He will move a mill onto the tract about the 1st of May and cut it out as fast as possible.

REV. WOMELDORF TO MOVE. -The Conference of the United Evangelical church has concluded its sessions at Red Lion, York county, and the reports carry considerable interest to members of that congregation in this vicinity.

The matter of most importance to Bellefonters, of course, is the appointment which will necessitate the removal of Kev. J. Womeldorf from this place. He has been located here for two years and his earnest christian life has inspired the confidence and esteem of all of our people. Rev. -The Chicago Tribune says "Bishop Womeldorf's family is one that any comregretted that the dispensation of his church was not such as permit him to remain here at least another year.

Changes in boundaries in this immediate section were effected as follows : Hecla appointment was taken from the Howard charge and added to Nittany charge. of the ravine to rise to a height of two inches greater than they were during the memorable floods of last spring. At that time these same pools flowed together in a rushing, roaring avalanche of mud and filth, swept away fences, filling up cellars and carrying discomfort and damage to many residents of that section.

Knowing that a sewer to carry off such floods would cost thousands of dollars Henry Tibbens, who lives on the extreme eastern end of the street, suggested the digging of a large cess-pool for the purpose.

Of course there were some who ridiculed the idea, but Henry persisted with the re-knee and suffered severe wounds about the face. Dr. Bright reduced the fracture and did all he possibly could for the man, but his condition is regarded as being very serious. He is at his home in Rebers-Wallace Bierly had his right arm broken and was hadly scalded about the face.

and then the women settled down to the enjoyment of a program that was both diversified and entertaining. While carefully prepared papers were read by delegates from the various charges in the Presbytery the two principal features of the sessions were the addresses by Rev. C. H. Fenn, of Peking, China, and Miss Milliken, who has a large girls' school in Japan.

Rev. Fenn's talks were necessarily fraught with import because of the fact that he was with the little band of missionaries who were penned up in Peking during the thrilling scenes of the Boxer uprisings there.

We notice by the program Mrs. Harris Mann, of Lewistown, formerly of this place. contributed much to the enjoyment by singing the solo "The Plain of Peace" superbly.

Among the Centre countains who participated in the program were : Miss Sue Campbell, of Rock Springs ; Mrs. Hepler, of Lemont and Mrs. N. D. Orbison, of Bellefonte.

The treasurer's report showed contribution tions of $4,190.84 for the year. Lewistown was selected as the next place of meeting and after the reading of lengthy resolutions by Mrs. Harris the election of fficers was held, then the session adiourned

Mrs. N. D. Orbison was re-elected a vice president-at-large; Mrs. James Harris. Bellefonte; Mrs. Jno. I. Thompson, Le-mont, and Miss Sue Campbell, Rock Springs, were elected vice presidents ; Mrs. M. H. Wilson, Bellefonte, was reelected recording secretary.

He is inclined to think that the spinal cord ence. is torn out, and there is little hope for the man. He, however, reserves giving a final opinion until after other specialists have made X-ray examinations. It is the intention to take X-ray views of the injury while Mr. Transue is in different positions. It will require about a week's time to complete the examinations. Transue is the young man who had his back broken while working for the Knecht Bros. at Parvin. He received his injury by being struck by a falling tree.

SISTERS WERE MARRIED .--- A double wedding ceremony was celebrated at the home of Samuel Gault, on Curtin street, on Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Ella Gault to Mr. Harry E. Stover and Miss Stella E. Gault to Mr. Alfred F. Showers.

Only the immediate relatives of th young people were witnesses of the interesting nuptial event, which was performed by Rev. Dr. H. C. Holloway, of the Lutheran church.

Immediately after the ceremony a supper was served and the couples departed on the 4:44 train for a trip to Philadelphia and Washington.

The brides are sisters, both favorably known young ladies of this place. Mr. Stover was formerly a resident of Coleville, but is now living in Altoona, where he is ter, of this place.

BISHOP FOWLER'S GREAT LECTURE .-The Methodists are to be congratulated upon having secured so eminent a church man as Bishop Fowler to officiate at the rededication of their church on Sunday, April 7th, but a still greater boon is to be found in the announcement that the Bishop has consented to deliver his famous lecture on Lincoln while here.

It will be given in the church on Monday evening April 8th, and literary critics in all parts of the country unite in saying that it is pre-eminently the strongest and most

Bishop Fowler has long been known as on of the great thinkers and great speakers of the American platform. He had a subject vesterday commensurate with his breadth of the American piatform. He had a subject yesterday commensurate with his breadth of thought, his graceful rhetoric, his poetic im-agination, his profound reasoning, and his eloquent diction. Such analysis of Lincoln's character, such discriminating judgment on Lincoln's achievements, such broad discus-sion of the grave questions unperpendition sion of the grave questions uppermost in Lincoln's public life, such eloquent and brilliant tribute to Lincoln's genius and hu-manity, have seldom if ever been heard on the American platform

He doesn't often ge the chance to get away from his work for any length of time, but he had one Wednesday and promptly took advantage of it.

-Wm. B. Miles, the veteran Milesburg mer chant, was enticed away from home by the bright sunshine of Tuesday and was in town calling on his friends for the first time since Christmas. Mr Miles had been anticipating a visit from Mr. Grip and just kept indoors as much as possible, there by finally evading him up to this time. We hope he will not suffer any ill effects of his visit of Tuesday.

- Rev. Father Zarek, in charge of the church of St. Michael the Archangel as Clarence, was in town on Monday, driving a fine new horse, which he purchased lately and naturally feels very proud of. While the Reverend's first drive over the mountain is made very ex citing and unpleasant by numerous treache snow banks he was not oblivious of what a pic turesque drive it is from Snow Shoe in here when the mountains are bedecked in summer verdure.

-W. H Parks dropped in on Saturday evening to help us watch the rising waters, but he didn't prove a very interested observer for he was sick in bed with the grip when we had the two big floods last spring and, naturally, didn't care much about talking of such things, because they are anything but pleasant subjects-we mean both grip and floods. Though we would far rather have had the grip than the big floods of a year ago which were vividly recalled to mind when the water began to come up Saturday evening.

-Among the throng of Saturday shoppers in town were Mr. and Mrs. Beni. Beaver, of State College, both of whom must have found a fountain of youth somewhere, for neither one of them look a day older than they appeared seventeen years ago, when we first had the pleasure of cnowing them. Ben was a stage driver years ago, when there was no such a thing as a railroad in Penns valley or to Pine Grove Mills, but times have changed since then and now he is general utility man about State College, with a fine ho there and every comfort a man could want. -Chas. so much better on Monday that he was able to re turn. When Dave first left his parental home at Coleville and struck out for himself he went Pittsburg to work at his trade of carpentering, but he was quick to see that a great field was then just opening for electricians and he devoted all of his spare moments to study of electricity, with the result that today he is superintendent for the big contracting firm of Francis Bros. & Goellet, of Philadelphia, and has given his broth-ers Emanuel and John, who also live in the Quaker city, nice berths.
