Find of Dr. Hilprecht.

First Babylonian Temple Library Ever Discovered. Prof. H. V. Hilprecht, of the University of Pennsylvania, who has been exploring the mounds of ancient Nippur, in Asia Minor, arrived in New York on Thursday portance is the fact that we have not only discovered a Babylonian temple library, but the most influential, important and oldest in the country. And not less interesting is the fact that no document discapital of all Babylonia, succeeded as the metropolis of the district of Northern Babylonia. "So far, practically only one wing of this great library has been excavated. Nearly 18,000 volumes were rescued from the ruins this year, while, sporadically, at different times during the progress of the expedition's work, some 10,000 were found at various localities in the building, al-though at that time I had no convincing proof we were actually in the library.

"My theory from the first moment when I examined the ruins at Nippur, eleven years ago, was that in this group of mounds, if anywhere, the library of Nippur was hidden. The size of these clay inscribed tablets constituting the library of Nippur

Are attempting to solve a gigantic problem, but varies from about two inches by one, to a foot and a half in length by one foot in width. Unfortunately for a decipherer they were made of unbaked clay, and have foot and a half in length by one foot in width. Unfortunately for a decipherer they were made of unbaked clay, and have therefore suffered considerably by the collapse of the building and by the humidity of the ground. But we have all the fragments and it will be possible to restore a large number of the texts in their completeness. Considerable difficulty of the crops are of the best, work plenty, fine margonyleteness. Considerable difficulty of the crops are of the best, work plenty, fine margonyleteness. tions are written in the early Babylonian cuneiform characters. 'As to the contents, they included every | Salle St., Chicago, Ill. branch of literature known. To the early Semitic peoples particularly welcome are the lists of words written in two languages, the Sumerian and Babylonian. The grammatical exercises, the chronological lists, the many hymns, written often in terms closely approaching the Old Testa-ment Psalms and Proverbs, astronomical and astrological texts, tablets giving the inventory of the temple, the different gods worshiped, the income of the temple from different sources-all these are invaluable contributions to our knowledge of the ancient world. They will considerably increase our knowledge of the vocabulary of two of the most ancient languages of the human race."

"In what manner will these discoveries affect the interpretation of the Biblical re.

"They will noticeably affect our knowledge of the life, the religion and the arts of the Hebrews, whose earliest roots are bound up with the history of Babylonia. The library of the temple Nippur was lost to human knowledge about the time that Abraham went out of Ur. It gives us the historical setting of the time when Abraham went into Palestine. Many of the customs and religions, mention of which existed among the Hebrews, will find here their first interpretation.

"We have known all along too little of this period. Now we will be able to tell what is purely Babylonian and what is Hebrew. Not through this library particularly, but through the discoveries we have made (my former discoveries and rereaches about the time of Azra and Nehemiah), we have received a new impulse from tablets and inscribed Hebrew boles about 200 of them that we found. The arguments are conclusive that the larger mass of the Jewish exiles transported by Nebuchadnezzar after the destruction of Nebuchadnezzar after the destruction of Jerusalem were settled at Nippur and alongside the canals in the neighborhood. "The records from the library at Nippur," concluded Professor Hilprecht, "are now on their way from Bassora to Constantinople, where they will arrive in the course of the next six months. The conditions at Constantinople make it impossible tions at Constantinople make it impossible for me to speak as to the time when they may be looked for in this country."

Normal School Courses Changed.

At a recent meeting in Harrisburg of the principals and trustees of the thirteen Nor. principals and trustees of the thirteen Normal schools in the state it has been decided to consolidate the elementary course of study with the regular Normal course This consolidation will require students hereafter to study three years instead of two years before receiving their diplomas. It was also decided to add French, German and Greek as elective studies.

An old Irish woman, who kept a fruit stall, had some watermelons given her, which she exposed for sale. A smart Yankee, wishing to "take a rise" out of the old lady, took up one of the melons and said :-

"These are small apples you grow over here. In America we have them twice the size."

The woman slowly removed the pipe she was smoking from between her lips, and cooly surveyed her inquirer from head to foot for a second or two. Then, in a tone

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

BECAUSE IT'S FOR ONE THING ONLY, AND

BELLEFONTE IS LEARNING THIS.

Nothing can be good for everything.
Doing one thing well brings success.
Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.
They're for sick kidneys.
They cure backache, every kidney ill.
Here is Bellefonte evidence to prove it:

Mrs. J. Cowher, of Bishop street, says:
"I was very bad with my back and head. I suffered pain, in both and was very restless nights besides being so tired all the time that I could hardly keep myself about. I was very lame across my kidneys and bending over or being on my feet much was extremely painful. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills and seeing them so highly recommended for these troubles I procured them from F. Potts Green's drug store. They gave me positive relief, caused me to sleep well, stopped the pains, removed the lameness and invigorated me generally."
