The Need of Rest.

Dr. Miles Says That Few Americans Have Acquired the Power of Rest.

Professor Eustace H. Miles, formerly lecturer at Cambridge University, England, and the head authority on athletics in that institution, contributes to the current Saturday Evening Post a leading article on Fallacies About Training.

Man Never Without Beer.

Nineteen Centuries Before Christ the Process of Making Beer Was Taught.

When the Romans first invaded Germany they found that the beverage of the people was a beer produced from barley. But that was at a time comparatively modern.

Broom Splint Causes Blood Poisoning.

James Fletcher, who is charged with the murder of Charles Rattley, of Hubbard, Mercer county, will probably never come to trial.

Phillipsburg.

E. S. Haracy and family have moved to Clearfield.

The few political orators who have visited this town and vicinity, complain bitterly of the lack of interest in the approaching election.

Mr. Alfred Richards, accompanied by his little son, left last Monday for Philadelphia where the latter will get medical treatment by a specialist.

Mr. C. S. Wittenberg, of New York, who recently purchased the Acme and Acme State mines, has assumed possession of the same. The mines belonged to the O. P. Jones estate.

The Kepler lot adjacent to Dr. Harman's on the corner of Beaver and Front streets, has been purchased by druggist W. F. Brown and the new structure will build a handsome residence on the site.

A wreck of 16 loaded coal cars Saturday last, at Gardner, on the P. E. R., detained all afternoon trains, on account of having to transfer at that point. The 8:25 train did not arrive until about 1 a. m. Sunday.

On Monday night, while a loaded coal train on the N. Y. C. was passing over the long bridge at Viaduct, a car on the head end jumped the track plowing into the superstructure, ripping up the ties and track for forty feet. Fortunately the train was moving very smoothly, which doubtless averted a serious wreck.

Arizona's Alluring Side.

Something of a surprise will be conveyed by the census returns recently received, considered Statehood for the territory of Arizona impossible of realization. Indeed, the returns are calculated to astonish even those within the territorial limits, although there has been a small but constant tide of gold and silver hunters in that direction for some time.

These figures are a commentary upon the tales of the bad lands, Gila monsters and other unwelcome conditions and unnamable inhabitants. The arid tract is there, to be sure, and the so-called monster, too; but the magnetic influence of precious ores gives courage to the heart which otherwise might be weak.

Progress Rapid in the Klondike.

A year or two in the Klondike has been as much as 10 years in California in the fifties, so far as improvements are concerned. Dogs and dog sleds are now becoming obsolete, railroads and commodious steamers are superseding the pack trail and the canoe, just as hydraulic mining is superseding the hand rocker and gold pan, and steam fluming machines the fire-former built in the shafts to loosen up the ground.

Highest Point in the State.

Big Bald Knob, Eight Miles From Cambria Line, is Now So Called.

E. Matley, a civil engineer in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and who has charge of the extension of the Cambria and Hermitic branches of the Pennsylv. in Westmoreland county, has made the discovery that Big Bald Knob, in the Allegheny mountains, on the line between Somerset and Bedford counties, is the most elevated point in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Matley has furnished his surveys and calculations to the government engineers having in charge the new geological survey of the state, and the latter have accepted Big Bald Knob as the culminating point of Pennsylvania.

YOUR BEST WORK—Cannot be done unless you have good health. You cannot have good health without pure blood. You may have pure blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now. You cannot realize the good it will do you until you try it.
