THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Perry Moran and family have moved from the vicinity of Hecla park to a farm above Unionville.

The time for the regular spring inspection of Co. B has been fixed for Thursday April, 18th.

The interior of Cender's ice cream cafe has been re-decorated and now presents a more inviting appearance than ever.

On April 1st, W. H. Taylor will move his livery and feed stables from the Brant house barn to the Furst stable in Pike alley.

The base ball season will open at State College on Saturday, April 13th, when the team from Syracuse University will play there.

Get a few new subscribers to the WATCHMAN, at $1.00 per year, and go to the great exposition at Buffalo this summer for nothing.

The Star orchestra will furnish the music for the Undine Easter assembly, which will be held in the armory of Co. B, on Monday evening, April 8th.

Frank Cessna, formerly an employee of Cruse's factory in this place, had the end of his finger cut off in a cigar cutter in Sterner's factory in Lock Haven on Friday.

Miss Emily Alexander, daughter of Dr. John F. Alexander, of Centre Hall, has been appointed assistant to the chorister of the First M. E. Sunday school choir in Tyrone.

In order to make certain repairs the fire alarm will be blown every evening at 6 o'clock. It has not been in good working order lately and it is to be tested in this way.

Will Larimer returned from Indianapolis on Saturday morning with a car load of horses, most of them being drivers. While away he attended the funeral of the late Gen. Harrison.

The main sewer on High street caved in on Monday morning, in front of Powers Shoe Co. store, leaving a hole that many unacquainted with the location of the sewer thought was a subterranean cavern of some sort.

A rehearing has been granted James Cornely for his application for a pardon and it will come before the Board at Harrisburg on April 17. Jim is now so seriously ill with appendicitis that his recovery is exceedingly doubtful.

The indisposition of Rev. Dr. Laurie precluded his filling his engagements in the Presbyterian church here at either the morning or evening services on Sunday. Gen. James A. Beaver talked in the morning, but the church was closed in the evening.

John D. Auman, of Potter township, was brought to jail on Tuesday by constable P. C. Frank. He is charged by his wife, Annie M. Auman, with punching her, hitting her with sticks of wood, kicking her and threatening to kill her and their children.

Arthur Deming, Lew Benedict and John Queen are a great trio of comedians for a minstrel show and if they are all with the aggregation that comes here tomorrow night there ought to be lots of fun in store. However Deming will be enough, even if Benedict and Queen are not here.

Miss Annie Williams has celebrated her recovery from a severe attack of fever by enlarging and beautifying her interesting paper, the Philipsburg Ledger. By adding two and a half inches to the length of columns and changing the make up completely she has worked a transformation on the Ledger that evidences unusual enterprise on the part of its fair editress.

Constans Commander, No 33, K. T. is preparing for a public installation and reception to be held in the Armory of Co. B, Friday evening, April 19th. As usual with the Knights a very swell affair may be expected. The last great social event given by them was at the time of the opening of their new hall and the brilliancy and perfect appointments of that function are still accepted as criterions in Bellefonte.

O. Thomas Switzer, the Philipsburg argonaut, started back to the Klondike Monday morning to look after the mining interests he left about Dawson and Teslin when he came home last fall. Tom is known as the "Mrs. Rorer of the Trail," and we suppose he spent some of his time while at home gathering up a few culinary stunts and will soon be springing frappes, eclairs and other such delicatessen on the natives up there.

Frank C. Kunkle, who talked of his experience while serving with the Tenth regiment in the Philippines, in the court house here on Friday night, pleased the fair sized audience that gathered to hear him. Mr. Kunkle is now a student at State College and while his effort scarcely rose to the dignity of a lecture it was very entertaining, because presented in a plain, matter-of-fact, practical way. The pictures illustrative of his talk were the result of an amateur's camera, but were shown by Mallory and Taylor so effectively as to bring out to a nicety the various points of Mr. Kunkle's story. The entertainment netted about $34 for the soldier's Decoration day fund.

Mrs. Mary Griffith.—Without an ache or pain and perfectly prepared to meet her Master Mrs. Mary Griffith slept peacefully away at her home at Axe Mann Monday morning.

Though worn by the weight of 86 years she had been able to get around until Friday, the 15th inst. when she became so feeble that she was compelled to take her bed. There was no suffering or doubtful moments for the good old soul. A long sleep and all was over, like the sunset on a calm day.

Mrs. Mary Griffith was the daughter of Thomas and Hanna Waddle and was born at Rock Forge in 1815, when that place was a center in the iron industry of this section. She was married to Samuel H. Griffith, who preceded her to the grave many years ago; surviving are her two children Harvey Griffith and James Waddle, of Lock Haven, and her sisters Mrs. Sara Williams, of Axe Mann, and Mrs. Hanna Hamilton, of Bellefonte, and brother Thomas Waddle, of Jersey Shore.

When health and vigor permitted she was active in her church duties and was steadfast in the zeal of Methodism. Interment was made in the Union cemetery Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, after services at her late home.

SHE WAS ONCE A RESIDENT OF CENTRE COUNTY.—Mrs. Theresa Wolf, who died at the home of her son John in Altoona early Monday morning will be remembered by many of the older residents of this vicinity. She had been ill for quite a long time with dropsy.

Mrs. Wolf was born in Northampton county, but when a girl she moved here with her parents. Later she was married to William S. Wolf, the ceremony having been performed at Baulsburg. After leaving Centre county they located at Brisbin, Clearfield county, where they resided until Mr. Wolf's death, which occurred five years ago, then she went to Altoona to make her home with her son.

She is survived by two sons and one daughter—John H. and George H. Wolf, of Altoona, and Mrs. Kate Richards, of Pittsburg. Also by two sisters—Mrs. John S. Noll, of Jeanette, and Mrs. Catharine Erdley, of Akron, Ohio. She also leaves a number of grand-children and great-grand children. Funeral services were held at her late home at 7:30 Tuesday evening. Her body was taken to Brisbin for interment.

DANIEL H. ROTE.—Daniel Hess Rote, a generally esteemed and useful citizen, passed away at his home in Aaronsburg on Monday evening at 7 o'clock. His death was caused by a complication of troubles arising from an accident he suffered when a child of only four years; rendering one of his limbs useless.

Though in constant pain he bore his affliction without a murmur and died, leaving behind him the memory of a man who had the courage to be grateful for whatever blessing, even in the face of daily suffering.

Deceased was 59 years and 4 days old and had lived in Haines township all of his life. His early days were employed as school master, but in 1884, though a Republican, he was chosen justice of that largely Democratic district. His judgments were so equitable that he was continued in office for a period of ten years.

Surviving him are his widow, an adopted daughter and brothers John, of Axe Mann, and Thos. F., of Stephenson Co., Ill. His aged mother also survives. Funeral services were held at his late home yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in the Reformed cemetery at Aaronsburg.

JOSEPH S. RUMBERGER.—Joseph S. Rumberger, one of the oldest and best known farmers in the county, died very unexpectedly at his home above Ropesburg on Monday evening. He had been ill for about eight weeks with grip which affected his lungs.

Deceased was a brother of former county Register G. W. Rumberger and was born at Gatesburg Oct. 10th, 1830; being 70 years, 5 months and 15 days old. Surviving him are his wife, whose maiden name was Susanna Beam, and three children: Elmer, of Fillmore; Mrs. John P. Moore, of Philipsburg; Mrs. James Clark, Houserville; Grace and Chester, at home. His surviving sisters and brothers are: Ex-register G. W. Rumberger, of Unionville; Balsar, sheriff of Huntingdon county, Pa.; T. C., of Philipsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Wm. Tibbens, of College Twp.; Mrs. Hamil, of Miami, Kas.

Funeral services were conducted at his late home on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock, by the Rev. T. W. Perks, of the United Brethren church. Interment was made in Gray's cemetery.

John Guiser, who was lately connected with Meese's grocery in this place, has had a sad experience since moving to Winber, Somerset county. He located there several weeks ago and only last Thursday Mrs. Guiser, with the children, joined him. On Monday night their twenty-one months daughter Ida died from the effects of burns she received shortly after arriving at her new home.

Mrs. Andrew Robinson died at her home in North Philipsburg on Sunday evening from the effects of paralysis of the brain, with which she had suffered for only one week. She was 55 years old and is survived by her husband, four daughters and one son. She was a member of the Episcopal church and Dr. Clero conducted funeral services over her remains Tuesday afternoon.

—Esther, the 2-year-old daughter, of Geo. W. and Annie R. Curtin, was burned to death at their home in Tyrone last Thursday morning. The little one was left in bed in the morning, her arising time being about 10 o'clock. Near that time her elder sister ran down stairs to her mother so badly frightened that she could not speak. The mother divined something wrong and ran up stairs, where a horrible sight met her eyes. Her baby was completely enveloped in flames. Catching up a blanket she quickly threw it about the little one and smothered the flames out, but it was too late; the little body had been burned almost to a crisp. She gave one faint cry, lapsed into a state of unconsciousness and died that evening.

—Consumption was the cause of the death of Mrs. James Duck at her home in Sugar Valley on Sunday morning. She had been ill for a long time. Deceased was 27 years old and is survived by a husband and two children. Rev. Dice officiated at her funeral at Loganton on Tuesday afternoon.

—Mrs. Annie C. Seltzer, widow of W. R. Seltzer, and a sister of Emanuel Brown, of this place, died at her home in Lock Haven on Thursday morning, at the age of 68 years. She had been ill a long time.

—Vogel & Deming's minstrels will be the attraction at Garman's tomorrow night.

—The Undine's intend holding their Easter assembly on Monday evening, April 8th.

—The spring millinery opening of Joseph Bros. & Co. will be the feature for April 2nd and 3rd. They will make such a display as has never been seen in the town before.

—John Gowland has purchased the plant of the Gowland Manufacturing Co. in Philipsburg, from the O. Perry Jones estate. Mr. Gowland had been the manager of the plant for years and now becomes its sole owner.

—Rev. W. P. Shriner of the Methodist church said the ceremony that united Richard Keller and Mrs. Mary Closson, both of Tyrone, in marriage last Thursday morning. The nuptial knot was tied in the parlors of the Brookerhoff house.

—Clarence Kuhns and another boy were playing base ball at Furst's sale, near Beech Creek, on Saturday, until they ran together with such force that Clarence sustained a broken nose and was unconscious for three hours. The other boy was not hurt.

—William Cupper, a Bald Eagle valley freight brakeman, was thrown from a car at Snow Shoe Intersection on Tuesday, suffering a fracture of the collar bone and several slight contusions of the head. The brake chain broke as he was applying the brake.

—Harry Fehl, an employe of the Linden Hall Lumber Co. recently got his leg under some logs in such a way that his foot was dislocated and his ankle and lower leg lacerated. Dr. Kijder was taken out to the place of the accident on Wednesday evening on an engine. Fehl is married and lives near Aaronsburg.

—Herman Transeu, the young man who had his back broken by a falling tree, near Parvin, Clinton county, last fall has returned from Philadelphia to which place he was taken a few weeks ago, to be treated by scientists. He was told that he could not withstand an operation and though he seemed to be getting better it would be impossible for him to recover.

—Robert Mingle, proprietor of a restaurant on Pine street, in Philipsburg, fell in the basement of the Ramsdale house, in that place, on Friday evening and struck his head so hard on the cement floor that his skull was fractured. It was at first feared that the injury would prove fatal, but he is doing so well now that it is thought that he will recover.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Malin have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Beaver Malin, to Frank McCoy Shugert, which is to be celebrated at their home on east Howard street, Tuesday morning, April 9th, at half after eleven o'clock. Mr. Shugert is a son of the late J. D. Shugert, cashier of the Centre county bank, and is remodeling the old family residence on west Linn street to make a home for his bride.

A slight fire at the home of James Stine, on north Thomas street, Thursday evening, was discovered and put out before serious damage was done.

A slight fire at the home of Clayton Bowser, near the Phoenix mills caused a general alarm to be sent in on Friday evening. An over-heated stove set fire to a couch on which an infant was sleeping. The mother, in a room below, smelled the burning couch and ran to her daughter's rescue just in time. James Noon, who lives nearby, ran into the house and threw the burning couch out, before any further damage had been done.

The spring flood on the river has been a fine one and more lumber will be floated into market on it than has been done for years. A party of Clearfielders were on a large spar raft of the Surveyor Run Lumber Co., making the trip from that place to Lock Haven. Among them being Rev. Waddle, pastor of the Clearfield Presbyterian church. The raft struck the rocks in the "Big Sinks," above Cataract on Friday and broke up. No one was hurt, but some of the party on it were soared nearly to death.

ALL DOUBT REMOVED.—The friends in this place who had been hoping against hope that the mangled body found along the railroad track at Mineral Point, above Altoona, on Wednesday night of last week, would not prove to be that of "Toss" McCafferty have given up and now realize that he actually met the sad fate hinted at in early telegrams. He was caught in a freight wreck and ground to pieces, the only thing by which identification was possible being a collar on which was written the name "McCafferty."

The body was taken to South Fork and buried. On Monday evening Miss Bess McCafferty went to Altoona to investigate the matter and there became convinced of the worst, so she went on to Johnstown. Being unable to have the body exhumed she returned home and James McCafferty went out on Wednesday to look after it.

He made a careful examination and identified it positively as his brother. The remains were brought here last night and taken to the parental home on Logan street.

Thomas McCafferty is a son of the late Richard McCafferty of this place and is about 30 years old. He was on his way back to his work in Pittsburg after being at home for a month. During that time he tenderly nursed his father during the last days of his life. It is sad, indeed, that he should have met death in such a summary manner, but the ways of the Master are inscrutable.

A NEW DIRECTORY NEEDED.—The annual moving in on and our streets are filled with loaded furniture vans. J. P. Gephart has leased the Miller house on east Linn street, out of which Wm. Grauer moved to Altoona, and is now taking possession of it. J. Kyle McFarlane is moving from the McKee property on Willowbank street into his own house on east Linn street, recently occupied by the Gepharts. Dave Kelly is leaving a flat in Crider's Exchange for Miss Potter's little brick house on north Spring street and Miss Jennie Morgan will occupy a flat in the building he is leaving. Ed. Woods will move from Willowbank street into one of the Keichline houses on south Thomas street and Frank Sausseman, who now occupies it, will go into the old Foster house opposite the Spring. Moyers are going to Sunbury from the Harper house on west High street, which is to be occupied by Austin Peters and his family. Asher Adams leaves the Muser house on Reynolds Ave., to go to Harrisburg, where he has been transferred on the railroad. The McCollums, of Howard street, are going to Wilkesbarre and these are only a few of the many changes that will take place inside the borough limits this spring.

A LITTLE GIRL FALLS INTO A CISTERN.—An accident occurred at Spring Mills on Saturday last, which might have proven a very sad one. Maud, a young daughter of W. T. Alexander, chief miller and manager of Allison Bros. flour mill, while playing in the yard with several little girls, ran over the flooring covering the cistern. Part of it gave away, precipitating her into over seven feet of water. At the time Mr. Alexander was standing in front of the mill, with his back towards the yard, in conversation with Mr. Condo, who observed the accident, the residence being directly opposite the mill, and at once apprised him of it, both gentlemen ran to her assistance. Mr. Alexander immediately threw himself on the edge of the cistern and by great effort succeeded in grasping her as she was sinking, probably the third time, and lifted her out.

It certainly was a very narrow escape. In a day or two Maud was herself again. On examination it was discovered that the plank over the cistern, while it appeared on the surface as being perfectly solid, in reality was decayed nearly through. Of course not calculated to bear much weight.

EXERCISES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.—On Monday afternoon the members of the Junior class of the High School will take part in the annual preliminary oratorical contest. Those who will on test have been rehearsing for several weeks and much rivalry is being displayed, which predicts a close and interesting contest. Ten members of the class will be chosen to take part in the final contest, which will be held in the opera house the evening before commencement.

The graduating class will deliver the Easter orations on Thursday afternoon. The exercises on both days will begin at two o'clock. These exercises are of course open to the public and the patrons of our High school have a good opportunity of seeing the work done there.

IT GIVES HIM PLEASURE.—Writing from his home in Illinois a reader of the WATCHMAN recently had these kind words to say: "I have taken great pleasure in reading it the past year and find something of interest in every number and so many local items of old friends that it is a very welcome visitor."

And so it is. The WATCHMAN is a welcome visitor in homes in all parts of the globe. By the way, are you a subscriber or do you read the paper some other person is paying for?

—Harry A. McCaleb, a son of Joseph McCaleb, of Nittany, who has been in the navy for the past three years arrived home last week and says that he will not re-enlist. Harry served on the battleship Indiana and the cruiser Minneapolis and fought aboard the Indiana during the engagement off Santiago. He served on the China-Japan station and was afterwards transferred to the Prairie, which touched at Boston a short time ago. At that point Harry and a number of others whose terms had expired were honorably discharged. He will not re-enter the service.

—Miss Eliza E. Morris, of Tyrone, is in town to superintend the moving of the household goods of her brothers, Robert and Alex, from their home on West Linn street. Robert is going back to his rooms at the Bush house and Alex will be employed at Tyrone.

—George M. Harter was in town on Monday and said that he wouldn't be up again until the fourth of July but that was only a fair tale, for while George is as good a farmer as grows and pays strict attention to his work we'll bet he'll trail that Jacksonville road several times before the cannon crackers and sky rockets begin to shoot.

—After a year's residence in town Mr. M. Lieberman and his family returned to Gettysburg on Tuesday. While engaged in the clothing business here Mr. Lieberman proved himself a thoroughly reliable, honorable gentleman and departed with the best wishes of all who had made his acquaintance.

—Buddy and healthy looking J. W. Orr, of Jacksonville, was in town on Saturday attending some business matters and calling on a few of his friends. Mr. Orr is one of those genial, prosperous looking fellows who makes one think that a farmer's life must be about the most independent and happiest possible. And so it is.

—Among the visitors in town Monday were Mrs. A. L. Miller, of Hazelton and Mrs. Milton E. McDonnell, of Altoona, who had been at State College enjoying a short stay with their parents Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Patterson. Mrs. Miller will remain at State College while Mr. Miller attends Conference at Chambersburg but Mrs. McDonnell returned to Altoona that day.

—Wm. Grauer said good-by to his Bellefonte friends on Monday and departed for Altoona to which city the family will move in a few days. Their departure from Bellefonte will cause a severance of some very warm friendships and occasion a little regret. A more central location for Mr. Grauer's business is the cause of their going away.

—J. I. DeLong, of Eagleville, was in town on Monday and naturally was interested in the matter of a license for his old hotel "The Liberty House." Mr. DeLong was not an applicant himself, but had Mr. Hanna succeeded in securing a license for the place he would have sold out and moved over the bridge into the pretty new home he is building on his farm there.

—Mrs. Geo. W. Jackson, who has been the guest of friends in town for the past two months, will leave for her home in Oakland, Md., on Monday. Her son, Fred R., whose honorable connection with the Jackson bank has given him a wide acquaintanceship throughout the county, will accompany her for a month's recreation at his sister's country place, Brew Mavr, in the mountains of Maryland.

—C. D. Houtz Esq., and Mr. Wasson drove down from Lemont on Tuesday to attend some business they had at the court house. Mr. Houtz lives on a beautifully located farm right at the end of Nittany mountain and from his home a magnificent view of the great valley rolling off to the west is had, as well as of that to the east. The gentleman seemed little concerned about the rain that was falling in torrents, and started to drive back before noon.

—Pat McAffrey Esq., of Lock Haven, spent Tuesday in this place looking after some business interests he has hereabouts. Mr. McAffrey has made a study of the panper and his habits for the last seventeen years and has excellent ideas for the municipal care of him. He has taken care of the poor in Lock Haven during the long period of time and the methods he adopted to wipe out that city's indebtedness of thousands of dollars and decrease the poor tax nearly one-half are interesting in the extreme.

—Frank Rhoads has been in Philadelphia and New York this week to participate in a few social functions and, to use his own words, "look around a little."

—Al Harter, one of the members of the well known lumber firm of Harter Bros., was up from Coburn on Monday, attending to some business, legal and otherwise. Among the first things pointed out to visitors to Coburn are the fine homes of the Harter boys, which is to say that they have made money in their operations. The job they are on now will last probably a year longer. Besides being show business men they are crack shots and enjoy a day with gun and dog to the fullest, because with anything like a fair chance they can be counted on to bag their share of game.

—T. Clayton Poorman, of Tyrone, was a Bellefonte visitor yesterday and incidental to his business was throwing around a few advertisements for a minstrel show that the young men of that town are going to give next month. Several new features that will be introduced are to be supplied by "the Indians" and among them are two that are worthy of note. Dick Farrell, the 470 lb. Bald Eagle valley conductor, is to pose for a living picture of Dr. Tanner, while W. H. Scullin, Tyrone's Cissy Lottus, is to give imitations of high actors.—Mr. Poorman didn't make it exactly clear as to whether the high actors had reference to horse play or the real thing.

A great many Centre county people doubtless will attend the great Pan-American exposition at Buffalo this year, therefore a word about a hotel in that place will not be amiss at this time. The Alcazar is the one we refer to. It has been built especially for the exposition trade and has accommodations for five hundred guests. It is located at Elmwood Ave. and Amherst St. being directly in front of the main entrance to the exposition grounds.

If you are thinking about a visit to Buffalo this summer it would be well for you to write to the Alcazar Co. for rates early. Of the new hotel the Christian Uplook recently had the following to say:

There is no more potent agent for evil than a hotel controlled by a manager wedded to the idea of meeting his running expenses from his bar sales and blind to the proper protection of the good name of his house, and this will be especially true during the time of our exposition. We believe it a duty as it is certainly a pleasure to commend the Hotel Alcazar, because from a long personal acquaintance with its leading spirits, who are men well known in church and charity work. The president of the Alcazar Company is an ex-president of our Young Men's Christian Association and the treasurer is the president of the Board of Trustees of our Orphan Asylum. We speak for them a most liberal patronage and believe that at their superb location and under their direction, their house will be a center for the better class of patrons of the Exposition.

—Father Ferdinand Kittell, of Loretto, a brother of Edward Kittell, formerly of this place, is spoken of prominently with reference to the bishopric of the new Central Pennsylvania See of the Catholic church.

—Joseph Bros. & Co. announce Tuesday and Wednesday, April 2nd and 3rd, as the days on which they will have their spring millinery opening.

—Why don't you go to the great Pan-American exposition at Buffalo. The WATCHMAN will send you as its guest, if you care to go.

—Ground has been broken for an extensive addition which proprietor James Passmore intends building to his popular hotel in Philipsburg. The new portion will have a frontage of 46 ft. on Front street and be three stories high.

The Vogel and Deming show that comes to Garman's to-morrow night will doubtless be a very good one.
