A brief history of prisonment in the Centre county jail for a the case, as compiled from stories published at the time by the WATCHMAN, is as follows :

Keenan shot and killed Miss Hobbins, to whom he is said to have been engaged, near Gillentown, on Sept. 26th. Driving out for a load of wood for Mrs. Hobbins, mother of the girl, he invited Annie and her little sister to go with him. A short time after the departure he returned, bringing the body of the dead girl with him. He claimed that while playfully struggling for for mark for awhile, the weapon had, accidentally discharged, and the girl died be-

At a habeas corpus hearing, held on Oct. 6th. Mrs. Hobbins showed considerable bitterness toward Keenan, practically charging him with the deliberate murder trial, $2,000 bail being demanded. As

To this he replied : I don't care if you do and when she pointed the revolver at him he grabbed it and a scuffle ensued in which it was discharged with the fatal effect noted before. He said she had her hand on the barrel of the weapon and he had his on the handle.

A few other witnesses were called after Keenan left the stand but at 4:45 court adjourned until this morning. A verdict will probably be had this afternoon.

J. Frank Condon, the official court stenographer for this district, having resigned on account of ill health, G. S. Burrows, of Sunbury, is reporting this term of court.

While driving to Stone Creek, to bring home a party of hunters, one day last week, Mr. John From, who lives on the Wm. Foster farm adjoining State College, met with an accident that may disable him the entire winter. Something went wrong with one of his lines and he stepped onto the tongue of the wagon to adjust it when one of the horses kicked, breaking his leg and shattering the bone below the knee badly. He managed to get back into the wagon and drove on to the camp, where the hunters fixed the broken limb up as well as they could, and the next day brought him home. Although he suffered the most intense pain and his broken leg was so badly swollen that it it understood that Democracy in Ferguson is by vorld's greatest center had he gone to College. There is probably not a stronger looking man in the county and Bill's strength of body and muscle is not his only strong point, for he is very much of a gentleman as well.

-Major W. H. Fry, of Ferguson township, was in town Tuesday with a bundle of documents imposing enough to have belonged to the congressional library and disconcerting enough when we happened to think that it might be Pine Grove Mention or the latest news of an Odd Fellows banquet. It was only his returns, though, as as sor of the township, so we were not concerned.

-A gay house party consisting of the Misses Minnie and May Welker and Katharine Hoagland, of Williamsport ; Bernice Louise Knoche, Grubb and Mapes Emler of Harrisburg ; and Minnie Eph, of White Haven, was entertained by Miss Bessie Showers, over Sunday at her home on Bishop street. They came on to attend the Senior assembly at State College Friday night and were also guests at the S. A. E. fraternity danc there Monday night.

-Frank Hess, the young Philipsburg men chant and coal operator, who finds considerable time to dabble in politics in the county, came over on Monday morning to attend court. Frank was a juror and brought his friend James B Miller, of Philadelphia, along over with him to help kill time between juries. Mr. Hess went me last evening, but Mr. Miller was so pleased with Bellefonte and some of her people that he decided to tarry a day or so longer.

-While returning to her home near Pennsylvania Furnace from a pleasant visit in Clinton county of several weeks Mrs. Lydia A. Sunday stopped in town Monday for a few hours with friends. Although Mrs. Sunday is known to be an excellent business woman she preferred to give up the management of the farm on the death of her husband, the late Emanuel Sunday, bu being a member of the well known Gates family she is quite as much interested in politics and current events as her brothers and is one of our readers who is always paid up away in advance

-Capt. Jno A.
