A Great Lake of Salt.

A Description of the Wonderful Snow-Like Deposit in the Burning Colorado Desert. The greatest wonder of the Colorado des ert is its crystal lake, as white as the driven snow; a lake of chloride of sodium extending for miles, in which, with a plow and shovel, work the Coahuilla Indians 10 elusion is that ages ago the entire country was part of the Gulf of California; indeed, the old shore line can be traced, and along the rock the traps of the early fishermen

In the center of a wide valley 200 feet glistens a sheet of molten silver; no bank of virgin snow is more beautiful. Durnig the day it is dazzling white, a lake of crystal indeed, and as the sun goes down a crimson hue pervades it, and a transformation scene of marvelous heauty is set on this desert stage. The traveler who reaches the region at night might well imagine that a miracle had occurred and that a snow storm had fallen, as the area of white extends to the horizon, and by the largest building, the mill in Salton, great heaps of seeming snow are piled, gleaming and scintillating in the sun. But the snow is salt. It is not the salt left by the ancient sea, but the deposit of peculiar springs that are ever running down from the distant mountain. The salt is spread over a great area, and is so pure that all that is necessary to do is to collect and dry it. Usually sary to do is to collect and dry it. Usually steam heating appliances are necessary to dry the product of salt mines, but the intense heat of Salton is all that is needed.

The method of obtaining the salt is to plough it up by steam, the ploughs cutting furrows eight feet wide and six inches deep the heavy to see the leave to be a set of the salt is to plough it. deep, the harvest for each plough each day being 700 tons, which is suggestive of the immensity of the deposit. The salt is put on cars which are run out into the salt lake; it is then hauled to the mill and dried, when it is ready for transportation. Thou-sands of tons of salt are heaped up in small seriously ill of yellow fever, but recovered. mountains here, presenting a remarkable appearance.

How men can work in such a climate seems one of the mysteries, but the only really difficulty one has at Salton is from the glare of the salt, which makes green glasses a necessity. A temperature of 150 degrees in New York for five minutes would fill the hospitals and create a panic, but at Salton a case of sunstroke is un-known. This is due to the fact that the humidity is very low here; moisture is almost eliminated from the atmosphere.

This feature has given this part of the desert fame as a health resort, and at Indio, which is an oasis in the desert, a health resort is rapidly growing up, and winter and spring finds many consumptives here. The Colorado desert from Indio to the sea is an interesting region, abounding in mining claims, from copper to coal. Here one may go down as at Indio, 300 feet below the sea, a literal hole which would be filled and become a deep lake if the sea should break through from the gulf. This was the cause of the Salton sea some years ago; the cause of the Salton sea some years ago; the Colorado broke its banks and flowed out apon the desert, forming a vast lake, and demoralizing the Indians, who fled to the mountains and watched the filling of the Midway between here and the gulf are many mud volcanoes of exceeding interest, suggesting the uncertain character of the suggesting the uncertain character of the crust in the vicinity.

The Arabs of this desert are the Coahuilla Indians, and their thoroughfare is a small leading from the Coahuilla valley to Indian Wells, and so on to Yuma. After leaving Torres Mountain there is water, but once between there and Indian Wells, and along this highway, where the rooks reflect heat like a furnace, death has stalked in many forms. Grub stakers are the easiest in many forms. Grub stakers are the easiest in months. She is now confined to her bed and can see no one. Postmaster Bowman victims. It is difficult to get the Indians, who know every nook and corner of the mountains, to venture into them during the summer, and so the miner, a tenderfoot, perchance, essays the trip himself and heed the warning.

"I have seen some terrible sights on this desert," said an old miner. "Once I ran across a team bogged in the sand. It was away off the trail, and I would not have noticed it had it not been for the canvas top which flapped like a flag in the sun. I rode up to it and saw at a glance that an awful desert tragedy had been enacted. The-horses had dropped in the harness and a mass of dried skin and bones was all that told the story. Beneath the wagon, where they had probably gone to escape the fearful heat, were the remains of the poor human creatures, dried as mummies."

Yet on the desert live many Indians from choice, grouped about the springs, and a few years ago there was a flourishing willage at Indian Wells.

During the past two years these Indians have suffered much from drought; their wells have gone dry, their cattle have died.

Mosquitoes Carry Fever.

merican Commission Proves Them the Sole Source

The American commission, under the superintendence of Dr. Reed, which has been making experiments at Quemados, Cuba, as to the propagation of the yellow fever germs by the mosquito, has obtained extremely satisfactory results.

Dr. Reed says the experiments show beyond a doubt that there is no contagion from an infected person or from infected clothing, but that mosquitoes alone are responsible for the spread of the disease.

In the commission's investigations six hours a day in a temperature of 150 de-grees. So level is the regions so singular in all its details, that the irresistable con-in all its details, that the irresistable con-

The last experiment made proved con-clusively; Dr. Reed contends, the theory of propagation by mosquitoes. A special building was constructed of disinfected material, and one of the rooms was divided below the level of the Gulf of California, into two sections by a wire mosquito screen. In one section was placed disinfected bedding and clothing, and in the other bedding and clothing from the yel-low fever hospital which had not been disinfected.

Two non-immunes compied the two sec tions. In the former were put several infected mosquitoes. The patient remained in this room long enough to be bitten and in four days a pronounced case of yellow fever developed. The patient is now convalescent.

The other subject slept in the infected bedding for many nights and has not contracted the fever. Both patients have been sleeping for 20 nights in garments worn by yellow fever victims and in bedding from the yellow fever hospital. Dr. Reed says they are growing fat, and that in no instance in the course of the commission's investigations has a case of vellow fever developed from exposure to infected bedding or clothing.

It is reported that Dr. Reed has written to Washington that one of the commissioners permitted himself to be bitten by a mosquito at Camp Columbia in order to test the theory that the disease was transmitted by mosquitoes. Dr. James Carroll, another member of the board who also was

Woman Accused of Sending Mallelous Letters in Berwick, Has Unbalanced Mind, Says Her Husband The excitement in the town of Berwick caused by the arrest of Mrs. Joseph Jones upon the charge of sending malicious let ters to many persons, has increased rather than diminished. The arrest on Saturday night was a quiet affair, and was known to only a few of the citizens. The accused woman's husband became surety for her appearance in the sum of $1,000.

The articles in Wednesday's newspaper were the first intimation that the majority of the citizens had as to the identity of the suspected party. When Mr. Jones was asked if he had ever detected any signs of mental trouble in his wife's conduct, he replied:
"She has been mentally unbalanced for several years. About two years ago I took her to a New York hospital for treatment, where I was told by the physicians that she suffered from a too active mind."

Asked regarding the ultimatum of certain citizens that she must leave the state, on pain of exposure, he said: "I simply could not entertain any such THE RIGHT THING TO PUT ON. proposition. My home, work, friends and everything I care for are in Berwick. stated on Wednesday that he expected th postal authorities to take charge of the prosecution in a few days, but the matter was of so serious a nature that a careful investigation was necessary.

There is much sympathy expressed by the residents of the town for Mr. Jones

During the past two years these Indians have suffered much from drought; their wells have gone dry, their cattle have died and their numbers have decreased in every village. It is one of the mysteries of the desert, the charm or fascination it has for whites and Mexicans, as in two days these people could reach the seashore, where fish and fowl abound, but the desert is their home, hot and arid though it be, and here they live a life that would be considered a forment to anyone else.

He kept his vow until his death, which just occurred.

The Dundee correspondent of the London Daily Mail telegraphed that never once in all the thirty years did the laird set foot across the threshold of his dilapidated manor house. A maid who cooked his scanty meals never saw him. She would ring a bell and withdraw. Only then more a wraith than a man. His days are

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brother was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it.
My brother has been well ever since we started to use it. Yours truly,

Potts Green's drug store and used them, but I have never had any occasion to use them since. I was so bad with lumbago or soreness across my kidneys that I had to lay off work, I was hurt at a barn raising some years ago by a heavy timber swinging and striking me in the back. After that whenever I took cold it always affected my kidneys. This was the case for years but Doan's Kidney Pills finished all that suffering.
