Doings of the January Court

A Small Attendance and Many Petty Cases. One Candidate for the Reformatory. Gallagher Declared Innocent.

The regular term of quarter sessions court for January opened here on Monday, with a small attendance. Though the cases on the calendar for the first week were mostly trivial ones, some of them developed decidedly interesting phases and attracted a great many spectators to the court house.

As usual the Monday morning session was taken up with the presentation of petitions and hearing of reports of constables. The grand jury was called and Curtis Y. Wagner made foreman of it, after which the court charged the jury and it retired to go over the bills of indictment.

CASES THAT WERE SETTLED.

The following cases were settled or continued:

Com. vs. Abner Rider, charged with betrayal, prosecutrix Bessie J. Fetters. Settled.

Com. vs. Thomas Denison, alias Murphy, charged with betrayal, prosecutrix Rosie Maher. Settled.

Com. vs. Jacob Barto, charged with betrayal, prosecutrix Martha Griffin. Settled.

Com. vs. Albert Bradford and William Bradford, charged with adultery and bastardy; prosecutrix Sallie R. Scholl. Continued to August sessions, 1901.

Com. vs. Sherman Hoover, charged with threats, prosecutor Grant Hoover; sent to insane asylum at Danville before court.

Com. vs. Bert Carr, charged with betrayal prosecutrix Katie Henry. Continued.

Com. vs. William Steel, charged with adultery and bastardy, prosecutrix Blanche Fisher. Settled.

Com. vs. William Steele, charged with attempt to abortion, prosecutrix Blanche Fisher. Settled.

Com. vs. John W Weber, charged with adultery, prosecutor Rev. C. N. Woodson. Settled.

Com. vs. Fletcher Wolf and Eva Wolf, charged with assault and battery and house breaking; prosecutrix Elizabeth Rossman. Continued.

Com. vs. Michael Gramms, charged with threats and pointing revolver; prosecutor E. L. Remsnyder. Settled.

Com. vs. Edward Remsnyder, charged with assault and battery; prosecutor Michael Gramms. Settled.

Com. vs. H. W. Todd, charged with adulteration of food; prosecutor James Faust. Settled.

Com. vs. William Ishler, charged with false pretense and larceny; prosecutor John Crossmire. Continued.

Hoyt & Co., agent for National Computing Scale Company vs. J. H. Reeser and A. M. Reeser, his son, trading as J. H. Reeser & Son; appeal, plea non assumpsit. Settled.

John A. Hunter vs. George Taylor; appeal, plea non assumpsit. Continued at the costs of the plaintiff.

L. C. Rearick vs. William Aikey, appeal, plea non assumpsit. Settled.

J. S. McCarger vs. Robert B. Montgomery, appeal, plea non assumpsit. Continued generally.

Flora O. Bairfoot vs. Christian Shaffer, George A. Blowers and Hiram Cramer; summoned in ejectment, plea not guilty. Settled.

John G. Love and Louisa H. Hoy, executors of, etc., of Adam Hoy, deceased, late of Bellefonte, vs. The German American Insurance Company of New York. This case is special to Judge Love and was continued.

William I. Harvey vs. Thomas I. Lucas, summoned in replevin, plea non cepit and property. Continued before court.

Nittany Valley Railroad Company vs. The Empire Steel and Iron Company, summoned in assumpsit, plea non assumpsit. Continued before court.

A. D. Potts vs. A. McCoy and J. Frank McCoy, trading as A. McCoy & Son; judgment opened. Six cases. Continued at the costs of defendants.

D. J. Tressler vs. Sarah Tressler, summoned in divorce. Voluntary non suit entered.

CASES THAT REACHED TRIAL.

S. Morris Waln and Howard Conrow, administrators of, etc., of I. Thornton Conrow, deceased, vs. John L. Rich, administrator of, etc., of Benjamin Rich, deceased; scire facias to revive judgment. Verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $10,700.32.

William M. Allison, Edward A. Allison, James A. Keller, and William B. Mingle, who survives Simon Harper, trading as the Penns Valley Banking Company vs. P. H. Stover, administrator of, etc., of J. C. Stover, deceased, scire facias to revive judgment, plea nil debit. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $72.46.

Michael Confer, now to use of Mary Confer vs. Kline S. Haines, administrator of, etc., of John Mann, late of Curtin township, deceased; appeal non assumpsit. This suit was brought on a book account. The defendant interposed the statute of limitation, whereupon the plaintiff suffered a voluntary non suit.

James Sharp vs. Harry Flack, appeal, plea non assumpit. This suit is brought to recover for the keeping and maintaining defendant's little girl, Ethel, from the time of Mrs. Flack's death, for a period of four years and eight months, for which the plaintiff claims one dollar per week. The plaintiff and wife are uncle and aunt to the little girl, and the defendant alleges that he paid money to the plaintiffs for the clothing of the child, had made them a present of a sewing machine and had offered them other money and it was refused, and that the plaintiff had told him they would charge nothing; the defendant had also paid the doctor bills. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $116.00

C. P. Long vs. Mary A. Krape, appeal, plea non assumpsit. This case is brought to recover a book account for store goods bought by defendant and family out of the store of the plaintiff at Spring Mills. The defendant alleges that the accounts were settled in the spring of 1896 or 1897, at which time she notified the plaintiff that she would pay no bills contracted for by her boys unless put in her pass-book. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $68.12.

Com. vs. Frank Walk, indicted for betrayal, prosecutrix Bertha E. Moore. This case is in Taylor township and the defendant plead guilty. The usual sentence in such cases was imposed by the Court.

Com. vs Thomas Baillieu, indicted first count, breaking into dwelling house in the day time to commit a felony; second count, larceny; third count, receiving stolen goods, prosecutrix Mary Murphy. This case is from Huston township, about two miles from Julian. The Commonwealth alleges that the defendant broke into the house of the prosecutrix on Thanksgiving day, last November, taking therefrom a lady's black purse being in the kitchen cupboard, also some old coin, the folks of the house being away from home, while the defendant denies the theft. The defendant was afterwards arrested at Philipsburg by the county detective. Verdict of guilty in manner and form as indicted and sentenced to 2 years and 3 months in the western penitentiary.

Com. vs. James A. Jones, indicted for betrayal, prosecutrix Ida Gummo. This case is from Half-Moon township. The defendant plead guilty, and the child being dead, the Court sentenced him to pay the costs of prosecution and forty-five dollars lying-in expenses.

Com. vs. James Gallagher, indicted assault with intent to rob, prosecutrix Mrs. H. C. Holloway. On the night of January 9th of this year Mrs. Holloway, wife of Dr. Holloway, while returning home on Linn street, this town, near the residence of the late Judge Orvis, was accosted by a young man who asked to see her home and also reached for her purse. She saw his face clearly and screamed and finally got away from the man. On the same evening Miss Maggie Herman was accosted near the residence of Joseph L. Montgomery and also got away. Mrs. Holloway was assaulted between 8:30 and 8:45, and Miss Herman some time later. The police were notified and the next day this young man was taken before Mrs. Holloway and she identified him as the man who assaulted her. The defendant admits that he was on Linn street that evening, but denies that he assaulted either of the parties, or anyone, and that he was only on West Linn street, when the assaulting was done on East Linn street, about fourteen hundred feet from where he was, and also that he did not wear the colored clothing described by the Commonwealth, that he wore a white slouch hat and dark blue clothing instead of a black cap and light suit as alleged by the Commonwealth, and showed his whereabouts during that evening. Verdict on Wednesday afternoon of not guilty.

Com. vs. John Mecom, indicted for larceny, prosecutor Samuel Madill. This case is from Clarence, Snow Shoe township, and the defendant broke into the post office at the above named place, which is also a store, and took therefrom some tobacco, pipes, sen-sen, chewing gum and about one dollar in cash, all of the value of between eight and twelve dollars, on the night of January 8th, 1901. After the Commonwealth closed, the defendant, who is a boy between fifteen and sixteen years, changed his plea and plead guilty and was sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, one dollar fine and undergo imprisonment in the Reformatory at Huntingdon.

Com. vs. George Sheesley, indicted for assault and battery, prosecutor Philip C. Frank. Some time prior to November 3rd of last year the prosecutor, constable of Potter Twp., levied on the property of a Mr. Bartley and a Mrs. Confer in Gregg township on a landlord's warrant and had the property advertised for sale on the 3rd day of November and when he got there on the day advertised for the sale he could not find the property, after which he went to the residence of the defendant looking for the property, and while there some difficulty arose, and the prosecutor alleges that the defendant hit him with his fist and struck him with an axe. The defendant denied that he hit him and said he had done no harm. Verdict of not guilty and the prosecutor and the defendant to each pay one-half of the costs.

At this point all of the jurors except those in the box were discharged and the grand jury's report was read as follows:

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

The grand jury inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania inquiring for the county of Centre in all matters relating to the same do respectfully report:

That they have acted upon fifteen bills of indictment, of which thirteen were found true bills and two ignored and two appeals for county bridges. We beg leave further to report that we have visited and inspected the county buildings and find all in good condition. We recommend the tightening of windows in county jail which we discovered loose and rickety. We do further recommend some means of communication between sheriff's apartments and prisoners' cells to inform the sheriff in case of distress. We found water sink in kitchen in a deplorable state and do recommend a new one.

We respectfully tender our thanks to the Honorable Judge and District Attorney for their courtesy and assistance rendered us during our deliberations.

C. Y. WAGNER, Foreman.

The only other case down for trial was that of Lizzie and Annie Bible vs. the Borough of Centre Hall.

It was taken up the first thing yesterday morning and concluded about four o'clock last evening when court adjourned. The case was an action on the part of the Bibles to recover on a contract. When the new Centre Hall borough water plant was built they contracted with the Bibles for the use of a spring supposed to be on their property. The borough had contracted to pay $50 per year for a period of five years and then $75 per year for the balance of the ninety-nine years of the lease. It was later discovered that the spring was on the Sam'l Bruss property and not on the Bible tract. The borough therefore refused to fulfill the contract and suit for non performance was brought. Verdict for plaintiff for $149.25.

An action will be brought in a court of equity to discover whether the lease should hold, since the spring is not upon the Bible land.

——Wm. Dukeman has resigned his position at the C. R. R. of Pa., station and opened a meat market in the Brown block, at the corner of Bishop and Allegheny streets, and the public can rest assured that Billy will dispense nothing but the best of meats.

——Townsend Moran, agent of the American express company in Philipsburg, and well known in this place, will give up his position there and move to Salem, Ohio, where he expects to work for the United States express company.

——The frequent visits of the College boys to Bellefonte during the past week have kept the streets lively and the police guessing.

Pine Grove Mention.

We are having zero weather.

John and Linn Musser are on the invalid list this week.

Squire Keller transacted business at the county capitol Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Heberling is confined to her room with nervous prostration.

Mable Meyers, daughter of J. Fred Meyers, of Fairbrook, is suffering with pneumonia.

The railroad company completed a good gravel walk, last week, from the station to the town.

Mrs. Susan Erb is slighly better but the venerable Jacob Koch is still in a serious condition.

Mrs. Amanda Fisher with a number of Boalsburg folks attended the Piper funeral here on Monday.

Roland Palmer, and his family enjoyed a visit with Greenwood Furnace friends on Monday and Tuesday.

Merchant O. B. Krebs, who has just returned from a business trip to Altoona, is laid up with that popular malady—the grip.

Miss Jennie Black, of Yellow Springs, is spending some time with her brother, Rev. Black, of Boalsburg, and Frank of this place.

Our old time friend Major Ross is ill with grip and other ailments, and so seriously so that his family have been summoned to his bedside.

J. B. Heberling sold his trotter Tuesday to a Philipsburg party and now he is looking about for a team matched, stylish, speedy and gentle.

Mrs. Harris Bloom and Thomas Gramley are two of the victims of the grip. William H. Roush, of Altoona, is also here trying to recuperate from a heavy cold.

We are glad to say that the family of Jos. H. Hoy, who have been quarantined for the last month on account of scarlet fever, are on the road to recovery.

Adams Bowersox and wife of Newton, Kansas, and Charles Bowersox and wife, of Middleburg, Snyder county, are being royally entertained at the hospitable home of Frank Bowersox.

Charley Fisher left Monday for Lewisburg where he will enter the employ of Curts and Meyers as traveling salesman. His territory will be from Coburn to Bellefonte and thence to Jersey Shore.

The first snow of the season came with a gale on the night of the 24th. Since then the mercury has been down at the zero mark and the roads are so drifted that most of the traveling is done through the fields.

Rash Gates one of Half-Moon's prosperous young farmers, transacted business here Saturday and did not fail to thank the friends who assisted in securing a pension for his mother Mrs. Mary A. Gates. She was granted $8 a month and $450 back pay.

While doing her house work last Thursday Mrs. Jasper Rishel fainted and fell against the stove and but for the timely arrival of one of her family would have been badly burnt. Her physician ascribed it to a partial stroke of paralysis and she is still confined to bed.

Charley Smith took a few days off this week to visit uncle Leonard Rhone's Penns Valley home and take a peep at all that blooded stock that is to be sold at public sale this spring. Charley is a good judge of horses and knows that the ones at Rhoneymede are worth possessing.

Next Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor Society will hold a public meeting in the Presbyterian church of this place in commemoration of the 20th anniversary of the organization. A suitable and interesting program will be carried out under the direction of the president, Miss Nannie Bailey. Everyone is invited.

The Collins farm was hammered down to G. Frank Miller for four thousand and twenty dollars. It is a most desirable property and Mr. Miller is to be congratulated on his investment. It is said he will move onto it in the spring leaving his son-in-law, J. O. Stover, in charge of the old homestead.

Our people ought to be good this week, at least, for Rev. Noble is holding a revival in the Methodist Episcopal church up town while the Rev. Black assisted by the Rev. Thomas Bickle, of Bellefonte, is conducting one in Bethel church down town. The sleighing is excellent and the attendance is fairly good but should be better.

Emery Johnson was the tallest person at the measuring social at G. W. Homan's on Friday night. He had 6 feet and 1 inch to his credit and there were one hundred and thirty people present. The light fund is $36 richer for the sociable and everybody was delighted. Mr. Aikens voiced the general sentiment when he said it was the social of the season.

The caucus held at Centre school house, last Saturday was well attended. Every section of the township was represented and a good ticket placed in nomination. For the west precinct D. H. Kustaborder was nominated for judge of election; Isaac Harpster, inspector and Alfred Bowersox, registration assessor. For the east precinct Frank Swabb was nominated for judge of election; Fred Krumrine, for inspector and W. W. Keller, registration assessor. The other nominations were J. H. Miller, justice of the peace; C. B. McCormick, assessor; Ellis Lytle and J. C. Corl, school directors; N. E. Hess and Fred Meyers, road supervisors; Samuel Harpster auditor; Thomas D. Gray, overseer of the poor and A. J. Tate township clerk.

MRS. J. B. PIPER.—Death is always sad but when it takes away the mother of a family and the centre of a home it is particularly so. On Friday morning at 8 o'clock Mrs. Alice Barr Piper, wife of Jesse B. Piper died at her Main street home after a long illness. She had suffered with heart trouble and dropsy for some time but had recovered sufficiently to walk about her room when she was stricken with paralysis. For three weeks she lingered with her entire left side paralyzed and then God in his wisdom gave her rest. She was born here July 5th, 1859. April 12th, 1887, she was married to Jesse B Piper, who survives her with their two bright little daughters. Her death is also lamented by a sister and brother, Annie and Robert Barr, as well as by a large circle of friends. She was a kindly woman, an earnest Christian and above all a true home maker. There she will be missed greatly and her little ones as they grow older will realize that they have lost their best friend. Funeral services were held Monday morning, conducted by her pastor Rev. Mr. Hepler, of the Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. Black. Interment was made in the new cemetery.

The many friends of Henry Bridge, one of Clearfields leading business men, were sorry to hear of his death which occurred at his home on the 25th. Mr. Bridge was one of our citizens away back in the fifties when he conducted a large tailoring establishment. His pleasant and genial manners made him hosts of friends and he married Miss Kate Burchfield, daughter of the late Judge Wm. Burchfield. In the early sixties he moved to Clearfield where he engaged in the tailoring business until his death.

Philipsburg.

The revival at the M. E. church is still in progress.

J. R. Van Daniker, the agent for the N. Y. C., is still on the sick (?) list.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Andrews have returned from a short trip to Philadelphia.

John K. Thompson came home Saturday to spend Sunday with his family.

The grip seems to have its clutches upon nearly the entire population of the town.

Fred Todd, of Kingwood, W. Va., is here sick with what seems to be quick consumption.

This town is not proud of the part played in the recent senatorial election at Harrisburg by one of its citizens.

Mrs. Harry C. Elliot was summoned to Elmira, N. Y., owing to the illness of her mother. She left last Thursday.

Robert L. Scott, manager of the Coaldale Mining Co., operations at Loydell, was here last Wednesday night circulating among friends.

Mr. John Troy and Miss Sarah Horn, both of Point Lookout, were quietly married at the residence of Rev. Lingenfelter on Pine street, Wednesday evening, Jan. 23rd.

Jacob Swires, the enterprising coal operator, has been compelled to erect some dwelling houses at Munson to accommodate his men, as it is impossible to rent a house in the latter place.

There are some 24 patients in the Cottage hospital. The hospital is said to be badly in need of materials and financial aid in order to keep up with the increased amount of people it is administering to.

Frank A. Richards, of Peale, Pa., has been made agent at Munson, vice Mr. M. E. Klare, resigned to accept a position of train runner at Jersey Shore. Mr. Richards will live here in town and occupy the house of Mr. M. G. Gray on Eleventh street.

The "Assembly" (?) which has met several times during the past six months, in one of the prominent halls, has caused a feeling of consternation among some of the church circles, whose members have been attending these gatherings. A number of heated conversations have been had, in which both parties lost their tempers and now pass on the other side of the street, when they meet. The outcome of the contest will be watched with great interest.

Communication.

EDITOR OF THE WATCHMAN.

Dear Sir:—In last week's Snow Shoe Items we read a report that pained us, although true. We deplore the fact that our daughter lacked the resolution of mind to refuse to play for the dance of the Cotillion Club. She did so without our knowledge and consent, and participating in a dance is against our convictions and the teachings of our church. Her attention has been called to the fact, and will not likely repeat it.

Yours respectfully

Rev. and Mrs. J. WOMELDORF.
