A Deal For Utah.

Why Mormons Carried the State For McKinley-Polygamy Not to Be Practiced.

A Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Record of the small surprises of the election none was more mystifying in Washington than the result in Utah.

Since arriving in Washington I learn from very good sources the reason for the confidence of the Republican managers.

When the Mormon leaders were given this assurance they promised to use their influence for the Republican ticket.

It is reasonably sure that there is a correct explanation why Utah went Republican.

There was more or less serious talk after the Roberts expulsion of passing a law forbidding plural marriages or of adopting a constitutional amendment of similar nature.

The sentimental and theological support of the practice of polygamy is rapidly disappearing in the Mormon church.

The business relations of the younger Mormon professional and commercial men are with intelligent and cultivated men not of their own race.

The younger Mormons make no pretense of standing for the practice of the polygamy.

Father Melone, a well informed priest of the Catholic church, said not long ago that the Mormon church is growing in strength more rapidly than any other church.

The elders of the church while saying that a federal law would not be enacted from any state in an effective way.

Pure Air Needed in the Schools.

Elizabeth Cady Stanton on Ventilation in Theory and in Practice.

The first necessity for the preservation of good health is a constant supply of pure air in all our waking and sleeping hours.

It is calculated that the number of cubic feet in the various apartments where we spend our lives, we shall see that we breathe the same air many times in one hour.

Every exhalation of the breath is laden with carbonic acid gas, and five-eighths of the impurities of the system are thrown off through the skin.

Horace Mann, the only member of the Board of Education in Massachusetts in his day who appreciated the importance of a generous supply of pure air in the public schools, churches and homes.

When we have schools in many localities bearing the name of Horace Mann, yet entering upon the fetid atmosphere, growing worse and worse as you enter the recitation rooms where the incense of burning stoves and the odors of health, of which we have little.

I was once, many years ago, invited to listen to a lecture on ventilation in Cornell University by a distinguished professor.

The room was crowded, and the atmosphere when I entered was already unbearable.

Another teacher, lecturing on ventilation, once complained to me that my daughter had been very impatient.

She replied: "Stepping on her chair, she pulled down the window and said: 'Let us have some pure air, with sixteen scholars in this little room we must have breathed the air twenty times over already; isn't it a good thing, Miss P., to use knowledge as fast as we get it?'"

It is a pity that in all our colleges and schools there is not some bright pupil in every class to demand her inalienable God-given rights to 2,000 cubic feet of air every hour.

The auditor's report in the estate of Rev. David Conway, who was a great friend of Dr. Laurie's of this place and who visited here many times, was filed in Lancaster, Saturday.

The two sisters of the preacher made a claim for the bonds because there had been no delivery of them, and because the bonds were not to be cashed until the 30th of the month.

Women's Brigade Sweep Street.

Because the city's authorities paid no attention to complaints of the filthy condition of Jefferson street, Reading, women residents of the thoroughfare took upon themselves the task of improving its condition.

Sixty women turned out and lined up under the command of those appointed to take charge and direct the work.

After the dirt was swept on piles, City Engineer Murdoch was notified by the committee to remove it.
